No license shall be transferred from one person to another person, but may be transferred from one vehicle to another vehicle, when duly authorized by the secretary of state on application therefor, accompanied by the proper fee, and in case such vehicle to which it is desired to have such license transferred requires a greater fee than the vehicle for which the original license was issued, the applicant shall accompany such application with the additional amount required to cover the difference between the license fees for the two ratings. A license may be transferred from one classification to a different classification upon application to the secretary of state and the payment of the difference between the license fee originally paid and the fee provided by this act for the class to which the transfer is made, together with an additional transfer fee of one dollar ($1): Provided, that no refund shall be made if the fee fixed by this act for the class of vehicle to which such transfer is made be less than the fee originally paid: Provided, however, the original license and the number plates must be returned at the time application for transfer is made. [L. '21, p. 258, § 8. Cf. L. '19, p. 117, § 5; L. '17, p. 630, § 5; L. '15, p. 389, § 8.]

The said container shall have a cover of transparent material through which the certificate may be inspected as to the information shown thereon, including the signature of the owner. Any person in charge of such vehicle shall upon demand of any of the local authorities or of any peace officer or of any representative of the secretary of state's office permit an inspection of the same. porting such produce, commodity or freights: Provided, however, that no motor vehicle transporting any produce, commodity or freight under a dealer's license shall exceed one ton in carrying capacity: Provided, further, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the use of a motor vehicle of under one ton capacity from rendering assistance to, or transporting necessary supplies to a motor vehicle which has become disabled.

Such number plates, or duplicates thereof, shall be displayed on every motor vehicle by such dealer whenever the same is operated or driven upon any public highway in this state: Provided, that whenever a dealer shall maintain a branch or subagency, he shall apply for a separate registration for such branch, or subagency, and shall pay therefor the fee hereinafter provided for an original dealer's license. [L. '21, p. 259, § 10. Cf. L. '17, p. 631, § 1; L. '15, p. 390, § 10.]

§ 6322. Nonresidents of State—Exemptions.

The provisions of the foregoing sections relative to registration of motor vehicles and display of license numbers and licenses shall not apply to a motor vehicle owned by a nonresident of this state, other than a foreign corporation doing business in this state: Provided, that the owner thereof has complied with the laws of the foreign country, state, territory or federal district of his residence relative to registration of motor vehicles and the display of license numbers thereon as required thereby. The provisions of this section, however, shall be operative as to a motor vehicle owned by a nonresident of this state only to the extent that under the laws of the foreign country, state, territory or federal district of his residence, like exemptions and privileges are granted to motor vehicles duly registered and licensed under the laws of and owned by residents of this state. Upon the loss or defacement or destruction of any number plate or plates or when for any reason the letters or figures upon the number plate or plates become illegible or in such condition to be difficult to distinguish, application supported by affidavit setting forth such fact must be made to the secretary of state for new plates. The application must be accompanied by the fee of two dollars, together with the original license certificate. Upon receipt of the same the secretary of state shall cancel such number and issue a new license certificate and number plates bearing the next consecutive unassigned number. The secretary of state shall forward to all chiefs of police of incorporated cities and towns, to the sheriffs of the various counties of the state at least once each month a list of all number plates so canceled: Provided, however, that the above provision shall not apply to dealer's plates. § 6330. Disposition of Fees.

There is hereby created in the state treasury a state fund to be known as the "motor vehicle fund," and a state fund to be known as the "primary highway maintenance fund." All fees collected by the state treasurer, as herein provided shall be paid into the state treasury and placed to the credit of the motor vehicle fund, from which shall be paid or transferred annually:

First: One-half of the amount appropriated for the biennium for the motor vehicle department in the director of licenses' office for the issuing of licenses;

Second: The amount required to be repaid to the counties entirely surrounded by water;

Third: The sum of one million four hundred thousand dollars ($1,400,000), which shall be transferred and placed to the credit of the primary highway maintenance fund;

Fourth: The balance remaining in the motor vehicle fund after the payments and transfers hereinabove provided for shall be applied annually to paving and general road construction of the state primary highways as provided by appropriation.

The moneys in the primary highway maintenance fund shall annually be distributed, paid, used and transferred as follows:

First: To each city of the first or second class in the state in which there are streets forming a part of the route of any primary state highway through such city, there shall be remitted by the state auditor, by warrant drawn on the state treasurer and payable from the primary highway maintenance fund, a sum equal to five hundred dollars ($500) per mile for each mile of primary highway in such city, to be expended for the maintenance and improvement of streets therein;

Second: To each city of the third or fourth class in which there are streets forming a part of the route of any primary state highway through such city, there shall be remitted by the state auditor, by warrant drawn on the state treasurer and payable from the primary highway maintenance fund, a sum equal to three hundred dollars ($300) per mile for each mile of primary highway in such city, to be expended for the maintenance and improvement of the streets forming a part of primary highways therein: Provided, the director of public works may give the city or town authorities permission to expend said maintenance money upon the other city or town streets;

Third: To each of the counties in the state in which are located primary highways there shall be credited a sum equal to three hundred dollars ($300) per mile for each mile of primary highway which is now or may hereafter be constructed on permanent location according to state specifications;

Fourth: Any balance that may remain in the primary highway maintenance fund after making the payments and credits hereinabove provided for shall be credited to the several counties, other than counties entirely surrounded by water, in proportion to the amount of money paid into the permanent highway fund by the several counties.

The moneys credited to the several counties, other than counties entirely surrounded by water, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be expended by the boards of county commissioners of the several counties under the direction of the director of public works, for the maintenance of the primary highways within the respective counties.

Any unexpended balance of the moneys placed to the credit of any county as above provided, which may remain at the end of any calendar year, shall be transferred to the permanent highway fund and placed to the credit of the county to be expended in the manner provided by law: Provided, that if it shall appear to the satisfaction of the director of public works at any time prior to the end of the calendar year, that after providing for all necessary maintenance of primary highways in the county for the year, there will remain surplus funds to the credit of the county, he may certify such fact to the state treasurer, stating definitely the amount of money that will not be needed for maintenance, and such amount shall thereupon be transferred to the permanent highway fund and placed to the credit of the county to be expended in the manner provided by law.

All primary highways and streets, in order to come under the provisions of this act for maintenance purposes, must be of a character equal to the standard of permanent highway construction. The director of public works through and by means of the division of highways shall determine what streets in cities and towns form a part of the route of any primary highway and shall, between the fifteenth day of February and the fifteenth day of March of each year, certify in triplicate, one copy to the state treasurer, one copy to the county commissioners of each such county and one copy to the clerk of each city affected by the provisions of this act, the number of miles of such constructed highways within such county, city or town forming a part of the route of a primary highway.

The powers and duties vested by this act in the director of public works shall be exercised and performed by the highway commissioner until such time as the director of public works shall be appointed, qualified and exercise and assume the duties of his office. [L. '21, p. 264, § 18. Cf. L. '19, p. 93, § 3; L. '17, p. 635, § 13; L. '15, p. 393, § 18.]

§ 6331. Number Plates, How Attached.

The authorized number plates of each motor vehicle shall be attached conspicuously at the front and rear of such vehicle and in such manner that they can be plainly seen and read at all times. Each number plate shall hang in a horizontal position at a distance of not less than one foot nor more than four feet from the ground, and each number plate shall be kept clean so as to be plainly seen and read at all times.

It shall be unlawful to display upon the front or rear of any motor vehicle any number plate other than those furnished by the secretary of state or to display upon any motor vehicle any such number plates which have in any manner been changed, altered or disfigured, or have become illegible. [L. '21, p. 266, § 19. Cf. L. '19, p. 120, § 9; L. '17, p. 636, § 14; L. '15, p. 393, § 19.]

§ 6332. Weight of Vehicle—Limitation.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to operate any vehicle of four wheels or less over and along the roads in this state whose gross weight including load is more than twenty-four thousand pounds, or any vehicle having a greater weight than twenty-two thousand four hundred pounds on one axle, or any vehicle having a combined weight of over eight hundred pounds per inch width of tire upon any wheel concentrated upon the surface of the highway (said width of tire in the case of solid rubber tires to be measured between the flanges of the rim): Provided, that in special cases vehicles whose weight including loads exceeds those herein prescribed, may operate under special written permits, which must be first obtained and under such terms and conditions as to time, route, equipment, speed and otherwise as shall be determined by the director of licenses if it is desired to use a state highway; the county commissioners, if it is desired to use the county road; and the city or town council, if it is desired to use a city or town street; from each of which officer or officers such permit shall be obtained in the respective cases. Provided, that no motor-truck or trailer shall be driven over or on a public highway with a load exceeding the licensed capacity: Provided, further, upon the conviction of any person, for a second violation of the provisions of this section, the court or judge before whom such conviction is had, may in its or his discretion, in addition to the imposition of any penalties provided by law, suspend the license provisions for said truck for a period of thirty days, and upon a third conviction, the court or judge may in its or his discretion, in addition to the imposition of any penalties provided by law, suspend said license covering the vehicle involved in such violation for a period of three months. [L. '21, p. 267, § 20.]

§ 6333. Use of Exhaust Muffler.

Every motor vehicle using an internal combustion engine, shall use an exhaust muffler, and the same shall not be cut out or disconnected. [L. '21, p. 268, § 21. Cf. L. '15, p. 393, § 20.]

§ 6334. Exhibit Lights—Requirements and Restrictions.

Every motor vehicle operated or driven upon the public highways of this state shall exhibit during the period from one-half hour after sunset to one-half hour before sunrise and at all times when fog or other atmospheric conditions render the operation of said vehicle dangerous to traffic or the use of the highways, at least two head-lamps, one on each side of said vehicle showing white or yellow tinted lights visible at least five hundred feet or more in advance of said vehicle. Such motor vehicle or any trailer attached thereto shall have attached to the rear not less than one lamp showing a red light visible at least two hundred feet in the rear of such vehicle, and the same light or additional light casting white rays of sufficient strength on the rear number plate thereof, so that such number plate may be easily read at a distance of at least sixty feet: Provided, that motorcycles shall be required to carry only one light in the front thereof, which shall show white or yellow tinted rays visible at least five hundred feet in advance of such motor vehicle: Provided, further, that it shall be unlawful to display any light showing red to the front of any motor vehicle. Every motor-truck, the body of which exceeds six (6) feet in width shall exhibit during the hours of darkness, in addition to the above required lights, a white light on the left side of the machine defining the limit of the body of the machine or the overhanging load, if any there be, and beyond the outside thereof, the said light shall be so fixed or carried that the light therefrom may be seen both from the front and rear of said motor-truck. Every motor-truck, automobile or trailer carrying a load which projects over the rear end three feet or more shall be required to display a red flag by day and a red light by night, on the extreme rear end of such overhanging load. No person shall install or use a light of more than twenty-seven candle power in any motor vehicle head-lamp equipped with a reflector. It shall be unlawful to use on a motor vehicle of any kind operated on the public highways of this state any lighting device of over four candle power equipped with a reflector, unless the same shall be so designed, deflected or arranged as to deflect or diffuse the light and to produce sufficient light to reveal objects at least one hundred and fifty feet ahead thereof and ten feet on either side of the center line of said vehicle measured at a distance of ten feet in front thereof and in such manner that the beam of light therefrom, when measured seventy-five feet or more ahead of the lamps shall not rise above forty-two inches from the level surface on which the vehicle stands under all conditions of load.

The term "beam of light" shall be construed to mean the reflected rays of light which are projected approximately parallel to the optical axis of the reflector.

A light shall be deemed "diffused" when produced by a head-lamp which has the entire surface of the glass front etched, ground, sand blasted or so formed that the light emitted therefrom is entirely dispersed.

The above provisions of this act shall not apply to spot lights but all spot lights shall, while in use upon the highways of this state, be so directed that the beams of light therefrom shall strike the roadway at a point at least six (6) feet to the right and not more than seventy-five (75) feet in front thereof when approaching a vehicle.

In any prosecution under this act, the candle power indicated on the headlight bulb from any electric head-lamp shall be and constitute prima facie evidence of the light candle power of such head-lamp.

All vehicles, other than motor vehicles, when operated upon the highways between one-half hour after sunset and one-half hour before sunrise and at all times when fog or other atmospheric conditions render the operation of said vehicles dangerous to traffic or the use of the highways, shall display on the left side of said vehicle a white light which must be visible from the front and rear for a distance not less than two hundred (200) feet in either direction.

It shall be unlawful to sell or offer for sale, or have in possession with intent to sell, any vehicle of any kind for operation on the public highways of this state equipped with any lighting device of over four candle power with a reflector unless such lighting device shall conform to the provisions of the preceding paragraphs of this section. [L. '21, p. 268, § 22. Cf. L. '19, p. 120, § 10; L. '17, p. 636, § 15; L. '15, p. 393, § 21.]

An act providing that every automobile "when driven" on a public road or street must be lighted during the hours of darkness, applies to cars left standing in the street: Jaquith v. Worden, 73 Wash. 349, 132 Pac. 33, 48 L. R. A. (N. S.) 827.

The violation of the act requiring a red light visible at least two hundred feet to be attached to the rear of a motor vehicle, is of itself negligence:

brake capable of controlling the same at all times. [L. '21, p. 270, § 23; Cf. L. '15, p. 394, § 22.]

§ 6337. Mirror Required.

Every owner or operator of any motor vehicle so constructed or loaded as to prevent an unobstructed view directly to the rear, used on the public highways of this state, shall equip such motor vehicle with a mirror or other device to enable the driver thereof to have such a clear and unobstructed view of the rear as will enable him to obey the "rules of the road" when overtaken by any other vehicle. [L. '21, p. 271, § 25. Cf. L. '17, p. 641, § 22.]

§ 6338. Hand and Arm Signals.

All vehicles operated on the highways of this state which are so constructed that hand and arm signals given by the driver are not visible at the rear of said vehicle, must be equipped with a suitable mechanical or electrical device approved by the secretary of state capable of giving unmistakable signals as to the intention of the driver to stop or turn such vehicle. [L. '21, p. 271, § 26.]

§ 6339. Rate of Speed.

It shall be the duty of every person operating a motor vehicle on the public highways of this state to drive the same in a careful and prudent manner. It shall be unlawful for any person to operate or move any motor vehicle at a rate of speed faster than thirty miles per hour, or, within any corporate limits of any city or town, at a rate of speed faster than twenty miles per hour, or, over or across any street intersection within the corporate limits of any city or town, or within one hundred yards of any schoolhouse, on school days between 8 o'clock in the morning and 5 o'clock in the evening, at a rate of speed faster than twelve miles per hour, or in any case at a rate of speed that will endanger the property of another or the life or limb of any person. It shall be unlawful to operate any motor-truck equipped with pneumatic tires over or along the highways of this state at a greater rate of speed than twenty-five miles per hour; or any motor-truck of a gross weight including load as hereinafter provided equipped with solid rubber tires at a greater rate of speed than the following:

4,000 pounds and under.....	25 miles per hour
Over 4,000 pounds and up to 8,000 pounds.....	20 miles per hour

A motorecyclist, struck by an automobile at a street crossing, is not guilty of contributory negligence as a matter of law in exceeding four miles per hour, at city street crossings "when any person is upon the same," where it appears that he was first at the intersection and there was no other person on the crossing at the time the automobile being some distance away: Barth v. Harris, 95 Wash. 166, 163 Pac. 401.

A law limiting the speed of automobiles in cities is more than a mere rule of evidence as to negligence and creates a duty entering into the contract of carriage of passengers in a jitney bus, so that the repeal of the act by Rem. Code, section 3562-35, does not affect rights of action theretofore existing: Singer v. Martin, 96 Wash. 231, 164 Pac. 1105.

The statute limiting the speed of automobiles in cities may be invoked by a passenger in a jitney bus, as well as by pedestrians, where violation of the statute was the proximate cause of the injury: Singer v. Martin, 96 Wash. 231, 164 Pac. 1105.

§ 6340. Rules of the Road Enumerated.

It shall be the duty of every person using the highways of this state to observe the "rules of the road" as hereinafter prescribed:

(1) Vehicles and persons, driving or riding any animals proceeding in opposite directions shall pass to the right giving one-half of the road to each.

(2) Vehicles proceeding in the same direction on overtaking another vehicle or overtaking any person riding or driving any animal shall pass to the left: Provided, however, a variance in good faith from the rules herein relating to the turning to the left of a vehicle when overtaking another vehicle, or any person riding or driving an animal, going in the same direction where the exigencies of the situation permit, shall not subject the offender to arrest under the criminal provisions of this act; but it shall be unlawful for any person to pass any moving vehicle or animal overtaken unless he has a clear view ahead of not less than two hundred yards.

(3) The overtaking vehicle shall maintain its speed until clear of the vehicle or animal overtaken and the vehicle or animal being overtaken shall turn to the right and give one-half of the road, and shall not increase its speed while being passed.

(4) The signal of an intention to pass shall be given by one blast or stroke of the horn, bell, whistle, gong or other signaling device.

(5) Should the overtaking vehicle then not give way, three such blasts or signals shall be given, and upon the failure to comply therewith, the overtaking vehicle may at the next suitable place safe for both vehicles go by without further signal.

(6) Drivers, when approaching highway intersections, shall look out for and give right of way to vehicles on their right, simultaneously approaching a given point: Provided, however, that street and interurban cars and emergency vehicles shall have the right of way at all times at such highway intersections.

(7) Pedestrians on the public highways between the period from one-half hour after sunset to one-half hour before sunrise shall travel on and along the left side of said highway, and the pedestrians upon meeting an oncoming vehicle shall step off the traveled portion of the highway.

(8) It shall be the duty of every person operating or driving any motor or other vehicle, or riding or driving any animal along or over any public highway when approaching any curve of such highway where for any reason a clear view for a distance of three hundred yards cannot be had, to hold such vehicle under control and to give signals with frequent blasts or strokes of a horn, whistle, bell, gong or other signaling device, and to keep to the extreme inside of all curves to the right and upon the extreme outside of all curves to the left. It is not negligence per se to fail to observe this section, requiring automobiles to keep to the right of the center of street intersections in turning to the right: Bogdan v. Pappas, 95 Wash. 579, 164 Pac. 208.

Under this section it is negligence, which was the proximate cause of the accident, for the driver of a truck, already to the left of the center, to suddenly swerve to the left and strike the rear of an approaching auto that was at the extreme right of a level road fifty feet wide: Paton v. Cashmere Warehouse & Storage Co., 104 Wash. 414, 176 Pac. 544.

It is not necessarily negligence per se to violate a law requiring vehicles going in the same direction to pass to the right: Hartley v. Lasater, 96 Wash. 407, 165 Pac. 106.

§ 6341. Turning at Intersections of Streets, etc.

It shall be the duty of every person operating or driving any motor or other vehicle or riding or driving any animal along or over any public highway and approaching any intersection of a street, road or highway, with the intention of turning thereat to the right, to keep to the extreme right, and with the intention of turning thereat to the left to proceed to and beyond the center of the intersection before turning. And it shall be the duty of every such person about to turn from a standstill or while in motion to give a timely signal indicating the direction in which he intends to turn as follows: If he intends to turn to the left he shall extend his arm in a horizontal position for a reasonable length of time; if he intends to turn to the right he shall extend his arm with the forearm raised at right angles for a reasonable length of time; and every such signal shall commence at a point not less than fifty feet before the turn is made. And it shall be the duty of every person so operating or driving any motor or other vehicle or riding or driving any animal along or over any public highway and intending to stop, to extend his arm and move it up and down in a vertical position for a reasonable length of time before stopping. Mechanical devices capable of producing signals as to the intention of the driver to stop or turn such vehicle and approved by the secretary of state may be used. [L. '21, p. 273, § 29.]

§ 6342. Passing—Precautions.

It shall be the duty of every person in charge of any vehicle or animal moving along and upon any public highway to keep such vehicle or animal as closely as practicable to the right hand boundary of such highway so as to allow more swiftly moving vehicles reasonably free passage to the left. And it shall be the duty of every person operating a motor vehicle upon any such highway, on receiving a signal given by raising the hand from a person riding, leading, or driving in the opposite direction any animal or animals to bring such motor vehicle immediately to a stop and remain stationary so long as may be reasonable, to allow such animal or animals to pass; and if traveling in the same direction as any such animal or animals, to use reasonable caution in passing the same; and in case any such animal appears to be badly frightened or the person operating such motor vehicle is signaled so to do, he shall cause the motor of such vehicle to cease running so long as shall be reasonably necessary to prevent accident and insure the safety of others. [L. '21, p. 274, § 30. Cf. L. '15, p. 395, § 27.]

Whether there was compliance with the act as to the duty of an automobile driver on approaching frightened animals, is a question for the jury, where there was evidence that the auto approached a frightened horse upon a dangerous approach to a bridge, at a high rate of speed and making a great noise, causing the horse to plunge off the embankment: Ross v. Rose, 109 Wash. 273, 186 Pac. 892.

In an action for injuries sustained through the frightening of plaintiff's horse in the negligent driving of an automobile at great speed making a great noise, it is proper to refuse to instruct that plaintiff's failure to signal defendant was contributory negligence precluding a recovery, since the signal is called for only when a full stop is required, and the statute made it the positive duty of the defendant to exercise precaution to prevent frightening the horse: Ross v. Rose, 109 Wash. 273, 186 Pac. 892.

§ 6343. Overtaking or Passing Electric Cars.

It shall be the duty of every person operating or driving any vehicle, when overtaking or passing any street-car or interurban car that has stopped at a street intersection, to bring such vehicle to a full stop before passing such street-car or interurban car, and not to proceed while any person or persons are getting on or off or are about to get on or off said car, unless the driver of such vehicle can maintain a distance of at least six feet between said vehicle and the running board or lower step of such car. The direction in which all vehicles shall so proceed may be determined by the park commissioners in parks and by the county commissioners or other legally constituted authorities with respect to narrow passes and defiles within their respective jurisdictions, and when so declared shall be so conspicuously marked with signs as to indicate the rules and regulations in regard thereto and the direction in which all vehicles shall so travel. And it shall be unlawful for any person to leave any disabled vehicle standing on any traveled portion of any highway of this state at any time between one-half hour after sunset and one-half hour before sunrise without having a red light displayed on the rear end of such vehicle at the side thereof nearest the center of the highway. County commissioners are authorized to purchase a bridge constructed under the provisions of this act at any time after the completion thereof. [L. '19, p. 228, § 5.]

§ 6446. Cost and Maintenance Accounts to be Filed.

It shall be the duty of every person, firm or corporation granted a franchise under the provisions of this act to keep an accurate account of the costs of such bridge and upon the completion thereof same shall be verified by such person or some officer of the corporation having knowledge of the facts, and filed with the county auditor. Such person or corporation shall also keep an accurate account of the amount expended in keeping such bridge in repair and for the operation and maintenance thereof and of the revenues received from the operation thereof and shall, on or before the first day of February of each year, file such statement for the preceding calendar year verified by such person, or some officer of the corporation having knowledge of the facts, with the county auditor. [L. '19, p. 228, § 6.]

§ 6449. [5623-2.] Resolution.

When deemed advisable that a road be established, the board of county commissioners shall, at a regular meeting, by unanimous vote pass a resolution and enter same on the minutes of the board, which resolution shall describe the terminal points of such proposed road and the width and general course of same. The resolution need not set forth the manner of construction, the cost, nor describe the several tracts or parcels of land through which the same shall run. The resolution shall declare that the laying out and establishment of the road is considered a public necessity and shall direct the county engineer to make an examination of the proposed route of said road as hereinafter provided. [L. '11, p. 305, § 2.]

§ 6450. [5623-3.] Engineer's Duty.

The county engineer shall make an examination of the proposed route of such road and, if necessary, a survey of same. If, however, after an examination, he deems the same to be impracticable, he may so report to the board of county commissioners without making a survey, or he may examine or survey any other route that would subserve that purpose, and make a report thereon. [L. '11, p. 305, § 3.]

Cited in 101 Wash. 265.

§ 6451. [5623-4.] Petition of Householdors.

In addition to the method hereinabove provided, ten or more householders of the county residing in the vicinity of a proposed road may petition the board of county commissioners for the establishment of such road. Such petition shall describe the terminal points of said road and the general course of same. [L. '11, p. 306, § 4.]

Cited in 108 Wash. 61.

This section does not require that the petition state that the petitioners are householders, and where it was signed by ten or more residents and taxpayers and evidence was taken and acted upon, it will be presumed that the county commissioners were satisfied that they were householders: State ex rel. McPherson Bros. Co. v. Superior Court, 108 Wash. 58, 182 Pac. 962.

§ 6452. [5623-5.] Bond.

If the board of county commissioners so order the petition shall be accompanied by a bond in the penal sum of three hundred dollars ($300) payable to the county, executed by one or more persons as principal or principals, with two or more sufficient sureties, and conditioned that the petitioners will pay into the county treasury the amount of all costs and expenses incurred in examining and surveying the proposed road and in the proceedings in case the road shall not be established, or in case the application is for the purpose of changing the road for the benefit of the land owner or owners, and no such change shall be made until such cost bill has been paid and the road graded. When the cost is assessed against the principal petitioner, the clerk of the board of county commissioners shall file the cost bill with the county treasurer, who shall proceed to collect the same. Before considering the petition the board may require the petitioners to secure waivers for the right of way from the land owners, and, in such case, before an examination or survey is ordered, the waivers shall be filed with the board of county commissioners. [L. '11, p. 306, § 5.]

Cited in 101 Wash. 261.

§ 6453. [5623-6.] Examination by Engineer.

Upon the filing of said petition and said bond, if required, the board of county commissioners shall examine and approve same and if found sufficient shall direct the county engineer to make an examination and survey, as provided for in section 6450. [L. '11, p. 306, § 6.]

§ 6454. [5623-7.] Warrants for Awards—Deposit—Decree.

At the time of the hearing on the establishment of said road as provided for by law, the board of county commissioners shall direct the auditor to draw warrants in favor of the record owner or owners of said property appropriated in said proceeding for the amount of the award made by the board for the appropriation thereof. The auditor shall cash said warrants if the same be not accepted by said owner or owners by the time said petition to condemn is filed with the clerk of the superior court as provided for by law and shall deposit said moneys in court for the use and benefit of said owner or owners. If said warrants be accepted by said owner or owners, or if said money be withdrawn from the registry of the court, the county shall be entitled to a decree of appropriation vesting full title to the property in the county. [L. '11, p. 306, § 7.]

§ 6455. [5623-8.] Right of Way may be Condemned.

If any award of damages is not accepted at the time of said hearing it shall be deemed rejected, and the board must then, by order, direct proceedings to procure the right of way to be instituted in the superior court of the county by the county attorney of the county in the manner provided by law for the taking of private property for public use. § 6456. [5623-9.] Condemning Gravel-beds and Stone Quarries.

Counties shall have the right in the manner provided for in this act, to condemn land or other property for the purpose of securing gravel-beds, stone quarries or other material suitable for the construction, building or repair of county roads, and shall have the right to condemn the right of ways to reach such property and to gain access thereto. The proceedings shall be the same as provided for herein for the establishment and condemnation of county roads. [L. '11, p. 307, § 9.]

§ 6457. [5623-10.] Widening County Roads.

The county shall have the right, in the manner provided for in this act, to condemn land and other property for the purpose of widening county roads already established, to any width allowed by law, and to condemn land and other property for the purpose of changing the course or location of roads already established. [L. '11, p. 307, § 10.]

§ 6458. [5624.] Petition to Board.

Applications for the laying out and establishing or changing of any county road shall be by petition in writing to the board of county commissioners, signed by at least ten householders of the county residing in the vicinity of the proposed road. [L. '95, p. 82, § 2.]

§ 6459. [5625.] Petition, Contents of.

Such petition must set forth the terminal points of the proposed road; the course, the width, which shall not be less than thirty feet nor more than one hundred feet, and that the proposed road is practicable and will be of general use and public utility. [L. '95, p. 82, § 3.]

Cited in 47 Wash. 13.

§ 6460. [5626.] Bond Required—Waivers for Right of Way.

Such petition must be accompanied by a bond in the penal sum of three hundred dollars payable to the county, executed by one or more of such petitioners as principal or principals with two or more sufficient sureties, and conditioned that the petitioners will pay into the county treasury the amount of all costs and expense incurred in examining and surveying the proposed road and in the proceeding, in case the road shall not be established, or in case the application is for the purpose of changing the road for the benefit of the land owner or owners, and no such change shall be made until such cost bill has been paid and the road graded. When the cost is assessed against the principal petitioner the clerk of the board of county commissioners shall file the cost bill with the county treasurer who shall proceed to collect the same. The board may require that waivers for the right of way be secured by the principal petitioner, before an examination or survey is ordered, said petition, bond, and waiver shall be filed with the clerk of the board of county commissioners. § 6461. [5627.] Examination and Survey.

The board when in session, shall consider such petition and bond, and if not rejected they shall, if such petition contains substantially the matters and things required by law, and that the said bond is sufficient, file said petition, bond and waivers with the county engineer, who shall make examination and if necessary, a survey of the proposed road. If, however, after an examination he deem the same impracticable he may so report to the board of county commissioners without a survey, or he may examine or survey any other route which would subserve the same purpose and make a report thereon. [L. '01, p. 201, § 2. Cf. L. '95, p. 83, § 5.]

§ 6462. [5628.] Selection of Route—Waiver or Specification of Damages.

In selecting the route the engineer shall take into consideration the general road system, the grade, cost of construction, maintenance, utility, convenience, inconvenience, and expense which will result to individuals as well as the public, if such roads shall be established, and opened or changed. He shall as far as possible, cause notice of the route of the road as far as surveyed to be given to each resident owner, lessee, occupant or owner's agent of lands over which said road passes. He shall receive from each person interested in such land, who will give the same, a statement in writing signed by such person and file the same with his report, and (1) consenting that such road shall be established as surveyed and waiving all claims to damages on account thereof; or (2) claiming damages on account of the establishment or opening of such road, and specifying the amount so claimed. [L. '01, p. 201, § 3. Cf. L. '95, p. 83, § 6.]

§ 6463. [5629.] Engineer's Report—Contents.

When the examination or survey is completed the engineer shall report in writing to the board of county commissioners (1) his opinion as to the necessity of the road, and whether the same ought to be established and opened; (2) the terminal points, general course and length of the road; (3) his recommendation as to the width of the proposed road; (4) the names of persons interested in lands over which the proposed road passes, who consent to the establishment of the same, and waive all claims to damages; (5) the names of all persons interested in said lands who refuse their consent, and the amount of damages claimed by each; (6) an estimate of damages to each tract of land of nonconsenting persons interested in such tract of land, and in determining such damages it shall be the duty of the surveyor to estimate the benefits and damages accruing to any person by reason of establishing or changing such road, and the sum estimated as benefit must be deducted from the sum estimated as damages for the amount of damages to such person or land; (7) a description of each tract of land over which such road passes, with the name and place of residence or address of the owners, lessees, claimants or encumbrancer if known, of each of said tracts of land, and the quantity of area of land to be taken from each of said tracts; (8) the probable cost of the construction of the road, including all necessary bridges, culverts, clearing, grubbing and grading; (9) such other facts, matters and things as he may deem of importance to be known by the board of county commissioners. [L. '01, p. 202, § 4.]

"Engineer" substituted for "surveyor" in this chapter.

§ 6464. [5630.] Waivers, Damage Claims, etc., to be Filed With Report.

The engineer shall file with his report the written consent and waivers of claims to damages by persons interested in the lands affected by the establishment of said road, and the claims for damages procured as provided in this act. [L. '01, p. 203, § 5. Cf. L. '95, p. 85, § 8.]

"This act," see §§ 6447, 6458 to 6472.

§ 6465. [5631.] Map of Road and Field-notes to be Filed.

If a survey is made of the proposed road the engineer shall file a correctly prepared map of said road laid out and surveyed, which map must show the tracts of land over which said road passes with the name of the owner if known, of each tract written thereon, and the engineer shall also file therewith his field-notes of such survey. [L. '01, p. 203, § 6. Cf. L. '95, p. 85, § 9.]

§ 6466. [5632.] Wages Paid.

The chainmen, rodmen, axmen, flagmen, and all necessary assistants employed in such survey to assist the county engineer, shall be paid such salary for their services as the board of county commissioners shall determine upon, to be paid out of the proper fund of the county. [L. '11, p. 342, § 1. Cf. L. '95, p. 85, § 10.]

§ 6467. [5633.] Notice to Owners, How Given.

The board of county commissioners at their next meeting after the filing of the report of the viewers [engineer], or at the time when the same is filed, if then in session, must fix a time for the hearing of the report, and must cause notice of such hearing to be given to the owners, lessees and encumbrancers of the land to be taken for such road, who have not consented to the establishment of the road and waived their claims to damages therefor, which notice shall be given as follows: If such owners, lessees and encumbrancers reside or are present within the county, then by serving upon them personally within the county a written notice at least twenty days before the time set for said hearing, setting forth the time and purpose of such hearing; and if any of said owners, lessees or encumbrancers are absent from said county, or for any reason cannot be served personally therein, such notice shall be given, as to them, by posting written notice of the time and purpose of such hearing, one at a conspicuous place on the land or left at the residence of the owner, lessee or encumbrancer, as the case may be, and one at a conspicuous place at the courthouse of the county, at least twenty days before the time set for said hearing. § 6468. [5634.] County Commissioners to Determine Damages and Establish Roads.

On the day fixed for said hearing or to which such hearing may be postponed or adjourned, the said board, upon due proof to the satisfaction of the board, made by affidavit, of the service or posting of notice of the hearing, as by this act required, shall proceed to the hearing of said report, and shall examine the same, together with the map and the petition, the written claims for damages, the written consent and waivers of damages, and all other papers on file in the proceedings, and shall hear and consider all testimony and documentary evidence adduced for or against the establishment of the road, or as to the amount of damages which should be awarded in any case, and shall, at that time or as soon thereafter as may be, declare by order the decision of the board—(1) As to whether the road shall be established in accordance with the report of viewers [engineer], or otherwise, or at all, and if the decision of the board be that the road shall be established, and if all persons interested in the lands to be taken have consented to the establishment of said road and have waived their claims to damages therefor, the said board shall, at the same time, make an order finally establishing the road, and shall order that the same be opened in the manner provided by law. If the decision of the board be that the road shall be established, and if any of the persons interested in the lands to be taken therefor shall not have consented to the establishment of the road, or waived their claims for damages therefor, or shall claim damages therefor, said board shall, at that time, by order, declare the amount of damages awarded by such board to each of such persons, and shall order the amount of such award to be set apart in the treasury out of the proper fund, to be paid to the proper owner or claimant upon his showing or establishing his right thereto, and if the awards be accepted the board of county commissioners shall make an order finally establishing such road, and directing that the same be opened in the manner provided by law. [L. '95, p. 86, § 12.]

The fact that viewers appointed by the county commissioners to survey a road in pursuance of a petition therefor continue the survey beyond the limits set by the petition would give no authority to the county to establish a road beyond the point named in the petition: Megrath v. Nickerson, 24 Wash. 235, 64 Pac. 163.

Under §§ 6458—6478, the county commissioners have no authority, upon the hearing of an adverse report thereon, to order the establishment of a road along another route and reaching a different terminal than the one viewed, surveyed and reported upon by the viewers: Flint v. Horsley, 25 Wash. 648, 66 Pac. 59.

The writ of prohibition will not issue to restrain the superior court from entertaining an appeal from the order of a board of county commissioners establishing a county road, since there is an adequate remedy by appeal from the judgment of the superior court: State ex rel. Zent v. Neal, 30 Wash. 702, 71 Pac. 647.

An objection that county commissioners did not acquire jurisdiction of a proceeding to open a county road cannot be considered on appeal where it was not raised in the pleadings and the entire record of the proceedings before the board is not brought up on appeal: Carlson v. County Commissioners, 38 Wash. 616, 80 Pac. 795.

The refusal of the board to establish a road upon petition therefor does not present a question which the superior court can review on appeal, since that court cannot take cognizance of cases requiring the exercise of other than purely judicial power: Selde v. Lincoln County, 25 Wash. 198, 65 Pac. 192.

Collusion between county commissioners and a railroad company in locating a proposed county road cannot be shown by the fact that the railroad company desired the location agreed to for its own purposes, where there was no evidence of improper influence or inducement: State ex rel. Murhard Estate Co. v. Superior Court, 49 Wash. 392, 95 Pac. 488.

Upon certiorari to review an adjudication of public use in a proceeding to condemn land for a county road, the supreme court cannot review the preliminary proceedings had before the board of county commissioners for the establishment of the road, where the board had acquired jurisdiction of the persons and property; nor in such a case can they review the awarding or ascertainment of damages: State ex rel. Pagett v. Superior Court, 47 Wash. 11, 91 Pac. 241.

Under this section, providing that upon due proof "made by affidavit" of the service of notice of proceedings for the establishment of a county road, the board of county commissioners shall proceed to a hearing, the board proceeds without jurisdiction where the only proof of service was the unverified return of the sheriff: State ex rel. Cation v. Superior Court, 110 Wash. 506, 188 Pac. 546.

§ 6469. [5635.] Rejection of Awards and Subsequent Procedure.

If any award of damages is not accepted within thirty days from the date of the award, it shall be deemed rejected, and the board must then, by order, direct proceedings to procure the right of way to be instituted in the superior court of the county by the county attorney of the county, in the manner provided by law for the taking of private property for public use, and to that end are hereby authorized to institute and maintain in the name of the county the proceedings provided in sections 921 to 936 of this code, and when under such proceedings the right of way is procured, said board shall declare the road finally established, and shall order that the same be opened in the manner provided by law. [L. '95, p. 87, § 13.]

Under this section and section 6777, infra, the state may proceed under sections 921—936, supra, without hearings and notices for the establishment of county roads: State v. Superior Court, 111 Wash. 542, 191 Pac. 413.

§ 6470. [5636.] Tender of Award.

Before causing condemnation proceedings to be instituted in the superior court as hereinbefore provided, it shall be the duty of the county commissioners to tender to each person interested in the land to be appropriated for the public highway as hereinbefore provided, such amount as in the judgment of such county commissioners such person is justly entitled to, and in case a tender cannot be made by reason of the absence of such nonconsenting land owner or person whose property is taken or damaged as hereinbefore provided, a warrant shall be drawn in the name of the county auditor, who shall cash the same and deposit said cash with the clerk of the court of the county wherein the road to be laid out and opened is located. [L. '95, p. 87, § 14.]

Cited in 111 Wash. 544.

§ 6471. [5637.] Award, How Paid.

The warrant hereinbefore provided for shall be drawn upon the general road and bridge fund: Provided, however, that if there is not sufficient money in said fund at any time to pay any warrant so drawn in full, said county commissioners shall provide a special fund for the purpose of paying such warrants, and shall cause such warrants to be drawn on such special fund. [L. '95, p. 87, § 15.]

The issuance of a warrant upon the county treasurer for compensation for lands appropriated by the county for road purposes is a sufficient compliance with the constitutional provision when there are funds in the treasury out of which such warrant can be paid: Smith's Petition, In re, 9 Wash. 85, 37 Pac. 311, 494.

§ 6472. [5638.] Duty of Treasurer.

Whenever any warrant is drawn upon said general road and bridge fund for the purposes herein specified, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the board of county commissioners to notify the county treasurer of the date and the amount of such warrant, and in case the said warrant is not accepted by the person to whom it is tendered, at the time of tender, the county treasurer shall set apart from the general road and bridge fund, a sum sufficient to pay such warrant with one year's interest thereon at the rate of eight per cent per annum, and said fund shall be kept intact until the claim of damages of the person in whose favor said warrant is drawn has been settled either by agreement or condemnation proceedings as hereinbefore provided. [L. '95, p. 87, § 16.]

§ 6473. [5639.] Review and Resurvey Where Road has Become Uncertain.

When the place of beginning or true course of a county road shall be uncertain by reason of the removal of any monument or marked tree by which such road was originally designated, or from any other cause, the county commissioners of the proper county may appoint three disinterested landholders of the county to review and find the line of the road, and if they deem it necessary, a competent surveyor to survey the same; and the reviewers and surveyor, after taking the oath required in section 6462, shall view and survey said road, and the same correctly mark throughout as in the case of new roads, and shall make a return of the survey and a plat of the road to the commissioners, who shall cause the same to be recorded as in other cases; and from thenceforth the road, surveyed as aforesaid, shall be considered a highway. [L. '90, p. 599, § 18; 1 H. C., § 1957.]

The present force of this and the next section seems doubtful.

"Section 6462" substituted for "section 6" of the act of 1895, which, as amended, now requires no oath or viewers.

Cited in 27 Wash. 502.

§ 6474. [5640.] Refusal to Act as Viewer.

If a person appointed by the county commissioners as a viewer, reviewer, or surveyor of any road refuse or neglect to perform the duties required by this act, without making satisfactory excuse for such refusal or neglect, he shall be fined in any sum not exceeding fifteen dollars, to be recovered by action by any person suing for the same before a justice of the peace within the district wherein the person so appointed and refusing or neglecting may reside; and the recovery shall be paid without delay by the justice of the peace or constable collecting the same to the treasurer of the county, taking his receipt therefor; and the county commissioners shall cause all fines which shall be paid into the county treasury under the provisions of this title to be expended on roads and bridges within the county. [L. '90, p. 601, § 27; 1 H. C., § 1969.]

This section now seems obsolete except as applicable to the last preceding section.

§ 6475. [5641.] Change of Road Through Private Lands—How Made.

If any person through whose land a county road is or may be established shall be desirous of turning the road through any other part of his land, he may, by notice and petition agreeably to the provisions of this act, apply to the commissioners of the county while in session, to permit him to turn the road through any other part of his land, on as good ground, and without increasing the distance to the injury of the public; and, upon the receipt of such petition, the commissioners shall appoint a surveyor and three disinterested freeholders of the county as viewers of the road, who shall proceed to view and survey the ground over which the same is proposed to be turned, and to ascertain the distance which it will be increased by such proposed alteration, and make a report in writing, stating the several distances so found, together with their opinion as to the utility of making the alteration. § 6476. [5642.] Report of Freeholders—When Road will be Changed—Costs.

If the freeholders report to the commissioners that the prayer of the petitioner is reasonable, and that the alteration will not place the road on the worse ground, or materially increase the distance to the injury of the public, they shall, upon receiving satisfactory evidence that the proposed new road has been opened a legal width, and if in their opinion the same will be just and reasonable, declare such new road a public highway, and make a record thereof, and at the same time vacate so much of the old road as is rendered necessary by the new; and the person desiring the alteration shall pay all the costs of the view, survey, and return, unless the commissioners are satisfied that the alteration is of sufficient advantage to the public to cause the same to be paid by the county. [L. '90, p. 599, § 20; 1 H. C., § 1959.]

§ 6477. [5643.] Road on County Line—Procedure to Establish.

When it becomes necessary to establish a road on a county line, the inhabitants along such line may petition the commissioners of their respective counties for a view of such road in the manner provided in this act, and the commissioners of each of the counties interested shall appoint two discreet landholders as viewers, who, or a majority of them, shall meet at the time and place named in the order of the commissioners of the oldest county interested, who shall appoint a surveyor, and the viewers and surveyor shall also be a jury for the assessment of damages, and shall in all respects be governed by the last preceding section, and shall make their report in writing for or against such road to the commissioners of the counties concerned, and the commissioners, upon receiving such report, shall in all respects be governed by this act. [L. '90, p. 600, § 21; 1 H. C., § 1960.]

§ 6478. [5644.] Order Opening Road shall be Made, When.

If on receiving such report there is no legal objection thereto, and the commissioners of all the counties interested are of opinion that such road, if opened, would be of public utility, they shall order the same to be opened in the manner pointed out by this act. [L. '90, p. 600, § 22; 1 H. C., § 1961.]

§ 6479. [5645.] Width of Roads Within State.

All county roads hereafter laid out and established shall not be less than thirty nor more than sixty feet wide, to be determined by the viewers [engineer] as hereinafter provided, except that when the road is upon the state line the county commissioners may determine the width, not less than fifteen nor more than thirty feet of land to be taken in this state. [L. '90, p. 593, § 1; 1 H. C., § 1962.]

"Hereinafter," this being § 1 of the act. The provisions referred to precede it in this volume.

The public has a right to a highway of legal width, when: Vancouver v. Wintler, 8 Wash. 378, 36 Pac. 278, 685.

A county road sixty feet wide, in the absence of an order of the commissioners, prescribing a less width, was established under the road law of 1895 (Laws '95, p. 7), where such commissioners caused to be entered in the "road book," required to be kept by them as a public record, a petition for such road, the report of viewers thereon, a description of the road and the adoption of the view made, though no formal order was made declaring the road to be opened: Sumner v. Peebles, 5 Wash. 471, 32 Pac. 221, 1000.

Where, at the time a county road was ordered, the law required its width to be sixty feet, title acquired by prescriptive use extends to the full width and is not limited to the ten to fifteen feet actually used by the public: West Marginal Way, Seattle, In re, 109 Wash. 116, 186 Pac. 644.

§ 6480. [5646.] Width of Road on State Line.

The commissioners of any county through which a county road has been established upon a line of the state may, upon petition and notice as hereinbefore provided, determine the width, not less than fifteen nor more than thirty feet, of the land within the county to be used for the road. [L. '90, p. 600, § 23; 1 H. C., § 1963.]

§ 6481. [5647.] County and State Line Roads—How Opened and Kept in Repair.

When a road is located and ordered to be opened on any county or state line, as provided in this act, the viewers [engineer] appointed to locate, establish, and report damages shall assign a sufficient number of persons to open such road and keep the same in repair, dividing the road in such manner that the persons so assigned may work under the orders of the overseer of the road district to which they belong; and the supervisors and persons so assigned shall be governed by the provisions herein contained. [L. '90, p. 601, § 24; 1 H. C., § 1964.]

§ 6482. Highways Passing Outside of County.

That whenever a state or county highway shall have been or shall hereafter be established within any county, and such highway shall cross the boundary of such county and again enter such county, it shall be lawful for the authorities of the county within which the major portion of such highway is established to expend the funds of such county in the construction and maintenance of that portion of the highway lying outside the county, in the manner provided by law for the expenditure of county funds for the construction and maintenance of highways lying within the county. [L. '21, p. 748, § 1.]

§ 6483. County Roads Over and Along Dikes.

The board of county commissioners of any county shall have the power to establish county roads over, across or along any dike maintained by any diking, or diking and drainage district, in the manner provided by law for establishing county roads over or across private property, and shall determine and award the damages, if any, to the district and to the owners of the land upon which the dike is constructed and maintained: Provided, that every such road shall be so constructed, maintained and used as not to impair the use of the dike. [L. '21, p. 490, § 1.]

§ 6484. Proceedings to Procure Right of Way.

If any award of damages is not accepted in the manner provided by law, it shall be deemed rejected, and the board, by order, shall direct proceedings to procure the right of way to be instituted in the superior court of the county by the prosecuting attorney of the county in the manner provided by law for the taking of private property for public use, and to that end the board is hereby authorized to institute and maintain in the name of the county such proceedings as against the diking, or diking and drainage district, and the owners of any land on which the dike is located that have failed to accept the award of damages made by the board. [L. '21, p. 490, § 2.]

§ 6485. [5648.] Highways Across Stream.

All highways, crossing[s], or ending on any river, creek, or stream shall be open the same width down to and across said river, creek, or stream as it is before it reaches said stream. [L. '86, p. 103, § 1; 1 H. C., § 1965.]

§ 6486. [5649.] Passageway Under Road.

The passageways for stock under any road shall be covered with suitable plank, not less than sixteen feet in length, and it shall be lawful for the fences of either side to converge to the bridge over said passageway. The said passageway shall be kept securely covered by the person who owns the adjoining lands, and shall be kept in repair by said owner. The approaches to the bridges over said passageways shall also be kept in good repair by said owner. [L. '86, p. 103, § 2; 1 H. C., § 1966.]

§ 6487. [5650.] Destruction or Injury to Road—Procedure in Case of.

When a county road is injured or destroyed by the washing of any lake, river, or creek, or by any washing or sliding of land occasioned by natural drainage, the supervisor of the road district in which such injury or loss of road has occurred, upon petition of any six freeholders of the district, shall call to their aid a competent surveyor, and proceed to examine such road; and if, upon such examination, the commissioners, or a majority of them, are satisfied that such road has been destroyed or so much injured that the public good requires an alteration of the same, they shall proceed to alter and lay out so much of the new road as may supply the several parts of the road thus destroyed or injured. [L. '90, p. 602, § 29; 1 H. C., § 1971.]

§ 6488. [5651.] Claim for and Assessment of Damages.

If a person through whose lands any such alteration or new road is laid out feels injured thereby, he shall make application to the overseer of his road district at the time of making the alteration on his premises, to assess and determine, according to the provisions of the last preceding section, the compensation to be made in money for the property sought to be appropriated, and how much less valuable, if any, the premises will be rendered by the alteration of the road; thereafter the road overseer shall make report to the county commissioners, who shall appoint three reviewers to inspect, assess, and report the amount of damages sustained in the premises, and the clerk and commissioners of the proper county shall be governed in the reception and recording of such report in all respects as is prescribed in this act in cases of new roads. [L. '90, p. 602, § 30; 1 H. C., § 1972.]

§ 6489. [5652.] Roads on Section Lines—How Opened.

When notice has been given and a road has been petitioned for as hereinbefore provided, and the petition calls for a road wholly on section lines, and where there are no damages claimed, and evidence filed that the route is practicable, the county commissioners may grant the road without reviewing or surveying the same. [L. '90, p. 603, § 33; 1 H. C., § 1975.]

§ 6490. [5653.] Monuments, Where to be Placed.

The county commissioners shall cause monuments of stone to be placed at the beginning and terminus of all roads established under this act. [L. '90, p. 603, § 34; 1 H. C., § 1976.]

§ 6491. [5654.] Order to Open Road, When to be Executed.

No order of the county commissioners for the establishment of a county road, or for the alteration or vacation, in whole or in part, of a state or county road, or changing the width of a county road, shall be executed until twenty days have elapsed after the entry of such order in the record of the commissioners, and no order shall issue to open any county road until fifteen days after the same has been established, at which time the clerk of the board may issue such order by direction of the commissioners, unless an appeal has been perfected. [L. '90, p. 603, § 35; 1 H. C., § 1977.]

§ 6492. [5655.] Highway Plat-book.

If the same, or what is equivalent thereto, has not heretofore been done, the county auditor shall within six months after this act takes effect, cause every public road in his county, the legal existence of which is shown by the records and files of his office, to be platted in a book to be obtained and kept for that purpose, and to be called the "highway plat-book." Each township shall be platted separately, on a scale of not less than four inches to the mile, and such auditor shall have all changes in or additions to the highways, legally established immediately entered upon said plat-book, with appropriate references to the files in which the papers relating to the same may be found. [Cd. '81, § 3047; 1 H. C., § 2030.]

See supra, § 4149, county engineer to keep highway plat-book, which may supersede this section.

§ 6493. [5656.] Validation of Certain Claims for Road Work.

The boards of county commissioners of the several counties of the state of Washington are hereby authorized to audit and allow without interest all claims against such county for the survey, laying out, or construction of any road now used by the public and for which no compensation has ever been allowed, such survey, laying out, or construction having been made or done pursuant to chapter 98, page 237, of the Session Laws of 1893. All public roads and highways in this state that have been used as such for a period of not less than seven years, and are now so used, where the same have been worked and kept up at the expense of the public, are hereby declared to be lawful roads and highways within the meaning and intent of the laws now existing governing public roads and highways in this state. [L. '90, p. 733, § 1; 1 H. C., § 2022.]

See, also, Remington's Digest, High., § 9.

Notwithstanding an enjoyment of a somewhat devious passageway for a long term of years over open unenclosed land, no prescriptive rights are acquired by the public or those inconvenienced thereby until circumstances induced the owner to cultivate or use it, unless it is shown that the public use was adverse for the prescriptive period: Brandt v. Orrock, 106 Wash. 593, 181 Pac. 35.

No informalities in the records in laying out, altering, establishing, or vacating any public road or highway, such as contemplated in the last preceding section, now existing on file in the offices of the various county auditors of this state, shall be construed to invalidate or vacate such public roads or highways. [L. '90, p. 733, § 2; 1 H. C., § 2023.]

CHAPTER XII.

LEGALIZING OF COUNTY ROADS.

§ 6496. [5659.] Board to Order Resurvey, Plat and Record of Roads in Certain Cases.

Where by reason of the loss or destruction of the field-notes of the original survey, or in case of defective survey or record, or in case of such numerous alterations of any county road since the original location and survey that its location cannot be accurately defined by the papers on file in the proper county auditor's office, or where, through some omission or defect, doubts may exist as to the legal establishment or evidence of establishment of any county road or highway, the board of county commissioners of the proper county may, if they deem it necessary, order such highway, or any part of a county road used and traveled by the public, to be resurveyed, platted, and recorded as hereinafter provided. [L. '81, p. 11, § 1; Cd. '81, § 3041; 1 H. C., § 2024.]

Compare L. '77, pp. 325, 326.

The provisions of this chapter with reference to the determination of damages to owners of land through legalization of county roads according to resurveys thereof was superseded by Const., Art. I, § 16, forbidding the taking of private property unless the compensation be first made or paid into court, which requires that the damages be determined in a judicial proceeding in a court of record wherein the property owners are brought in by appropriate original process: Duncan Township v. Stayr, 106 Wash. 514, 180 Pac. 476.

§ 6497. [5660.] Copy of Field-notes and Plat to be Filed—Approval of Survey.

A copy of the field-notes, together with a plat of any highway or county road surveyed under the provisions of the preceding section, shall be filed in the office of the county auditor, and thereupon he shall designate a day at a regular term of the board of county commissioners, not less than twenty days from the publication of said notice, upon which said board will, unless good cause be shown against so doing, approve of such survey and plat, and order them to be recorded as in cases of the original establishment of a county road. [L. '81, p. 11, § 2; Cd. '81, § 3042; 1 H. C., § 2025.]

§ 6498. [5661.] Notice of Hearing to be Published—Form of Notice.

At least twenty days before the day fixed by the auditor, as above provided, a notice in which shall be inserted the name of each resident owner or occupier of said land lying on the portion of road sought to be legalized, or abutting on the line or survey, shall be published four successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county, if any such there be, or by posting the same in five public places in the vicinity of said survey, which notice may be in the following form:—

“C D, — resident on that portion of the county road used and traveled as such for — years, commencing at, — in — county, running thence (Name distance and in general terms points of location), and terminating at —, has been resurveyed, and the board of county commissioners will, at their next term, hear and determine whether the road herein described and included in said survey shall be ordered as a lawful county road and public highway, and objections thereto, or claims for damages, must be filed in the auditor's office on or before the first day of the — term, A. D. 18—, or the road hereinabove described will be declared a county road and public highway.”

§ 6499. [5662.] Hearing—Appraisement of Damages.

If no objections or claims for damages are filed on or before the first day of the term fixed for hearing the same, the board of county commissioners shall proceed to declare that such road included in said survey is a lawful county road. If objections are made to the establishment of the highway, or claims for damages are filed, three disinterested freeholders shall be appointed to appraise the damages, the report of whom shall be made to the next term of the county commissioners' court. [L. '81, p. 12, § 4; Cd. '81, § 3044; 1 H. C., § 2027.]

§ 6500. [5663.] Allowance of Damages—In What Cases Refused.

No claim for damages will be allowed to any person who did, upon the original location of said road, receive damages, or who, or whose grantor, applied for or assented to such road passing over said land, or who, when making settlement upon the tract by him occupied, found the said road in public use and traveled. The appraisers will report any and all acts of the owners of said land or their grantors which show compensation, dedication, or assent to such land being used as a public highway. The board may increase, diminish, or refuse to allow any damages; to which order the parties may appeal, within three months. [L. '81, p. 12, § 5; Cd. '81, § 3045; 1 H. C., § 2028.]

An appeal lies only to review the question of damages, under this section:

§ 6501. [5664.] Objections, How Disposed of—Approval and Record—Evidence.

In case objection shall be made in writing by any person claiming to be injured by the survey made, the board of county commissioners shall have full power to hear and determine upon the matter, and may, if deemed advisable, order a change to be made in the survey. Upon the final determination of the board, or in case no objection be made at the term named in the notice of the survey, they shall approve of the same, and cause the field-notes and plat of the county road to be recorded, as in case of the establishment and alteration of highways, and thereafter such records shall be received by courts as conclusive proof of the establishment and lawful existence of such county road and public highway, according to such survey and plat. [L. '81, p. 12, § 6; Cd. '81, § 3046; 1 H. C., § 2029.]

§ 6502. [5665.] Expenses Paid by County.

The expenses incurred by the provisions of this chapter shall be paid out of the county funds not otherwise appropriated. [L. '81, p. 12, § 8; Cd. '81, § 3048; 1 H. C., § 2031.]

CHAPTER XIII.

VACATION OF COUNTY ROADS.

§ 6503. [5666.] County Road may be Vacated—Petition.

When a county road, or a part thereof, is considered useless, and ten freeholders residing in the vicinity of said road may petition the board of county commissioners to vacate the same, such petition shall show the land owned by each petitioner, and shall also set forth that such road will be useless as a part of the general system, that the public will be benefited by its vacation. Such petition shall be accompanied by a bond in the penal sum of one hundred dollars, payable to the county, executed by one or more of such petitioners as principal or principals, with two or more sureties, and conditioned that the petitioners will pay into the county treasury the amount of all costs and expenses incurred in the examination, report, and all other proceedings pertaining to such petition or vacation. • Vacation of road by acts of public authorities. 26 L. R. A. 821.

§ 6504. [5667.] Hearing of Petition—Surveyor's Report and Opinion.

The county commissioners when in session shall consider such petition and bond and if not rejected shall file the same with the county surveyor with instructions to examine said road and make a report in writing on the same. The surveyor shall include in his report his opinion as to whether the road should be vacated, whether the same is in use or has been in use, whether it will be advisable to preserve the same for a general road system in the future, whether the public will be benefited by the vacation and all other facts, matters and things which will be of importance to the board of county commissioners, and also file his cost bill. [L. '01, p. 190, § 2.]

§ 6505. [5668.] Hearing of Report—Notice.

The board when in session shall fix a date for hearing the said report and shall cause notice of said hearing to be published in the county official newspaper and posted in a conspicuous place on said road, at least twenty days before the day set for hearing as follows: If the road be one mile or less than one mile long there shall be one notice posted near each end of said road; if said road be more than one mile long there shall be one notice posted near each end and one notice on each mile of said road. [L. '01, p. 190, § 3.]

§ 6506. [5669.] Action on Report and Petition.

On the day set for hearing of said report the commissioners shall consider the same, together with the petition, and any objection that may be made to vacating the road, and if the road may be useful as a part of the general road system it shall not be vacated, but if the public will be benefited by the vacation then the commissioners may vacate the road or any portion thereof, and not otherwise; if the commissioner shall determine to vacate the road, or any part thereof, they shall, on payment of all costs by the principal petitioner declare the road vacated and make a record of the same. [L. '01, p. 191, § 4.]

§ 6507. [5670.] Costs and Expenses—Statement of, Filed.

The clerk of the board of county commissioners shall make a statement in writing of all costs and expenses incurred in the proceedings and file the same with the county treasurer who shall proceed to collect the same. [L. '01, p. 191, § 5.]

§ 6508. [5671.] No Vacation Unless Properly Ordered.

No public road or highway or part thereof shall be vacated or cease to be a public highway until so ordered by the proper board of county commissioners, or by operation of law, or judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction. [L. '01, p. 191, § 6.]

Cited in 71 Wash. 317.

§ 6509. [5672.] Approval of Plat, not a Vacation.

The approval of any plat by the board of county commissioners or mayor and common council of any municipality shall not vacate any street, public road, or highway covered by such plat or over which such plat is laid. [L. '01, p. 191, § 7.]

§ 6510. [5673.] Vacation of County Road by Nonuser.

Any county road, or part thereof, which has heretofore been, or may hereafter be authorized, which remains unopen for public use for a space of five years after the order is made or authority granted for opening the same, shall be, and the same is hereby vacated, and the authority for building the same barred by lapse of time: Provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to any highway, street, alley, or other public place dedicated as such in any plat, whether the land included in said plat be within or without the limits of any incorporated city or town, nor to any land conveyed by deed to the state or to any town, city or county for roads, streets, alleys or other public places. This section is only a statute of limitations, and has no application where the road has not been kept up at public expense: State v. Seattle, 57 Wash. 602, 107 Pac. 827, 27 L. R. A. (N. S.) 1188.

Nonuser of Part of Road: See Remington's Digest, High., § 28-1; State ex rel. Atkinson v. Dunlap, 49 Wash. 385, 95 Pac. 321; Horton v. Okanogan County, 98 Wash. 626, 168 Pac. 479.

Erection of Gates, Bars or Other Structures: See Remington's Digest, High., § 28-2; Mohr v. Pierce County, 65 Wash. 370, 118 Pac. 321, 119 Pac. 747.

Abandonment—Failure to Open: See Remington's Digest, High., § 28; Murphy v. King County, 45 Wash. 587, 88 Pac. 1115; Mohr v. Pierce County, 65 Wash. 370, 118 Pac. 321, 119 Pac. 747; Cheney v. King County, 72 Wash. 490, 130 Pac. 893; Brokaw v. Where a street had been opened and used, the fact that a portion of it, a steep declivity of irregular shape, evidently intended to give access to the water at that point, had never been used as a street, does not vacate such portion by nonuser, under this section: Olson Land Co. v. Seattle, 76 Wash. 142, 136 Pac. 118.

This section has no application to and does not affect private rights of easement acquired by deed by an abutter upon a street in a dedicated plat: Van Buren v. Trumbull, 92 Wash. 691, 159 Pac. 891, L. R. A. 1917A, 1120.

A dedicated street in a plat outside the limits of an incorporated city or town is a "county road" within this section, and therefore subject to abandonment by failing to open it to public travel for the space of five years after the dedication, as provided in the act: Tamblin v. Crowley, 99 Wash. 133, 168 Pac. 982.

Abandonment of road by nonuser or otherwise than by acts of public authorities. 26 L. R. A. 449.

CHAPTER XVI.

TURNPIKE ROADS.

§ 6555. [5687.] Power and Discretion of Commissioners to Appoint Viewers, etc.

The county commissioners of any county, when they become satisfied that the public interests of their county demand and justify special action for the improvement of the roads therein, may appoint three disinterested freeholders of their county as commissioners, to view, survey, and locate one or more roads, beginning at and leading from the county seat of the county, or such other and eligible points as may be deemed proper, and running by such direct and eligible route as they find best for the public convenience, and terminating at any point within or at the county line; but they are not authorized or required to construct or maintain any such road within the corporate limits of the town or city where the county seat is located, when, according to the last federal census, more than one thousand inhabitants are contained in such corporate limits. [Cf. L. '54, pp. 361, 362; L. '69, p. 328; L. '63, p. 530; L. '90, p. 612, § 1; 1 H. C., § 2032.]

§ 6556. [5688.] Roads, How to be Constructed.

The roads established and constructed under this chapter shall be opened not more than sixty nor less than forty feet wide, and at least sixteen feet in width shall be turnpiked with earth so as to drain freely to the sides, and raised with stone or gravel not less than ten nor more than sixteen feet in width, nor less than twelve inches thick in the center, and not less than eight inches at the outer edges of such bed of stone or gravel, well compacted together, in such manner as to secure a firm, even, and substantial road; but the commissioners may, in their discretion, cause the road to be constructed wholly of earth, plank, or timber, when stone or gravel is not accessible to the line of the road; in no case shall the grade of ascent or descent on the road be greater than seven degrees; the road shall be well provided with all necessary side drains, wasteways, and under-draining to prevent overflowing or washing by water, and with substantial bridges or culverts at all crossings of watercourses; and such roads shall be free to the public for travel. [L. '90, p. 612, § 2; 1 H. C., § 2033.]

§ 6557. [5689.] Right of Way may be Secured, How.

The county commissioners may authorize the commissioners by them appointed to call to their assistance a competent surveyor or civil engineer, or both, at their discretion, with the necessary and proper assistance, and lay out, survey, and locate such turnpike road through or upon improved or unimproved lands on the best route between the points of beginning and termination, and to obtain by grant or take propositions for the purchase from the owners of land over which the road will pass, the right of way, and to take timber and other materials necessary to the construction and repair of the same. [L. '90, p. 613, § 3; 1 H. C., § 2034.]

§ 6558. [5690.] Condemnation Proceedings to Secure Right of Way.

When said commissioners and the owners fail to agree as to the amount of compensation, or when the owner is unknown, nonresident, or incapable of contracting, then the same shall be ascertained and adjusted by proceedings had in the name of the county commissioners, under the law providing for the appropriation of private property by [municipal] corporations; and the commissioners may authorize the viewers or commissioners by them appointed to locate the road upon the whole or any part of any state or county road heretofore laid out and established within the county, and to widen, alter, change, or vacate the same, or any part thereof, subject to the rules as to compensation for property appropriated as aforesaid. [L. '90, p. 613, § 4; 1 H. C., § 2035.]

§ 6559. [5691.] Donation, etc., may be Required by Commissioners—Separate Fund.

Before determining upon the location or establishment of any such turnpike road, the county commissioners may require donations of money and agreements on the part of taxpayers of the county, subjecting their taxable property to taxation annually, to aid in the location and construction of the same during the term of years named, therein specified, which agreements shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county clerk, and from the time of such filing and recording shall operate as a lien upon the real estate of the several parties joining therein as donors for the purpose therein provided. All revenues derived from donations in money and taxation shall be kept and held as a separate fund in the county treasury, and shall be applicable only to the purposes of locating and constructing such turnpike roads; and if the commissioners determine not to establish and construct such road, then any money received as donations by taxation shall be returned. [L. '90, p. 613, § 5; 1 H. C., § 2036.]

§ 6560. [5692.] Restrictions upon Commissioners as to Levy of General Tax, etc.

The county commissioners shall not levy any general tax nor appropriate any money, except so far as may be necessary to pay the expense of preliminary surveys already commenced, or any other liabilities already incurred, to be expended in the construction of such turnpikes, without first submitting to the qualified voters of the county the question as to the policy of constructing such roads by general tax, which submission shall be made at any general election; and the county commissioners shall cause public notice of such vote to be given by publication in the official paper of the county, and also by causing handbills to be posted up at the usual place of holding elections in the county, at least fifteen days prior to such election. [L. '90, p. 614, § 6; 1 H. C., § 2037.]

§ 6561. [5693.] Election and Returns, Law Governing—Compensation.

The judges of such election in the several precincts and wards in any county in which such question is submitted and such notice is given, as aforesaid, shall open a poll for taking such vote, receive and count the ballots cast, and within three days thereafter return to the clerk of the board of county commissioners a full and correct abstract of the votes, and shall in all respects be governed by the laws regulating general elections, and be entitled to the same compensation for returning the poll-books, which shall be paid out of the county treasury on the order of the clerk of the board. And the poll-books so returned shall, within five days of the day of holding such election, be opened and the votes counted by the commissioners and the clerk of the board, and a correct statement of the result shall be kept by the clerk on file in his office for public inspection. [L. '90, p. 614, § 7; 1 H. C., § 2038.]

§ 6562. [5694.] Commissioners may Resubmit Question, When.

If at such election two-fifths of the votes so cast be against the policy of constructing such turnpikes, the commissioners shall not assess any tax for that purpose, but they may, on petition of not less than one hundred taxpayers of the county, again submit the same question, at any regular annual election, to the qualified voters of the county, notice of which shall be given and the election conducted in all respects in the manner prescribed in the two preceding sections. [L. '90, p. 614, § 8; 1 H. C., § 2039.]

§ 6563. [5695.] Taxes may be Levied and Bonds Issued for Construction, When.

If at any election three-fifths be found in favor of the construction of such turnpikes, the commissioners may proceed to levy taxes, issue bonds, and appropriate and expend money in the construction of such turnpike roads as, in their judgment, may be necessary to the public convenience and promotive of the public interest. [L. '90, p. 615, § 9; 1 H. C., § 2040.]

§ 6564. [5696.] Amount of Donations, etc., may be Levied, When and How.

When the county commissioners receive or require donations of money, or written agreements on the part of the taxpayers, subjecting their taxable property to taxation annually, to aid in the location and construction of such roads, and a majority of the taxpayers within the boundaries of the road sign such subscription or agreement, the commissioners shall thereupon be authorized to levy the amount thereof upon the taxable property within the boundaries of the road, according to the benefits to said property, taking into consideration any assessments that have heretofore been made; and the boundaries of the road shall not be taken to include any property that does not lie within two miles of such contemplated improvement. [L. '90, p. 615, § 10; 1 H. C., § 2041.]

§ 6565. [5697.] Levy of Tax to Provide Permanent Fund for Road Purposes.

Upon the location and establishment of any such turnpike road by the county commissioners, and after an affirmative vote by the qualified voters, they may, for the purpose of aiding in the construction, and to provide a permanent fund for the maintenance and expense thereof, levy annually, in addition to other road taxes authorized by law, a tax for turnpike road purposes, of not more than four mills on the dollar of valuation on the taxable property in the county, and to continue such levy from year to year until the road or roads which have been commenced are completed. [L. '90, p. 615, § 11; 1 H. C., § 2042.]

§ 6566. [5698.] Commissioners may Issue County Bonds for Building Roads.

No such taxes shall be levied on any lands which have heretofore been assessed for the construction of any free turnpikes or improved road or roads already constructed, or in course of construction at the time of the levy of the tax, unless the amount of such assessment, and in such case such excess only shall be levied and collected; and for the purpose of raising the money necessary to meet the expenses of such improvement, the county commissioners may, if in their opinion the same be advisable, submit to the qualified voters of the county, at any general election, the question whether the county commissioners shall be authorized to issue bonds of the county for the purpose of building roads in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, and if three-fifths of the legal votes cast be in favor of the issue of such bonds, then the county commissioners may issue the bonds of the county, payable at such times as they deem advisable, not exceeding twenty years, with interest not exceeding six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and which bonds shall not be sold for less than their par value. [L. '90, p. 615, § 12; 1 H. C., § 2043.]

§ 6567. [5699.] Records of Road Matters to be Kept, and What to Contain.

The county commissioners shall cause to be kept by the clerk of the board a full record of all the proceedings in the location, establishment, and construction of the road, together with accurate accounts of receipts and expenditures of money, under the provisions of this chapter, and no money shall be drawn from the treasury except to pay liabilities already accrued, and then only in pursuance of orders caused by the commissioners whilst in session as a board, to be entered upon the record of their proceedings, and by orders drawn by their clerk upon the county treasury in favor of the persons to whom such money is due. [L. '90, p. 616, § 13; 1 H. C., § 2044.]

§ 6568. [5700.] Road Construction Work, How to be Let—Notice, etc.

The work of the construction of such roads shall be let publicly by the county commissioners to the lowest responsible bidder, after due notice given of such letting by publication in one or more newspapers published or of general circulation in the county, or by handbills, or both; for that purpose the commissioners shall cause the same to be divided into convenient sections, and each section numbered from the county seat or other point named as the place of beginning, toward the termination, and shall let the same by sections, with proper specifications of the various kinds of labor required on each section; and bidders shall be required to separately state their bids for each class of work, in such manner as the commissioners shall provide, and each contractor shall be required to give bond, with sufficient sureties, for the performance of his contract, payable to the county commissioners, for the use and benefit of the county, and with the necessary specifications and stipulations on the part of the contractor inserted therein. [L. '90, p. 616, § 14; 1 H. C., § 2045.]

§ 6569. [5701.] Payment for Work or Material, How to be Made.

In all cases the construction of such roads shall commence at the point of beginning, and no payment for work or material shall be made except upon estimates made by the surveyor or engineer employed by the commissioners, and by him duly certified, of work actually done or material actually furnished, or both, and after reserving such per cent as may be fixed by the parties to the contract, to guarantee performance of the same. [L. '90, p. 617, § 15; 1 H. C., § 2046.]

§ 6570. [5702.] Compensation for Services of Viewers and Surveyor.

The viewers, surveyor, or engineer, and their assistants, shall be entitled to receive the same compensation for their services required under the provisions of this chapter as is now allowed by law in the construction of state or county roads. [L. '90, p. 617, § 16; 1 H. C., § 2047.]

CHAPTER XVII.

This section does not authorize a railroad company to appropriate a part of a city street; but the sections apply only to road and toll companies occupying the street with the public, in view of section 6587: State ex rel. Schade Brewing Co. v. Superior Court, 62 Wash. 96, 113 Pac. 576.

A municipal corporation may grant a perpetual franchise for a right of way over its streets, but cannot make such change of grade as to effectually destroy such franchise: Seattle v. Columbia & Puget S. R. Co., 6 Wash. 379, 33 Pac. 1048.

If a city has extended its streets over tide lands, such city is estopped to dispute the validity of the franchise granted a railway company, on the ground of a want of authority to grant the right of way, nor can it urge that the grant is void by reason of the failure to comply with the conditions of the grant when the ordinance has never been repealed and the city has permitted the company to continuously operate its road for several years: Id.

An abutting property owner may enjoin the unlawful construction of a railway in a street: Schwede v. Hemrich Bros. Brewing Co., 29 Wash. 21, 69 Pac. 362.

An abutting owner who purchased his lot after the vacation of part of the street and the construction there of a railroad track, and acquiesced for years in the operation and improvement of the railroad, cannot object to the operation of the road as a public nuisance: Kakeldy v. Columbia & Puget S. R. Co., 37 Wash. 675, 80 Pac. 205. A railroad company is estopped to deny that platted and dedicated streets of an addition extend across its right of way, where it had platted and dedicated its own addition showing such crossings, and had recognized the rights of the city in streets in other additions by paying the amounts assessed to its right of way for improvement of the streets: Northern Pac. R. Co. v. Spokane, 45 Wash. 229, 88 Pac. 135.

An order condemning a railroad right affecting a highway, requiring the petitioner to relocate and remove the highway within a limited time, will be modified, on certiorari, where there appears no necessity for such time limit: *North Coast R. v. § 6586. [5718.] Appropriation must be Made With Reference to What Locality.

Whenever a private corporation is authorized to appropriate any public highway or grounds, as mentioned in the last section, if the same be within the limits of any town, whether incorporated or not, such corporation shall locate their road upon such particular road, street, or alley, or public grounds within such town, as the local authorities mentioned in the last section and having charge thereof shall designate; but if such local authorities shall fail or refuse to make such designation within a reasonable time when requested, such corporation may make such ap-

§ 6587. [5719.] May Collect Tolls on Highway, When.

Whenever such public highway or grounds are taken by a private corporation by agreement with the local authorities mentioned in the last preceding section, such corporation may place such gates thereon, and charge and receive such tolls thereat, as such local authorities may consent to by such agreement, and none others; but when the same is appropriated without such agreement, as provided in said section, such corporation shall not place any gate or other obstruction upon the public highway or grounds appropriated, nor charge or receive any toll from any person passing over or along the same. [L. '69, p. 344, § 6; Cd. '81, § 2460; 1 H. C., § 1576.]

§ 6588. [5720.] Clearing and Cutting Road — Width of Road, Track, etc.

Any road other than a railroad, constructed by a corporation formed under this chapter, shall be cleared of standing timber for thirty feet in width of said road, and shall have a track in the center not less than sixteen feet wide, finished and kept in good traveling condition, except when the cutting on said road is six feet or more deep on either side, in which case such track need not be more than ten feet wide, with turnouts of sixteen feet in width for every quarter of a mile of such narrow track. [L. '69, p. 344, § 7; Cd. '81, § 2461; 1 H. C., § 1577.]

§ 6589. [5721.] Streams to be Bridged or Ferries Maintained.

All streams or other waters upon the line of such roads shall be safely and securely bridged, except where the county court of the county wherein the line of such road may cross such streams or other waters, or if such stream or other water form the boundary between two counties, then the county court [commissioners] of either of said counties may authorize the corporation to place a ferry-boat upon such stream or other water, to be kept and run for such toll as the county court may prescribe, and in the manner required of ferries established under the general statutes in relation to ferries; or except where such county court may authorize such corporation to connect their road with a ferry now or hereafter established over such stream or other water, under the general statute in relation to ferries. [L. '69, p. 345, § 8; Cd. '81, § 2462; 1 H. C., § 1578.]

§ 6590. [5722.] Notice of Completion of Highway.

Whenever a road of any kind herein mentioned, other than a railroad, is completed, or any particular section of it, fit for public travel, the corporation shall give notice thereof, by publication in some newspaper of general circulation, along the line of such road or section, or by posting notices along such line in some conspicuous places, not less than five miles apart; and thereafter such road or section thereof is a common highway, so that every person with his stock and vehicles of every description may travel thereon upon the payment of the tolls prescribed by the corporation, subject to the power of the corporation, by giving notice thereof in like manner, to suspend such right of travel upon all or any portion of such road, for a reasonable time, to enable it to make any necessary repairs or improvements thereon. [L. '69, p. 345, § 9; Cd. '81, § 2463; 1 H. C., § 1579.]

§ 6591. [5723.] Collection of Tolls—Location of Gates.

A corporation other than railroad shall only collect and receive toll on its road at a gate established thereon, and such shall be plainly and specifically printed or written upon a sign-board, posted at such gate, in plain view of the travel on the road; but such corporation shall not establish any gate within the limits of any town, whether incorporated or not, or within one-half mile of the limits of such town, except as specially provided in section 6587; but no person traveling on foot, or going in any manner or within any property from one part of his farm to another part, or going to or from church, funerals, or elections, is liable to pay for traveling upon such roads. [L. '69, p. 345, § 10; Cd. '81, § 2464; 1 H. C., § 1580.]

§ 6592. [5724.] Tolls, Failure to Pay, and Collection of Illegal—Liability.

Any person traveling upon any road herein mentioned, who shall pass through a gate thereon without paying the toll legally chargeable thereat, or who shall go round such gate with the intent to avoid the payment of such toll, shall be liable to the corporation for three times the amount thereof, and any corporation which, by its agents or servants, or in any manner, shall illegally collect any toll from any person traveling on such road shall be liable to such person for three times the amount thereof. [L. '69, p. 346, § 11; Cd. '81, § 2465; 1 H. C., § 1581.]

§ 6593. [5725.] Notice to be Given of Completion of Bridge.

Any bridge constructed by a corporation formed under this act, when completed and fit for public travel, and notice thereof is posted in some conspicuous place on such bridge, or by publication in some newspaper, as in the case of a road, is a common highway, within the meaning and subject to the conditions specified in section 6590, as to roads, and subject to the further power of the corporation to prescribe, by advertisement in some conspicuous place on such bridge, the rate of speed anyone may travel on such bridge. [L. '69, p. 346, § 12; Cd. '81, § 2466; 1 H. C., § 1582.]

§ 6594. [5726.] Tolls, Collection and Liability for.

A corporation may collect and receive such tolls for crossing its bridge as may be plainly written or printed upon a sign-board, posted in some conspicuous place on such bridge, but no person not liable to pay toll on a road, as provided in section 6591, is liable to pay toll for crossing such bridge; and any person who shall pass over such bridge without paying the toll legally chargeable thereat, or any corporation which shall illegally collect any toll from any person crossing such bridge, shall be respectively liable to each other for three times the amount of such toll, as provided in section 6592, in case of roads. [L. '69, p. 346, § 13; Cd. '81, § 2467; 1 H. C., § 1583.]

§ 6595. [5727.] To Keep Accounts and File With Auditor.

It shall be the duty of every incorporation organized for the construction of any macadamized road, plank road, clay road, or bridge, to keep an accurate statement on [or] account of the moneys expended by said corporation in the construction of any such road or bridge, and keeping the same in repair, including any sums paid for lands appropriated as necessary for said corporation, which statement or account shall be verified at the time of the annual meeting held for the election of directors, by the president of said corporation, or one of the directors thereof, to the effect that he believes the said account to be just and correct; and a copy of such verified account shall, within ten days after such annual election be deposited with the auditor of the county with whom the articles of incorporation are filed. Said incorporation shall also keep an accurate account of the tolls received for traveling upon said road or bridge, or of other profits accruing to said corporation, which accounts shall be verified in like manner, and a copy thereof deposited with said county auditor within ten days after such annual election. [L. '69, p. 347, § 15; Cd. '81, § 2469; 1 H. C., § 1584.]

§ 6596. [5728.] Toll Road or Bridge may Become Free, When.

At any time after the expiration of ten years from the time of taking tolls on any macadamized road, plank road, clay road, or bridge, it shall be lawful for the county court [commissioners] of any county through which any such road, or part thereof, shall pass, or in which said bridge may be situated, to pay to such corporation the amount of money expended by it in the construction of such road or bridge, and keeping the same in repair, and all other necessary expenses, including any sums paid for lands appropriated by such corporation, together with interest on said account and sums of money, at the rate of twenty per centum per annum, after deducting from said amount the tolls and other profits annually received by said corporation; and after the payment of the amounts expended in constructing and keeping in repair said road or bridge, and other necessary expenses incurred in and about the same, and interest thereon, less the amount received by such corporation, the said road or bridge shall become free for public travel. [L. '69, p. 347, § 16; Cd. '81, § 2470; 1 H. C., § 1585.]

See, also, supra, § 6519.

§ 6597. [5729.] County may Purchase Road or Bridge.

The foregoing section shall not be construed to prohibit said county court [commissioners] at any time before the expiration of said period of ten years from purchasing said road or bridge, for any sum that may be agreed upon by said county court [commissioners] and corporations. [L. '69, p. 384, § 17; Cd. '81, § 2471; 1 H. C., § 1586.]

CHAPTER XIX.

ROADS IMPROVED OR PAVED AT EXPENSE OF LAND BENEFITED.

See, also, next two chapters.

§ 6598. [5730.] County Commissioners may Establish, etc.

The commissioners of any county may, at any regular or called session, cause to be established, located and constructed, improved, straightened, widened, altered or relocated any public road or highway as herein provided, when the same is conducive to the public convenience or welfare. [L. '93, p. 301, § 1.]

Cited in 13 Wash. 54; 20 Wash. 40; 22 Wash. 107.

That portion of this chapter (L. '93, p. 301) providing for the appropriation of the right of way for the construction of county roads is unconstitutional, since it conflicts with Article I, § 16, of the Constitution, requiring damages for appropriation of land for such purposes to be ascertained by a jury, unless waived, in a proceeding instituted for that purpose: Seabor v. Board of County Commrs., 13 Wash. 48, 42 Pac. 552.

That portion of this chapter which provides for the improvement of county roads already located is valid, the provisions therefor not being dependent upon the sections of the act which are unconstitutional: Id.

§ 6599. [5731.*] Definition of Terms—Improvement Irrespective of Termini.

The word "improvement" as used in this chapter shall mean a road as contemplated to be improved under this chapter. The word "road" shall be construed to mean a public highway or thoroughfare. The words "territory (or property) particularly benefited" as used in this chapter shall be construed to include, in addition to the lands lying within two miles of either side of the center line of the improvement, all road districts or townships which will be subject to assessment for the improvement. The words "improvement boundary" as used in this chapter shall be construed to mean lines on either side of the road, following the meanders thereof, and two miles distant from, or within a two mile radius of any point on, the center line of improvement connected at the respective termini thereof by lines drawn at such angles respectively as will avoid the overlapping of the boundary by a new district, should the improvement of the highway be extended, and at the same time include all property lying within the distance aforesaid of any point on the center line of one or the other of the improvements: Provided, that when the center line of the improvement intersects the corporate boundary of a city or town the line connecting the termini of the side boundary lines shall follow the meandering of the city boundary in so far as said boundary shall come within said two mile limit: Provided, that any road district may build, regrade, or otherwise improve, in any manner, regardless of the termini thereof, and road or part thereof, within the limits of such road district, under the provisions of this act. Words used in the singular in this chapter shall include the plural and the plural shall include the singular. [L. '17, p. 238, § 1. Cf. L. '93, p. 301, § 2.]

§ 6600. [5732.] Limitation on Construction.

No road improvement shall be located or commenced under this chapter unless the same has its beginning at the boundary limits of an incorporated city, or trade center located on a railroad or navigable body of water, or connect with a road or road system already improved under this chapter, or with a road which has been otherwise constructed of such a nature to permit of heavy freighting and rapid travel on the same at any time of the year. [L. '93, p. 301, § 3.]

§ 6601. [5733.*] Description of Improved Road — Grade Per Cent — Drainage.

An improved road contemplated under this chapter shall be constructed as near as practicable along the center line of an established highway, and shall be uniformly graded to a width of not less than sixteen feet; the grade thereof shall not at any point, exceed five per cent: Provided, that where by reason of physical conditions it is not feasible or practicable to obtain a grade of five per cent, a grade of not to exceed ten per cent may be used; proper drains, culverts and bridges shall be constructed to convey off all surface and seepage water, and when the road is located along a hillside or incline, the drainage of the surface of the roadbed shall be toward the hillside or incline; a roadway shall be constructed upon the graded road in such manner and of such material as will permit of heavy freighting and rapid driving during any time of the year, and if such construction shall be of macadam, concrete, brick or other hard surface it shall not be less than sixteen feet wide. [L. '17, p. 239, § 2. Cf. L. '93, p. 302, § 4.]

§ 6602. [5734.] Costs.

The costs and expenses of the improvements made under this chapter shall be apportioned as near as may be to the corporations, companies, persons and property benefited thereby. [L. '93, p. 302, § 5.]

§ 6603. [5735.] Application to Commissioners.

Application for such improvement shall be made to the commissioners of the county, signed by two or more owners of lots or lands which will be particularly benefited thereby: Provided, that such petitioners shall appear by the assessment-rolls of the county to own property which will be particularly benefited, representing in value not less than ten thousand dollars for each mile of the improvement petitioned for, and the petitioners must represent property within the improvement boundary equivalent to not less than five thousand dollars for each mile of the proposed improvement. [L. '93, p. 302, § 6.]

§ 6604. [5736.] Petition to be Filed With Clerk of County Commissioners.

The petition shall be filed with the clerk of the board of county commissioners, and shall set forth the necessity of the improvement, and describe the route and termini thereof; and there shall be filed therewith a bond payable to the county with at least two good and sufficient sureties in not less than one thousand dollars, conditioned for the payment of all costs if the prayer of the petition [petitioners] be not granted, or be dismissed for any cause. [L. '93, p. 303, § 7.]

§ 6605. [5737.*] Approval of Bond—Hearing on Petition—Dismissal.

If the bond be approved by the clerk of the board of county commissioners, he shall immediately deliver a copy of the petition to the commissioners, who shall fix a time and place for the hearing and consideration of said petition, which time shall be not less than fifteen nor more than sixty days from the date of filing the petition, and shall cause a notice of said hearing, stating the subject matter of said petition and the place and time of the hearing, to be published in the official newspaper of the county for two weeks immediately preceding the hearing, and proof of such publication, verified by the affidavit of the owner or publisher of said newspaper, shall be filed with the clerk of the board of county commissioners on or before the date of hearing, and pending said hearing the board of county commissioners shall cause the county engineer to make a preliminary survey of said proposed improvement, and an estimate of the cost thereof, and the engineer shall attend said hearing and report the estimated cost of said improvement, together with his recommendations as to the feasibility of said improvement, and his suggestions as to the nature and character thereof. If at the hearing the commissioners shall determine that the improvement asked for is not feasible, or that the costs thereof will be excessive, they shall dismiss the petition and the proceedings at the cost of the petitioners, and shall cause an itemized bill of costs to be made up by the clerk for their examination and approval, which shall include the per diem of the engineer, and all other costs necessarily incurred. If the commissioners find for the improvement they shall, by resolution entered in their journal, order said improvement. [L. '17, p. 239, § 3; L. '93, p. 304, § 11; L. '99, p. 169, § 1.]

§ 6606. [5738.*] Order for Improvement—Engineer's Plat and Schedule—Adoption.

If the improvement is ordered by the board of county commissioners, the board may require the county engineer to perform all engineering in connection with, and to supervise the construction of, said improvement, or may, at the request of the petitioners, employ a construction engineer for that purpose and fix his compensation, and such compensation shall be paid by the county.

Whenever the board of county commissioners shall pass a resolution ordering the improvement of a public highway under the provisions of this act, a certified copy thereof shall be transmitted to the county engineer, or construction engineer, appointed as aforesaid, who shall thereupon make the necessary surveys and prepare the profiles, maps, plans, specifications and an estimate of the cost of construction or improvement of the highway, or section thereof, described in the resolution making such recommendations concerning deviations from existing lines as he shall deem of advantage to obtain a shorter and more direct route or to lessen gradients, or to otherwise improve such highway.

Upon the completion of such profiles, maps, plans, specifications and estimate, a copy thereof shall be transmitted to the board of county commissioners, and upon the receipt of which, the board of county commissioners may pass a resolution adopting the same and that such highway, or section thereof, shall be improved under the provision of this act. The profiles, maps, plans, specifications and estimate as finally adopted by the board of county commissioners shall be filed in the office of the county engineer and shall become a permanent record of the county. The engineer shall also make and return a schedule and plat of all the lots and lands lying within the improvement boundary, which plat shall be drawn upon a scale sufficiently large to represent all the meanderings of the road proposed to be improved, and shall distinctly show the boundary lines of each lot or tract of land included in the improvement boundary, the name of the owner of each lot or tract of land as the same may appear upon the records in the office of the county auditor at the time, and an estimate of the total cost of the entire improvement proposed, which estimate shall include all fees and salaries estimated to be paid for locating, supervising and appraising, together with such other matters as the engineer may deem material. The profiles shall show the surface line, the grade line and the gradient fixed, and the engineer shall make and file with his report an itemized bill of all costs made in the discharge of his duty under this section, and shall file his report with the clerk of the board of county commissioners immediately after making the survey. [L. '17, p. 240, § 4. Cf. L. '93, p. 304, § 12; L. '99, p. 170, § 2.]

§ 6607. [5739.*] Appraisers—Oath and Duties—Benefits and Damages Estimated.

Immediately upon the filing of the engineer's report, the county commissioners shall appoint three disinterested appraisers, residing within the county, but not within the territory particularly benefited by the proposed improvement, whose duty it shall be to at once proceed to assess the benefits of such proposed improvement to the corporations, companies, persons and property particularly benefited thereby, and estimate the damages to property over or through which the road shall be established or relocated, and award the same to the owners thereof. Before entering upon their duties, the appraisers shall severally take and subscribe to an oath to impartially and, to the best of their knowledge and ability, perform the duties required of them, and file said oath with the clerk of the board of county commissioners. Said clerk shall thereupon and forthwith deliver into the hands of the appraisers the engineer's report upon the proposed improvement, and all maps, charts and schedules pertaining thereto, taking a receipt from said appraisers therefor. The appraisers shall thereupon proceed to actually view in person all lands as shall appear from the engineer's report to lie within the improvement boundary, and obtain from the duplicate assessment-roll of the county the total assessed valuation at the time of all property within the limits of any road district or township through or into which the proposed improvement is located. They shall then prepare a schedule, which shall set forth:

(1) The benefits assessed to the county for such improvement, shall be one-half of the whole estimated cost thereof;

(2) The benefits assessed to each road district or township through or into which the improvement is located, which assessment shall be equal upon all the assessed property in the road district or township according to the value thereof as shall appear upon the duplicate assessment-roll of the county at the time, and which benefits shall be one-fourth of the whole estimated cost of the improvement within the boundary of the road district or township.

(3) The benefits assessed to the lots and lands lying within the proposed improvement boundary, listing each tract of land assessed, giving the number of acres thereof, the owner as shall appear of record, the estimated valuation of each tract exclusive of improvement, and the benefit assessed thereto, and the total amount of benefits assessed to lots and lands shall be one-fourth of the whole estimated cost of the proposed improvement: Provided, that the lots or tracts of land within the improvement boundary whose natural outlet will not be in whole or in part over said road when improved, shall not be separately assessed under the provisions of this clause.

(4) A list of each tract or lot or portion thereof taken and damaged by the establishment or relocation of the road proposed to be improved and the lands contiguous or lying near thereto on which is located material necessary or available to be used in the construction of the proposed improvement, and of materials available for construction on contiguous or near lying lands, which list shall recite the number of acres of each of such lands so to be taken or damaged, and the amount of such contiguous or near lying materials estimated to be required, the owner thereof as shall appear of record, the estimated value thereof including improvements thereon, and the damages resulting therefrom, and the award made therefor. [L. '17, p. 242, § 5. Cf. L. '93, p. 305, § 13.]

The provision in this section that one-half of the benefits of road improvements shall be assessed against the county and one-fourth against the road district or township is not affected by the fact that the act (§ 6622, infra), providing for payments in installments, was amended by Laws of 1919, p. 251, § 1, without reference to its prior amendment in 1917; since the amendment in 1919 merely added an exception as to the time of payment of assessments of $25 or less, in nowise altering the method of ascertaining the benefits: State ex rel. McMillan v. Hills, 109 Wash. 175, 186 Pac. 295.

§ 6608. [5740.*] Appraisers to File Report—Notice to Owners.

The appraisers shall, within sixty days after the date of entering upon their duties, file a report of their findings, together with the engineer's report and all other papers to them delivered, with the clerk of the board of county commissioners, which report shall contain a schedule and estimate of all property that will be damaged, or benefited, or both damaged and benefited by the proposed improvement. Such schedule and estimate shall be arranged in parallel columns, with appropriate headings, and shall show the description of the property, and if land, give legal subdivisions, section, township and range and number of acres; and if platted, the name of the plat and the lot and block number; the name of the owner or owners or reputed owner or owners; the estimated gross damages that will be sustained by reason of the proposed improvement; the estimated gross benefits that will accrue; and the right-hand column of the schedule shall be sufficiently wide for the signature of the owner, and shall bear the heading: "I, the undersigned owner of the property opposite which I have signed my name, accept and agree to the estimated amount of benefits and damages that will accrue to my property by reason of the proposed improvement"; and the appraisers shall make and file with their report an itemized bill of all costs made in the proper discharge of their duties under this chapter; and in such bill the appraisers shall not charge for services in excess of six dollars per day for each appraiser for the time actually employed, and no extra compensation shall be allowed for mileage; upon the filing of such report the clerk shall without delay fix a date for the hearing of the reports of the engineer and appraisers; which date shall be not less than fifteen nor more than thirty days from the date of filing said reports, and shall prepare a notice in writing, directed to all owners of land, road districts or township, affected by the improvement, setting forth the pendency, substance and prayer of petition, and enumerating the township or road districts and the several sections of land, according to the United States survey, which shall lie wholly or partially within the proposed improvement district, and a tabular statement of the assessments of benefits and awards of damages as made by the appraisers in their report, and stating the time and place of the hearing thereon. Such notice shall be published in the official newspaper of the county for at least two consecutive weeks before the day set for the hearing, which publication shall be proved by the affidavit of the printer or publisher of such newspaper and filed with the clerk on or before the date of hearing. [L. '21, p. 635, § 1. Cf. L. '17, p. 243, § 6; L. '93, p. 307, § 14.]

§ 6609. [5741.*] Commissioners to Examine Assessment—Hearing.

On the date set for said hearing the board of county commissioners shall meet at the place designated in the notice, and shall first determine whether the required notice has been given. If they find that due notice has not been given, they shall continue the hearing to a day to be fixed by them and order the notice to be published as hereinabove provided. If it appear that due notice of such hearing has been given, the board of county commissioners shall proceed with the hearing on the report of the engineer and the appraisers, and any objections thereto, and may adjourn said hearing from time to time. [L. '17, p. 245, § 7. Cf. L. '93, p. 308, § 15.]

§ 6610. [5742.*] May Amend Appraisers' Report—Proceedings—Hearing, Change of Plans.

At said hearing the board shall hear all pertinent evidence, including any evidence offered concerning the probable cost of the improvement and the probable benefits to accrue therefrom, and may change, add to or modify, the plans for such improvement, and change the estimate of damages or benefits in any case, and may review, change and modify any of the findings or estimates of the engineer or the appraisers, and may, in its discretion, employ another engineer to make separate findings on any or all of the matters hereinbefore required to be included in the report of the engineer and may adjourn said hearing and await such report. In case any change in the plans of the proposed improvements is made at said hearing, and such change will cause additional damages to any property, or will damage any property not damaged under the original plans, the engineer and appraisers shall prepare and file a schedule showing the estimated damages and benefits under such changed plans, and notice of the filing of such schedule shall be served upon the owners of the properties affected, and settlement made as hereinafter provided, and shall then confirm the same by resolution. [L. '21, p. 637, § 2; L. '17, p. 245, § 8; L. '93, p. 308, § 16.]

§ 6611. [5743.] Who may File Exceptions to Apportionment.

Any person, company or corporation party to the proceedings may file exceptions to the apportionment of benefits or compensation for damages at any time before the time set for the final hearing of the report and apportionment; the commissioners may hear testimony and examine witnesses upon all questions made by the exceptions, and for that purpose may compel the attendance of witness by subpoena, which the clerk of the superior court shall issue on demand; and their decisions on the exceptions shall be entered on the journal, and if they sustain the exceptions, the cost of hearing thereof shall be paid out of the county treasury, and if they overrule the same, such costs shall be taxed against the person, company or corporation filing the exceptions. [L. '93, p. 309, § 17.]

§ 6612. [5744.*] Acceptance of Damages—Owner's Deeds to County.

In case any owner of property to be taken or damaged, or taken and damaged, by the proposed improvement shall agree to accept the damages estimated by the appraisers, or as fixed by the board of county commissioners, the board of county commissioners shall direct the clerk of the board to prepare a deed to be approved by the engineer and the prosecuting attorney, conveying to the county, for the benefit of the proposed district, the property to be taken, and the right to damage property not taken. If the damages agreed upon are equaled or exceeded by the agreed estimated benefits, the grantors in the deed shall execute and deliver the same without consideration other than the right to have the damages offset against the benefits in the apportionment of the cost of the improvement as hereafter provided. If the damages agreed to are damages to property not benefited, or if such damages exceed the agreed benefits, the grantors in the deed shall execute and deliver the same upon the receipt of a warrant drawn by the county auditor, under the direction of the board of county commissioners, upon the general road and bridge fund of the county, for the amount of damages, or the amount of excess of damages over benefits, as the case may be. No such deed shall be accepted, either with or without consideration, until the title conveyed thereby has been approved by the prosecuting attorney. [L. '17, p. 246, § 9; L. '93, p. 309, § 18.]

§ 6613. [5745.*] Condemnation Proceedings.

If at the conclusion of the hearing on the report of the engineer and appraisers, it shall appear to the board of county commissioners that the owner of any property to be taken or damaged by the proposed improvement, has not accepted and agreed to the damages estimated by the appraisers or fixed by the board, the board may, in its discretion, appoint an agent to secure acceptance and deeds from such owners, and shall, within a reasonable time, direct the prosecuting attorney of the county to institute proceedings in the superior court of the county in which the property affected is located, for the determination of the damages to be sustained and the condemnation of any property the title of which or the right to damage which has not been acquired, and shall direct the clerk of the board to furnish the attorney with a certified copy of such proceedings of the board as he shall require. [L. '17, p. 246, § 10. Cf. L. '93, p. 310, § 19.]

§ 6614. [5746.*] Eminent Domain Conferred.

For the purpose of taking or damaging property for the purposes of this chapter, counties shall have and exercise the power of eminent domain and the mode of procedure therefor shall be as provided by law for the condemnation of lands by counties for public highways. [L. '17, p. 247, § 11. Cf. L. '93, p. 310, § 20.]

§ 6615. [5747.*] Verdict of Jury Determining Damages.

The jury in such condemnation proceedings shall find and return a verdict for the amount of damages sustained: Provided, that the jury, in determining the amount of damages, shall take into consideration the benefits, if any, that will accrue to the property damaged by reason of the proposed improvement, and shall make special findings in the verdict of the gross amount of damages to be sustained and the gross amount of benefits that will accrue. If it shall appear by the verdict of the jury that the gross damages exceed the gross benefits, judgment shall be entered against the county and in favor of the owner or owners of the property damaged, in the amount of the excess of damages over the benefits, and for the costs of the proceedings, and upon payment of the judgment into the registry of the court for the owner or owners, a decree of appropriation shall be entered, vesting the title to the property appropriated in the county. If it shall appear by the verdict that the gross benefits as found by the jury equal or exceed the gross damages, judgment shall be entered against the county and in favor of the owner or owners for costs only, and upon payment of the judgment for costs a decree of appropriation shall be entered, vesting the title to the property appropriated in the county. The verdict and findings of the jury as to damages and benefits shall be binding upon the board of county commissioners, and the necessary amendments to comply therewith shall be made upon the schedule of damages and benefits prepared by the appraisers and filed with the board of county commissioners. [L. '17, p. 247, § 12. Cf. L. '93, p. 310, § 21.]

§ 6616. [5755.*] Construction—Call for Bids.

At any time after the expiration of five days from the entry of the resolution of the board of county commissioners ordering an improvement under the provisions of this act, the board of county commissioners may fix a time for the receiving and opening of sealed bids for the construction of the proposed improvement, and if in the opinion of the board of county commissioners the interest of the public will be advanced thereby, they may divide the improvement into sections of a more or less number of lineal feet, and call for bids on each of said sections, or they may call for bids for each kind of work to be done or material to be furnished, or any one or more of such kinds of labor and material, as they may believe to be advisable, but in every case all of the construction shall be performed by contract, duly awarded, as provided in this section. They shall cause notice to be given, as hereinafter provided, of the time and place of awarding contracts, and shall direct the engineer who made the survey and estimates, or other competent engineer, to attend at the time and place of opening bids. The board of county commissioners shall superintend and conduct the same, receive all bids for the construction of the improvement, and enter into agreements in the name of the county. The notice for bids shall state the location and general nature of the improvements to be done, and where the plans and specifications are filed for examination, and shall be signed by the clerk of the board of county commissioners by the order of the board. The notice shall be published for at least two consecutive weeks previous to the date of receiving and opening bids, in one or more daily or weekly newspapers published and of general circulation in the county, and in such other manner as the board may see fit to direct. [L. '17, p. 248, § 14. Cf. L. '93, p. 312, § 29.]

§ 6617. [5756.*] Check or Bond Accompanying Bid—Power to Reject.

Every bid shall be accompanied by a certified check for at least one-tenth of the amount bid, in case the bid is for one thousand dollars ($1,000) or less, and for not less than one-twentieth of the amount bid in case the bid exceeds one thousand dollars ($1,000), payable to the county, which check shall be forfeited to the county upon the failure of any successful bidder for a period of ten days after any contract is awarded to such bidder to execute a contract in writing to perform the work according to the plans and specifications, and furnish the bond required. No bid shall be received by the board of county commissioners unless the same was filed with the clerk of the board prior to the time fixed in the notice calling therefor, and at the time fixed all bids then received shall be immediately opened and publicly read. The board of county commissioners may reject any or all bids if in their judgment good cause exists therefor, or if the total amount of bids for the several items of construction for which bids were called for shall exceed the estimated cost of construction, but otherwise they shall award the contract or contracts to the lowest and best responsible bidder or bidders who shall give satisfactory evidence of ability to perform the contract or contracts. Bidders to whom contracts shall be awarded, shall execute for the benefit of the county, a surety bond to accompany each separate contract, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract, in a sum equal to the full amount of the contract. [L. '17, p. 249, § 15; L. '93, p. 313, § 30.]

§ 6618. [5757.*] Payments on Contracts.

When the amount of any contract is less than one thousand dollars ($1,000) no payment shall be made thereon until the contract is fully completed to the satisfaction of the board. When partial payments are provided for in any contract, as each payment becomes due and before payment shall be made, the engineer in charge of the work shall file with the clerk of the board of county commissioners an estimate of the amount of work done or material furnished, and his certificate that such work has been done in all respects as required by the contract. If such estimate and certificate be approved by the board of county commissioners the clerk of the board shall as county auditor draw a warrant on the county treasurer in favor of the contractors for the amount due: Provided, that no partial payment made during the progress of the work shall exceed eighty per centum of the estimated value of the work done: And provided further, that before any final payment is made on any contract, the work shall first be examined by the engineer who prepared the estimate, or other competent engineer appointed by the board of county commissioners, and the engineer shall file his certificate with the clerk of the board of county commissioners that the work has been fully performed and completed in accordance with the contract. Upon the filing of such certificate of the engineer the board of county commissioners shall examine the work, and if the same is found to have been fully completed in accordance with the contract, shall by resolution entered in their minutes make final payment and direct the county auditor to draw his warrant on the county treasurer for the amount due. [L. '17, p. 250, § 16. Cf. L. '93, p. 313, § 31.]

The provision of Rem. Code, § 5757, that the county auditor "thereupon" shall issue a warrant for the amount due, is a later provision, and supersedes the general statute, prohibiting the issue of any warrants until ten days after the allowance of the same, and requires immediate issuance of the warrant: State ex rel. Dahlquist v. Van Wyck, 20 Wash. 39, 64 Pac. 768.

Under the provision for partial payments on road contracts, the amount due becomes vested in the contractor upon the filing of the certificate and is ipso facto appropriated for his use: State ex rel. Dahlquist v. Van Wyck, 20 Wash. 39, 64 Pac. 768.

§ 6619. [5758.] Readvertising for Bids.

If, at the time of letting, satisfactory bids are not received for the whole or any part of the improvement, a future time and place shall be fixed for again receiving bids, notice of which shall be given and the same conducted in every manner as hereinbefore provided; or, if any contractor shall fail to perform his work or complete the same, the contract shall be relet in manner as hereinbefore provided. [L. '93, p. 314, § 32.]

§ 6620. [5759.] County Engineer to Inspect Work.

It shall be the duty of the county engineer in charge of said work, if the county commissioners so direct, to inspect all work of construction from time to time and see that the same is being done according to contract. [L. '99, p. 171, § 3; L. '93, p. 314, § 33.]

Cited in 20 Wash. 44.

§ 6621. [5760.*] Cost of Improvement—Collection.

There shall be included in the cost and expense of such improvement the estimated cost and expense of all engineering and surveying necessary for said improvement, ascertaining the ownership of the lots, tracts or parcels of land included in the improvement district, the cost of publishing notices required to be published, accounting and clerical labor, books and blanks expended or used in connection with said improvement.

When the appraiser's report shall be confirmed, the clerk of the board of county commissioners shall prepare, certify to and file with the county treasurer, an assessment-roll for each such improvement on which the estimated cost of such improvement shall be entered against the persons and property as shown on the schedule of appraisal, first deducting from any assessment against a person, company or corporation to whom awards of damages have been made the amount of the same, and in case of any excess of damages over the assessment, a warrant shall be drawn on the county treasurer in favor of the person, company or corporation to whom such damage has been awarded for the balance due after deducting the assessment.

From and after the filing of such assessment-roll with the county treasurer, the charge on the respective lots, tracts and parcels of land and other property for the purpose of special assessments on account of such improvement shall be a lien on the property assessed, paramount and superior to any other lien or encumbrance whatsoever, theretofore or thereafter created, except a lien for assessments for general taxes.

Each year when an installment is payable, the clerk of the board of county commissioners shall extend the amount of the same together with interest on the deferred payments at the bond rate upon such assessment-roll.

Special taxes shall be levied, become delinquent, and be collected as other general taxes sufficient to pay the next accruing portions of the cost and expense of any such improvement chargeable to the county and to the road district or township respectively, including interest thereon at the bond rate to the next annual installment payment date on such bonds. After delinquency the interest upon such special taxes shall be the same as upon general taxes.

No segregation shall be made so that the unpaid principal against any segregated description shall be less than twenty-five dollars, except upon payment thereof. [L. '21, p. 639, § 4. Cf. L. '93, p. 314, § 34.]

§ 6622. [5761.*] Payment in Installments.

When the petition shall so request, the portion of the cost of the improvement chargeable to the improvement district shall be paid for in equal annual installments. The petition shall set forth "that the improvement be paid for on the — years installment plan," and the number of years shall not be more than ten. When the improvement is done under the provisions of this section the board of county commissioners shall by resolution direct the county treasurer to open an account to be known as "The — road improvement fund." The clerk of the board of county commissioners shall divide the total estimated cost of the improvement and apportion the same in accordance with the findings and report of the board of appraisers and those portions of the expense to be borne by the county, township or road district shall be levied and collected as other taxes, after the awarding of the contract for said improvement: Provided, that the board of county commissioners shall, if the petitioners so request, arrange that the portion of the expense to be borne by the road districts or townships be paid in not to exceed ten equal annual installments and the board may in its discretion provide that the portion of the expense to be borne by the county be paid in not to exceed ten equal annual installments, and shall divide that portion of the expense to be borne by the county, road districts or townships, and also the lots and land lying within the proposed improvement boundaries and found to be specially benefited, into as many equal parts as there are installments. In the event that the entire assessment upon any single tract or parcel of land, or contiguous tracts or groups of tracts belonging to the same owner is twenty-five dollars or less, such assessment shall be paid in cash and the terms of this act relating to the payment of assessments in installments shall not apply to such assessments: Provided further, that the levy of such taxes against road districts or road and bridge funds for any improvement heretofore made shall not be affected by any limitation of law as to tax levies against such road districts or road and bridge funds. [L. '21, p. 640, § 5. Cf. L. '19, p. 230, § 1; L. '17, p. 251, § 17; L. '93, p. 315, § 35.]

Cited in 109 Wash. 176, 177, 184, 185.

The amendment of this section, by Laws of 1919, p. 230, § 1, which provides for payment in installments of the tax levied upon the "property assessed" for county road improvements, applies to the proportion to be paid by counties and road districts as well as to assessments on private property; but, in view of the whole act, the language may be construed as mandatory to grant the maximum period on installments apportioned to individuals, and discretionary as to the maximum time for payment of benefits apportioned to the county and road districts: State ex rel. McMillan v. Hills, 109 Wash. 175, 186 Pac. 295.

§ 6624. [5763.*] Bond Issue Authorized — Payment Out of General Fund.

That whenever the board of county commissioners shall have provided for the payment of said assessment in installments, as aforesaid, it may, if it shall deem it necessary or proper, issue bonds of the county, payable from the said road improvement fund, not to exceed twelve years after the date of the issuance thereof, with such option to redeem as shall be advisable, in an amount not exceeding the cost of such improvement, and said bonds shall bear interest at a rate not greater than seven per cent per annum, and shall be sold at not less than par, by the board of county commissioners in such manner as they shall deem advisable: Provided, that should there not be sufficient money in said improvement fund to make payment of any installment of interest, or the bonds when due, said interest and bonds may be paid out of the general road and bridge fund or the current expense fund of the county as may be directed by the board of county commissioners, and such fund shall be reimbursed from said improvement fund from time to time as moneys are paid therein. The county treasurer shall pay the interest on the bonds authorized to be issued by this act out of the respective improvement funds from which they are payable. [L. '21, p. 642, § 6. Cf. L. '17, p. 252, § 19; L. '93, p. 315, § 37.]

§ 6625. [5764.*] Adjustment Where New District Overlaps Old.

That when a proposed road improvement shall intersect a road which has been completed or ordered constructed under any local improvement plan, that portion of the proposed new district overlapping the limits of the old improvement district shall be divided into four equal subdivisions parallel to the previously improved road, and numbered consecutively from the line of the previously improved road on either side thereof. The first subdivision shall be assessed one-fifteenth of the cost of the proposed new road improvement, the second, two-fifteenths of the cost of the proposed new road improvement, the third, three fifteenths of the cost of the proposed new road improvement and the fourth, four-fifteenths of the cost of the proposed new road improvement, and the remainder of the cost of the improvement chargeable to said area shall be paid by the county out of the general road and bridge fund. [L. '17, p. 253, § 20. Cf. L. '93, p. 317, § 38.]

That no assessments for road construction or improvements under the terms of this act for which any county may be held liable shall ever exceed four (4) mills in any one year: Provided, that in computing the indebtedness to be created under the provisions of said act, the actual value of the taxable property in said county shall be used as the basis therefor, and not the last assessed valuation thereof. [L. '19, p. 298, § 1. Cf. L. '17, p. 253, § 21; L. '93, p. 317, § 39.]

§ 6627. Uncompleted Construction Under Prior Act.

Nothing in this act shall be construed as affecting any improvements already begun under the provisions of the act of which this act is amendatory, or any outstanding obligations incurred under such act: Provided, further, that all proceedings completed or uncompleted, heretofore had under sections 6598 to 6646, inclusive, whether pursuant to said sections or in accordance with this act, are hereby declared valid and binding, and may be completed under this act. [L. '17, p. 253, § 22.]

§ 6628. Assessments, How Payable.

The owner of any lot, tract or parcel of land or other property charged with any such assessments may redeem the same from all or any portion of the liability for the contract price of such improvement by paying the entire assessment or any portion thereof charged against such lot or parcel of land, without interest, within thirty days after notice to him of such assessment. Assessments certified to the county treasurer for collection in due time therefor shall become due and payable during the thirty day period ending May 31st or November 30th respectively. Such notice shall be given by the county treasurer by publication in the official newspaper of the county in two consecutive weekly issues, that the assessment-roll is in his hands for collection and that any assessment thereon or any portion thereof may be paid at any time without penalty, interest or costs during such payment period, and that any assessment in the sum of twenty-five dollars or less must be paid in cash. The bonds herein provided for shall not be issued prior to twenty days after the expiration of the thirty days above mentioned, but may be issued at any time thereafter. Whenever any assessment shall be payable in installments, each installment shall become due and payable annually thereafter, during like thirty day periods as in case of original payments upon such assessments. The owner of any such lot, tract or parcel of land may redeem the same from all liability for the unpaid amount of said assessment at any time after said thirty-day period for original payment by paying the entire installments of said assessment remaining unpaid and charged against such lot, tract or parcel of land at the time of such payment with interest thereon to the end of the next thirty-day payment period. Assessments or installments thereof not paid, within the time herein prescribed shall become delinquent. Assessments or installments thereof, when delinquent shall in addition to interest, have a penalty of five per cent (5%) upon both principal and interest and shall be collected as other general taxes are collected. [L. '21, p. 643, § 8.] § 6629. Reassessment—Grounds.

In all cases of special assessments for local improvements, wherein said assessments have failed to be valid in whole or in part for want of form or insufficiency, informality or irregularity or nonconformance with the provisions of law, governing such assessments, or for insufficiency in the assessment, or that property specially benefited was omitted, in any county, the board of county commissioners of such county shall have power by resolution to reassess such assessments and to enforce their collection in like manner as in original assessments. •

§ 6630. Resolutions of Board.

The board of county commissioners shall pass such resolution or resolutions as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act. Thereafter all proceedings relating to such improvements shall be had and conducted in accordance with this act and such resolutions. [L. '21, p. 645, § 10.]

§ 6631. Payment of Bonds from Sinking Fund.

Whenever the sinking fund for such improvement shall, over and above the amount necessary for the payment of interest on all unpaid bonds, be sufficient to pay the principal of one or more bonds, the county treasurer shall designate sufficient bonds, bearing the lowest numbers among those outstanding, to absorb the amount of said fund on hand, as near as may be, and he shall call such bonds by publishing a notice, giving the numbers of the bonds so called for payment, and fixing a day, not less than fifteen days after the first publication of the notice, when the bonds will be paid with accrued interest at the place of payment of said bonds, which notice shall be published in a daily newspaper published in the county seat once in each week for two consecutive weeks. And in case the bonds so called for payment are not presented on the day fixed therefor in such notice, interest thereon shall thereupon cease: Provided, the money for the payment thereof shall at all times thereafter be retained at the place of payment of the bonds, in readiness for payment of the same on presentation, until such bonds are presented for payment. All bonds and coupons received by the county treasurer under the provisions of this section shall be at once canceled by him and filed as vouchers with the county auditor as ex-officio clerk of the board of county commissioners. [L. '93, p. 319, § 42.]

§ 6633. [5769.] Court may Correct Error, etc.

The court in which any proceeding is brought to recover any tax or assessment paid, or declare void the proceedings to locate or establish any road, or to enjoin any tax or assessment levied or ordered to be levied to pay for the labor and expense as aforesaid shall, if there is manifest error in the proceedings, allow the plaintiff in the action to show that he has been injured thereby, and may on application of either party, appoint such person or persons to examine the premises or to survey the same, or both as may be deemed necessary, the court in which any such proceedings are begun shall allow parol proof that said improvement is necessary and will be conducive to the public needs, convenience and welfare, and that any steps required by law for any improvement have [been] substantially complied with, notwithstanding any defects or omissions in the record required to be kept by any board or officer; and with or without finding error, the court may correct any gross injustice in the apportionment made by the commissioners; the court shall, on final hearing, make such order in the premises as shall be just and equitable, and may order that such tax and assessment remain on the duplicate assessment roll for collection, or the same to be levied, or may perpetually enjoin the same or any part thereof; or if the same has been paid under protest may order the whole or any part thereof as is just and equitable to be refunded, and the costs of such proceedings shall be apportioned among the parties or paid out of the county treasury as justice requires. [L. '93, p. 319, § 43.]

§ 6634. [5770.] Commissioners to Hear Petition for Locating Improvements.

The county commissioners may hear and determine at the same time and under the same petition the necessity of locating any new improved road, or of a road already partly improved, or of widening, straightening, relocating or altering any road previously improved, or in process of improvement under this chapter, as the necessity of the case requires, and shall cause such entry to be made on their journal as in their judgment is required. All estimates shall be made in the manner provided in this chapter. No assessment shall be made to any land, person, or property upon any principle other than that of benefits derived and in proportion thereto. [L. '93, p. 320, § 44.]

§ 6635. [5771.] Bond of Engineer and Appraiser.

The board of county commissioners shall require each engineer and appraiser appointed by them under the provisions of this chapter to enter into a good and sufficient bond, with surety to be approved by them, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties, in a sum to be fixed by the county commissioners, and an action may be brought on such bond by any person aggrieved by a failure of any such person so appointed to do his duty, in the name of such party, and recovery may be had for his benefit. [L. '93, p. 320, § 45.]

§ 6636. [5772.] Officers to Take Charge of Roads.

Upon the completion of any improved road or any section thereof, for which final payment has been made, the charges and care thereof shall be assumed by the district road overseer or township road officers in each district or township in which the improvement is located, and it shall be the duty of such road officers to keep the improved roads in their respective districts or townships in constant and good repair, and any failure so to do shall justify the county commissioner in the commissioner's district in which the neglect occurs, to cause such repairs to be made at the expense of the road district or township in which repairs are done. [L. '93, p. 320, § 46.]

§ 6637. [5773.] Places of Beginning, How Construed.

In case the road proposed to be improved be located so as to connect with two or more trading points located upon a railroad or body of navigable water, or with a road already improved under this chapter, or with a road over which heavy freighting and rapid travel can be done at any time of the year, then each of said points shall be construed as "places of beginning" under this chapter, and construction may be commenced at one or more of them as the board of construction shall direct. [L. '93, p. 320, § 47.]

§ 6638. [5774.] Commissioners may Vacate.

The county commissioners may, on the proper petition and bond being filed, and the same notice being given as required in cases of the location of an improved road, declare any such road vacated and abandoned and its location and establishment to be held for naught, if in their judgment the same has ceased to be of public utility, and the public need, convenience and welfare no longer demand the maintenance thereof; but private rights of persons acquired by reason of the location and establishment of such road shall not be interfered with nor in any way impaired thereby unless due compensation be made therefor. [L. '93, p. 321, § 48.]

The money collected on each improvement shall constitute a special fund unless the cost of the improvement shall have been advanced out of the general road fund, in which case the money collected shall be credited to the general road fund. [L. '93, p. 321, § 51.]

full cost and expense thereof, including the cost of all necessary lands for right of way, whether obtained by purchase or condemnation, by issuing local improvement district bonds, as hereinafter provided, which said assessments and bonds shall become and remain a lien upon said lands until the said assessments and bonds shall have been paid, except as is herein otherwise provided; and the same full power and authority is hereby conferred upon counties where the said boulevards or composite highways, walks, cycle paths and parks extend from and beyond the limits of any such city of the first class into such county, and prescribe and limit the use thereof to specified kinds of traffic; the authority and power hereby conferred shall be exercised in the manner pointed out by this chapter, but any failure of power herein or informality may be supplied from the general power possessed by cities and counties to lay out, grade, improve, and protect and repair roads, bridges and highways; said boulevards or composite highways shall, with the walks, cycle paths and parks connected therewith, be in no case less than one hundred feet wide, nor more than two hundred feet in general width. [L. '97, p. 266, § 1.]

§ 6648. [5784.] Petition for Improvement.

Whenever the owners of property to be benefited along the line of any proposed boulevard or composite highway, shall desire to improve the same under the provisions of this chapter, at the expense of such property benefited, and by the issuance of serial bonds to be payable in ten annual installments, with interest, they must present to the city council of such city of the first class a petition setting forth a general description of the route of the said improvement within said city, giving its terminal points, and a general description of the character of improvements desired, together with the general plan of the various roadways, walks, cycle paths and contemplated parks; if any portion of such proposed boulevard or composite highway shall extend beyond the limits of such city, a similar petition shall be filed with the board of county commissioners of the county into which it so extends covering the portion of same outside of the city; before any such petition shall be allowed and favorably acted upon, it must appear therefrom that the owners of a majority in area of the lands to be benefited along said proposed boulevard or composite highway have signed the same and requested the work to be done under the provisions of this chapter; and any administrator, executor or guardian may, upon consent of the court appointing him, sign the same, and his signature shall bind the property of the estate or ward. [L. '97, p. 267, § 2.]

Whenever any such petition shall be filed, signed by a majority of the property owners as aforesaid, a council or board, as the case may be, shall cause a survey, plan and estimate of the entire cost within the said district to be made, which shall be filed with the city clerk or county auditor, as the case may be: Provided, that no such survey, estimate and plan shall be made, without the said petitioners shall advance the cost thereof, which shall be afterward included as a part of the expense of the improvement, and refunded if it be made; immediately after the said survey, plan and estimate is made and filed, the city clerk or county auditor, as the case may be, shall cause a notice of such filing to be published daily for ten days in the newspaper doing the city or county printing, which notice shall state that such petition has been filed, and shall give a brief and general description of the improvements proposed, the terminal points of the same and the proposed width of the same, together with the estimated cost and expense thereof, and also a description of the property included within the proposed district. Said notice shall fix a time and place at which all persons interested in said property may appear before said council or board and show cause, if any there be, why the said improvement ought not to be made as petitioned for. Said time shall not be less than eight days nor more than twenty days from the date of said notice. All owners who shall not make and file objections to the granting of such petition, within the time mentioned shall be deemed to have assented thereto, in the same manner as if they had signed the said petition. If any remonstrance shall be made thereto, the council or board shall hear the same, and if it shall appear that the law has not been complied with in the securing [of] a sufficient number of signers to the said petition, or that the requisite notice has not been given, or that the proposed improvement will not be a benefit to the property in the said district, or that for any other similar reason the work ought not to be done at the expense of the property owners, the said council or board shall so find, and decline and refuse to proceed further with the matter; but if it appears that the law has been in the aforesaid particulars complied with, and that the proposed improvement will be a benefit to the property in the said district, and will be a public convenience and benefit, the said council or board shall so find and shall authorize the improvements. [L. '97, p. 268, § 3.]

§ 6650. [5786.] Improvements, How Ordered.

Whenever any such petition shall have been presented to the city council, and upon notice as aforesaid shall have been examined and the proposed improvement found to be a proper one to be made by local assessment, the council shall by ordinance order such improvement to be made within any city or district, and shall by such ordinance create a local improvement district, which shall embrace the lands and lots described in the said notices, and which will be benefited by such improvement; such ordinance shall provide in full for the levy and collection of such assessments, the issuance and sale of the bonds, and the general outline of the improvements and the proposed method of paying therefor; when a portion of said boulevard or composite highway shall lie outside of the city limits, the board of county commissioners shall upon like petition, notices and finding, make similar provisions for the improvement within its jurisdiction, by an order entered upon its records; the district lying within the city limits shall be known as District A, and that outside of the city, if any, as District B, and a different series of bonds shall issue in each, and the property in District A shall not be responsible for the payment of the bonds issued on District B, nor shall the property in

§ 6651. [5787.] What Constitutes a Frontage.

Each local improvement district shall include all property between the terminal points of said improvement; in case the line thereof extends beyond the city limits, the line of the city limits shall be one of the ends of termini of the inner and outer districts; the inner or local improvement District A shall include all property between its termini parallel to and within three hundred feet on each side of the average central line of the said boulevard or composite highway; and all property included within said limits shall be considered and held to have a frontage upon such improvement, and shall be the property benefited by said local improvement, and shall be the property to be assessed to pay the cost thereof, which cost shall be assessed by the said city council upon all the property so benefited in proportion to the benefits obtained thereby; the outer or local improvement District B shall include all property between its terminal points, one of which shall be the line of the city limits, and all property parallel thereto and within six hundred and sixty feet on each side of the average central line of the said composite highway; and all property included within said limits shall be considered and held to have a frontage upon such improvement, and shall be the property benefited by the said local improvement, and shall be the property to be assessed to pay the cost thereof, which cost shall be assessed by the said board of county commissioners upon all the property so benefited in proportion to the benefits obtained thereby; and no lot or parcel of land in any district shall be assessed or charged for but one proportionate part thereof, regardless of any angle or change of direction in the line of improvement. [L. '97, p. 269, § 5.]

§ 6652. [5788.] Relating to Street-car Tracks and Right of Way.

In arranging and laying out any such boulevard or composite highway it shall be proper and lawful to arrange for the location and right of way of a street-car track or tracks therein, but the lands upon which the same are built, or to be built, shall not be improved by such special assessment, but only at the expense of the parties owning the lands or the franchise thereon, and said land shall also be assessed in proportion to other property in the district to pay for the local improvement. [L. '97, p. 270, § 6.]

§ 6654. [5790.] Filing of Assessment-roll—Notice of.

§ 6655. [5791.] Objections to be Heard—Confirmation of Assessment-rolls.

At the time appointed for hearing objections to the said assessment-roll and the assessments therein, the council or board, as the case may be, shall hear and decide upon all objections which shall have been filed by any party interested, to the regularity of the proceedings in making said improvements or in levying said assessments, or to the correctness of the amount of said assessment, or of the amount levied upon any particular lot or parcel of land; and if the proceedings are found by them to have been regular, they shall correct any errors which may be found in the assessment, and shall pass an order approving and confirming said proceedings, and said assessment so corrected by them, and their decision and order shall be a final determination of the regularity, validity and correctness of said assessment, and of the amount thereof levied upon each lot or parcel of land, and shall bar all persons appearing and objecting or failing to appear from any further recourse in law. [L. '97, p. 271, § 9.]

§ 6656. [5792.] Lien of Assessments.

All such assessments shall be liens upon the property assessed, and all such liens shall relate back to and take effect as of the date when the council or board, as the case may be, found the work a proper one to be undertaken under the law and the petitions presented, and sustained the petitions against the objections made, or proceeded with the work without such objection, when none was made. [L. '97, p. 272, § 10.]

§ 6657. [5793.] County Treasurer to Collect—Date of Delinquency.

The city or county clerk, as the case may be, shall, within five days after the confirmation of said assessment-roll as aforesaid, certify and annex to the said roll a true copy of the order of confirmation, and issue and annex to the said roll a warrant directing the county treasurer to receive and collect the amount or amounts due thereon, in the manner and at the times hereinafter pointed out, and shall thereupon deliver said roll, order of confirmation and warrant to the said county treasurer, who shall thereupon be authorized to receive and collect the same, as by this law provided; the clerk shall, if the district lies within the city, also notify the city controller of the amount of the said roll, and if a district lies outside of the city the county auditor shall be so notified of the amount thereof, and the treasurer shall be charged therewith; the treasurer, within ten days after receiving the said roll, shall give notice by three weekly publications in the official newspaper of the city or county that such assessment-roll is in his hands for collection, that the assessments are payable, and the date at which the same will become delinquent for the nonpayment of the first installment of principal and interest; no demand shall be necessary for any such assessment, but it shall be the duty of every person whose property is assessed for the improvements as herein provided, to pay all such assessments levied upon such property before the same become[s] delinquent. [L. '97, p. 272, § 11.]

§ 6658. [5794.] When Assessments are Due and Payable.

The said assessments shall be due and payable on the date of the order confirming the said assessment-roll, and may be paid at any time thereafter as herein provided. Any person may at any time within thirty days after said order of confirmation redeem his said property by paying the full amount of such assessment without interest; if the said property is redeemed after said thirty days the owner shall pay the full amount of such assessment and the interest up to the succeeding first Monday in July or January, as the case may be. If the order confirming the said assessment-roll shall be made more than thirty days next before the first Monday in July or January, or if not then, on the first Monday in July or January first thereafter, the first installment of one-tenth of the principal, and interest for one year on the whole sum due, shall be and become due and delinquent; and thereafter, annually, on the said first Monday in July or January, corresponding to the first date of delinquency, one-tenth of the principal sum, and one full year's interest on the whole sum due, shall be and become due and delinquent; upon the failure of any such owner to make payment of any installment and the interest before delinquency, and upon such delinquency, the whole sum due on the said lot, piece or parcel delinquent shall also be and become due, payable and delinquent, and any sale of the said property for delinquency shall be for the full amount of the said assessment not then paid and interest to the next succeeding first Monday in July or January, as the case may be, and the costs of sale. The said county treasurer shall be and he is hereby empowered and authorized, by virtue of the law and the warrant to collect, to sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, all the lots, pieces and parcels of land described in the said assessment-roll, and upon which assessments are levied, whether in the name of the owner or in the name of an unknown, to satisfy all delinquent and unpaid assessments, with interest and costs; on the day of the delinquency a penalty of five per cent on the principal sum due shall accrue to such assessment in addition to the interest thereon, and must then and thereafter be collected therewith; such treasurer's warrant shall, for the purpose of making sale of said real estate on which assessments are delinquent and unpaid, be deemed and taken as an execution against said real property for the amount of the said assessments with interest, penalty and costs, and the treasurer shall, within sixty days after said date of delinquency, commence the sale of the said real property, and continue such sale from day to day thereafter, until all the lots and parcels of land described in said assessment-roll on which any such assessment or installment is delinquent and unpaid are sold; such sales shall take place at the front door of the courthouse, and such sales may take place from year to year if other delinquencies on said roll occur; the treasurer shall give notice of such sales by publishing a notice thereof once a week for three consecutive weeks, in the official city or county newspaper, as the case may require; such notice shall contain a list of all lots and parcels of land upon which such assessments are delinquent with the amount of the assessment, interest, penalty and costs, to the date of sale, including the costs of advertising due upon each of such lots or parcels of land, together with the names of the owners thereof, or the words "unknown owner," as the same may appear on said assessment-roll, and shall specify the time and place of sale, and that the several lots or parcels of land therein described will be sold to satisfy the assessment, interest, penalty and costs due upon each. [L. '97, p. 273, § 13.]

§ 6661. [5797.] Improvement Ordered—Limit of Liability.

Immediately after and upon the passage of the order confirming the assessment-roll, the city council or the board of county commissioners, as the case may be, shall be and they are hereby authorized to cause the said improvement to be made at the expense of the said district: Provided, that the said contractor, laborers, materialmen or subcontractors shall in all cases look only to the fund to be raised by such special assessment for their compensation: And provided, that neither the city nor county shall be responsible therefor in any degree except as trustee for the said district and bondholders. [L. '97, p. 275, § 15.]

§ 6662. [5798.] Sale of Certificates.

The city controller shall be the custodian of all certificates of purchase for lots or parcels of land so sold to the city, and the county treasurer shall continue in the custody of all such certificates so sold to the county, and either shall, at any time prior to the issuance of a deed for such property and prior to the redemption of the lot or parcel of land therein described, sell and transfer any such certificate to any person who will pay to the county treasurer the amount for which the lot or parcel of land therein described was stricken off to the city or county with the interest subsequently accrued thereon; within ten days after the completion of the sale of all the lots and parcels of land described in such assessment-roll and sold as aforesaid, the treasurer must make a return to the city council, or the board of county commissioners, of his doings thereon, showing all lots and parcels of land sold by him, to whom sold, and the sum paid therefor. [L. '97, p. 275, § 16.]

§ 6663. [5799.] Purchaser's Lien.

The purchaser at improvement assessment sales acquires a lien on the lot or parcel of land sold for the amount paid by him at such sale, as well as for all delinquent taxes and improvement assessments, and all costs and charges thereon, whether levied previously or subsequently to such sale, subsequently paid by him on the lot or parcel of land, and shall be entitled to interest thereon at the rate of twelve per cent per annum from the date of such payment. [L. '97, p. 275, § 17.]

§ 6664. [5800.] Redemption Notice—Deed.

Every lot or parcel of land sold for any delinquent assessment as aforesaid, shall be subject to redemption by the former owner, or his grantee, mortgagee or heir, within one year within the date of the certificate of purchase, on payment to the county treasurer, for the purchaser, of the amount the same was sold for, with twelve per cent interest per annum, together with all taxes and improvement assessments and costs and charges thereon paid by the purchaser on such lot or parcel of land since such sale, with like interest thereon, and on such redemption being made, the treasurer shall give to the redemptioner a certificate of redemption therefor and pay over the amount received from such redemptioner to the purchaser or his assigns; should no redemption be made within the period of one year, the treasurer shall, on demand by the purchaser, or his assigns, and the surrender of the certificate, execute to him a deed for the lot or parcel of land therein described: Provided, that no such deed shall be executed until the holder of said certificate shall have notified the owner of the said lot or parcel of land that he holds said certificate and that he will demand a deed thereof; and if, notwithstanding said notice, no redemption be made within ninety days from the service of said notice, said holder shall be entitled to said deed. Said notice may be given by personal service upon said person, or by publication in a weekly newspaper published in said city or county for three weeks; such notice and return thereto, with the affidavit of the person claiming said deed, stating that said service was made, shall be filed with the treasurer; such deed shall be executed only for the lot or parcel of land named in the certificate, and after the payment of all subsequent taxes and assessments thereon; the deed shall be executed in the name of the city or county, as the case may be, and shall recite in substance the matters contained in the certificate, the notice to the owner, and that no redemption has been made of the property within the time allowed by law; such deed shall be signed and acknowledged before a notary public by the treasurer as such; the deed shall be prima facie evidence that the property was assessed as required by law, that the improvement assessment was not paid, that the property was sold as required by law, that it was not redeemed, that notice had been given, and that the person executing the deed was the proper officer, and the deed shall be conclusive evidence of the regularity of all other proceedings from the assessment inclusive up to the execution of the deed. [L. '97, p. 276, § 18.]

§ 6665. [5801.] Sale to City or County.

If any property within such assessment district shall be offered for sale, and no person shall bid a sum sufficient to pay the assessment, the interest, penalty and costs, the said property shall be stricken off to the city, if the district is within the city, or to the county, if the assessment district is within the county, and in either case the city or county, as the case may be, shall hold the said property as a trustee for the use and benefit of the holders of the bonds against the said district; but neither the said city nor county shall be required to pay any money out of its treasury upon the said bonds or interest thereon otherwise than as the same shall have been received from the said assessments: Provided, that if there shall not be a sufficient fund to pay the bonds and interest the said lots or lands so stricken off to the trustee may be utilized by the bondholders, as a common fund for further payments. [L. '97, p. 277, § 19.]

§ 6666. [5802.] Improvements, How Made.

All work authorized by this chapter in laying out, grading and finishing the said composite highway or boulevard, or walks, cycle paths or parks in connection therewith, shall be done under the same supervision as other improvements in said city or county, and shall be done by days' work or by contract, at the discretion of the council or board: Provided, that if the petition for doing the work in the first place shall designate the manner of making the improvement, whether by days' work or contract, then the improvement must be done as requested in said petition:

And provided further, that in no case shall the cost of any such improvement exceed the estimate made by the engineer; and before awarding any contract authorized by this act the same proceedings shall be let in like manner as other contracts in said city or county. [L. '97, p. 277, § 20.]

§ 6667. [5803.] Contracts for Improvements.

All contracts shall be drawn under the supervision of the city or county attorney and shall have attached thereto detailed specifications of the work to be done, which shall be referred to and made a part of the contract, and the maps, estimates and all of the proceedings in the matter of creating the said assessment district shall be considered a part of the said contract; each contract shall be signed in duplicate, the contractor taking one and the proper city or county official keeping the other; at the same time with the execution of said contract the said contractor shall execute a bond to the city or county, as the case may be, and deliver the same to the clerk of the council or board; said bond shall be jointly and severally in the sum named in the notice for proposals, with two or more sufficient sureties, to be approved by the council or board; or the contractor may deposit with the county treasurer a certified check, upon some solvent bank, for said amount, for the faithful performance of said contract, which check shall be drawn payable to the said county treasurer; such sureties shall justify in a sum equal to the amount of the bond, and such bond shall be conditioned that such contractors shall pay all laborers, mechanics and materialmen and persons who shall supply such contractor with provisions or goods of any kind, all just debts due to such persons, or to any person to whom any part of such work is subcontracted or given; which bond shall be filed with the clerk of the city or county, as the case may be. The contract for work shall specify the time within which the work shall be commenced and when to be completed, as was specified in the notice inviting proposals therefor; in case of failure on the part of the contractor to complete his contract within the time fixed, his contract may be by the council or board declared void, and the council or board may relet any unfinished portion of said work: Provided, that no contractor shall be paid any sum to exceed eighty per cent until the whole of the said contract shall have been completed and accepted by the board or council; the work shall be done to the satisfaction of the city engineer, if within the city, or to the county surveyor, if without, and shall be done according to the plans and specifications. [L. '97, p. 278, § 21.]

§ 6668. [5804.] Payment for Improvements—Issuance of Bonds.

Whenever any improvement aforesaid shall be made under this chapter, provision for its payment shall be made by the issuance, by the council or board, of improvement district bonds, payable in ten annual equal installments, none of which bonds shall draw interest at a higher rate than ten per cent per annum; such bonds may be issued to the contractor at par, if he agrees to accept the same, or the council or board may sell the same at not less than par value, net, and pay the proceeds to the contractor. Such bonds shall not be issued in amount in excess of the contract price of the work or improvement together with the cost of all lands for the right of way therefor, whether acquired by purchase or condemnation, and also all incidental expenses incurred by the city or county for said improvement: Provided, that when the annual tenth is paid the interest upon the whole sum shall also be paid; the bonds shall be of such denominations as the council or board shall determine, and shall be numbered from one to the highest number; the county treasurer, whenever he shall have received a sum sufficient from the redemption of any piece or pieces of property by the owner's paying his assessment together with the interest to the next semi-annual date of interest payment, to pay one of the bonds in full, shall call the said bond, beginning at the first in number: Provided, that no such call shall be made and no such payments received after the eighth annual payment; the installments of principal and interest shall be paid on the third Monday in July and January; the principal annually and the interest semi-annually, and the bonds may provide for paying the same at the fiscal agency of the state of Washington in New York City. [L. '97, p. 279, § 22.]

§ 6669. [5805.] Lien of Assessment Transferred to Bondholders.

Such bonds, when issued to the contractor constructing the improvement in payment therefor, or when sold as above provided, shall transfer to the contractor or other owner or holder all the right and interest of such city or county in and with respect to every such assessment, and the lien thereby created against the property of such owners assessed as shall not have availed themselves of the provisions of this chapter in regard to the redemption of their property as aforesaid, shall authorize said contractor and his assigns and the owners and holders of said bonds to receive, sue for and collect or have collected every such assessment embraced in any such bond by or through any of the methods provided by law for the collection of assessments for local improvements. And if the city or county shall fail, neglect or refuse to pay said bonds, or to promptly collect any of such assessments when due, the owner of any such bonds may proceed in his own name to collect such assessment and foreclose the lien thereof in any court of competent jurisdiction, and shall recover, in addition to the amount of such bonds and interest thereon, five per centum together with the costs of such suit. Any number of holders of such bonds for any single improvement may join as plaintiffs, and any number of owners of the property on which the same are a lien may be joined as defendants in such suit. And such bonds shall be equal liens upon the property for the assessments represented by such bonds without priority of one over another to the extent of the several assessments against the several lots and parcels of land. [L. '97, p. 280, § 23.]

§ 6670. [5806.] Reassessment, When.

In all cases of special assessment for local improvements of any kind against any property, persons or corporations whatsoever, wherein said assessments have failed to be valid in whole or in part for want of form or insufficiency, informality or irregularity, or nonconformance with the laws governing such assessments, the city council or other authorized board or body shall be and they are hereby authorized to reassess such special taxes or assessments and to enforce their collection in accordance with the provisions of law existing at the time the reassessment is made: And it is further provided, that whenever, for any cause, mistake or inadvertence, the amount assessed shall not be sufficient to pay the cost of the improvement made and enjoyed by owners of property in the local assessment district where the same is made, that it shall be lawful, and the city council or other authorized board or body is hereby directed and authorized, to make reassessments on all the property in said local assessment district sufficient to pay for such improvement, such reassessment to be made and collected in accordance with the provisions of the law or ordinance existing at the time of its levy. [L. '97, p. 280, § 24.]

Nothing herein shall be construed as repealing or modifying any existing manner and method for cities of the first class or counties to make improvements as herein provided for, but shall be construed as an additional and concurrent power and authority. The holder of any bond issued under the authority of this chapter shall have no claim therefor against the city or county by which the same is issued, in any event, except from the collections of the special assessment made for the improvement for which such bond was issued; but his remedy, in case of no payment, shall be confined to the enforcement of such assessments. A copy of this section shall be plainly written, printed or engraved on the face of each bond so issued. [L. '97, p. 281, § 25.]

The board of county commissioners of any county in this state shall have power, as hereinafter provided, to cause to be constructed or improved any county road, or any part of such road, within the limits of their respective counties, by deviating from existing lines whenever it shall be deemed of advantage to obtain a shorter or more direct road without lessening its usefulness or whenever such deviation is of advantage by reason of lessened gradients, or by draining in any direction to reach the most convenient and sufficient outlet, or by grading or by constructing thereon a roadway of telford, macadam, gravel, or any other suitable material; and to levy and cause to be collected an assessment upon all lots, tracts and parcels of land specially benefited by such improvement for paying the cost and expenses thereof, which assessment shall become a first lien upon all property liable therefor, prior and superior to all other liens and encumbrances; and to provide for the payment of such assessment either on the immediate payment plan or by installments; and to issue local improvement district warrants for such installments. [L. '09, p. 768, § 1.]

§ 6673. [5809.] Resolution to Improve by County Commissioners.

Upon the presentation of a petition as provided in section 6674 hereof the board of county commissioners shall pass a resolution that the public interest demands the improvement of any such county road, or part thereof, situated within such county, and described in such resolution, but such description shall not include any portion of a highway within the boundaries of any city or incorporated town. [L. '09, p. 769, § 2.]

§ 6674. [5810] Petition by Owners of Abutting Property.

The owners of two-thirds of the lineal feet of lands fronting on such county road, or part thereof sought to be improved, in any county in this state may present to the board of county commissioners of such county a petition setting forth that the petitioners are such owners and that they desire such road, or part thereof, to be improved under the provisions of this chapter, the particular road or portion thereof sought to be improved, the kind and nature of the improvement desired, and the mode of payment of the assessments to be levied for defraying the cost and expenses of such improvement. If any such property stands in the name of a deceased person or any person for whom a guardian has been appointed, the signature of the executor, administrator or guardian, as the case may be, shall be deemed equivalent to the signature of the owner of the property on such petition. [L. '09, p. 769, § 3.]

§ 6675. [5811.] Notice of Hearing—Election of Supervisors.

Such board of county commissioners shall make an order appointing a place in the vicinity of said road in said county where, and at a time when said petitioners and all owners of land fronting upon said road, or portion thereof sought to be improved, and to be specially benefited by such improvement, and upon whose lands special assessments will be levied to pay for such improvement, may meet with the county engineer, or his duly appointed deputy; and the county auditor shall immediately give notice to said county engineer of such meeting, and shall cause a notice thereof to be given by publication in a newspaper printed and published in the vicinity of said road, or nearest thereto, in said county, and of general circulation therein, for three consecutive weeks next prior to the time of such meeting, which notice shall state the time and place of said meeting, the kind of improvement asked for, the place of beginning, intermediate points, if any, and place of termination of said road, or the portion thereof sought to be improved. At said meeting said county engineer, or his said deputy, or in the absence of both, some one of the said owners present, shall preside, and said petitioners and said owners of such lands shall then proceed to elect three of such owners as a committee of supervisors, at least one of whom shall be chosen from among the said petitioners. A majority of such owners present and voting at such meeting shall be sufficient for such election, and said presiding officer shall declare and certify to said board of county commissioners the names of such owners so elected as such committee of supervisors. The persons so elected shall, as soon as may be thereafter, qualify by taking an oath that they are owners of lands fronting upon or specially benefited by said improvement and to be included within the local assessment district therefor, as hereinafter provided, and that they will fully, impartially and faithfully perform the duties of such supervisors to the best of their ability, which said oath may be administered by anyone authorized by the laws of the state of Washington to administer oaths, or by said county engineer or his deputy, who are thereunto hereby fully authorized. [L. '09, p. 770, § 4.]

§ 6676. [5812.] Assessment of Damages and Benefits—Plans—Width of Road.

It shall be the duty of such committee of supervisors and the county engineer or his said deputy to forthwith, or as soon as they can assemble at said place, meet and proceed to view, examine and survey said road, or the portion thereof sought to be improved, so that such county engineer can from such examination and survey make plans and specifications and an estimate of the cost of such construction and improvement; to examine and determine the lands that will be specially benefited by such improvement and should be included within the local district to be assessed to defray the cost and expense of such improvement; to ascertain what, if any, damage or injury to the property of any person or persons will be sustained by or in consequence of the making of such improvement for the payment of which such local district would be liable and, in so far as may be, obtain without cost to the local district the release in writing from such person or persons of their claim for such damage or injury, or, in case of failure so to do, arrange, in so far as may be, for such release to be given, upon the approval and ordering of such improvement, on such terms as to amount as may be deemed fair and reasonable to be paid from the funds collected upon the assessment of said district; and such county engineer shall without unnecessary delay prepare such plans and specifications and an estimate of the cost of such improvement, including therein all expenses incident thereto except for services of any county officer receiving a salary, and prepare a plat and description of such local improvement district and a description of the several tracts or parcels of land included therein and the valuation of said lands as appears upon the last annual assessment-roll of the county made for the purpose of levying general taxes; and for the purpose of making such surveys said county engineer shall take to his aid such assistants as are necessary and usually employed by him in making county surveys and at such compensation as is usually paid for like services employed in making other county surveys, the same to be charged as an expense against said local improvement district. The improved or permanent roadway of all such roads so improved shall not be less than eight nor more than sixteen feet in width with shoulders of not less than two feet nor more than four feet in width, unless for special reasons to be stated by said county engineer and committee of supervisors it is required that it shall be of greater width. [L. '09, p. 771, § 5.]

§ 6677. [5813.] Boundaries of Improvement District — Divisions for Assessment.

Such local improvement district shall be constituted, and the boundaries thereof fixed, as follows: The road, or portion thereof to be improved, coterminous with the improvement, shall be the central line through the district, and the bordering lands on each side, and within a distance of half a mile from the margin of said road and coterminous with the construction work or improvement shall be included in and constitute the body of the improvement district, and shall be subject to assessment to the extent above provided. For the purpose of making an equitable apportionment of the assessment, such improvement district shall be divided longitudinally into three parts as follows: All land on both sides of said road, or portion thereof, to be improved, and within a distance of eight hundred and eighty feet from the margins thereof shall constitute the first subdivision; all the land outside of the first subdivision, and within eight hundred and eighty feet from the exterior margins thereof, shall constitute the second subdivision; and all the land outside of said second subdivision and within eight hundred and eighty feet from the exterior margins thereof shall constitute the third subdivision. Each separate tract or parcel of land in said first subdivision shall be assessed and be subject to a charge for a proportional part of forty-five per cent of the whole cost of the construction work or improvement of said road, including said incidental expenses, and it shall be subject to a lien therefor until it shall be paid; each separate tract or parcel of land in said second subdivision shall be assessed and subject to a charge for a proportional part of thirty-five per cent of said whole cost and expense of said construction work or improvement, and be subject to a lien therefor until it shall be paid; each tract or parcel of land in said third subdivision shall be assessed and subject to a charge for a proportional part of twenty per cent of said whole cost and expense of said construction work or improvement, and be subject to a lien therefor until it shall be paid. The charge upon the several separate tracts or parcels of land in each subdivision shall be assessed ratably according to the front foot plan; that is to say, one foot of longitude measured along the road constituting the center of such improvement district, and extending latitudinally across the subdivision shall be taken as the unit by which to determine the proportion of the assessment, so that a unit in each subdivision will be eight hundred and eighty square feet of superficial area. If the areas of said subdivision are not equal to each other the rates fixed for each subdivision shall be fixed on the basis that the benefit conferred on eight hundred and eighty square feet of land in subdivisions first, second and third, are related to each other as are the numbers 45, 35 and 20, respectively. [L. '09, p. 772, § 6.]

§ 6678. [5814.] Engineer's Report of Cost, etc.

As soon as the county engineer shall have completed said work, and at the next ensuing meeting of the board of county commissioners the said county engineer in conjunction with said committee of supervisors shall render a detailed report to said board of county commissioners, with all maps, descriptions, plans, specifications, details and estimates of damages, costs and expenses, and if it shall appear from the said report that the whole amount of the damages, cost and expense of said construction or improvement, chargeable as a lien against the property specially benefited within such improvement district, does not exceed fifty per cent of the total assessed valuation of the lots, tracts and parcels of land contained in such improvement district as the same appears upon the last annual assessment-roll of the county made for levying general taxes, the said board of county commissioners shall make and enter upon their records an order that the said improvement be made, and creating such local improvement district for the payment of said damages, costs and expenses of making said improvement, by special assessment of the property in said district specially benefited, according to said report, to be known and designated Local Improvement District No.—— in —— County, Washington, and such report shall be kept on file in the office of the auditor of said county with the files pertaining to the proceedings of said board of county commissioners. [L. '09, p. 773, § 7.]

§ 6679. [5815.] Condemnation Proceedings.

When said county engineer and committee of supervisors are unable to agree with the owner of any lands upon the amount of damages, if any, sustained by the taking or injuring of his property by reason or in consequence of making of such improvement, they shall in said report to the county commissioners set forth such fact with a statement of their reasons therefor, and said county commissioners shall cause the amount thereof to be ascertained and determined by condemnation and paid in the same manner as damages are so ascertained, determined and paid where new roads are laid out and opened and the county commissioners and land owners are unable to agree upon the amount thereof; and such damages, and the expenses incident to ascertaining and determining the same, shall be advanced on the order of the county commissioners from the funds of the county, so that the progress of such work shall not be delayed, and said funds shall be reimbursed the amount so advanced from the first money collected of the local improvement district funds, and the same shall constitute a part of the cost and expense of making such improvement. [L. '09, p. 774, § 8.]

§ 6680. [5816.] Advertisement for Bids — Contract—Bond—Payments—Liability.

After the making of such order directing the making of such improvement and establishing such local improvement district, said county engineer and committee of supervisors shall let a contract for furnishing of the necessary materials and the performance of the work and labor necessary for the construction and completion of said improvement, according to said plans and specifications, and under the supervision of said county engineer. They shall advertise for bids for three successive weeks in a newspaper published at the county seat of such county, and in such other newspaper as said committee of supervisors shall deem of advantage, for the construction of said improvements, according to such plans and specifications, fixing the time for opening such bids at the office of the county commissioners and award such contract to the lowest responsible bidder, except that no contract shall be awarded at a greater sum than the estimate of cost of such work hereinbefore provided for. But if no bid otherwise acceptable be made within such estimate, such county engineer may amend his estimate, and in conjunction with said committee of supervisors certify such amended estimate to the county commissioners, and if said amended estimate does not exceed said fifty per cent limit of valuation, said board of commissioners shall make and enter a new order, in like manner as provided in section 6679 hereof, based upon such amended estimate, and said county engineer and committee of supervisors may proceed anew to obtain bids and award the contract as herein provided. The county engineer and committee of supervisors may reject any and all bids, and before the execution of a contract for such construction, they shall require a bond executed by a corporate surety or two or more individuals, good and sufficient sureties, satisfactory to them, conditioned that the contractor will furnish the required material and perform the required work upon the terms specified and within the time prescribed and in accordance with the plans and specifications, and will pay for all labor and materials employed upon or in said work; and as a bond of indemnity against any direct or indirect damages that shall be suffered or claimed for injuries to persons or property during the construction of said improvement and until the same is accepted. Partial payments may be provided for in the contract, and paid in the manner herein provided when certified by the county engineer and committee of supervisors to an amount not to exceed eighty per cent of the value of the work done. In letting said contract said surveyor [engineer] and supervisors shall provide therein that at least twenty per centum of the amount due the contractor on estimates shall be retained to secure the payment of laborers who have performed work on said improvement and materialmen who have furnished materials therefor, and such laborers and materialmen shall for thirty days after their work has been completed or their materials furnished have a lien on such twenty per centum so reserved for labor done and materials furnished: Provided, notice thereof in writing shall have been filed with the county engineer within said thirty days, which lien shall be senior to all other liens, whether by judgment, attachment or contract, and no improvement shall be deemed completed until the county engineer and committee of supervisors shall have filed with the clerk of the board of county commissioners a statement signed by a majority of them declaring the same to have been completed, and all such liens shall have been discharged. Such contract shall be executed in the name and on behalf of the county by the chairman of the board of county commissioners and attested with the seal of said board, for the use and benefit of said local improvement district; but such county shall not thereby be rendered subject to any claim or liability except from the special assessment made upon the property of such local district for such improvement or from the proceeds of the sale of any local improvement warrants issued to pay for such improvement as herein provided. Such contractor's bond shall be executed to the county, and in its name enforced by and for the use and benefit of any and all whom it may concern, and shall be kept in the custody of the county auditor. [L. '09, p. 774, § 9.]

§ 6681. [5817.] Bids, Notice for — Deposit — Opening, etc.

Such notice for bids shall state generally the work to be done, and refer to the plans and specifications [filed] with the board of county commissioners, and shall call for proposals for doing the same and furnishing the necessary materials therefor, sealed and filed with the county auditor, as clerk of the board of county commissioners, on or before the day and hour named in said notice. All bids shall be accompanied by cash or a certified check payable to the order of the county auditor for a sum not less than five per cent of the amount of the bid, as a guaranty of the good faith of the bidder, and no bid shall be considered unless accompanied by such cash or check. At the time and place named such bids shall be publicly opened and read; no bid shall be rejected for informality, but shall be received if it can be understood what is meant thereby. The county engineer and committee of supervisors shall determine the lowest bidder, and may let such contract to such bidder if within said estimate, or if in their opinion all bids are too high, they may reject all of them and readvertise for bids, and in such case all checks and cash shall be returned to the bidders; but if such contract be let, then and in such case all checks and cash shall be returned to the bidders except that of the successful bidder, which shall be retained until a contract be entered into for making such improvement between the bidder and the county in accordance with such bid. If the said bidder fails to enter into such contract in accordance with his bid within ten days from the date on which he is notified that he is the successful bidder, and to execute and file a bond as hereinbefore provided, the said cash and check and the amount thereof shall be forfeited to the county, for the use and benefit of the particular local improvement district, and the county auditor shall cash said check and pay said amount into the county treasury to the credit of the said local improvement district, and the said county engineer and committee of supervisors shall readvertise for bids for the doing of such work. Neither said supervisors nor any county officer shall have power to remit such forfeiture. [L. '09, p. 776, § 10.]

§ 6682. [5818.] Roads Closed When Necessary.

Whenever a contract has been let for the construction or improvement of any such county road in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, the contractors may and are hereby authorized to, whenever the county engineer supervising the work shall certify to the necessity therefor in writing, close any such road or part thereof to the public by putting up a sufficient obstruction and notice to the effect that such road is closed for improvement. When so closed any person disregarding such obstruction and driving, riding or walking over any portion of such road so closed shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be subject to a fine of five dollars. Nothing herein contained, however, shall relieve the contractor of the burden of keeping county roads under construction or improvement at all times open to the public until the county engineer supervising the work shall have certified to the necessity for closing such road and shall have filed such in the office of the county auditor. [L. '09, p. 777, § 11.]

§ 6683. [5819.] Inspector—Duties and Salary—Pay of Supervisors.

The committee of supervisors and county engineer together shall appoint some suitable and competent person, other than one of said committee, as an inspector of such work as it progresses, whose duty it shall be to be upon the work at all times during its progress and to inspect and observe the performance thereof and to report to and be under the supervision of the county engineer, and to inform said county engineer and said committee of supervisors of any inferior materials used or any departure from the plans and specifications not authorized by said county engineer and committee of supervisors; and he shall be paid for his services as such inspector at the rate of three dollars per day for the time he is actually engaged upon said works. Each member of the committee of supervisors shall be paid for his services the sum of three dollars per day for the time said committee of supervisors is actually engaged in meeting and acting with said county engineer, and in transacting as a committee the business of said local improvement district, until the work of said improvement shall have been fully completed and accepted by them and said county engineer. [L. '09, p. 778, § 12.]

§ 6684. [5820.] Assessment-roll — Notice — Hearing — Objections — Confirmation.

When the final order for said improvement shall have been made, such county engineer and committee of supervisors shall proceed to apportion the estimated cost and expenses of said improvement upon the land embraced in said improvement district, according to the benefits to be derived therefrom, and, not more than thirty days after said contract shall have been let as hereinbefore provided, report to and file with the board of county commissioners an assessment-roll, in duplicate, prepared by such surveyor [engineer], which shall contain the description of each lot or parcel of land or part thereof to be assessed, the amount to be charged, levied or assessed against each lot or parcel of land or part thereof in proportion to the special benefits to be derived by each such lot or parcel or part thereof from such improvement, and the name of the owner of each such lot or parcel of land or part thereof, if known, but in no case shall a mistake in the name of the owner be fatal when the description of the property is correct. As soon as said assessment-roll shall have been so reported and filed, the county commissioners shall cause notice to be published for three consecutive weeks, which notice shall be published in the newspapers in which notice of invitation for bids for the letting of said contract was published, notifying all persons interested that said assessment-roll has been filed, and requiring them to appear at the office of the county commissioners, at the county seat, at a time not less than fifteen days from the date of the last issue of said publication of said notice, and make objections thereto if any they have. At the time fixed the county commissioners shall meet, and, if no objections have been filed to said assessment-roll, they shall make and enter an order confirming the same; but if objections, in writing, have been filed by any of the land owners affected thereby, the county commissioners shall proceed to hear such objections and for that purpose shall hear any testimony that shall be offered by any party interested; and either one of the county commissioners shall be authorized to administer oaths to witnesses. After such hearing they shall make such corrections and changes, if any, as to them shall appear just and requisite to apportion the assessment to the benefits to be received from such improvement, and shall then make and enter an order approving and certifying such assessment-roll, and levying and assessing the amounts thereof against each and all of the lots and parcels of land, or parts thereof, respectively, included in said roll as approved, and the same shall become a first lien thereon. The costs and expenses of surveys and of all preliminary proceedings to and including the letting of the contract and giving notice that the assessment-roll has been certified for collection and the preparation, issuance and disposal of the warrants for the payment of the cost and expenses of such improvement shall be paid out of the county treasury, and shall be refunded, as well as all other amounts advanced by the county for expenses of such improvement, or for damages as hereinbefore provided, from the local improvement funds as soon as sufficient thereof shall come into the hands of the county treasurer. [L. '09, p. 778, § 13.]

§ 6685. [5821.] Modes of Payment.

There shall be two modes of making payment of such special assessments chargeable against the several tracts and parcels of land included in such local improvement district, namely, that of "immediate payment" and that of "payment by warrants." The mode adopted and the period, not exceeding ten years, over which such warrants shall be made payable, shall be that petitioned for. [L. '09, p. 780, § 14.]

§ 6686. [5822.] "Immediate Payment"—Notice — Collection.

In case of the payment of such assessments by the mode of immediate payment, the county commissioners, as soon as such assessment-roll has been approved and certified, shall deliver the same to the county auditor, who shall file one of such duplicates thereof in his office with the files of the proceedings of said county commissioners in relation to such improvement district, and shall immediately deliver the other of said duplicates to the county treasurer for the collection of such assessments. The county treasurer shall give notice by publication for two consecutive weeks in the newspapers in which notice of proposals for bids was advertised, and shall mail a copy of such notice to the owner of the property assessed when the name of such owner and his postoffice address is known, but the failure to mail such notice shall not be fatal when publication thereof is made, which said notice shall state that such assessment-roll has been certified to him for collection, and that unless payment is made within thirty days from the date of such notice such assessment will become delinquent and shall bear interest at the rate of ten per cent per annum, and if not paid before such assessment shall have become delinquent, a penalty of five per cent shall be added, and the sums delinquent shall be added on the annual tax-roll for the current year against each lot, tract and parcel so delinquent, and, with the interest and penalty, collected as other taxes, separate account being kept thereof, and if not paid within the time fixed for the payment of general county taxes, shall be collected as such taxes are collected, together with such additional charges and penalties as are authorized to be charged and collected on other delinquent taxes, and each lot, tract or parcel so delinquent shall be sold for the amount of such assessment, with interest, penalty and costs, at the time and in the manner and by the same authority and process as lands and lots are sold for general county taxes. [L. '09, p. 780, § 15.]

§ 6687. [5823.] "Payment by Warrants"—Collection of Installments.

In case of the mode of "payment by warrants" being adopted the county commissioners, and the county engineer and committee of supervisors, shall proceed the same in all respects as in case of the mode of "immediate payment," to the approval and certifying of the assessment-roll; but the county commissioners at the time of levying said assessment, and in their order making such levy, shall provide and declare that the sum charged thereby against each of such tracts or parcels of land may be paid in equal annual installments, with interest upon the whole sum so charged at the rate fixed in said order, specifying the number of such installments, which shall be equal to the number of years which the warrants issued to pay for the improvement may run before payment of the same may be demanded by the holder thereof; and each year thereafter the county treasurer shall collect one of said installments, together with the interest due thereon and on all installments thereafter to become due, in the same manner and with the same added penalty and interest in case of delinquency, and by means of the same proceedings to enforce such payment by the sale of the land as hereinbefore provided for the collection of said assessment by the method of immediate payment. [L. '09, p. 781, § 16.]

§ 6688. [5824.] Special Warrants to Contractor.

The county commissioners may, and in all cases where the improvement is ordered upon a petition specifying the method of payment by warrants, must provide for the payment of the cost and expenses of such improvement, to be made under the provisions of this chapter, by special warrants as a charge against the property of the local improvement district, issued to the contractor in payment of the contract price, or by the proceeds of such warrants to be issued and sold as hereinafter provided. [L. '09, p. 781, § 17.]

§ 6689. [5825.] Issuance of Special Warrants — Interest — Form, etc.

The county commissioners shall make and enter an order authorizing and directing the issuance of such warrants, which by their terms shall be made payable on or before a date not to exceed ten years from and after the date of their issue, which latter date may be fixed by the order, and payment of which shall not be demanded by the holder thereof until the end of said period, and they shall bear such interest as shall insure their being disposed of at par and as may be provided for in said order, not exceeding ten per cent per annum, which interest shall be payable annually, and each warrant shall have attached thereto interest coupons for each interest payment. Such warrants shall bear the date of issue and be made payable to bearer. The warrants and each coupon shall be signed by the chairman of the board of county commissioners and shall be attested by the clerk of said board, and the seal of such board shall be affixed to each warrant but not to the coupon. Such warrant shall be printed, engraved or lithographed on good bond paper, and state on its face that it is issued in accordance and compliance with this act, designating the same by title and date of approval. Such warrants shall be in denominations of not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, and they shall refer to the improvement to pay for which the same shall be issued, and to the order and record thereof authorizing the same; each warrant shall provide that the principal sum therein named, and the interest thereon, shall be payable out of the local improvement fund created by special assessment for the payment of the cost and expenses of such improvement, and not otherwise, and shall bear upon its face the designation of the local improvement district, thus, Local Improvement District Number — in — County, Washington. Such warrants shall not be issued in excess of the cost and expenses of the improvement. [L. '09, p. 782, § 18.]

§ 6690. [5826.] Payment of Assessments — Redemption of Warrants.

In case of payment by such special warrants, the county treasurer shall give notice by publication for two consecutive weeks, and shall mail a copy of such notice to the owner of the property assessed in the manner and with the same qualifications as to the giving of such notice provided in section 6687 of this chapter with regard to immediate payment, which notice shall state that such assessment-roll has been certified to him for collection, and that unless payment of the whole amount of such assessment is made within thirty days from the date of such notice, special warrants will be issued against said property for the payment of said assessment, and thereafter the same will be payable in annual installments with interest thereon at the rate provided for in said warrants. At any time within such thirty days any owner of lands within such local improvement district may pay the said assessment chargeable against his said lands, and release and discharge the same therefrom and from the operation and effect of such warrants; and no warrants shall be issued until twenty days after the expiration of such thirty days, nor for any amounts of such assessments so paid in full within such thirty days. The owner of any such lands may redeem the same from all liability for such assessment at any time after said thirty days by paying the entire installments of said assessment remaining unpaid and charged against such lands at the time of such payment with interest and all charges thereon to the date of the maturity of the installment next falling due. In all cases where any assessment or any installment thereof is paid as herein provided, the same shall be paid to the county treasurer, and all sums so paid shall be applied solely to the payment of the cost and expenses of such improvement, or to the redemption of such warrants issued therefor if paid after such warrants are issued. [L. '09, p. 783, § 19.]

§ 6691. [5827.] Warrants — Sale of — Contractor may Take Proceeds Applied.

The special warrants issued under the provisions of this act, or such portion thereof as may remain unsold, if the same are ordered sold by the county commissioners, may be issued to the contractor constructing the improvement in payment therefor, or the order of the board of county commissioners directing the issuance of such warrants may provide that the same may be sold by the county treasurer, in the manner prescribed in such order, at not less than their par value and accrued interest; and the proceeds of such warrants shall be applied in payment of the cost and expenses of such improvement. [L. '09, p. 783, § 20.]

§ 6692. [5828.] Warrants—Payment of Interest, Call for.

The county treasurer shall pay the interest on the warrants authorized to be issued by this act out of the funds of the local improvement district collected on assessments on account of which said warrants are issued. Whenever there shall be sufficient money in such local improvement fund against which such warrants have been issued under the provisions of this act, over and above sufficient for the payment of interest on all unpaid warrants, to pay the principal of one or more of such warrants he shall call in and pay such warrants in their numerical order. Such call shall be made by publication in the county official newspaper on the day following the maturity date of the installment of assessment or as soon thereafter as practicable, and shall state that special warrants No. — (giving the serial number or numbers of said warrants called) of such local improvement district will be paid on the day the next interest coupons of said warrants shall become due, and interest upon said warrants thus called shall cease upon said date. [L. '09, p. 784, § 21.]

§ 6693. [5829.] Collection by Holder.

If the county treasurer shall fail, neglect or refuse to pay said warrants issued under the provisions of this act, or to collect promptly any such assessments when due, the owner of any such warrants may proceed in his own name to collect such assessments and to foreclose the lien thereof in any court of competent jurisdiction, and shall recover in addition to the amount of such warrants and interest thereon, five per centum, together with the costs of such suit. Any number of holders of such warrants for any single improvement may join as plaintiffs and any number of owners of the property on which the same are a lien may be joined as defendants in such suit. Neither the holder nor any owner of any such warrant issued under the authority of this act shall have any claim therefor against the county through the instrumentality of which the same is issued, except from the special assessment made for the improvement for which such warrant was issued, but his remedy in case of nonpayment shall be confined to the enforcement of such assessments. A copy of this section shall be plainly written, printed or engraved on each warrant so issued. [L. '09, p. 784, § 22.]

§ 6694. [5830.] Claims Audited—Order for Payment—Disbursement.

It shall be the duty of the county auditor to audit all claims and accounts for services and every kind of expense payable from the funds of the local improvement district, when the same shall have been first approved and certified by the committee of supervisors; and when so approved and audited, the county auditor shall issue to the county treasurer an order, in favor of the person to whom such claim or account is payable, to pay the same, and upon the presentation of such order by the person to whom it was issued, or his assignee, the county treasurer shall pay the same from the funds of such local improvement district provided for the payment of the cost and expenses of such improvement, and not otherwise. Estimates for work done under the contract for the construction and completion of such improvement shall be made by the county engineer with the approval of the committee of supervisors, and the same shall be likewise audited by the county auditor, and, when so made, approved and audited, the same shall be likewise paid by the county treasurer upon the order of the county auditor, to an amount, however, not exceeding eighty per centum of such estimate during the progress of the work. In case of said assessment being made payable by installments, the county treasurer shall pay such order only from such assessments as shall have been collected prior to the issue of such special local improvement warrants and from the proceeds of the sales of such warrants after the issue thereof; but in case it has been arranged with the contractor for the work, and ordered by the board of county commissioners, that such contractor shall receive such warrants to pay the contract price of the work, such order of the county auditor upon such approved estimates shall call for such warrants instead of money, and shall be paid in such warrants by the county treasurer, with whom the same shall be deposited for that purpose, and in that case such warrants shall not be given a date prior to the time of their delivery to such contractor upon such order, which date shall be then written in such warrants by the county treasurer and be deemed to be the date of their issue, from which interest shall begin to run and the time at or after which their payment may be demanded by the holder shall be computed. The amounts collected upon the installment payments of such assessments shall be reserved and disbursed by said county treasurer for the payment of the principal and interest on and for the redemption of such warrants. The proceeds from the sale of such warrants shall be disbursed by such county treasurer in payment of the cost and expenses of such construction and improvement of such county road, upon the orders of such county auditor, as hereinabove provided. [L. '09, p. 785, § 23.]

§ 6695. [5831.] Refund of Excess for Improvement District.

Any money remaining in the county treasury belonging to the funds of such local improvement district, after the payment of the whole cost and expense of such construction or improvement, in excess of the total sum required to defray all expenditures on account thereof, including the reimbursement of the county for any advancements, shall be refunded, on demand, to the amount of such overpayment; and if there shall be such an excess in the assessment of any person who shall not have paid his assessment in full a rebate shall, on demand, be allowed to such person to the amount of such over-assessment: Provided, such demand hereinabove provided for be made within two years from the date upon which the assessment for such local improvement district became due. Any such funds remaining in the county treasury after the expiration of two years for which no demand has been made as herein provided, belonging to any local improvement district, after the payment of the whole cost and expense of such improvement shall go into a special fund and be disbursed by the county treasurer under the directions of the county commissioners for keeping in repair the county road or part thereof so improved in said local improvement district. The board shall then fix a time and place for the hearing on said roll and shall direct the secretary to give notice thereof and of the time the board acting as a board of equalization will meet to equalize the assessments, by publication once in a newspaper published in each county in which any of such independent highway may lie. The secretary shall be present during its session, and note all changes made at said hearing. In case the roll is set aside or any assessments raised, a revised roll shall be prepared by the secretary, a time and place fixed for hearing and a new notice given as provided herein for the original hearing. Such cause shall then be at issue and shall be tried immediately by such court as in the case of equitable causes, except that no further pleadings shall be necessary. The judgment of the court shall be either to confirm, modify or annul the assessment in so far as the same affects the property of appellant with respect to which the appeal was taken from which judgment an appeal shall lie to the supreme court as in other causes. [L. '19, p. 169, § 8.]

No proceeding of any kind shall be commenced or prosecuted for the purpose of defeating or contesting any such assessment, or the sale of any property to pay such assessment, or any certificate of delinquency issued therefor, or the foreclosure of any lien issued therefor: Provided, that this section shall not be construed as prohibiting the bringing of injunction proceedings to prevent the sale of any real estate upon the grounds (1) that the property about to be sold does not appear upon the assessment-roll or (2) that said assessment has been paid. [L. '19, p. 170, § 9.]

§ 6722. [5837.] Park Districts—Elections—Commissioners.

If at such election a majority of the voters voting upon such proposition shall vote in favor of the formation of such park district, the city council shall so declare in its canvass of the returns of such election, and such park district shall then be and become a municipal corporation of the state of Washington, and the name of such metropolitan park district shall be “Metropolitan Park District of —— (inserting the name of the city constituting the park district).” At the same election at which the proposition is submitted to the voters as to whether a metropolitan park district shall be formed, five (5) park commissioners shall be elected to hold office respectively for the terms of one, two, three, four and five years, and until their respective successors are elected, the term of each nominee for park commissioners to be expressed on the ballot. § 6743. [5856-2.] Resolution to Improve Arterial Street.

Whenever the city council or other governing body of any city or town shall desire to improve any arterial street under the provisions of this act it shall adopt a resolution designating the street or streets to be improved, the general character of the improvement to be made, the estimated cost thereof and the amount of such cost which will be of special benefit to the property, a certified copy of which resolution shall be forthwith transmitted to the board of county commissioners. If the board of county commissioners shall approve such resolution the city council or other governing body of such city or town shall thereupon be empowered to and shall improve such arterial street as above provided and to enter into contracts therefor. [L. '13, p. 143, § 2.]

§ 6744. [5856-3.] Local Improvement District—Limit of Assessments.

So much of the cost of such improvement as shall be of special benefit to property within such city or town shall be a charge upon such property, and the city council or other governing body shall cause to be created in the manner provided by law a local improvement district for the purpose of defraying so much of the cost as shall benefit property therein. The provisions of law with reference to the creation of local improvement districts for the improvement of streets shall, so far as the same are applicable, apply to arterial streets improved under the provisions of this act: Provided, however, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent any property included in such improvement district from being charged under this act with any amount not exceeding fifty per cent of the valuation thereof, as last placed upon it for the purpose of general taxation, exclusive of improvements thereon. So much of the cost of such improvement as shall not be charged to property within the improvement district above provided for shall be paid equally by the county and the city or town. The board of county commissioners of any county is authorized and empowered to pay the portion of the cost chargeable to such county for the improvement of any arterial street under the provisions of this act from the general road and bridge fund of the county, or from the district road and bridge fund of the district with which such arterial street connects. The city council or other governing body of any city or town is authorized to pay the part of the cost of improving any arterial street under the provisions of this act, which shall be a charge against such city or town from the general fund of such city or town or from any special fund which shall be available for that purpose. [L. '13, p. 143, § 3.]

§ 6745. [5856-4.] Limitation of Act.

This act shall not be construed as providing for the maintenance of said arterial highways within the limits of any municipality. [L. '13, p. 143, § 4.]

CHAPTER XXV.

PRIVATE WAYS OF NECESSITY.

§ 6746. [5857.] Private Ways may be Established, How.

The owner or owners of any lands, which do not abut on any highway, or which are so situated that it is necessary to cross the lands of others to obtain a reasonable way to any public highway, may obtain the location and establishment of a road between his or their said lands and the highway by proceedings in the superior court of the county in which the lands over which such proposed road is to run are situated, in the manner provided by law for the appropriation of private property by corporations, except as in this chapter provided. [L. '95, p. 180, § 1.]

For former laws on this subject see L. '54, p. 346, §§ 18, 19; Cd. '81, §§ 2984—2986; L. '88, p. 196.

, "Chapter" refers to all except the next three sections.

The provision of Article I, § 16, of the Constitution, authorizing the taking of private lands for "private ways of necessity," is not self-executing, but before a right of such private ways of necessity can arise, the legislature must define what they are, authorize persons to apply for them, and prescribe the method by which the necessary land is to be taken: Long v. Billings, 7 Wash. 267, 34 Pac. 936.

As to meaning of the constitutional provision, see Healy Lumber Co. v. Morris, 33 Wash. 490, 74 Pac. 681, 99 Am. St. Rep. 964, 63 L. R. A. 820.

The evidence is insufficient to establish a private way by prescriptive use, when: Peterson v. Waske, 45 Wash. 307, 88 Pac. 206.

§ 6747. [5857-1.] Eminent Domain—What Included.

An owner or one entitled to the beneficial use, of land which is so situate with respect to the land of another that it is necessary for its proper use and enjoyment to have and maintain a private way of necessity or to construct and maintain any drain, flume or ditch, on, across, over or through the land of such other, for agricultural, domestic or sanitary purposes, may condemn and take lands of such other sufficient in area for the construction and maintenance of such private way of necessity, or for the construction and maintenance of such drain, flume or ditch, as the case may be. The term "private way of necessity," as used in this act, shall mean and include a right of way on, across, over or through the land of another for means of ingress and egress, and the construction and maintenance thereon of roads, logging roads, flumes, canals, ditches, tunnels, tramways and other structures upon, over and through which timber, stone, minerals or other valuable materials and products may be transported and carried. [L. '13, p. 412, § 1.]

This section is constitutional: State ex rel. Mountain Timber Co. v. Superior Court, 77 Wash. 585, 137 Pac. 994.

The word "necessary," as used in this act, means reasonable necessity: State ex rel. Grays Harbor Log. Co. v. Superior Court, 82 Wash. 503, 144 Pac. 722.

A private way of necessity may be condemned although petitioner has a long term lease: State ex rel. Preston Mill Co. v. Superior Court, 91 Wash. 249, 157 Pac. 689.

Insufficient testimony to satisfy the burden of proof as to necessity, under this action: State ex rel. Carlson v. Superior Court, 107 Wash. 228, 181 Pac. 689.

§ 6748. [5857-2.] Procedure for Condemnation.

The procedure for the condemnation of land for a private way of necessity or for drains, flumes or ditches under the provisions of this act shall be the same as that provided for the condemnation of private property by railroad companies, but no private property shall be taken or damaged until the compensation to be made therefor shall have been ascertained and paid as provided in the case of condemnation by railroad companies. [L. '13, p. 412, § 2.]

Cited in 91 Wash. 251.

This section is satisfied by the filing at the time of the adjudication of public necessity, of a contract agreeing to carry timber products at reasonable prices: State ex rel. Stephens v. Superior Court, 111 Wash. 205, 190 Pac. 234.

§ 6749. [5857-3.] Logging Road to Carry Products.

Any person or corporation availing themselves of the provisions of this act for the purpose of acquiring a right of way for a logging road, as a condition precedent, [shall] contract and agree to carry and convey over such roads to either termini thereof any of the timber or other produce of the lands through which such right is acquired at any and all times, so long as said road is maintained and operated, and at reasonable prices; and a failure so to do shall terminate such right of way. The reasonableness of the rate shall be subject to determination by the public service commission. [L. '13, p. 412, § 3.]

Cited in 111 Wash. 207.

§ 6750. [5858.] Petition must Show What.

The person or persons desiring the location and establishment of such road shall set out in his or their petition a description of his or their lands, the situation of the highway with reference to such land, and such other facts as will show the necessity of the establishment of the road, and shall set out the estimated value of the lands to be appropriated for such road. [L. '95, p. 180, § 2.]

§ 6751. [5859.] Bonds for Costs.

Before the hearing of such petition, the petitioner or someone in his behalf shall enter into a bond with two or more sureties to be approved by the county clerk, which bond shall be in the penal sum of two hundred dollars, payable to the state of Washington for the use of such persons as may be interested, conditioned that the obligators shall pay all costs and expenses incurred in the proceedings. [L. '95, p. 181, § 3.]

§ 6752. [5860.] Commissioners to View Proposed Road.

Upon the hearing of said petition after notice thereof as prescribed by law, the court shall appoint three commissioners, who shall, on a day to be fixed by the court, in the order appointing them, view the lands of the petitioner, and the lands over which it is proposed to locate and establish such road, for the purpose of determining,—

First: Whether there is necessity for the establishment of a road; and,

Second: The most practicable route for such road, if the same be necessary, and the clerk of said court shall furnish to said commissioners a certified copy of the order so appointing them. [L. '95, p. 181, § 4.]

§ 6753. [5861.] Report of Commissioners.

When said commissioners shall have made such examination they shall, within ten days after the day appointed by the court for such examination, report to the court in writing (filing the same with the clerk of said court), their decision as to the necessity for the road, and if they deem such road necessary, then they shall set out in such report an accurate description of the road and the route thereof, as recommended by such commissioners, and the estimated value of the land which would be taken for such road, and the amount to be allowed in damages to each separate owner of the lands sought to be appropriated, which in their estimation is just and equitable. [L. '95, p. 181, § 5.]

§ 6754. [5862.] Exceptions to.

Any person interested may file exceptions in writing to such report at any time within thirty days after the time fixed by the court for the examination of such commissioners, and such report shall be heard and considered by the court as to the necessity for such road, and as to the location thereof. On the next day after the expiration of the time limited for the filing of exceptions, or as soon thereafter as the same can be heard, which hearing shall be by the court without a jury, and the court shall decide as to the necessity of such road, and if the same be found necessary, then the court shall fix the location of the road and establish such road, to be opened when compensation shall be made therefor as provided by law: Provided, that if the court do not approve the report of the commissioners as to the necessity of the road, or as to the route thereof, then the court may appoint other commissioners whose duties shall be the same as the duties of the commissioners first appointed. [L. '95, p. 181, § 6.]

§ 6755. [5863.] Costs.

Such commissioners shall be allowed two dollars per day for their services, which shall be taxed as a part of the costs of the proceedings. All other costs shall be the same as in other civil actions and proceedings in such court, and all costs shall be taxed to and paid by the petitioner or petitioners. [L. '95, p. 182, § 7.]

§ 6756. [5864.] Damages, When and How Awarded.

If, on the hearing of the report of the commissioners, the court shall find that there is necessity for the road, and shall by order determine the route thereof, then the cause shall be tried before a jury as to the amount of compensation to be made by way of damages for the establishment of the road: Provided, that such trial shall be had at a regular term [session] of such court when a jury shall be present. The trial shall be conducted and verdict rendered in the manner provided by law in the case of appropriation of private property by corporations: Provided further, that a jury may be waived as in other civil cases in courts of record in the manner prescribed by law. [L. '95, p. 182, § 8.]

§ 6757. [5865.] Appeal.

No appeal shall be taken from any order of the court as to the necessity of the road or as to the route thereof until after judgment as to the amount of compensation: Provided, that exception shall be taken and entered to such orders at the time the same are made, and the appeal from such orders and from the judgment awarding such compensation shall be taken at one time: Provided further, that all the provisions of law relating to appeals from judgments in proceedings for the appropriation of private property by corporations shall apply to the proceedings provided for it in this chapter so far as the same are not inconsistent herewith. [L. '95, p. 182, § 9.]

"This chapter," see note to § 6746.

§ 6758. [5866.] Damages, Payment of.

Within twenty days after the judgment awarding damages the petitioner or petitioners shall pay into court the amount of the award of damages, together with the costs as aforesaid, and upon such payment judgment of appropriation shall be made establishing the road. [L. '95, p. 183, § 10.]

CHAPTER XXVI.

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER AND BOARD.

§ 6759. [5868.] Location of Office—Duties.

The commissioner shall be furnished with a suitable office in the capitol building, where his records shall be preserved, and said office shall be kept open at such times as the business of the commissioner shall require. He shall keep a record of all proceedings and orders pertaining to the matters under his direction and copies of all plans, specifications and estimates submitted to him. The commissioner shall prepare and submit, ninety days before the session of each legislature of the state of Washington, a report of the work constructed or under construction and shall make recommendation as to the needed state highways, together with the esti-

See infra, § 10765, duties of state highway board devolve upon state highway committee.

See infra, § 10766, duties of highway commissioner devolve upon director of public works.

§ 6760. [5869.] Apportionment of Appropriation.

It shall be the duty of the state highway board to decide what portion of the amount appropriated for any state road shall be expended within the boundaries of the several counties through which it is proposed to pass. [L. '07, p. 295, § 3; L. '09, p. 650, § 3.]

See notes to § 6759.

§ 6761. [5869-1.*] Construction of State Roads.

The state highway board may in its discretion cause any state road to be constructed, either under contract as now provided by law or by force account. Construction may be done by force account in all cases where the estimated amount of said work is less than the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000): Provided, this limitation of five thousand dollars ($5,000) shall not apply to work done by convict labor. The work may be done either by free or day labor or by the use of convict labor when available and capable of advantageous use. The state highway board shall by resolution entered upon its record determine when construction in any case shall be by force account and whether by free or day labor or by convict labor, which resolution shall state the reasons for such determination. In all other cases construction shall be let by contract on plans and specifications previously prepared by the highway engineer and let to the lowest and best bidder in the manner now provided by law. In the event that the highway board considers said bids when received too high, they may readvertise, or do the work by force account, which decision shall be ordered by resolution to that effect entered upon the records of said board, which resolution shall set out the amount of the lowest bid and the fact that said board had found that in its judgment the said work may be more cheaply done by force account, day labor or convict labor. [L. '17, p. 488, § 1. Cf. L. '13, p. 411, § 1.]

§ 6762. [5869-2.] Purchase of Machinery.

Whenever any money shall be appropriated for any state road or roads, and the state highway board shall have determined to construct the same by convict labor and free labor as aforesaid, the state highway board may in its discretion purchase road-making machinery to be used in such construction work. The board shall, prior to entering upon any such construction work determine what roads shall be improved by force account, and estimate the amount and cost of machinery that can be used in the construction of all of the roads, to the end that the machinery may be used on different roads. When the board has decided how much machinery can be so used, it may purchase the same and pay for it from the appropriation made for different roads, in proportion to the amount of use that will be made of it on each road. [L. '13, p. 411, § 2.]

§ 6763. [5870.] Survey—Approval of Board.

Whenever any money is appropriated for the construction of a state road, the state highway commissioner shall, unless such road has been theretofore surveyed, cause survey to be made of the entire length of such highway, and cause the same to be mapped both in outline and profile, and shall also cause plans and specifications for the construction of such highway to be prepared. Such maps, plans and specifications shall be thereupon submitted to the state highway board, and no portion of any appropriation shall be expended upon such road until the state highway board shall have declared such road feasible and shall have approved said outline and profile maps and said plans and specifications. [L. '07, p. 295, § 4; L. '09, p. 650, § 4.]

This section is modified by the act of 1919, c. 92, p. 223, making appropriation for the purpose of meeting the cost of constructing only specified parts of the state's highways: State ex rel. Urquhart v. Superior Court, 112 Wash. 34, 191 Pac. 416.

§ 6764. [5871.] Assistants—Expense.

The state highway commissioner shall have authority to employ such civil engineers and assistants as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of section 6763, and to provide for superintendents of construction and maintenance work on state roads, and the expense so incurred shall be considered a part of the cost of the road in connection with which such expense is incurred and shall be a charge against the fund appropriated for the construction of such road. He shall also have authority to employ such assistants as may be necessary to carry on the office work of the highway department. [L. '07, p. 295, § 5; L. '09, p. 650, § 5.]

§ 6765. [5871-1.] Assistant and Chief Clerk.

The highway commissioner may appoint an assistant who shall act as chief clerk in his office, and such assistant shall have power to perform any act or duty relating to the office of highway commissioner that the commissioner has, and, in case of vacancy by death or resignation of the highway commissioner, said assistant shall perform the duties of said office until the vacancy is filled. Such assistant shall subscribe, take and file the oath of office provided by law for other state officers before entering upon the performance of his duties. The principal shall be responsible under his official bond for all of the official acts of the assistant, and may revoke such appointment at his pleasure, and may require his assistant to give him a bond in such sum as the principal may determine, which bond shall be made, executed, approved and filed as other state official bonds. [L. '13, p. 69, § 1.]

§ 6766. [5872.*] Acquisition of Right of Way.

Whenever it is necessary to secure any lands for a right of way for a state highway, or for the drainage thereof, the supervisor of highways is authorized to acquire such lands in behalf of the state by gift, purchase or condemnation. In case of condemnation to secure such lands, the action shall be brought in the name of the state under the provisions of sections 891 to 900, both inclusive, of this code, and in such action the selection of the lands by the supervisor of highways shall, in the absence of bad faith, arbitrary, capricious or fraudulent action, be conclusive upon the court and judge before which the action is brought that said lands are necessary for the purpose sought. The cost of such lands may be paid from the fund apportioned to the state road for which such right of way or drainage is acquired. Whenever it is necessary to locate and construct a state road over and across any of the public lands of the state of Washington, including tide or shore lands or any oyster reserve which has been or may hereafter be established, the supervisor of highways shall file in the office of the state land commissioner a map showing the location of such road over and across such lands with reference to a United States government survey, and upon the filing of such map the easement for such right of way shall be reserved to the state and such land when sold, leased or otherwise disposed of, shall be sold, leased or disposed of subject to such right of way. Rem. Code, § 5872, providing that the cost of a right of way for a state road acquired by the highway commission shall be paid for from the fund apportioned to such state road does not make that method exclusive, or repeal the provisions of the general eminent domain act which applies where the road fund has been exhausted and the state had taken possession of land and put it to a public use without making compensation: State ex rel. Peel v. Clausen, 94 Wash. 166, 162 Pac. 1.

Under this section the state may proceed to condemn under sections 921—936, supra, without hearings and notices for the establishment of county roads: State v. Superior Court, 111 Wash. 542, 191 Pac. 413.

§ 6767. [5873.] Advertisement for Bids—Deposit—Contractor's Bond.

Upon the approval of the maps, plans and specifications as provided for in section 6763, it shall be the duty of the state highway commissioner to advertise for bids for the construction of such highway, or such sections thereof as the state highway board shall designate, according to such maps, plans and specifications. Advertisements for such bids shall be made by publication in the official county paper, and also in some daily paper of general circulation in the state to be designated by the state highway commissioner, for not less than three consecutive weeks prior to the time set for the opening of said bids. All bids received shall be opened by the state highway board at its office at the capitol. Said state highway board shall have the right to reject any and all bids if in its opinion good cause exists therefor, but otherwise shall award the contract to the lowest and best bidder. The state highway board shall require a surety bond from the successful bidder in the full amount of the contract, conditioned for the faithful performance thereof according to law. Each bidder shall deposit with his bid a certified check in an amount equal to five per centum of the amount of his bid. Should the bidder to whom the contract is awarded fail to enter into a contract and furnish the bond hereinbefore provided within ten days after the notice of such award, the amount of such check shall be forfeited to the public highway fund. The checks of all unsuccessful bidders shall be returned after the contract is awarded and a bond given. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the employment of convict labor when otherwise authorized by law. [L. '07, p. 296, § 7; L. '09, p. 651, § 7.]

§ 6768. [5874.] Approval of Claims—Vouchers.

The state highway commissioner shall examine and allow or disallow all bills for work done or materials furnished, and certify all claims allowed to the state auditor. In the event that counties appropriate money to aid in the construction of any state road, such sum so appropriated shall be expended upon vouchers approved by the state highway board, and the county auditor is authorized to draw his warrant upon such vouchers. [L. '07, p. 296, § 8; L. '09, p. 652, § 8.]

See notes to § 6759.

§ 6769. [5875.] State to Keep in Repair.

After the completion of any road constructed or repaired by the state under this act it shall become the duty of the state highway commissioner to keep the same in repair at the cost of the state, such cost to be paid from the public highway fund. The word road in this act shall be deemed to include all tunnels, culverts and bridges built by the state. [L. '07, p. 297, § 9; L. '09, p. 652, § 9.]

See notes to § 6759.

§ 6770. [5876.] Expenses Paid from Highway Fund.

All expenses of the state highway commissioner's office, including salary, office expenses, traveling expenses, and all expenses of the highway board shall be paid out of the public highway fund. [L. '07, p. 297, § 10; L. '09, p. 652, § 10.]

§ 6771. [5877.] Duties of Commissioner—Statistics—Advice.

In addition to his other powers and duties, the state highway commissioner shall compile statistics relative to the public highways throughout the state, and shall collect all information in regard thereto deemed expedient. He shall investigate and determine upon various methods of road construction adapted to different sections of the state, and as to the best methods of construction and maintenance of roads and bridges, and such other information relating thereto as he shall deem appropriate. He may be consulted at all reasonable times by county officers having care and authority over highways and bridges, and shall advise such officers relative to the construction, repair, altering or maintenance of the same; and shall furnish such other information and advice as may be requested by persons interested in the construction and maintenance of public highways, and shall at all times lend his aid in promoting highway improvement throughout the state. He shall co-operate with all highway officers and shall assist county authorities, and, when requested by them, furnish them with plans and directions for the improvement of the public highways and bridges. [L. '07, p. 297, § 11; L. '09, p. 652, § 11.]

§ 6772. [5878.] Reports to Highway Commissioner.

The road supervisors and the county commissioners of any county, and all other officers who now have or may hereafter have by law the care and supervision of the public highways and bridges shall, from time to time, upon the written request of the state highway commissioner, furnish him with all available information in connection with the building and maintenance of the public highways and bridges in their respective localities. [L. '07, p. 297, § 12; L. '09, p. 653, § 12.]

CHAPTER XXVII.
PERMANENT HIGHWAYS.

§ 6773. [5879-1.] Permanent Highway.

The term "permanent highway," when used in this act, shall be construed to mean an improved public road constructed along a main line of travel, either beginning at some trade center or an extension of an existing road of like character beginning at some trade center. Every permanent highway shall be uniformly graded to a width of not less than sixteen feet, shall have proper bridges, drains and culverts, and shall be surfaced with macadam, stone, gravel or other material equally as permanent and durable not less than twelve feet in width. No such highway shall be constructed with a grade exceeding five per cent, except where, by reason of physical conditions, it is not feasible or practicable to obtain such grade, but in no case shall any such highway be constructed with a grade greater than ten per cent. [L. '11, p. 118, § 1.]

Cited in 80 Wash. 52; 90 Wash. 451; 98 Wash. 610; 103 Wash. 693; 107 Wash. 328; 108 Wash. 315; 110 Wash. 476, 477.

The provision of the Constitution vesting in counties the right of local self-government is not violated by the state aid road law: Meeham v. Shields, 57 Wash. 617, 107 Pac. 835.

An action to enjoin the county commissioners from reletting a contract for state highway work under this section and from interfering with the plaintiff in the performance of a contract does not state a cause of action for damages, where neither the county nor state was made a party, and there was no allegation of the incurring of expense or of possible profits in the performance of plaintiff's contract: Barber Asphalt Paving Co. v. Hamilton, 80 Wash. 51, 141 Pac. 199.

This act intended only the improvement of existing roads along main lines of travel, and does not authorize the opening of new roads, especially in view of the comprehensive act passed at the same session, Id., § 6448, supra, et seq., for the opening and establishing of new roads; and the clause "or the extension of an existing road of like character," taken in connection with the balance of the act, gives no authority for the opening of new roads; and owners need not take any appeal from an order of the county commissioners taken thereunder for the opening of a new road, of which they had no notice, but may directly attack the institution of condemnation proceedings by petitioning for a writ of review: Gregory v. Commissioners of Kitsap County, 110 Wash. 476, 188 Pac. 761.

§ 6774. [5879-2.] Owners' Petition.

The owners of two-thirds of the lineal feet of lands, other than lands of the state or the United States, fronting upon any public highway or section thereof in any county may present to the board of county commissioners a petition setting forth that the petitioners are such owners, and that they desire that such highway or section thereof be improved under the provisions of this act.

The board of supervisors of any township, in any county having township organization, or a majority of them, may, when authorized at a general election, or a special election called for the purpose, sign a petition for the improvement of any public highway within such township, in whole or in part. [L. '11, p. 118, § 2; L. '13, p. 484, § 1.]

Cited in 98 Wash. 611; 103 Wash. 309.

There is no constitutional objection against the initiation of a permanent highway improvement by a petition signed by the owners of two-thirds of the lineal feet of the lands fronting upon the highway as authorized by this section: Lindstrom v. McMillan, 98 Wash. 608, 168 Pac. 463; Kaufman v. McMillan, 103 Wash. 690, 175 Pac. 309.

§ 6775. [5879-3.] Resolution to Improve.

The board of county commissioners in any county, upon the receipt of a petition as provided in the preceding section, or upon its own motion, may pass a resolution for the improvement of any public road or highway or section thereof described in such resolution, under the provisions of this act, and within ten days after the passage of any such resolution shall transmit a certified copy of the same to the state highway commissioner.

Said board shall have no power to provide for the improvement of any portion of a highway within the corporate limits of any city or town. [L. '11, p. 119, § 3.]

§ 6776. [5879-4.] Highway Commissioner's Duty.

Such improvement district shall be constituted, and the boundaries thereof fixed, as follows: The highway coterminous with the improvement shall be the central line through the district, and the bordering lands on each side and within a distance of not less than six hundred and sixty feet, and not more than three miles, such width to be fixed by the board of county commissioners, from the center line of said highway and coterminous with the construction work or improvement shall be included in and constitute the body of the improvement district and shall be subject to assessment to the extent above provided. For the purpose of making an equitable apportionment of the assessment, such improvement district shall be divided longitudinally on each side of the center line of such highway, into three parts of equal width, which, beginning with the part abutting upon the highway shall be known as the first, second and third subdivisions, respectively, of such improvement district. In case the petition shall call for the payment of fifteen per cent each separate tract or parcel of land in said first subdivision shall be assessed and be subject to a charge for a proportional part of seven per cent of the whole cost of the construction work or improvement of said highway, and it shall be subject to a lien therefor until it shall be paid; each separate tract or parcel of land within said second subdivision shall be assessed and subject to a charge for a proportional part of five per cent of the whole cost of such construction work or improvement and be subject to a lien therefor until it shall be paid; each separate tract or parcel of land in said third subdivision shall be assessed and subject to a charge for a proportional part of three per cent of the whole cost of such construction work or improvement and be subject to a lien therefor until it shall be paid. If the per cent of cost to be paid by such owners shall be greater than fifteen per cent the excess shall be assessed to the property in each subdivision upon the same ratio as such fifteen per cent. The charge upon the several separate tracts or parcels of land; in each subdivision shall be assessed ratably on the basis of the special benefits according to the actual area within such subdivision; that is to say, the area within the first subdivision shall be assessed seven-fifteenths, the area within the second subdivision shall be assessed five-fifteenths, and the area within the third subdivision shall be assessed three-fifteenths of the proportionate part of the cost assessed to the property in the assessment district. Each tract or parcel of land shall be assessed according to the relation of the area thereof to the total area within the subdivision wherein it is situated. The county engineer shall file such assessment-roll, as aforesaid, with the auditor of the county at least thirty days prior to the date prescribed by law for the first annual meeting of the county board of equalization after such list shall have been completed, and at said meeting, or an adjourned meeting, said board shall hear all objections to the assessments and determine the same, and correct all errors which may be found in such list; and after the same shall have been examined, compared and corrected by the county board of equalization, the assessment-roll shall be filed with the county treasurer, and the amount charged against the several lots, tracts or parcels of land within such improvement district shall be a lien upon such land, and shall be collected in the same manner as the general taxes of such county are collected, and shall become delinquent at the same time as general taxes, and after becoming delinquent shall be increased by the same percentage of penalty, and shall bear interest at the same rate as other delinquent state and county taxes: Provided, that the county commissioners may in their discretion by resolution duly certified to the county treasurer permit the payment of such taxes in ten equal annual installments, in which event each installment shall become delinquent as general taxes, and after becoming delinquent shall bear the same rate of interest as other delinquent state and county taxes: Provided, further, that the owner may pay all or any number of such installments at any time, and all deferred payments shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum from the thirty-first day of May of the year following the filing of the assessment-roll with the county treasurer: And provided further, that whenever the county commissioners shall have provided for the payment of said taxes in installments as aforesaid it may, if it shall deem necessary or proper, issue bonds of the county payable from the general road and bridge fund ten years after the date of the issuance thereof with such option to redeem it as shall be considered advisable, in an amount not exceeding the proportion of the cost of such highway which shall be a charge against the abutting property, and that such bonds shall bear interest at a rate not greater than six per cent per annum and shall be sold at not less than par by the board of county commissioners in such manner as they shall deem advisable. A notice directed to all owners of property affected by such assessment, whether known or unknown, to appear before said county board of equalization on a day to be therein specified to make their objections, if they have any, to such assessments, shall be published by the county auditor in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in at least three issues on different days of said newspaper, the first of which shall be at least twenty days prior to the specified date for appearances, and said notice shall contain a description of the highway, for the construction or improvement of which the assessment is made, and enumerate the several sections of land, according to the United States surveys, which shall be wholly or partially included within the special improvement district. If any such assessment shall be deemed invalid by the county board of equalization or adjudged to be invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, a reassessment of the land within an improvement district with proper boundaries shall be made and collected in the manner herein prescribed. The county boards of equalization may hold adjourned or special sessions whenever it may be necessary to do so for the purpose of hearing objections to, and completing assessment lists required by this act.

All persons owning property abutting on such highway so improved, or residing thereon shall thereafter pay all highway taxes assessed against them in money, and in the manner now provided by law.

Where the petition for the improvement or construction of any permanent highway shall be signed by the board of supervisors of any township, or a majority of them, under the provisions of section 6774, the proportion of the assessment of abutting property shall, as to property within such township, be a charge upon such township and shall be paid by such township from the moneys raised for the purpose of constructing and improving roads therein into the general road and bridge fund of the county on or before the date of the approval of such construction or improvement work by the state highway commissioner. Said county commissioners shall also be empowered to agree with the owner of any such lands upon the amount of damages, if any, sustained by him in consequence of such entry upon his lands and performance of the work hereby authorized, and the amount of damages so agreed upon shall be the road district charge and shall be audited and paid the same as other road district charges. If the county commissioners are unable to agree with such owner upon the amount of damages thus sustained, the amount thereof shall be ascertained and determined and paid in the same manner as damages are so ascertained, determined and paid where new highways are laid out and opened and the county commissioners and land owners are unable to agree upon the amount thereof. CHAPTER XXX.

HIGHWAY FUNDS AND REVENUE.

§ 6817. [5897½.] Public Highway Fund Created.

There is hereby created a fund to be known as the public highway fund. [L. '05, p. 252, § 1.]

Chapter 46, Laws of 1919, p. 90, providing a "Motor Vehicle Fund" for the support of the highways of the state, is an act for the support of a public institution, within the seventh amendment to the Constitution, justifying the legislature in declaring an emergency which excepts the act from a referendum to the people; especially as the funds for the current year were needed prior to the time of the taking effect of general laws: State ex rel. Anderson v. Howell, 106 Wash. 542, 181 Pac. 37.

§ 6818. Levy of Tax.

For the purpose of raising revenue to construct and repair highways and bridges, the proper state officers shall levy and collect a tax of one mill upon all of the property in the state subject to taxation. The fund provided by such levy shall be placed in the public highway fund: Provided, however, that nothing in this act contained shall have the effect or be construed to alter or modify in any particular any tax levy made or proceeding had or to be had for the collection of any tax heretofore levied or imposed under or pursuant to the provision of any former or existing laws. [L. '17, p. 471, § 6. Cf. L. '05, p. 253, § 2; L. '07, p. 23, § 1; L. '09, p. 886, § 1; L. '11, p. 303, § 1; L. '13, p. 220, § 1; L. '15, p. 231, § 1.]

"This act" refers to §§ 6821—6824, 6830, and this section.

§ 6819. [5879-14.*] Permanent Highway Fund.

For the purpose of raising revenue for the improvement and maintenance of permanent highways under the provisions of this act, the proper state officers shall levy and collect a tax of one and one-half mills upon all property in the state subject to taxation for the year 1913, and for each year thereafter. All moneys derived from such tax shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to a fund to be known as the "Permanent Highway Fund." The amounts received from each county shall be credited to the county paying the same, until such time as the same shall be expended on contracts for permanent highways within such county or for the maintenance of the same under the provisions of this act, or for the payment of interest on or the redemption of bonds as provided herein. Not less than five nor more than fifty per cent, as may be determined by resolution of the board of county commissioners at their first meeting after the taking effect of this act for the year 1921 and at their January meeting in each succeeding year, of all moneys credited in any year to each county under this act and which shall be derived from taxes levied for the year 1912 and subsequent years shall be set aside and expended by the board of county commissioners, upon vouchers approved by such board, for maintaining and repairing roads constructed under the provisions of this act and other roads of like character, and no part of such per cent shall be expended for any other purpose. Whenever any county shall hereafter issue bonds of the county for the making or improving of permanent highways or roads equal in character within such county, the board of county commissioners of such county may, at the time of ascertaining and levying taxes to pay the interest on such bonds or at the time of ascertaining and levying taxes to accumulate a sinking fund for the redemption of such bonds, by resolution entered upon their minutes, apply the whole or any portion of the permanent highway fund, then standing to the credit of such county on the books of the state auditor in excess of the amount necessary to pay all contracts then outstanding for the payment of which such fund is or may become liable to the payment of such interest or to such sinking fund. There shall be set forth in such resolution statements showing, first, the amount of all taxes levied in such county for the permanent highway fund which have not been remitted to the state auditor or which remain uncollected and, second, all contracts for the payment of which the permanent highway fund credited to such county is or may become liable. The commissioners may apply such amount to the payment of interest or into the sinking fund without levying the tax required by law to be levied for such purposes, or the commissioners may, in addition to the amount so applied, levy a tax in addition thereto either to raise funds for the payment of interest or for the redemption of such bonds. A certified copy of such resolution shall be transmitted to the state auditor and upon receipt thereof, he shall transmit the amount so applied to the county treasurer who shall credit the same to the proper accounts for the purposes stated in such resolution. [L. '21, p. 248, § 1; L. '19, p. 149, § 1; L. '11, p. 126, § 14; L. '13, p. 491, § 5.]

§ 6820. [5879-15.] Transfer Fund.

Upon the taking effect of this act, the state treasurer shall transfer from the public highway fund to the permanent highway fund hereby created, and placed to the credit of each county, a sum equal to one-half of all taxes levied in such county for said public highway fund for the years 1907, 1908, 1909 and 1910, first deducting therefrom all sums expended from the public highway fund for state aid road purposes in such county under the provisions of chapter 150 of the Session Laws of 1907 prior to such transfer. All payments on contracts executed prior to the passage of this act for state aid roads shall, from and after the date of its passage, be paid out of the permanent highway fund and charged to the county in which such state aid road is situated: Provided, that if any county shall not have sufficient money to its credit in the permanent highway fund to carry out any such contract or contracts, then and in that event the state treasurer shall transfer to the credit of such county from the public highway fund to the permanent highway fund sufficient money to complete the existing contracts for state aid roads. For the purpose of making the transfers from the public highway fund to the permanent highway fund, as provided in this section, there is hereby appropriated out of the public highway fund the sum of five hundred and eighty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary. [L. '11, p. 127, § 15.]

§ 6821. County Permanent Highway Maintenance Fund.

There is hereby created in each county of the state a county fund to be known as the "Permanent Highway Maintenance Fund." The county officers of the various counties having the custody and disposition thereof are directed to set aside and place to the credit of said fund all moneys received from the state as provided in section 18, chapter 142, Laws of 1915, and all acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, and the per centum of the permanent highway fund as provided in section 6819, which per centum of the permanent highway fund, as determined by the resolution of the board of county commissioners at their first meeting after the taking effect of this act for the year 1921 and at their January meeting in each succeeding year, shall be retained by the county treasurer and placed to the credit of the permanent highway maintenance fund of said county. [L. '21, p. 250, § 2; L. '17, p. 468, § 1.]

The act of 1915 referred to was Rem. Code, § 5562-18, which is repealed.

§ 6822. Moneys Derived from Automobile Licenses, etc.

The state auditor shall apportion and remit monthly by warrant all moneys derived from automobile licenses, fines and forfeited bail, after deductions as provided by section 18, chapter 142, Laws of 1915, as amended by Session Laws of 1917. [L. '17, p. 469, § 2.]

See note to last section.

§ 6823. Balance in State Permanent Highway Fund.

The state auditor is hereby directed to pay by warrant to each county the balance set aside in the permanent highway fund for the maintenance of permanent highways at the time this act takes effect. [L. '17, p. 469, § 3.]

§ 6824. Fund Expended for Maintenance of Highways of County.

The county auditor shall issue warrants for the expenditures from said fund on vouchers approved by the engineer in charge and allowed by the board of county commissioners, which expenditures shall be for the sole purpose of maintaining and repairing primary and permanent highways or highways of like character and for equipment for the maintenance thereof within the respective counties, and the same shall not be expended for any other purpose except as hereinafter provided. [L. '17, p. 469, § 4.]

§ 6825. [5878-9.] Transfer of Fund.

Hereafter the state treasurer shall transfer from the public highway fund to the permanent highway fund all taxes levied in counties composed entirely of islands respectively, for the public highway fund, and place to the credit of each of said counties the amount of said levy, which shall be expended on permanent highways under the provisions of chapter XXVII of this Title. [L. '13, p. 304, § 1.]

§ 6826. Motor Vehicle License Fees of Island Counties.

All fees collected for motor vehicle licenses in counties composed entirely of islands shall be paid into the state treasury as other funds are paid, and, after deducting therefrom the expenses of issuing such licenses, the same shall be placed in the permanent highway fund to the credit of the county from which such fees came; such money shall be expended on permanent highways under the provisions of chapter XXVII of this Title. [L. '19, p. 108, § 1.]

CHAPTER XXXI.

CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE OF STATE ROADS.

§ 6827. [5897.] State Roads Defined.

The term "state roads" shall be construed to mean roads constructed in the sparsely settled and mountainous regions of the state, the entire expense of engineering and construction being borne by the state and paid for out of the highway fund. [L. '07, p. 308, § 1.]

See supra, § 6807, enumeration of state roads.

§ 6828. [5900.] Report on Proposed State Roads to Legislature.

No road shall hereafter be established as a state road until the same shall have been examined and if necessary surveyed, and shall have been found to be feasible and of public utility, and all facts concerning its feasibility and utility have been reported to the state legislature by the state highway commissioner. [L. '07, p. 309, § 2; L. '09, p. 37, § 2.]

§ 6829. [5878-7.*] Routes.

Whenever the general route of any state highway shall be designated and laid out by the legislature as running to, through or between certain designated points, without specifying the particular route to be followed to, through or between such points, the state highway board shall determine the particular route to be followed by said highway to, through or between said designated points, and shall be at liberty to select and adopt as a part of such highway, the whole or any part of any existing state or county road, or to deviate in whole or in part from any existing state or county road. The state highway board need not select and adopt the entire route for such highways at one time, but may select and adopt parts of such routes from time to time as it deems advisable. [L. '21, p. 118, § 1; L. '13, p. 224, § 7.]

§ 6830. [5878-4.*] County Maintenance of Primary Highways.

All primary highways when constructed shall be maintained at the expense of the permanent highway maintenance fund of the county in which such highway is located. In the event that there is not sufficient money to the credit of such permanent highway maintenance fund so to do, the county commissioners shall expend such portion of the permanent highway fund credited to their county as shall be necessary, and in case the amount to the credit of the permanent highway fund apportioned to their county is not sufficient or available then they shall pay the remainder from the general road and bridge fund of the county. Such highways shall be maintained under such rules, regulations and requirements as may be prescribed by the state highway board. In the event that such highways shall not be maintained in accordance with the standard required by such rules, regulations and requirements, then the state highway board after fifteen days written notice of their intention so to do, directed to the county commissioners of such county, shall cause the maintenance of such highway to be brought up to the standard required by the rules, regulations and requirements of said state highway board and charge the expense thereof as follows: To the permanent highway maintenance fund credited to such county and in case the amount to the credit of such fund is not sufficient then to the available amount apportioned to the county from the permanent highway fund, and if the amount in either of said funds is still not sufficient then to the available amount in the general road and bridge fund of the county. When the maintenance work is done under the direction of the state highway board the payments from the permanent highway maintenance fund and general road and bridge fund shall be by warrants drawn by the county auditor upon vouchers approved by the state highway commissioner, and when any payments for maintenance purpose are made from the portion of the permanent highway fund credited to the county, the same shall be made upon warrants drawn by the state auditor on vouchers approved by the state highway commissioner and in such case the state auditor shall notify the county auditor of the county of all payments so made. In any county where no primary state highways have been constructed by the state, or the full amount of the permanent highway maintenance fund is not necessary for the maintenance of permanent highways, the remaining funds to the credit of the permanent highway maintenance fund shall be used in the maintenance or improvement of roads upon the route of primary state highways. The construction of all primary highways shall be under the immediate supervision and control of the state highway board. [L. '17, p. 469, § 5; L. '13, p. 223, § 4.]

§ 6831. [5878-8.] Width of Highway.

All primary highways when graded shall be graded so that they shall have a running surface of not less than sixteen (16) feet in width. [L. '13, p. 224, § 8.]

§ 6832. [5878-5.] Maintenance of Secondary Highways.

All secondary highways when constructed shall be maintained by the counties in which they are located, and in the event that any county does not desire to maintain such secondary highway it shall so indicate to the highway department of the state by the passage of a formal resolution to that effect spread upon the records of said board of county commissioners, a copy of which shall be forwarded to the office of highway commissioner; whereupon said highway, unless it is a way of necessity whereby certain persons residing thereon are connected with the county highway, the same shall be abandoned as a public highway, and the right of way revert to the abutting property.

In the event that it is a private way of necessity the maintenance and upkeep of said highway shall devolve upon the persons whom it serves. [L. '13, p. 223, § 5.]

§ 6833. [5878-6.*] County and City Expenditure on State Roads.

Nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the authorities of any county or road district from expending the road funds of such county or road district or funds obtained from the sale of bonds upon primary or secondary highways either for construction, maintenance or right of way, and they are hereby empowered so to do, the only exception being that when any section of the primary highway has been constructed by the state any expenditures made upon said portion of said primary highway shall be under the direction of the state highway commissioner: Provided, that the county commissioners may, when the estimated cost of such expenditure exceeds the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), place the construction or improvement of such highway under the supervision and control of the state highway commissioner, who shall take full charge of the same, the actual expenses of said highway commissioner in the supervision of said construction to become a part of the expenses of the county in constructing said highway, and shall be audited and paid out of such county funds. [L. '17, p. 263, § 1; L. '13, p. 223, § 6.]

§ 6834. Constructions on Highways Unlawful Without Franchise.

It shall be unlawful for any person or corporation to construct on, over, across, or along any state highway any water-pipe, gas-pipe, telegraph, telephone, or electric light or power lines, without having first obtained a franchise so to do in the manner hereinafter in this act provided. [L. '21, p. 221, § 1.]

§ 6835. Granting of Franchises—Application—Hearing.

The state highway board or committee shall have the power to grant franchises to persons or corporations to use a state highway outside of incorporated cities and towns for the construction and maintenance of water-pipes, gas-pipes, telephone, telegraph, and electric light and power lines. All applications for such franchises shall be made in writing and subscribed by the applicant, and shall describe the state highway or portion thereof over which franchise is desired, and the nature of the franchise. Upon the filing of any such application a time and place for hearing the same shall be fixed and a notice thereof shall be given in the county or counties in which the state highway mentioned in the application is located, at the expense of the applicant, by posting written or printed notices in three public places at the county seat and in at least one conspicuous place on the state highway or part thereof over which the application for the franchise is made, at least fifteen days before the day fixed for such hearing, and by publishing a like notice in three successive weekly issues of the newspaper doing the county printing, the last publication to be at least five days before the day fixed for the hearing; which notice shall state the name or names of the applicant or applicants, a description of the state highway or part thereof over which the franchise is applied for, and time and place for hearing which shall be at the state capital. In case the application is for a franchise over portions of a state highway in two or more counties, notice shall be given as above provided in each of the counties. It shall be the duty of the county auditor of the respective counties to cause such notices to be posted and published and to file proof of such posting and publication with the state highway board or committee. [L. '21, p. 221, § 2.]

Franchises on county roads, see supra, § 6428.

§ 6836. Franchises—Regulations and Conditions—Damages.

All hearings provided for in the preceding section may be adjourned from time to time and from place to place until completed. If after such hearing it is deemed to be for the public interest to grant such franchise in whole or in part, the board, or committee, may make and enter the appropriate order granting the franchise applied for, or such part thereof as it shall deem to be for the public interest, under such rules, regulations and conditions as it may prescribe, and may require any such utility and its appurtenances to be placed in such location on, over, across, or along the state highway as it finds will cause the least interference with other uses of the state highway. Any person or corporation constructing or operating such utility on, over, across, or along such state highway shall be liable to any person injured thereby for any damages incident to the work of installation or the continuation of the occupancy of such highway by such utility, and shall be liable to the state for all necessary expenses incurred in restoring such highway to a permanent suitable condition for travel. This act shall be construed as an addition to existing laws, and shall not limit powers or rights which may be exercised under existing laws: Provided, that no franchise shall be granted for a period of longer than fifty years; And, provided further, that no exclusive franchise or privilege shall be granted. [L. '21, p. 222, § 3.]

See note to § 6835.

§ 6837. Violations.

Any person violating the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '21, p. 223, § 4.]

§ 6838. Road Construction—Approval of Plans by Supervisor of Highways.

Whenever any county of this state desires to undertake the construction or improvement of any primary state highway or any county road used as a part of such highway, or the construction or alteration of any bridge, culvert, cattle-pass, or other structure on the primary state highway, or any county road used as a part of such highway, plans and specifications for such work shall be first submitted to the supervisor of highways for approval, and no such work shall be done unless the supervisor of highways shall approve such plans and specifications, and all such work shall be done in accordance with the plans and specifications as approved. [L. '21, p. 85, § 1.]

§ 6839. Closing Road—Duty of Officials.

Whenever the condition of any city or town street, state or county road, either newly constructed, repaired or improved or of prior construction, or any part thereof, is such that its use or continued use by vehicles will greatly damage such road, the state highway commissioner, if it be a state road, or the board of county commissioners, if it be a county road, or the governing body of a city or town, if it be a city or town street, is authorized to close such road to travel by all vehicles or to any class of vehicles, for such period as they shall determine. [L. '21, p. 87, § 1.]

§ 6840. Notice of Closing Road.

Before any road is closed to vehicles or any class of vehicles under this act, a notice of the date on and after which the road, or any part thereof, shall be closed, and the period of such closing, and whether it shall be closed to all vehicles or to vehicles of particular class or classes, shall be published in one issue of a newspaper printed and published in the county, city or town in which the road or street is located; and a like notice shall be posted on or prior to the date of publication of such notice, in a conspicuous place at each end of the road or street or part of said road or street to be closed: Provided, that no such road shall be closed sooner than three days after the publication and posting of the notice herein provided for: Provided, however, in cases of emergency, the proper officers may, without publication or delay, close roads and streets temporarily by posting notices at each end of, and at, all cross-roads or streets and all roads or streets leading into, or out from, any road or street to be temporarily closed. In all emergency cases, as herein provided, the orders of the proper authorities shall be immediately effective. [L. '21, p. 87, § 2.]

§ 6841. Penalty.

When any road, or part thereof, shall have been closed as herein provided, any person, firm or corporation disregarding such closing and using such road or part thereof with any vehicle to which said road is closed by such notice, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '21, p. 88, § 3.]

§ 6842. Director of Public Works to Assume Authority.

The authority herein conferred upon the state highway commissioner shall be exercised by that officer until such time as the director of public works shall be appointed and qualified. Thereafter such authority shall be vested in and exercised by the director of public works through and by means of the division of highways. [L. '21, p. 88, § 3½.]

§ 6843. [5899.] Rights of Way Over County Roads.

It shall be lawful for boards of county commissioners to transfer and convey to the state of Washington rights of way over and along county roads for state road purposes, and it is hereby made their duty to make such transfer or conveyance upon receiving notice from the state highway board that a state road has been established and definitely located over a county road and that said road will be improved and maintained by the state and that funds are available for the immediate construction of such road. [L. '09, p. 102, § 1.]

§ 6844. Rural Post Roads—State's Assent to Federal Aid Road Act.

The state of Washington hereby assents to the purposes, provisions, terms and conditions of the grant of money provided in an act of congress entitled "An act to provide that the United States shall aid the states in the construction of rural post roads, and for other purposes," approved July 11, 1916. [L. '17, p. 260, § 1.]

§ 6845. Agreement With United States.

The state highway commissioner and the state highway board, constituting the state highway department as provided by law, are hereby authorized and directed to act for and on behalf of the state of Washington, and of any civil subdivision of the state, in all things pertaining to the selection, construction and maintenance of roads under the provisions of said act of congress approved July 11, 1916; and to enter into such agreements with the United States secretary of agriculture as may from time to time be desirable or necessary to secure the money or aid for any section of road selected by law for improvement through an appropriation for the biennium in which said improvement is to be made. Said rural post road money to be added to and expended in connection with the appropriation aforesaid: And to apply thereto, as may be required, co-operative expenditures from the public highway fund, which may have been appropriated by the state legislature and from any road fund, including the permanent highway fund of any civil subdivision of the state set aside by the local authority of any such civil subdivision and is available for the construction and maintenance of any section of state highway selected as aforesaid for such aid and improvement. .

In all matters relating to the co-operative construction of any such rural post road the state highway commissioner and the state highway board shall act in the manner provided by state law for the construction of state highways from the public highway fund, so far as the same may be consistent with such rural post road act and the rules and regulations made by the secretary of agriculture pursuant to said act, to which the procedure shall be adapted as may be necessary. [L. '17, p. 260, § 2.]

§ 6846. Pledge of State to Equal Federal Appropriation.

For the construction or improvement and the maintenance of rural post roads which are a part of the public highway system, the good faith of the state of Washington is hereby pledged to make available funds sufficient to equal the sums appropriated to the state by or under the United States government during each of the five years for which federal funds are appropriated by section three (3) of the said act, and to maintain, or cause to be maintained the roads constructed or improved with the aid of funds so appropriated, and to make adequate provisions for carrying out such maintenance. [L. '17, p. 261, § 3.]

§ 6847. State Pledge to Equal Federal Contributions.

The good faith of the state of Washington is further pledged to make available funds at least sufficient, when combined with the funds made or to be made available by the several counties, to equal the sum apportioned to the state by the secretary of agriculture under the rules and regulations approved by him for carrying out the provisions of section eight (8) of said act of congress: Provided, that funds made so available by the state shall be spent only upon the highways comprising the system of state roads, and the good faith of the state of Washington is further pledged to maintain such roads and to make adequate provisions for carrying out such maintenance: And provided further, that nothing herein shall be construed as preventing the several counties from entering into co-operative agreements with the secretary of agriculture for the construction and maintenance of county roads. [L. '19, p. 138, § 1. Cf. L. '17, p. 262, § 4.]

§ 6848. Co-operation Between State and Federal Authorities.

§ 6874. [6034.] Same—Gong.

Each and every hotel shall be provided with an electric gong or gongs at least nine inches in diameter controlled by automatic switches on each floor having bedrooms which shall be placed in the hallway or hallways in such a position that they will be easy of access and so that its or their ringing can be heard in every room; and means for ringing such gongs shall be provided so that they can be operated both from the office and from the location of each gong, and sufficient power shall be provided so as to keep all such gongs ringing continuously for at least three minutes after being started [L. But in any event such room shall not be occupied by any person for at least forty-eight hours after such fumigation and disinfection. [L. '15, p. 536, § 6. Cf. L. '09, p. 46, § 9.]

The unconstitutionality of this section, providing imprisonment for failure to pay the hotel inspection fee, does not affect the validity of the balance of the act providing for the inspection of inns and hotels: State v. McFarland, 60 Wash. 98, 110 Pac. 792, 140 Am. St. Rep. 909.

This section has reference to the owner of a hotel business (under lease without restrictions upon the use or covenants to repair) and not the owner of the building (out of possession); and hence where fire-escapes are required upon a hotel building under the exercise of the police power, the duty and expense of construction devolves upon such a lessee where there is no covenant in the lease imposing such duty on the landlord: Clarke v. Yukon Investment Co., 83 Wash. 485, 145 Pac. 624, Ann. Cas. 1916E, 625.

§ 6887. [6047.] Violation—Prosecution.

It shall be the duty of the inspector, upon ascertaining by inspection or otherwise that, after one year from the passage of this act, any hotel is being carried on contrary to its provisions, to make complaint and cause the arrest of the person so violating same, and it shall be the duty of the prosecuting attorney in such case to prepare all necessary papers and conduct such prosecutions.. [L. '09, p. 49, § 18.]

See note to § 6882.

§ 6888. [6048.] Fees—Collection and Disposal of.

The hotel inspector shall collect an annual inspection fee for each hotel which shall be paid according to the following schedule:

Hotels containing from five to ten sleeping-rooms inclusive, three dollars; hotels containing from eleven to twenty sleeping-rooms inclusive, four dollars; hotels containing from twenty-one to sixty sleeping-rooms inclusive, seven dollars; hotels containing from sixty-one to one hundred sleeping-rooms, inclusive, ten dollars; hotels containing over one hundred sleeping-rooms, twelve dollars and fifty cents. Such fee shall be collected by the inspector at the time of the inspection and if not paid upon demand the inspector or deputy may sue therefor in his own name for the use of the state in the superior court of the state for the county in which such hotel is situated, and in such case the court shall allow and enter as a part of the judgment against the defendant all the costs of such action, including a reasonable fee for any attorney necessarily employed in such action by the inspector. Such inspection fees shall be a lien on the furniture and equipment of the owners or proprietors of the hotel and shall be paramount to all other liens excepting taxes and such furniture and equipment shall not be exempt from execution in the collection thereof. All moneys collected under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the state treasury in the manner provided by law. [L. '15, p. 537, § 7. Cf. L. '09, p. 49, § 19.]

See note to § 6882.

§ 6889. [6049.] Appropriation.

For the payment of salaries of the state hotel inspector and his deputies, for necessary traveling expenses, office stationery, supplies and incidentals there is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be paid according to law, but in no event shall the amount appropriated during any biennial period exceed the collections under this act during said period. § 6908. [5933-1.] Family Desertion.

Every person who,

1st: Having any child under the age of sixteen years dependent upon him or her for care, education or support, deserts such child in any manner whatever, with intent to abandon it;

2d: Willfully omits, without lawful excuse, to furnish necessary food, clothing, shelter, or medical attendance for his or her child or children or ward or wards;

3d: Having sufficient ability to provide for his wife's support, or who is unable to earn the means for such wife's support, who willfully abandons and leaves his wife in a destitute condition, or who refuses or neglects to provide such wife with necessary food, clothing, shelter, or medical attendance, unless by her misconduct he is justified in abandoning her.

§ 6909. [5933-2.] Punishment—Payment to Family—Suspension of Judgment—Working Prisoners.

In any case enumerated in the previous section, the court may render one of the following orders:

1st: Should a fine be imposed it may be directed by the court to be paid in whole or in part to the wife, or to the guardian, or to the custodian of the child or children, or to an individual appointed by the court as trustee.

2d: Before trial, or after conviction, with the consent of the defendant, the court, in its discretion, having regard to the circumstances and to the financial ability or earning capacity of the defendant, shall have the power to make an order, which shall be subject to change by it from time to time as circumstances may require, directing the defendant to pay a certain sum weekly during such time as the court may direct, to the wife or to the guardian, or custodian of the minor child or children, or to an individual appointed by the court, and to release the defendant from custody or probation during such time as the court may direct, upon his or her entering into a recognizance, with or without sureties, in such sum as the court may direct. The condition of the recognizance to be such that if the defendant shall make his or her appearance in court whenever ordered to do so, and shall further comply with the terms of the order and of any subsequent modification thereof, then the recognizance shall be void, otherwise to remain in full force and effect.

3d: Where conviction is had and sentence to imprisonment in the county jail is imposed, the court may direct that the person so convicted shall be compelled to work upon the public roads or highways, or any other public work, in the county where such conviction is had, during the time of such sentence. And it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners of the county where such conviction and sentence is had, and where such work is performed by persons under sentence to the county jail, to allow and order the payment, out of the current fund, to the wife, or to the guardian, or the custodian of the child or children, or to an individual appointed by the court as trustee, at the end of each calendar month, for the support of such wife, child or children, ward or wards, a sum not to exceed one and fifty one-hundredths dollars for each day's work of such person. [L. '13, p. 71, § 2.]

This section, subdivision 2, has no application to the provisions for punishment by confinement in the county jail at hard labor, under subdivision 3 of the act; and hence does not authorize the justice to commute a sentence once imposed under subdivision 3: State ex rel. Brown v. Superior Court, 79 Wash. 570, 140 Pac. 555.

This section, subdivision 3, clearly indicates an intent to make a distinction between "conviction" and "sentence," so that the words "after conviction" as used in subdivision 2, authorizing a judgment of weekly payments to the wife, means before sentence and precludes the justice from subsequently commuting a sentence of imprisonment: State ex rel. Brown v. Superior Court, 79 Wash. 570, 140 Pac. 555.

§ 6910. [5933-3.] Prima Facie Proof.

Proof of the abandonment or nonsupport of a wife, or the desertion of a child or children, ward or wards, or the omission to furnish necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance for a child or children, ward or wards, is prima facie evidence that such abandonment or nonsupport or omission to furnish food, clothing, shelter, or medical attendance is willful. The provisions of section 6908 are applicable whether the parents of such child or children are married or divorced and regardless of any decree made in said divorce action relative to alimony or to the support of the wife or child or children. [L. '13, p. 72, § 3.]

§ 6911. [5934.] Procedure on Failure to Comply With Order.

If the court be satisfied by information or complaint and due proof under oath, that at any time the defendant has violated the terms of such order, it may forthwith proceed with the trial of the defendant under the original indictment or information, or sentence him under the original conviction, or enforce the original sentence, as the case may be. In case of forfeiture of a recognizance and enforcement thereof by execution, the sum recovered may, in the discretion of the court, be paid in whole or in part to the wife or to the guardian or custodian of the minor child or children. [L. '07, p. 200, § 2.]

As to repeal of this section, see § 2304, and note. Features of the act of 1907 partaking of a civil nature may not be affected by the repeal in the Penal Code of 1909. See, also, Laws 1913, p. 73, § 4.

§ 6912. [5935.] Evidence.

No other evidence shall be required to prove marriage of such husband and wife, or that such person is the lawful father or mother of such child or children, than is or shall be required to prove such facts in a civil action. In all prosecutions under this act any existing provisions of law prohibiting the disclosure of confidential communications between husband and wife shall not apply, and both husband and wife shall be competent witnesses to testify for or against each other to any and all relevant matters, including the fact of such marriage and the parentage of such child or children. Proof of the desertion of such wife, child or children in destitute or necessitous circumstances or of neglect to furnish such wife, child or children necessary and proper food, clothing or shelter is prima facie evidence that such desertion or neglect is willful. [L. '07, p. 201, § 3.]

§ 6931. [5953-1.] Preliminary Commitment and Observation.

There shall be set aside in each county in the state of Washington having a county hospital, such portions of such hospital as may be necessary for observation detention wards for those charged with insanity, and in each such hospital there shall be separate detention wards for males and females, and any judge of the superior court of the state of Washington before whom a person is charged with insanity may order the sheriff arresting said person to forthwith commit such person to said observation detention ward for a period not to exceed thirty (30) days, except as hereinafter provided: Provided, that in all cases where the person so arrested is found by the court to be insane beyond all reasonable doubt the court may order such person immediately committed to the proper state hospital for insane. Said detention wards shall be under the supervision and control of the county physician of the county in which situated, who shall make careful observation of the patients under his charge and testify at the trial of the patient as to such observation, and should said physician require longer time for observation of said patient than thirty days, he shall make application to the court for an extension of time of not more than thirty days: Provided, that in all counties having no county hospital, the judge of the superior court thereof may designate as a detention hospital, such other place of detention and treatment as he may deem suitable for the purposes of this act, and shall order the sheriff of that county to forthwith convey all persons charged with insanity before him to the place so designated, upon such terms and under such conditions as said court may determine. [L. '15, p. 303, § 1.]

"This act" refers to this section.

§ 6932. [5953-2.] Investigation of Nationality—Report.

Whenever any person shall be brought before any judge of the superior court on a charge of insanity, the judge shall, if such person be found insane, inquire into the nationality of such person and may summon witnesses and require the production of documentary evidence for that purpose. If it shall appear that such insane person is an alien, the judge shall cause the clerk of the court to make out and transmit to the United States commissioner of immigration in the state of Washington and to the superintendent of the hospital to which such person is committed a report showing the names and addresses of all witnesses who appeared and testified as to the nationality of such insane person, a synopsis of the testimony of each witness and copies of the documentary evidence tending to show such nationality produced at the hearing. [L. '15, p. 315, § 1.]

§ 6933. [5953-3.*] Deportation of Insane Aliens.

It shall be the duty of the director of business control to, in cooperation with the United States bureau of immigration, arrange for the deportation of all alien insane persons who are now confined in or who may hereafter be committed to any state hospital for the insane in this state, such alien insane persons to be transported to such point or points as may be designated by the United States bureau of immigration. [L. '21, p. 633, § 1. Cf. L. '15, p. 259, § 1.]

§ 6934. Deportation of Nonresidents.

The director of business control shall also return all nonresident insane persons who are now confined in or who may hereafter be committed to a state hospital for the insane in this state to the state or states in which they may have a legal residence. For the purpose of facilitating the return of such persons the director may enter into a reciprocal agreement with any other state or states for the mutual exchange of insane persons now confined in or hereafter committed to any hospital for the insane in one state whose legal residence is in the other, and he is authorized and empowered to give written permission for the return of any resident or residents of Washington now or hereafter confined in a hospital for the insane in another state: Provided, however, that the state making the request for the return of such insane person or persons, shall have, through the proper authorities, entered into the agreement herein authorized.

A person shall be deemed to be a resident of this state within the meaning of this act who shall have lived continuously in the state for a period of two years and who has not acquired a residence in another state by living continuously therein for at least two years subsequent to his residence in this state: Provided, however, that the time spent in a hospital for the insane or on parole therefrom shall not be counted in determining the matter of residence in this or another state.

All expenses incurred in returning insane persons from this to another state may be paid by the state of Washington, but the expense of returning residents of this state shall be borne by the state making the return. [L. '21, p. 633, § 2.]

Laws of 1905, page 253, directing the deportation, to their legal residences, of nonresidents who are adjudged insane, was invalid for the reason that it cannot be enforced: State ex rel. Mackintosh v. Superior Court, 45 Wash. 248, 88 Pac. 207.

§ 6935. Expense of Deportation.

For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act the director of business control may employ all help necessary in arranging for and transporting such alien and nonresident insane persons, and the cost and expenses of providing such assistance and all expenses incurred in effecting the transportation of such alien and nonresident insane persons shall be paid from the funds appropriated for that purpose upon vouchers approved by the director of business control and the superintendent of the hospital for the insane from which such persons are transported. [L. '21, p. 634, § 3.]

§ 6936. Bringing Insane Persons into State.

Any person who shall bring or in any way aid in bringing any insane person into the state of Washington without having first obtained permission in writing from the director of business control shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary or state reformatory for a term of not less than six months nor more than fifteen years: Provided, however, that this section shall not apply to an officer, agent or employee of a common carrier for anything done in the line of duty, nor to a person who through necessity brings or aids in bringing an insane person into the state without an intent to make such person a permanent charge upon the state of Washington. [L. '21, p. 634, § 4.]

§ 6937. Care and Maintenance—Contracts With United States Government.

The director of business control shall have the power, in the name of the state, to enter into contracts with any duly authorized representative of the United States government providing for the admission to, and the separate or joint observation, maintenance, care, treatment and custody in, the state hospital for the insane, of persons entitled to, or requiring the same, at the expense of the United States, and contracts providing for the separate or joint maintenance, care, treatment and custody of such persons committed to such hospitals in the manner provided by law, and to execute and perform such contracts, which contracts shall provide that all payments due the state of Washington from the United States, for service rendered under said contracts, shall be paid into the state treasury and covered into the state institutional revolving fund, to the credit of the institution furnishing the service. [L. '21, p. 153, § 1.]

§ 6938. [5954.] Warrant of Commitment—Issuance of—Form, etc.

Whenever any superior judge shall order an insane person committed to a hospital for the insane he shall direct the sheriff to notify the superintendent of the hospital to which such person is committed and such insane person shall be conveyed to such hospital in the manner now provided by law, and copies of the complaint, the commitment and the physician's certificate shall be transmitted to the superintendent of the hospital to which such person is committed. The physician's certificate shall be upon a form to be furnished the courts by the state board of control. [L. '15, p. 255, § 5. Cf. L. '90, p. 487, § 17; 1 H. C., § 1249.]

§ 6940. [5956.] Liabilities of Counties for Costs of Commitment.

When any person shall be found to be insane, or come within the provisions of this act, the costs of commitment shall be paid by the county: Provided, that when such insane person is a resident of another county, the county wherein such proceedings were had shall recover from the county of which such insane person is a resident, all costs and expenses so paid as aforesaid. § 6941. [5957.] Commitment of Arraigned Person—Costs.

The superior courts of the state shall have power to commit to the hospital for the insane any person who, having been arraigned for an indictable offense, shall be found by the jury to be insane at the time of such arraignment, and the costs of such commitment shall be paid in the same manner. [Cf. L. '79, p. 126, §§ 1, 2; L. '90, p. 487, § 20; 1 H. C., § 1252.]

§ 6942. [5958.] Proceedings in Case Convict Becomes Insane.

The governor of the state may, in his discretion, order the removal of any prisoner to the hospital for the insane when the physician, board of penitentiary commissioners, and wardens of the penitentiary, after examination, are of the opinion that such prisoner is insane, and shall certify the fact under oath to the governor. As soon as the superintendent of the hospital for the insane to which such prisoner is sent ascertains that he is not insane, or has recovered, he shall immediately notify the warden of the penitentiary of that fact, and thereupon the said warden shall cause such prisoner to be at once returned to the penitentiary, if his term of imprisonment has not expired. § 6943. [5959.] Exemptions from Being Committed as Insane.

No case of idiocy, imbecility, harmless chronic mental unsoundness, or acute mania a potu shall be committed to the hospital for the insane; and whenever, in the opinion of the superintendent, after a careful examination of the case of any person committed, it shall be satisfactorily ascertained by him that the party has been unlawfully committed, and that he or she comes under the rule of exemptions provided for in this section, he shall have the authority to discharge such person so unlawfully committed, and return him or her to the county from which committed, at the expense of such county. [L. '90, p. 490, § 29; 1 H. C., § 1254.]

Who deemed to be insane. 29 Am. Dec. 38.

§ 6944. [5960.] Nonresident Persons shall not be Admitted.

Nonresidents of this state conveyed or coming herein while insane shall not be committed to nor supported in the hospital for the insane; but this prohibition shall not prevent the commitment to and temporary care in said hospital of persons stricken with insanity while traveling or temporarily sojourning in the state, or sailors attacked with insanity upon the high seas, and first arriving thereafter in some port within this state. [L. '90, p. 490, § 30; 1 H. C., § 1255.]

See supra, § 6934, deportation of nonresidents.

§ 6945. [5961.] Infected Person shall not be Admitted.

§ 6946. [5962.] Judge may Order Patient Removed, When—Return.

The relatives or friends of an inmate of the hospital for the insane may receive such inmate therefrom on their giving a bond or other satisfactory evidence to the superior judge issuing the commitment, that they, or any of them, are capable and suited to take care of and give proper care to such insane person, and give protection against any of his acts as an insane person. If such satisfactory evidence appear to the judge, he may issue an order, directed to the superintendent of the hospital for the insane, for the removal of such person. If, after such removal, it is brought to the knowledge of the judge, by verified statement, that the person thus removed is not cared for properly, or is dangerous to persons or property by reason of such want of care, he may order such person returned to the hospital. [L. '90, p. 491, § 33; 1 H. C., § 1266.]

Cited in 83 Wash. 344.

The fact that this section provides for the discharge of inmates of the hospital upon application of relatives, etc., by an order of court, after notice to the superintendent and a hearing with provisions for the return of the inmate in case he is not properly cared for is dangerous, does not negative the superintendent's power to exercise discretion other than in relation to an absolute discharge; since the above section has nothing to do with the superintendent's discharge on his own motion: Emery v. Littlejohn, 83 Wash. 334, 145 Pac. 423, Ann. Cas. 1915D, 767.

§ 6947. [5964.] Preference of Admission—To Whom Given.

If at any time it may become necessary, for want of room, or other cause, to discriminate in the general reception of patients into the hospital, a selection shall be made as follows:

1. Recent cases, i. e., cases of less than one year's duration, shall have the preference over all others;
2. Chronic cases, i. e., when the disease is of more than one year's duration, presenting the most favorable prospects of recovery, shall be next preferred;
3. Those for whom application has been longest on file, other things being equal, shall be next preferred;
4. Where cases are equally meritorious in all other respects, the indigent shall have the preference. [Cf. L. '75, p. 87, § 15; L. '77, p. 227, § 15; Cd. '81, § 2261; L. '90, p. 492, § 40; 1 H. C., § 1260.]

§ 6948. [5965.] History of Patient to be Ascertained.

It shall be the duty of the superintendent to ascertain, by diligent inquiry and correspondence, the history of each and every patient admitted to the hospital. [L. '77, p. 229, § 21; Cd. '81, § 2267; L. '83, p. 38, § 5; 1 H. C., § 1261.]

§ 6949. [5966.] Provisions as to Receiving Patients.

Persons found to be insane by the superior courts of the respective counties shall be committed to the respective hospitals for the insane as follows: From the counties of Chehalis, Clarke, Cowlitz, Lewis, Mason, Pacific, Pierce, Thurston, Wahkiakum, Kittitas and Yakima to the Western State Hospital at Fort Steilacoom in Pierce county; from the counties of Adams, Asotin, Benton, Chelan, Columbia, Douglas, Ferry, Franklin, Garfield, Grant, Klickitat, Lincoln, Okanogan, Pend Oreille, Skamania, Spokane, Stevens, Walla Walla, Whitman, to the Eastern State Hospital at Medical Lake in Spokane county; and from the counties of Clallam, Island, Jefferson, King, Kitsap, San Juan, Skagit, Snohomish and Whatcom, to the Northern State Hospital at Sedro-Woolley in Skagit county: Provided, that if it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the judge ordering the commitment, upon the application of relatives or friends of such insane person or by the recommendation of the examining physician, that by reason of climatic conditions or the nature of the insanity of such person it would be to his interest to be committed to another hospital and that such other hospital has room and accommodations for receiving and caring for such person, the judge may commit such person to one of the other hospitals: And, provided further, that whenever the state board of control shall certify to the superior court of any county that the hospital above specified to receive insane persons committed from that county is for the time being unable to care for additional patients, and shall designate one of the other hospitals, the judge of such court shall, until further advised by the state board of control, commit patients to such other hospital: And, provided further, that nothing in this section or in any commitment shall be construed as preventing the state board of control from, upon the recommendation of the superintendent of any hospital, transferring a patient in such hospital to another hospital when it shall appear that the interest of the state or of such patient demands such transfer, and in the case of any such transfer the superintendent of the hospital from which the transfer is made shall immediately certify the fact and the reasons therefor to the clerk of the court which committed such patient and shall notify the next of kin or the next friend of such patient of the transfer. [L. '15, p. 256, § 6. Cf. L. '90, p. 483, § 3; 1 H. C., § 1262.]

§ 6950. [5967.] Discharge of Patients—Provision for Indigent.

Whenever in the judgment of the superintendent of any hospital for the insane any person in his charge shall have so far recovered as to make it safe for such patient and for the public to allow him to be at large, the superintendent may parole such patient and allow him to leave such hospital, and whenever in the judgment of the superintendent any patient under his charge has become sane, mentally responsible and probably free from danger of relapse or recurrence of mental unsoundness, the superintendent shall discharge such patient from the hospital. Indigent patients, when paroled or discharged, may be returned to the county from which committed, at the expense of said county. No indigent patient shall be paroled or discharged without suitable clothing, and the state board of control shall furnish the same, together with such sum of money, not exceeding ten dollars, as they may deem expedient; and for that purpose are hereby authorized to make requisition on the state auditor for such sum or sums, from time to time, as they may need for the purpose above mentioned, not exceeding, however, the sum of five hundred ($500) dollars per annum for each hospital, and the state auditor on receipt of such requisition, signed by the president and secretary of the said board, shall issue a warrant on the state treasurer for the amount thereof, with the limitations prescribed herein. Whenever it shall be made to appear to the judge of the superior court of any county that any paroled patient found in such county has become unsafe to be at large, such judge shall order such patient returned to the hospital from which he was paroled and shall direct the sheriff to notify the superintendent of the hospital to which such person was committed and such person shall be conveyed to such hospital in the manner now provided by law. [L. '15, p. 257, § 7. Cf. L. '75, p. 87, §§ 18, 19; L. '77, p. 228, §§ 18, 19; Cd. '81, §§ 2264, 2265; L. '90, p. 492, § 38; 1 H. C., § 1263.]

Under this section authorizing the superintendent of any hospital for the insane to discharge any person who has become sane, a person claiming restoration to sanity since a valid commitment must first apply to the superintendent before seeking a discharge by habeas corpus proceedings: State ex rel. Thomson v. Clifford, 106 Wash. 16, 179 Pac. 90.

Where restoration to sanity is claimed since a valid commitment to the asylum, the superior court of that county has jurisdiction in habeas corpus to determine the question, although the commitment was by the superior court of another county: State ex rel. Thomson v. Clifford, 106 Wash. 16, 179 Pac. 90.

Liability for Torts in General: See Remington's Digest, Ins. Per., § 17-1; Kusah v. McCorkle, 100 Wash. 318, 170 Pac. 1023.

The power of the superintendent of the state insane hospital, given by this section, to discharge inmates includes the power to discharge them conditionally or upon parole: Emery v. Littlejohn, 83 Wash. 334, 145 Pac. 423, Ann. Cas. 1915D, 767.

The superintendent acts in an official capacity in a matter involving his discretion in discharging an inmate, temporarily out on parole; hence he is not liable for damages sustained by a third person by reason of turning the inmate at large, where he did not act maliciously or corruptly: Emery v. Littlejohn, 83 Wash. 334, 145 Pac. 423, Ann. Cas. 1915D, 767.

Right of one restrained as insane person to discharge upon ground of irregularity or invalidity of commitment. 44 L. B. A. (N. S.) 389.

§ 6951. [5968.] Notice of Death or Discharge to be Given.

Whenever the superintendent of any hospital shall parole or discharge a patient, and whenever any patient of such hospital shall die, it shall be the duty of the superintendent to immediately certify the facts to the clerk of the superior court of the county from which such patient was committed and send a copy of such certificate to the next of kin or next friend of such patient if his name and address is known or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained, and in the case of discharge the superintendent shall give a copy of such certificate to the patient discharged. Such certificate shall give the date of the parole, discharge or death of such patient and shall state the reasons for parole or discharge, or the cause of death, and shall be signed by the superintendent. [L. 15, p. 258, § 8. Cf. L. '90, p. 492, § 39; 1 H. C., § 1264.]

§ 6952. [5969.] Friends may Take Charge of Patients, When—Bond.

The relatives or friends of any person charged with insanity, or who shall be found to be insane under this act, shall in all cases have the right to take charge of and keep said insane person if they shall desire so to do; but the superior judge may require a bond of such relatives or friends, conditioned for the proper and safe keeping of such person. § 6953. [5970.] Order of Commitment to be Filed Before Account Allowed.

In all cases of the adjudged insanity and commitment of any person or persons to the hospital, it shall be the duty of the superior judge to make out a copy of the commitment [with an order for the appointment of a guard to assist in conveying the patient or patients to the hospital], which commitment and order shall be filed with the state auditor before any amount for the expenses of such conveyance shall be allowed. [Cf. L. '86, p. 147, § 6; L. '90, p. 489, § 26; H. C., § 2683.]

CHAPTER V.

TREATMENT OF PATIENTS.

§ 6954. [5971.] Duty of Superintendent Respecting Mail of Patients.

These letters shall be subject to the inspection of the superintendent, who shall mail to the proper address such of them as, in his judgment, should be sent, and he shall return [retain] such letters as he considers objectionable, and submit them to the trustees at their next meeting, for such disposition as they deem proper. All letters directed to patients shall be delivered to them if, in the judgment of the superintendent, their contents are not prejudicial to the mental condition of the patients. [Cf. L. '79, p. 115, § 1; Cd. '81, § 2273; L. '90, p. 491, § 34; 1 H. C., § 1257.]

"Trustees," abolished, duties devolving upon the board of control.

§ 6955. [5972.] Coroner's Inquest shall be Held, When—Expenses.

In the event of the sudden and mysterious death of any inmate of the hospital for the insane, such fact shall be reported by the superintendent thereof to the coroner of the county in which such death occurs, or to the nearest justice of the peace therein, and a coroner's inquest shall be held as provided by law in other cases, and the expenses of said coroner's inquest shall be paid from the funds appropriated for the support of the hospital for the insane. [Cf. L. '79, p. 115, § 2; Cd. '81, § 2274; L. '90, p. 491, § 35; 1 H. C., § 1258.]

§ 6956. [5973.] Proceedings upon Escape of Patient.

If any patient shall escape from the hospital, the superintendent shall cause immediate search to be made for him, and if he cannot soon be found, shall cause notice of such escape to be forthwith given to the superior judge of the county where the patient belongs; and if such patient is found in his county, the superior judge shall cause him to be returned, and shall issue his warrant therefor as in other cases, unless he does not consider his return necessary, of which fact he shall notify the superintendent. [L. '90, p. 492, § 37; 1 H. C., § 1259.]

§ 6957. Superintendents of Institutions to Make Reports.

It shall be and is hereby declared the duty of the superintendents of all state institutions having the care of individuals held in restraint to report quarterly to the institutional board of health, all feeble-minded, insane, epileptic, habitual criminals, moral degenerates and sexual perverts, who are persons potential to producing offspring who, because of inheritance of inferior or anti-social traits, would probably become a social menace or wards of the state. [L. '21, p. 162, § 1.]

§ 6958. Sterilization of Insane.

It shall be the duty of the institutional board of health to examine into the innate traits, the mental and physical condition, the personal records, and the family traits and histories of all persons so reported so far as the same can be ascertained, and for this purpose said board shall have the power to summon witnesses, and any member of said board may administer an oath to any witness whom it is desired to examine; and if in the judgment of the majority of said board procreation by any such person would produce children with an inherent tendency to feeble mindedness, insanity, epilepsy, criminality or degeneracy, and there is no probability that the condition of such person so examined will improve to such an extent as to render procreation by any such person advisable, or if the physical or mental condition of any such person will be substantially improved thereby, then it shall be the duty of said board to make an order directing the superintendent of the institution in which such inmate is confined to perform or cause to be performed upon such inmate such a type of sterilization as may be deemed best by said board. [L. '21, p. 163, § 2.]

§ 6959. Purpose of Sterilization.

The purpose of said investigation, findings and orders of said board shall be for the betterment of the physical, mental, neural, or psychic condition of the inmate, or to protect society from the menace of procreation by said inmate, and not in any manner as a punitive measure; and no person shall be emasculated under the authority of this act except that such operation shall be found to be necessary to improve the physical, mental, neural or psychic condition of the inmate. [L. '21, p. 163, § 3.]

§ 6960. Notice of Order for Operation.

After fully inquiring into the condition of each of such inmates said board shall make separate written findings for each of the inmates whose condition has been examined into, and the same shall be preserved in the records of said board, and a copy thereof shall be furnished to the superintendent of the institution in which the inmate is confined, and if an operation is deemed necessary by said board, then a copy of the order of said board shall forthwith be served on said inmate, or in the case of an insane person, upon his legal guardian, and if such insane person have no legal guardian then upon his nearest known kin within the state of Washington, and if such insane person have no known kin within the state of Washington, then upon the custodial guardian of such insane person. [L. '21, p. 164, § 4.]

§ 6961. Appeal—Notice.

Any such inmate desiring to appeal from the decision of said board, or in the case the person is under guardianship or disability, then the guardian of said inmate may take an appeal into the superior court of the county in which the institution in which the inmate is confined, is located. An informal notice of appeal filed with the secretary of said board, either by the inmate or someone in his behalf, shall be all that is necessary to make the appeal: Provided, said notice shall be filed within fifteen days of the date when notice of the board's decision is served on the inmate or his guardian, and said notice of appeal shall stay all proceedings of said board on said matter until the same is heard and determined on said appeal: Provided, further, that no operation shall be performed, upon any inmate until the time for appeal from the decision of the board has expired. [L. '21, p. 164, § 5.]

§ 6962. Procedure on Appeal.

Upon an appeal being taken, the secretary of said board where the notice of appeal is filed, must within fifteen days thereafter, or such further time as the court or the judge thereof may allow, transmit a certified copy of the notice of appeal and transcript of the proceedings, findings and order of the board, to the clerk of the court appealed to. The trial shall be a trial de novo at law as provided by the statutes of the state, for the trial of actions at law. Upon such appeal, if the inmate be without sufficient financial means to employ an attorney, then the court shall appoint an attorney to represent the said inmate, and such attorney shall be compensated by the state upon order of the court; and it shall be the duty of the district attorney of the county wherein such trial is had to represent the said board. [L. '21, p. 165, § 6.]

§ 6963. Entry of Judgment.

If the court or jury shall affirm the finding of the said board, said court shall enter a judgment, adjudging that the order of said board shall be carried out as herein provided; if the court fail to affirm the decision of said board appealed from, then said order shall be null and void and of no further effect. [L. '21, p. 165, § 7.]

§ 6964. Operations.

Upon the receipt of the order from the institutional board of health, the superintendent of the institution to which it is directed shall, after the time for appeal has expired, or in case of appeal upon the entering of a judgment affirming the order of the board, and it is hereby made his lawful duty, to perform, or cause to [be] performed such surgical operation as may be specified in the order of the institutional board of health. All such operations shall be performed with a due regard for the physical condition of the inmate and in a safe and humane manner. [L. '21, p. 165, § 8.]

§ 6965. Surgeon's Liability.

No surgeon performing the operation provided for in the preceding section under the direction of the superintendent, or other officer in charge of such institution, shall be held criminally liable therefor or civilly liable for any loss or damage on account thereof, except in case of negligence in the performance of such operation. [L. '21, p. 165, § 9.]

§ 6966. Persons Affected.

The criminals who shall come within the operation of this law shall be those who have been convicted three or more times of a felony and sentenced to serve in the penitentiary therefor.

Moral degenerates and sexual perverts are those who are addicted to the practice of sodomy or the crime against nature, or to other gross, bestial and perverted sexual habits and practices prohibited by statute. [L. '21, p. 166, § 10.]

§ 6967. Sex.

The provisions of this act shall apply to both male and female inmates of any of the institutions designated herein. [L. '21, p. 166, § 11.]

§ 6968. Expense.

The state shall be liable, under this act, only for the actual traveling expenses of the members of the board incurred in the performance of their duties, and the actual and necessary expenses incident to the investigations of said board and an appeal therefrom, which shall be paid upon vouchers signed by the person receiving such compensation and expense from the moneys appropriated for the maintenance of the institution where such examination is held. [L. '21, p. 166, § 12.]

CHAPTER VI.

CUSTODY AND RELEASE OF THE CRIMINAL INSANE COMMITTED TO PRISON.

§ 6969. [5974.] Certification of Statement of Facts, etc.—Return of Record.

Either party to the cause may have the evidence and all of the matters not of record in the cause made a part of the record by the certifying of a statement of facts or bill of exceptions as in other cases. If an appeal should be not taken, such statements of facts or bill of exceptions shall remain on file in the office of the clerk of the court where the cause was tried, and if an appeal be taken, the statement of facts or bill of exceptions shall be returned from the supreme court to the court where the cause was tried when the supreme court shall have rendered its final judgment in the cause. [L. '07, p. 34, § 5.]

This section has reference to a trial of the question of insanity of the accused in a criminal case. See § 2173 et seq.

See supra, §§ 2174—2176, trial, commitment and discharge of criminal insane.

§ 6970. [5975.] Procedure to Secure Discharge.

When any person committed hereunder shall claim to have become sane or mentally responsible and to be free from danger of any relapse or recurrence of mental unsoundness and a safe person to be at large, he shall apply to the physician in charge of the criminal insane for an examination of his mental condition and fitness to be at large. If the physician shall certify to the warden that there is a reasonable cause to believe that such person has become sane since his commitment and is a safe person to be at large, the warden shall permit him to present a petition to the court that committed him, setting up the facts leading to his commitment, and that he has since become sane and mentally responsible, and is in such condition that he is a safe person to be at large, and shall pray his discharge from custody. The petition shall be served upon the prosecuting attorney of the county, whose duty it shall be to resist the application. No other pleadings than the petition need be filed, and the court shall set the cause down for trial before a jury, and the trial shall proceed as in other cases. The sole issue to be tried in the case shall be whether the person petitioning for a discharge has, since his commitment, become a safe person to be at large, and the burden of proof shall be upon him. If the evidence given upon his trial upon the criminal charge shall have been preserved by statement of facts or bill of exceptions as hereinbefore provided, either party may read such parts of the record as may be desired as evidence upon the hearing. The jury shall be required to find whether the petitioner has become sane since his commitment, is not liable to a recurrence of the mental unsoundness or relapse, and is a safe person to be at large. If they so find, he shall be entitled to discharge. If not, his petition shall be dismissed, and he shall be remitted to custody. Either party may appeal to the supreme court from the judgment discharging the petitioner or remitting him to custody, in the same manner that appeals in other cases are taken. The judgment of remission shall be conclusive that the petitioner is an unsafe person to be at large at the time of its entry; but if he shall subsequently claim to have become sane and a safe person to be at large, he may upon a certificate of probable cause by the attending physician, which shall show a change in his mental condition since the last trial, his present sanity and fitness to be at large, again petition for discharge, and the proceedings thereon shall be as hereinabove provided. [L. '07, p. 35, § 6.]

Cited in 52 Wash. 73.

§ 6971. [5976.] Recommitment After Discharge—Procedure.

Should any criminally insane person discharged hereunder again become insane or mentally irresponsible, or be found to be an unsafe person to be at large because of mental unsoundness, the prosecuting attorney of the county from which he was committed may file a petition in the name of the state, setting up the facts leading to his commitment and subsequent discharge, and the relapse which is the basis of the petition. A warrant shall be issued for the defendant as in criminal cases, the defendant taken into custody, and the case tried to a jury, as in other cases provided herein; but the burden of proof, showing reasons for commitment, shall be upon the state. Should the jury find the defendant sane, and a safe person to be at large, he shall be discharged. Should they find that since his discharge he has suffered a relapse or recurrence of his mental unsoundness, and by reason thereof he is an unsafe person to be at large, the court shall issue an order remitting him to custody as criminally insane. The evidence given upon the former trial or trials, if preserved by statement of facts or bill of exceptions as hereinbefore prescribed, may be read upon such hearing, and either party may appeal to the supreme court as in other cases. [L. '07, p. 36, § 7.]

§ 6972. [5977.] Ward for Criminal Insane—Discharge—Custody.

The authorities charged with the maintenance and conduct of the state penitentiary shall forthwith provide a ward or department in the state penitentiary wherein shall be confined persons committed as criminally insane persons under the provisions of this act. Such persons shall be under the custody and control of the warden of the penitentiary to the same extent that are other persons committed to his custody, but such provision shall be made for their control, care and treatment as shall be proper in view of their derangement. Any person so committed shall not be discharged from the custody of the warden save upon the order of a court of competent jurisdiction made after a trial and judgment of discharge as herein provided. When any person so committed shall petition for a discharge, the warden of the penitentiary shall send him to the county where the hearing is to be held at the time the case shall be called for trial in the custody of a guard. During the time he shall be absent from the penitentiary, he shall be confined in the county jail, but shall at all times be deemed to be in the custody of the guard. If he shall be remitted to custody, the guard shall forthwith return him to the penitentiary. If he shall be discharged, the state may forthwith appeal from the order of discharge, and such appeal shall operate as a stay of the order and he shall remain in custody and be forthwith returned to the penitentiary until the supreme court shall have rendered a final decision in the cause. If the state does not desire to appeal, the order of discharge shall be sufficient acquittal to the warden. [L. '07, p. 36, § 8.]

"This act" includes this chapter and §§ 2173—2176, supra.

Cited in 63 Wash. 487.

§ 6973. [5978.] Criminal Insane to be Transferred to Penitentiary.

All the criminal insane now confined in the state hospitals for the insane shall be forthwith sent by the authorities of those hospitals to the state penitentiary and placed in the control of the warden and confined by him in the ward or department for the criminal insane, herein provided for, and shall not thereafter be discharged from his custody save in the manner herein provided. Any criminally insane person now confined in the state penitentiary shall be transferred to the ward for the criminally insane, and shall not be discharged, save as herein provided. [L. '07, p. 37, § 9.]

§ 6974. [5979.] Commitment of Persons After Acquittal—Procedure.

The prosecuting attorney of any county wherein a person may have been acquitted of a crime because of his insanity or mental irresponsibility may cause any such person who is not in custody to be brought before the superior court of that county for trial as to the question of his sanity or mental responsibility by filing a petition in the name of the state setting up the commission of a crime by such person, his acquittal thereof because of his insanity, and his insanity or mental irresponsibility at the present time. The cause shall be tried to a jury as hereinbefore provided. The evidence given upon the trial of the criminal charge, if preserved by statement of facts or bill of exceptions, may be read in evidence, or the witnesses testifying upon the former trial may themselves be called. The jurors trying the criminal charge may testify as to the ground of acquittal. If the jury shall find that the defendant committed a crime, that he was acquitted thereof because of insanity, and that he is now insane or mentally irresponsible and an unsafe person to be at large, such person shall be committed to the penitentiary as a criminally insane person and be confined under the provisions of this act; otherwise, he shall be discharged. Either party may appeal to the supreme court as in other cases. [L. '07, p. 37, § 10.]

See infra, §§ 7008, 10848, duties devolve upon director of agriculture.

The title to the act of 1911 was not broad enough to cover the inspection of grain shipped by an owner to himself, and not stored in a public warehouse: Puget Sound Warehouse Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 58 Wash. 322, 108 Pac. 955.

The act, Rem. & Bal. Code, § 5980 et seq., was designed to protect the owner or shipper of grain from frauds practiced by public warehousemen, and is not broad enough to cover the inspection of grain shipped by an owner to himself, the same not being stored in a public warehouse: Puget Sound Warehouse Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 58 Wash. 322, 108 Pac. 955.

He shall receive such salary as the commission may determine upon, in no event to exceed twenty-five hundred dollars ($2500) per annum, and necessary traveling expenses and shall reside at Tacoma. Such chief deputies shall receive such salaries per annum as the commission may determine and necessary traveling expenses. Each of the other inspectors and bookkeepers shall give a surety company bond (the cost to be paid by the state) to the state of Washington in the sum of three thousand dollars ($3,000) to be approved by the commission and the attorney general, conditioned upon the faithful discharge of his duties; the inspectors and other employees shall receive such salaries as the commission may determine. § 6982. Action upon Bonds.

All bonds provided for by this act shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state of Washington, and any person injured by official act or the neglect of duty of any such bonded employee, or by reason of neglect or failure of such bonded employee or warehouseman to comply with the provisions of this act or of the rules and regulations of the commission shall have a right of action upon such bond for the recovery of all damages suffered thereby. ance of his duties as such inspector, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than two hundred dollars ($200) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or imprisoned in the county jail not less than six months nor more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. [L. '19, p. 592, § 7. Cf. L. '11, p. 400, § 7.]

§ 6985. Inspection Points.

The cities of Seattle, Tacoma, Spokane, Everett and Yakima shall be provided with state inspection and weighing under this act. Such other cities and towns or districts where commodities included in the provisions of this act, are received or shipped by common carrier, and the shipments are such as would reasonably justify and render necessary the inspection and weighing thereof, may be designated by the commission as inspection points and be provided with state inspection and weighing: Provided, that the expenditure for the inspection and weighing at each of such points designated by the commission shall not exceed the receipts of the fees at such place. [L. 21, p. 541, § 2; L. '19, p. 592, § 8; L. '11, p. 400, § 8.]

See note to § 6979.

All provisions of law relating to the method of procedure by the commission in fixing the rates to be charged by railroad companies for the transportation of freight and passengers and the review of the acts or orders of the commission with reference thereto, and the enforcement of such orders, shall, so far as the same are applicable, govern the procedure of such commission in regulating public or terminal warehouses, and the review and enforcement of the acts and orders of the commission under the provisions of this act. [L. '19, p. 593, § 11. Cf. L. '11, p. 401, § 11.]

§ 6989. Grades to be Fixed—Changes—Hearings—Copies of Grades.

The commission shall fix and establish standard grades to apply to all grain and hay, bought or handled by the public or terminal warehouses in this state. The commission shall adopt as state grade standards all grades for grain and hay now or hereafter established by the United States Department of Agriculture. Standards for grain and hay not provided for by the United States Department of Agriculture shall be established or changed only after a public hearing, notice thereof to be given by publication in three newspapers of the state, at least ten days prior to such hearing. The commission may by resolution authorize the weighing and grading, upon request of any interested party, of commodities of commerce, other than grain or hay, such as grain or hay products, rice, beans and other similar articles, nitrates and other fertilizers, sulphur and other chemicals used in the arts or in manufacturing, when same are received from or delivered to any rail or water carrier in the state in commercial transportation, and may authorize the certification of the weights and grades thereof. Fees for such service, sufficient to cover the cost thereof, shall be fixed by the commission. Grades may be established or changed by the commission and rules and regulations governing warehousemen be promulgated after a public hearing, notice thereof to be given by publication once each week for two successive weeks in at least three newspapers of general circulation in the state, two of which, at least, shall be in eastern Washington. All interested persons desiring to be heard shall be permitted to give testimony and such other witnesses may be subpoenaed as the commission may deem necessary, which witnesses shall be entitled to the same fees and mileage as are provided for witnesses in civil actions. The commission shall after such hearing, make and issue reasonable rules and regulations governing the dockage which shall be made on inferior grades and in all executory contracts thereafter entered into where the price or amount to be paid therefor depends upon terminal weight or grade, such rules and regulations shall control the dockage in so far as the same affects the price to be paid, and such rules and regulations shall become part of the contract of sale unless expressly agreed to the contrary in such executory contract.

It shall be the duty of the chief inspector, immediately after the establishment of grades for grain, hay, grain and hay products and peas, and the promulgation of rules and regulations fixing dockage, as herein provided, to supply each public and terminal warehouseman, which the records in his office show is then or thereafter engaged in operating such warehouses, with a copy of such grades, rules and regulations. It shall be the duty of every public or terminal warehouseman to keep such copy on file in a convenient place in every such warehouse and, if an office is maintained in connection with such warehouse, a copy of such grades, rules and regulations shall be kept on file in such office and a placard notice posted in a conspicuous place in every such warehouse and such office, reading as follows:

for Information of Interested Parties.”

Every such warehouseman shall exhibit such copy of grades, rules and regulations to any interested party applying therefor at any such warehouse or office and permit such interested party to examine and consult such copy. In all contracts hereinafter entered into for the sale of unscoured wheat, pertaining to the classes soft red winter, common white, and white club wheat, under the official grain standards of the United States Department of Agriculture, and under rules adopted in Washington by the public service commission where the price or amount to be paid depends upon the weight or grade, no discount or differential shall be made on account of test weight per bushel if the grain delivered under said contract weighs not less than fifty-eight pounds to the measured bushel: Provided, however, that the grain so delivered grades number two or better under the standards above described. For wheat weighing in excess of fifty-eight pounds to the measured bushel and grades No. 2 or better, there shall be paid a premium over the price at country point for said grade at a rate of not less than eight-tenths of one per cent for each pound test weight over the minimum of said grade when test weight is the determining factor and in case of delivery on contract of grain of lower grade on account of test weight per bushel the discount or differential shall be at a rate not to exceed eight-tenths of one per cent of the price for said grade at country point for each pound test below the minimum test weight for the grade on which the contract is based unless the test weight be below fifty-five and at a rate not to exceed one and six-tenths per cent of the price at country point for each pound test below fifty-five down to and including wheat having a test weight of fifty-one pounds per measured bushel. The discount on mixed wheat may not exceed two per cent below the purchase price paid at country point for the same grade of the class of wheat which predominates in the mixture. Said discounts, together with the rules and regulations above provided, shall become part of every contract of sale of wheat of the classes named. [L. '21, p. 536, § 1; L. '19, p. 593, § 12. Cf. L. '11, p. 401, § 12.]

§ 6990. Partial Validity.

That if any clause, sentence, paragraph, or part of this act shall, for any reason be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph or part thereof, directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered. [L. '21, p. 539, § 2.]

§ 6991. Fees and Charges—Disposition.

The director of agriculture shall fix the fees for inspection, grading and weighing of the commodities included in the provision of this act, which fees shall not exceed eight cents a ton for sack grain and six cents a ton for bulk grain. The fees for inspection, grading and weighing of such commodities shall be a lien upon such commodity so weighed, graded and or inspected to be paid by the carrier transporting the same and treated by it as an advanced charge, except when the bill of lading contains the notation "Not for terminal weight and grade" and the commodity is not unloaded at a terminal warehouse. The director of agriculture shall so adjust the fees to be collected under this act as to meet the expenses necessary to carry out the provisions hereof, and may prescribe a different scale of fees for different localities. The director of agriculture may also prescribe a reasonable charge for service performed at places other than public terminal warehouses in addition to the regular fees when necessary to avoid rendering the service at a loss to the state. All moneys collected under the provisions of this act and all fines and penalties for violation thereof, shall be paid into the state treasury. The state auditor may anticipate the receipts and issue warrants to cover the same to any amount not exceeding fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000). [L. '21, p. 212, § 1; L. '19, p. 595, § 13. Cf. L. '11, p. 402, § 13.]

§ 6992. Inspectors' Certificates Conclusive — Records — Certificates of Inspection.

The chief inspector, and inspectors, shall, at the places provided for state inspection under this act, have exclusive control of the weighing and grading of the commodities which shall be inspected under the provisions of this act and the action and certificates of such inspectors in the discharge of their duties, as to all commodities weighed or inspected by them, shall be conclusive upon all parties interested: Provided, however, an appeal may be taken to the commission, whose decision shall be final. Suitable books and records shall be kept in which shall be entered a faithful and true record of every carload, or cargo or part of cargo or commodities inspected or weighed by them, showing the number and initial or other designation of the vehicle or boat containing such carload, or cargo, or part of cargo, its weight, the kind of commodity, and its grade, and if graded below standard No. 1 grade, the reason for such grade, if of inferior grade, the amount of such dockage, the amount of fees and forfeitures and disposition of same, and for each vehicle or cargo, or part of cargo, of commodity inspected, they shall give a certificate of inspection showing the kind and grade of the same and the reason for all grades below No. 1, the amount to be allowed for dockage, if any, the number of sacks, bales or other parcels thereof, with the grade or grades and weight of same, if requested to do so by consignor or consignee. They shall also furnish the agent of the railroad company, or other carrier over which such commodity was shipped or carried, a certificate showing the weight thereof, if requested to do so. They shall also keep a true record of all appeals, decisions and a complete record of every official act, which books and records shall be open to inspection by any party in interest. [L. '19, p. 596, § 14. Cf. L. '11, p. 403, § 14.]

Where the purchaser of wheat had paid for it according to the state grain inspector's grading, under this section, making such grading conclusive on all parties interested, with right of appeal to the public service commission, he is one of the "parties interested" within section 6994, infra, entitling him to notice of the hearing on the appeal, without which notice the decision on the appeal is a nullity: Reardan Union Grain Co. v. Smith, 87 Wash. 316, 151 Pac. 772.

§ 6993. Misconduct of Inspectors.

Upon written complaint filed with the commission charging any inspector with official misconduct, inefficiency, incompetency or neglect of duty, the commissioner shall investigate such charge, and if it be found sustained, shall remove such officer. [L. '19, p. 597, § 15. Cf. L. '11, p. 404, § 15.]

§ 6994. Appeals from Inspector's Grading—Notice.

In case any owner, consignee or shipper of any commodity included in the provisions of this act, or his agent or broker, or any public or terminal warehouseman shall be aggrieved at the grading of such commodity, such aggrieved person may appeal to the commission from such decision within thirty days from the date of certificate by giving notice of appeal, and paying a fee to be fixed by the commission, which shall be retained if the decision appealed is sustained. Such notice of appeal may be given by a letter or other written notice by commission stating that such party appeals from the decision of the inspector and specifying the initials, number and designation of vehicle or the name of the ship in which such commodity was contained when inspected and graded.

The party taking such appeal shall also file with the commission a list containing the names and addresses of all parties interested in the subject matter of appeal. It shall be the duty of the commission, upon receiving such notice and list of interested parties to immediately notify the parties interested of the time and place designated by it for a hearing and at such time and place, which shall be within twenty days from the date of receiving such notice, hold a hearing and inquire into the reasonableness and correctness of such original grading and such evidence shall be received, as the parties thereto may desire to offer. After such hearing the commission shall make such order affirming or modifying the grade so established by the inspector as the facts may justify.

If the grading of any grain for which federal standards have been fixed and the same adopted as official state standards, has not been the subject of a hearing in accordance with paragraph one of this section, any interested party, who is aggrieved with the grading of such grain, may, with the approval of the secretary of the United States Department of Agriculture, appeal to the federal grain supervisor of the supervision district in which the state of Washington may be located.. Such federal grain supervisor shall confer with the chief inspector or his deputies and any other interested party and shall make such tests as he may deem necessary to determine the correct grade of the grain in question.

The federal grain supervisor shall issue, or cause to be issued, a federal grade certificate to all interested parties, which shall state the grade of the grain as determined by such tests, also number of inspector's certificate, which is superseded by the federal appeal grade certificate and the following statement "This certificate is issued pursuant to the United States Grain Standards Act of Section Sixteen, Chapter 189, Laws of Washington 1919." Such federal appeal grade certificate shall be prima facie evidence of the correct grade of the grain in any court in the state of Washington. The federal supervisor shall charge and assess and cause to be collected for each such appeal a fee of three dollars ($3), which shall be paid to the commission and the same shall be refunded if the appeal is sustained. [L. '21, p. 542, § 3; L. '19, p. 597, § 16. Cf. L. '11, p. 404, § 16.]

§ 6995. Inspection and Grading for Export.

All grain and hay received at terminal warehouses shall be inspected and weighed by the inspector and when exported shall, if requested, be reinspected and graded in like manner and a certificate of grade issued, a reasonable fee to be charged for such reinspection, said fee to be fixed by the commission. All other grain and hay received in carload lots, or, when shipped by water in lots containing more than thirty tons of grain or twelve tons of hay at inspection points, not unloaded at a terminal warehouse, shall be weighed, inspected and graded, unless the bill of lading contains a notation "Not for terminal weight and grade." [L. '19, p. 598, § 17. Cf. L. '11, p. 404, § 17.]

§ 6996. Bonds of Warehousemen—Licenses—Penalty.

Each person, firm, corporation or association of persons operating any public warehouse or warehouses subject to the provisions of this act shall, on or before the first day of July of each year, give a surety bond to the state of Washington, in such sum as the commission may require, to be approved by the commission and the attorney general, conditioned upon the faithful performance of the acts and duties enjoined upon them by law, and every such person, firm, or corporation, association of persons shall, on or before July 1st of each year, procure from the commission a license for each such warehouse so owned or operated for the ensuing year before transacting business at such public warehouse or warehouses: Provided, that no such license shall be issued before the bond hereinbefore required shall have been given and approved. Such license shall be posted in a conspicuous place in the office of each warehouse. The fee for such license shall be two dollars ($2) for each public warehouse, and the commission may revoke any such license for cause, upon notice and hearing. Any person, corporation or association operating any public or terminal warehouse in this state without a license shall forfeit to the state for each day's operation fifty dollars ($50), the same to be recovered on action brought by the attorney general in the superior court of Thurston County, Washington, and further such operation may be enjoined upon complaint of the commission. [L. '19, p. 598, § 18. Cf. L. '11, p. 405, § 18.]

§ 6997. Schedule of Storage Rates.

Every such warehouseman shall annually, during the first week in July, publish, by keeping posted in a conspicuous place in his warehouse, a schedule of storage rates for the ensuing year, and said rates shall not be increased during such period and no discrimination in rates shall be made by any such warehouseman. A copy of such schedule of rates shall be filed by the warehouseman with the chief inspector. [L. '19, p. 599, § 19. Cf. L. '11, p. 405, § 19.]

§ 6998. Examination of Warehouses.

Every person having an interest in any grain, hay or peas stored in any such warehouse, and every inspector shall have the right to examine at all times, during ordinary business hours, any grain, hay or peas so stored, and all parts of such warehouse; and every warehouseman, his agents and servants, shall furnish proper facilities for such examination. [L. '19, p. 599, § 20. Cf. L. '11, p. 405, § 20.]

§ 6999. Discrimination and Preferences Prohibited.

If any public or terminal warehouseman subject to the provisions of this act, shall directly, or indirectly, by any special charge, rebate, drawback or other device, demand, collect or receive from any person or persons a greater or lesser compensation for any service rendered or to be rendered in the handling or storage of grain, hay or peas than he demands, collects or receives from any other person or persons for doing for him, or for them, a like and contemporaneous service in the handling or storage of grain or hay under substantially similar circumstances and conditions, or if any such public or terminal warehouseman shall make or give any undue or unreasonable preference or advantage to any person, company, firm or corporation in any respect whatsoever, or shall subject any particular person, company, firm or corporation to any undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage in any respect whatsoever, such warehouseman shall be subject to a penalty, as hereinafter provided. [L. '19, p. 599, § 21. Cf. L. '11, p. 405, § 21.]

See infra, § 7014, regulation of rates and facilities.

§ 7000. Duty to Store—Warehouse Receipts—Remodeling Warehouse—Approval.

Every public warehouseman shall receive for storage and shipment, so far as the capacity of his warehouse will permit, all grain, hay and any commodity included in the provisions of this act, in a warehouse for this purpose, in suitable condition for storage, tendered him in the usual course of business, without discrimination of any kind. A warehouse receipt in form prescribed by law, consecutively numbered, shall be issued and delivered to the owner or his representative immediately upon receipt of each load or parcel of grain, hay, or other commodity, as he may demand, giving the true and correct grade and weight thereof. Provided, that upon request of the owner, grain, hay or other commodity shall be put in a special pile without grading, and if grain, hay or other commodity have been wet or damaged it shall be received and piled in a special pile, with a distinguishing mark, which shall be shown on the receipt for the same and given for the number of sacks only, or bales. The failure to issue, when requested, said receipt shall be subject to a penalty, as hereinafter provided.

If any public or terminal warehouseman or association desires to remodel, change or alter or construct a new public or terminal warehouse or mill, in whole or in part, it shall first prepare plans and specifications setting forth in detail all of the proposed changes, and submit the same to the commission for its approval, and when said commission has approved the plans it shall issue a permit to the interested party asking for same. The commission's interest in the proposed construction is primary in that part affecting the receiving and discharging of grain, hay and other commodities, both as to weighing and inspecting the same, and providing safeguards for the employees of the state. [L. '21, p. 543, § 4; L. '19, p. 600, § 22. Cf. L. '11, p. 406, § 22.]

Upon the return of the receipt to the proper warehouseman, properly indorsed, and upon payment or tender of all advances and legal charges, grain, hay or peas of the grade and quantity named therein shall be delivered to the holder of such receipt, within forty-eight hours after the facilities for receiving the same have been provided. If such warehouseman shall fail so to deliver it, he shall be liable to the owner, in damages at the rate of one per cent of the reasonable value of the product for each day's delay, unless he shall deliver the property to the several owners in the order of demand as rapidly as it can be done by ordinary diligence. If, upon such demand and tender, the warehouseman shall fail so to deliver such grain, hay or peas, the person entitled thereto may recover the same by action; and such warehouseman or person or agent in charge thereof shall be subject to a penalty, as hereinafter provided. [L. '19, p. 601, § 23. Cf. L. '11, p. 406, § 23.]

On June 30th of each year every warehouseman shall make a report, under oath, to the commission, on blanks or forms prepared by it, showing the total number of sacks and weight of each kind of grain and other commodities and bales and weight of hay, received and shipped from each warehouse licensed under this act, and also the amount of outstanding storage receipts on said date, and a statement of the amount of grain, hay and other commodities on hand to cover the same. The commission may also require special reports from such warehouseman at such times as the commission may deem expedient. The commission may cause every such warehouse and business thereof and the mode of conducting the same to be inspected by one or more of its members or by its authorized agent whenever proper, and the property, books, records, accounts, papers and proceedings of every such warehouseman shall at all times during business hours be subject to such inspection. [L. '21, p. 544, § 5; L. '19, p. 601, § 24; L. '11, p. 407, § 24.]

§ 7003. Loading Facilities—Inspection of Hay at Shipping Point.

Whenever required by the commission, every railroad company shall construct and maintain at each station and siding in this state, suitable facilities for the purpose of loading bulk grain, hay or other commodities direct from wagons into cars for shipment. The commission may require an increase in such facilities or additional facilities such as will protect products being loaded from damage by rain or sun whenever it deems it necessary for the protection of the farm products and to facilitate loading. Whenever hay is inspected at shipping points, a certificate shall be issued giving the date of inspection, the point shipped from, the number and the initial of the car, the kind, grade and condition of the hay, the number of bales, and signed by the inspector fixing the grades and making the inspection; such certificate to be issued in triplicate. The original certificate shall be given to the shipper and shall be by him attached to and forwarded with and as a part of the bill of lading; the duplicate shall be sent to the main office for its files, and the triplicate to be retained in the files of the inspector. [L. '21, p. 545, § 6; L. '19, p. 602, § 25; L. '11, p. 407, § 25.]

§ 7004. Inspection at Places not Provided With State Inspection.

In case any commodity under the provisions of this act is sold for delivery on Washington grade to be shipped to or from places not provided with state inspection under this act, the buyer, seller or persons making delivery, may have it inspected out by notifying the chief inspector or a chief deputy, whose duty it shall be to have such grain inspected, and after it is inspected, to issue to the buyer, seller or person delivering it, on request, an inspector's certificate showing the grade of such grain. The person or persons calling for such inspection shall pay for such inspection a reasonable fee to be fixed by the commission.

Any commodity under the provisions of this act that is shipped to points within the state where no inspection is maintained, may be inspected on request of either buyer or seller, and a certificate may be issued, showing grade of such commodity. The charge for service provided for under this section shall at least equal the entire cost of such service and shall be paid by the party calling for same. [L. '19, p. 602, § 26. Cf. L. '11, p. 408, § 26.]

§ 7005. Samples of Grain Commodities.

From all grain commodities inspected or weighed, samples may be drawn, which samples shall become the property of the state and subject to disposition by the commission under such rules and regulations as it may prescribe.

It shall be the duty of the chief inspector to transmit samples showing the Washington grades thereof adopted, to the federal government, chambers of commerce, boards of trade, exporters and persons, firms, corporations or associations handling and dealing in Washington grades under such rules and regulations as the commission may prescribe. [L. '19, p. 602, § 27. Cf. L. '11, p. 408, § 27.]

See note to § 6980.

§ 7006. Car Examinations Prior to Inspection.

The chief inspector or any inspector, serving under him, before opening the doors of any car containing grain or hay, upon arrival at any of the places designated herein for inspection, shall first ascertain the condition of such cars, and determine whether any leakage has occurred while said cars were in transit; whether or not the doors were properly secured and sealed at point of shipment, and shall make a record of such facts in all cases, giving seal numbers. After such examinations have been made and recorded, and the inspection of such grain or hay been made, the said officials shall securely close and reseal such doors as have been opened by them, using the special seal of the said state grain inspection department for the purpose. A record of all original seals broken by said officials, and the date when broken, and also a record of all state seals substituted therefor, and the date and number of said seals, shall be made by such officials. The chief inspector, or inspectors shall break the seal, weigh and superintend the unloading of all cars of grain or hay subject to inspection, and any other person or persons breaking the seal or weighing such cars of grain or hay shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '19, p. 603, § 28. Cf. L. '11, p. 408, § 28.]

See note to § 6980.

§ 7007. Side Tracks—Track Scales—City Inspection of Scales.

Any railroad delivering grain or hay in cars at any of the places provided with state inspection under this act shall provide convenient and suitable side tracks and loading facilities at such places as the commission may designate, on which all cars of grain or hay delivered by them shall, upon arrival, be set and arranged convenient for inspection, and after inspection such railroad company shall promptly distribute all such cars of grain and hay and set them at the proper place or places to be unloaded as designated by the consignor or consignee. Such railroad company shall provide at such place or places as the commission may designate suitable track scales for weighing cars of grain or hay. Such scales shall be under the control of the commission. It shall be the duty of the commission to require the railroad company to correct all scales so provided as often as may be necessary to insure the correct weighing of grain or hay. Whenever scales have been installed by any railroad company as above provided such scales shall be used in weighing all grain or hay received over the line of such railway and it shall be the duty of the railroad company to weigh cars loaded with grain, hay or other commodities included in the provisions of this act, while loaded and to re-weigh the car when the load has been removed therefrom. Failure or neglect to carry out the provisions of this act by any railroad company shall subject it to a fine of not less than twenty-five ($25) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100) for each offense: Provided, that if any terminal warehouse in inspection cities are provided with proper scales and weighing facilities, the chief inspector or his deputy may weigh the grain upon the scales so provided. The commission at least once each year [shall] cause to be examined, tested and corrected all scales used in weighing grain or hay in any of the cities designated as inspection points in this act or such places as may be hereinafter designated, and after such scale is tested, if found to be correct and in good condition, to seal the weights with a seal provided for that purpose and to issue to the owner or proprietor a certificate authorizing the use of such scales for weighing grain or hay for the ensuing year, unless sooner revoked by the commission. If such scales be found to be inaccurate or unfit for use, the commission shall notify the party operating or using them, and the party thus notified shall, at his own expense, thoroughly repair the same before attempting to use them, and until thus repaired to the satisfaction of the commission, the certificate of such party shall be suspended or revoked, in the discretion of the commission. The party receiving such certificate shall pay to the commission a reasonable fee for such inspection and certificate to be fixed by the commission, which sum shall be paid into the state treasury. It shall be the duty of said commission to see the provisions of this section are strictly enforced. [L. '21, p. 546, § 7; L. '19, p. 603, § 29. Cf. L. '11, p. 409, § 29.]

§ 7008. Exercise of Powers and Duties Conferred.

When the director of agriculture shall be appointed, qualify, assume and exercise the duties of his office, under the provisions of Chapter I of Title LXXV of this code, he shall, through and by means of the division of agriculture, exercise all the powers and perform all the duties by this act vested in, and required to be performed by, the public service commission of Washington. [L. '21, p. 547, § 8.]

See infra, § 7014, director of public works to have supervision of rates.

§ 7009. Police Protection.

All railroad companies and warehousemen operating in the cities provided for inspection by this act, shall furnish ample and sufficient police protection to all their several terminal yards and terminal tracks to securely protect all cars containing grain or hay, while the same are in their possession. They shall prohibit and restrain all unauthorized persons, whether under the guise of sweepers, or under any other pretext whatever, from entering or loitering in or about their railroad yards or tracks and from entering any car of grain or hay under their control, or removing hay or grain therefrom, and shall employ and detail such number of watchmen as may be necessary for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this section. [L. '19, p. 605, § 30. Cf. L. '11, p. 410, § 30.]

§ 7010. Shipper's Weight and Grade, Where Conclusive—Unlawful Unloading.

When grain, hay or peas are shipped to points where inspection is provided and the bill of lading does not contain the notation "Not for terminal weight and grade" and the grain or hay is unloaded by or on account of the consignee or his assignee without being inspected or weighed by a duly authorized inspector under the provisions of this act, the shipper's weight and grade shall be conclusive and final and shall be the weight and grade upon which settlement shall be made with the seller, and the consignee, or his assignee, by whom such grain, hay or peas are so unlawfully unloaded shall be liable to the seller thereof for liquidated damages in an amount equal to ten per cent of the scale price of such hay,

§ 7011. Penalty for Violations of Act.

Any railroad company or common carrier or other corporation, and any warehouseman, which shall violate or fail to comply with any provision of this act, or which fails, omits or neglects to obey, observe or comply with any order, rule or any direction, demand or requirement of the commission made under the provisions of this act, shall be subject to a penalty of not to exceed the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each and every offense, and every such violation shall be a separate and distinct offense, and in case of a continuing violation, every day's continuance thereof shall be, and be deemed to be, a separate and distinct offense.

Every officer, agent or employee of any railroad company or common carrier, or other corporation, or any warehouseman, who shall violate or fail to comply with, or who procures, aids or abets any violation by any such railroad company or common carrier, or other corporation or warehouseman, of any provisions of this act, or who shall fail to obey, observe or comply with any order of the commission, or any provision of any order of the commission, or who procures, aids or abets any such railroad company or common carrier, or other corporation, or any warehouseman, in its failure to obey, observe and comply with any such order or provision, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

Every person, either individually or acting as an official or agent of any corporation other than a railroad company, common carrier or warehouseman, who shall violate any provision of this act, or fail to observe or comply with any order made by the commission under this act, so long as the same shall be or remain in force, or shall procure, aid or abet any such corporation in its violation of this act, or in its failure to obey, observe or comply with any such order, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '19, p. 606, § 32.]

If any section or part of a section of this act shall be for any cause held to be unconstitutional, such fact shall not affect the remainder of this act. [L. '19, p. 607, § 33. Cf. L. '11, p. 411, § 32.]

"This act" refers to this chapter.

This act, in so far as it embraces the same subject matter, shall be construed as a continuation of Chapter 91 of Laws of 1911, and this act shall not affect pending actions or proceedings, civil or criminal, instituted under the provisions of Chapter 91 of the Laws of 1911, but the same may be prosecuted or defended with the same effect as though this act had not been passed. Any investigation, examination or proceeding, application for reinspection or appeal undertaken, commenced or instituted under the provisions of Chapter 91 of the Laws of 1911, may be conducted and continued to a final determination in the same manner, under the same terms and conditions and with like effect as though said Chapter 91 had not been repealed.

No cause of action arising under the provisions of Chapter 91 of the Laws of 1911, or dependent thereon, shall abate by reason of the passage of this act, whether a suit or action shall have been instituted thereon at the time of the taking effect of this act or not, but actions may be brought on such causes in the same manner, under the same terms and conditions, and with the same effect as though said chapter had not been repealed.

All findings, orders, rules and grades issued or promulgated by the commission under the provisions of said chapter shall continue in force, have the same effect and shall be enforced in the same manner as though this act had not been passed. [L. '19, p. 607, § 35.]

§ 7014. Supervision Over.

The director of public works shall have the power and it shall be his duty, through and by means of the division of public utilities, to exercise general supervision over the facilities, rates and service of public and terminal warehouses, as those terms are defined in this chapter, for the receiving, handling, storing and delivering of grain, hay and peas, and to that end shall make all necessary rules and regulations for carrying out and enforcing the provisions of this act. In carrying out and enforcing the provisions of this act and in exercising the jurisdiction herein conferred, the procedure shall be the same as that provided by this chapter for exercising and carrying out the jurisdiction and powers therein conferred. [L. '21, p. 493, § 1.]

§ 7015. Scope of Act.

This act shall not be construed as repealing directly or by implication any of the provisions of this chapter, but is intended to confer additional power and jurisdiction upon the director of public works. [L. '21, p. 494, § 2.]

CHAPTER III.

CONCENTRATED COMMERCIAL FEEDING STUFFS.

§ 7016. Term Defined.

The term "concentrated commercial feeding stuffs" as used in this act shall include linseed meals, cocoanut meats, gluten feeds, sugar feeds, dried brewer's or distiller's grains, malt sprouts, feeds made from ground cereals or byproducts therefrom, including slaughter-house waste products when sold as feeds, mixed feeds, and mixed meals made from seeds or grains, and all materials of similar nature used for domestic animals, condimental feeds, stock feeds, and all patented proprietary or trade stock and poultry feeds for which nutritive value is claimed, but it shall not include hay or whole seeds, or unmixed meals made from entire grains of wheat, rye, barley, oats, corn, or other cereals, nor wheat flour or other flours. [L. '19, p. 248, § 1. Cf. L. '09, p. 705, § 1.]

The act of 1909 (Rem. & Bal. Code, § 6011 et seq.) was unconstitutional as class legislation: State v. Robinson, 84 Wash. 246, 146 Pac. 628.

The title to this act referring to the "adulteration" of concentrated commercial feeding stuffs sufficiently expresses the subject matter of section 7018, which limits to ten per cent the amount of crude fiber in the weeds enumerated; since "adulteration" in the title applies to the addition of weaker or less nutritious substances and not merely to foreign substances: Fisher Flouring Mills Co. v. Brown, 106 Wash. 680, 187 Pac. 399.

The state and federal constitutional guarantees of due process and equal protection of the laws do not apply to laws enacted by the state legislature in the exercise of its police powers; hence this act does not violate Const., Art. 1, §§ 3 and 12, or the fourteenth amendment to the federal constitution; notwithstanding that some innocuous feed stuffs are incidentally included within the prohibition of the law: Fisher Flouring Mills Co. v. Brown, 109 Wash. 680, 187 Pac. 399.

§ 7017. Dealer's Statement of Brand.

Before any concentrated commercial feeding stuff is sold, offered or exposed for sale in Washington, the manufacturer, importer, dealer, agent, or person who causes it to be sold or offered for sale, by sample or otherwise, within this state, shall file with the commissioner of agriculture a statement that he desires to offer such concentrated commercial feeding stuff for sale in this state, and also a certificate, the execution of which shall be sworn to before a notary public, or other proper official, for registration, stating the name, brand or trademark under which the concentrated commercial feeding stuff will be sold, and the minimum percentage of crude fat and crude protein and maximum per cent of crude fibre (allowing one per centum nitrogen to equal 6.25 per centum of protein) which the manufacturer or person offering the concentrated commercial feeding stuff for sale guarantees it to contain, these constituents to be determined by the methods recommended by the association of official agricultural chemists of the United States. [L. '19, p. 248, § 2. L. '09, p. 706, § 2.]

§ 7018. Packages Labeled—Amount and Analysis.

Any person, company, corporation or agent, that shall sell, offer or expose for sale, any concentrated commercial feeding stuff in this state shall state in the invoice of every bulk shipment, shall affix or cause to be affixed to every package or sample of such concentrated commercial feeding stuff, in a conspicuous place on the outside thereof, a tag or label, which shall be accepted as a guarantee of the manufacturer, importer, dealer, or agent, and which shall have plainly printed thereon, in the English language, the number of net pounds of concentrated commercial feeding stuff in the package or bulk shipment, the name, brand or trademark under which the concentrated commercial feeding stuff is sold, the name and address of the manufacturer, importer, dealer or agent, the guaranteed analysis stating the minimum percentage of crude fat and crude protein and maximum per cent of crude fibre, which shall not exceed ten per cent (10%), determined as described in section 7017, and the ingredients from which the concentrated commercial feeding stuff is compounded. The agency distributing to users of such feed in less than carload lots shall deliver to the purchaser of each lot regardless of quantity sold a bill showing current analysis of such feeding stuffs. [L. '19, p. 249, § 3; L. '09, p. 706, § 3.]

See note to § 7016.

§ 7019. Violations of Act—Official Analysis as Prima Facie Evidence.

Any person, company, corporation, or agent, that shall offer or expose for sale, or sell, any package or sample or any quantity of any concentrated commercial feeding stuff which has not been registered with the commissioner of agriculture, as required by section 7017, or which does not have affixed to it the tag or label required by section 7018, or which is found by analysis made by or under the direction of the chemist of Washington Agricultural Experiment Station to contain a smaller percentage of crude fat or protein or larger percentage of crude fibre than stated in the guarantee, or who shall affix a tag or label which is false or inaccurate in any respect, or who shall adulterate any concentrated commercial feeding stuff, or who shall adulterate with any substance injurious to the health of domestic animals, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined in the sum of one hundred dollars ($100) for the first offense, and in the sum of five hundred dollars ($500) for each subsequent offense. In all litigation arising from the purchase or sale of any concentrated commercial feeding stuff, in which the composition of the same may be involved, a certified copy of the official analysis, signed by the chemist of the Washington Agricultural Experiment Station, shall be accepted as prima facie evidence of the composition of such concentrated commercial feeding stuff: Provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to restrict or prohibit the sale of concentrated commercial feeding stuff in bulk to each other by importers, manufacturers or manipulators who mix concentrated commercial feeding stuffs for sale, or as preventing the unrestricted shipment of these articles in bulk to manufacturers or manipulators concentrated commercial feeding stuffs for sale, or to prevent the State Experiment Station, or any person or persons authorized by the State Experiment Station, from making experiments with concentrated commercial feeding stuffs for the advancement of science in agriculture. [L. '19, p. 250, § 4.]

§ 7020. Depleted Food Values Shown.

It shall be unlawful to sell, offer or expose for sale in this state, any corn, barley, oats or any other grain from which the heart, or any of the food value has been extracted, without such statement being shown on each package or bulk shipment, and on the invoice covering such grain. [L. '19, p. 251, § 5.]

§ 7021. Deleterious Substances Prohibited.

It shall be unlawful to include in any concentrated commercial feeding stuff, any buckwheat hulls, rice hulls, cottonseed hulls, peanut hulls, oat hulls, peanut shells, corn cobs, cocoanut shells, ground or shredded straw, sawdust, cellulose, dirt, damaged or decayed feed, mill, elevator or other sweepings or dust, marble dust, or any injurious, deleterious, or, for feeding purposes, worthless or damaged ingredient. [L. '19, p. 251, § 6.]

§ 7022. Samples of Feeds Offered for Sale.

The commissioner of agriculture, or any person deputed by him, is hereby empowered to procure from any lot, or parcel or package of concentrated commercial feeding stuff offered for sale or found in Washington, a sample quantity thereof, not to exceed two pounds, the sample to be divided in two approximately equal parts, each to be sealed, and one part to be delivered promptly to the manufacturer: Provided, that such sample shall be drawn during reasonable business hours, or in the presence of the owner of the concentrated commercial feeding stuff, or some person claiming to represent the owner. [L. '19, p. 251, § 7. Cf. L. '09, p. 710, § 8.]

§ 7023. Interference with Procurement of Samples.

Any person who shall prevent, or strive to prevent, the commissioner of agriculture, or any person deputed by him, from inspecting and obtaining samples of concentrated commercial feeding stuffs, as provided for in the preceding section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined in the sum of one hundred dollars ($100) for the first offense, and in the sum of five hundred dollars ($500) for each subsequent offense. [L. '19, p. 252, § 8; L. '09, p. 710, § 9.]

See note to § 7022.

§ 7024. Rules and Regulations.

The commissioner of agriculture is hereby empowered to prescribe and enforce such rules and regulations relating to concentrated commercial feeding stuffs as he may deem necessary to carry into effect the full intent and meaning of this act, and to refuse the registration of any feeding stuff under a name which would be misleading as to the materials of which it is made, or when the percentage of crude fat or crude protein is below or the percentage of crude fibre is above the standards adopted for concentrated commercial feeding stuffs. [L. '19, p. 252, § 9; L. '09, p. 711, § 10.]

See note to § 7022.

§ 7025. Assistance by Public Law Officers.

It shall be the duty of the state attorney general or the prosecuting attorneys of the several counties of this state, to cause proceedings to be commenced against any person or persons whom the commissioner of agriculture shall report to have violated any section of this act, and to prosecute the same in the manner required by law. [L. '19, p. 252, § 10; L. '09, p. 711, § 11.]

"This act" refers to this chapter.

Cited in 109 Wash. 684.

§ 7026. Repealing Clause.

All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions hereof are hereby repealed. [L. '19, p. 252, § 11.]

§ 7027. Partial Invalidity.

In case any section or portion of this act shall be held to be unconstitutional, or invalid, it shall not affect the remainder of this act. [L. '19, p. 253, § 12.]

"This act" refers to this chapter.

CHAPTER IV.HOP INSPECTION.*§ 7028. [6025.] Hop Inspector—Appointment.

The governor of the state of Washington shall appoint some suitable person whose duties it shall be to inspect hops and determine and fix the grade or quality thereof as hereinafter provided. [L. '99, p. 161, § 1.]

§ 7029. [6026.] May Call Inspector to Fix Grade—Certificate.

Any person, firm, company or corporation owning hops within said state of Washington, who may contract for the future sale of his, her, or their hops or give a chattel mortgage on any crop of hops yet to be grown, for money advanced by the mortgagee to be used in cultivating and harvesting said crop, or any person, firm, company or corporation contracting to buy any crop of hops yet to be grown, or who takes a chattel mortgage on any such crop may if such owner, buyer, or mortgagee cannot agree on the grade of said hops when in the bale or ready for delivery, call upon said hop inspector to inspect said hops and determine and fix the grade or quality thereof, and issue to each of said parties a certificate specifying the name of the owner, the buyer or mortgagee, the date of inspection and the grade or quality fixed by him. [L. '99, p. 162, § 2.]

§ 7030. [6027.] Certificate as Evidence.

The certificate of said hop inspector stating the grade or quality of any hops shall be prima facie evidence of the same. [L. '99, p. 162, § 3.]

§ 7031. [6028.] Compensation of Inspector.

Said hop inspector shall be paid five dollars per day for each day actually engaged in the performance of his duties, together with mileage and necessary expenses, to be paid equally by said owner, and said buyer or mortgagee. [L. '99, p. 162, § 4.]

ARTICLE I. GENERAL PROVISIONS.

§ 7032. [6059-1.] Insurance Defined.

Within the intent of this act the business of apportioning and distributing losses arising from specified causes among all those who apply and are accepted to receive the benefits of such service, is public in character and requires that all those having to do with it shall at all times be actuated by good faith in everything pertaining thereto; shall abstain from deceptive or misleading practices, and shall keep, observe, and practice the principles of law and equity in all matters pertaining to such business. Upon the insurer, the insured, and their representatives shall rest the burden of maintaining proper practices in said business.

Insurance is a contract whereby one party called the "insurer," for a consideration, undertakes to pay money or its equivalent, or to do an act valuable to another party called the "insured," or to his "beneficiary," upon the happening of the hazard or peril insured against, whereby the party insured or his beneficiary suffers loss or injury. § 7033. [6059-2.] Terms Defined.

The terms "Company," "Corporation," or "Insurance Company" or "Insurance Corporation," in this act, unless the context otherwise requires, includes all corporations, associations, partnerships, or individuals engaged as insurers in the business of insurance.

"Domestic" designates those companies incorporated or formed in this state. "Foreign" designates those companies incorporated or formed under the laws of the United States or any other state in the United States, and "Alien" designates those companies incorporated or formed under the laws of any country other than the United States.

"Admitted Company" designates companies duly qualified and licensed to transact business under the provisions of this act. "Non-admitted Companies" designates companies not licensed to transact business in this state under the provisions of this act.

"Commissioner" or "Insurance Commissioner," where used in this act, shall mean the "State Insurance Commissioner."

"Unearned Premiums," and "Net Value of Policies," severally means the liability of an insurance company upon its insurance contracts, other than accrued claims, computed by rules of valuation established by this act.

"Net Assets" means the property and funds of an insurance company available for the payment of its obligations; including uncollected premiums not more than three months past due on policies actually in force, and including in the case of a mutual company, its premiums, premium notes, and contingent liability of its policy-holders, after deducting from such funds all unpaid losses and claims and all other debts and liabilities except capital.

"Profits" of a mutual insurance company means that portion of its cash fund not required for payment of losses and expenses, not set apart for any purpose allowed by law.

"Agent" or "Insurance Agent" is a person, copartnership, corporation, attorney, board or committee duly appointed and authorized by an insurance company, to solicit applications for insurance to be known as the soliciting agent, or to solicit applications and effect insurance in the name of the company, to be known as a recording or policy writing agent, and to discharge such other duties as may be vested in or required of an agent by the company.

"Solicitor" or "Insurance Solicitor" is a person duly appointed, authorized and employed by a duly commissioned agent to solicit, receive, and forward applications for insurance and to collect premiums for the agent.

"Broker" or "Insurance Broker" is any person, copartnership or corporation, who, for compensation, not being an appointed agent for the company in which insurance or reinsurance is effected, acts or aids in any manner in negotiating contracts of insurance or reinsurance or placing risks or effecting insurance or reinsurance for a party other than himself or itself.

"Adjuster" or "Insurance Adjuster" is a person, copartnership or corporation who undertakes to ascertain and report the actual loss or damage to the subject matter of the insurance due to the hazard or peril insured against.

"Surveyor" or "Insurance Surveyor" is a person, committee, board, bureau, copartnership, or corporation resident within the state, who, in person or by deputy, inspects and surveys the various municipalities and fire hazards in this state, and the means and facilities for preventing, confining and extinguishing fires, and for the purpose of estimating fair and equitable rates for insurance; who furnishes to municipalities and owners of property information and advice as to the measures to be adopted for the reduction of fire hazards on property in this state and lessening the cost of insurance thereon; and, as relating to marine insurance, who inspects vessels and reports on their seaworthiness.

"Director" within the intent of this act means trustee.

"Insurable Interest" is every interest in property, or any relation thereto, or liability in respect thereof, of such a nature that a contemplated peril might directly damnify the insured. "Insured Interest" in the matter of life and health insurance exists when the beneficiary, because of relationship, either pecuniary or from ties of blood or marriage, has reason to expect some benefit from the continuance of the life of the insured.

"Bottomry" is a contract by which a ship or freight is hypothecated as security for a loan which is to be repaid only in case the ship survives a particular risk, voyage or period.

"Double Insurance" exists where the same party is insured by several insurers separately, in respect to the same subject and interest.

"Over-insurance" exists where a party having an insurable interest in property has insurance thereon against the same hazard or peril in excess of the actual value of his interest therein.

In the absence of proof of special authority, an adjuster's investigation after proofs of loss are made, and his demand for duplicate invoices from the insured, do not constitute a waiver of objections or estop the company from defending an action on a fire insurance policy for false swearing in the proofs of loss, in view of this section: Manheim v. Standard Fire Ins. Co., 84 Wash. 16, 145 Pac. 992.

Under this section, an insurance concern that makes application to the agents of the company for a policy of marine insurance is a broker and acts as agent of the owners of the boat, so that its knowledge would not be imputed to the company: Reynolds v. Pacific Marine Ins. Co., 105 Wash. 666, 178 Pac. 811.

One who has no appointment and performs only the acts of a broker would not be an agent, under this section: Day v. Saint Paul Fire & Marine Ins. Co., 111 Wash. 49, 189 Pac. 95.

effect of this act shall continue as such insurance commissioner until the expiration of the term for which he was elected and until his successor is duly elected and qualified. [L. '11, p. 164, § 3.]

§ 7035. [6059-4.] Term of Office—Salary.

The state insurance commissioner shall receive a salary of three thousand dollars per year, which shall be in full for all services performed by him. [L. '15, p. 588, § 1. Cf. L. '11, p. 164, § 4.]

§ 7036. [6059-5.] Bond.

The state insurance commissioner shall have his office at the state capitol; and before entering upon his duties shall execute a bond to the state in the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, to be approved by the state treasurer and the attorney general, conditioned upon the faithful performance of the duties of his office, and he shall take and subscribe the oath of office as required by law. § 7037. [6059-6.*] Deputy Commissioner—Actuary—Examiner—Salaries.

The state insurance commissioner may appoint a deputy insurance commissioner who shall take and subscribe the same oath of office as the state insurance commissioner, which oath shall be indorsed upon the certificate of his appointment and filed in the office of the secretary of state. Said appointment may be revoked at the will of the commissioner, who shall be held responsible for all official acts of his said deputy. Such deputy commissioner to have the power to perform any act or duty conferred upon the insurance commissioner. The commissioner may also appoint an actuary or examiner and such other deputies and employ such additional clerks and stenographers as the public business in his office may require, at an expense not exceeding the amount appropriated by the legislature.

Neither the commissioner nor any deputy, nor any employees in his office, shall be directly or indirectly interested in any insurance company, except as an ordinary policy-holder. [L. '17, p. 323, § 1; L. '15, p. 588, § 2. Cf. L. '11, p. 165, § 6.]

§ 7038. [6059-7.*] Certificate of Authority — License — Examination — Witness Fees.

The commissioner shall see that all laws respecting insurance companies are faithfully executed. He shall issue all certificates and licenses under the seal of his office provided for by the terms of this act. Before granting certificates of authority to any insurance company to issue policies or make contracts of insurance in this state, the commissioner shall be satisfied by such examinations as he may make, or such evidence as he may require, that such company is otherwise duly qualified under the laws of this state to transact business herein. He shall require every domestic insurance company to keep its books, records, accounts and vouchers in such manner that he or his authorized representatives may readily verify its annual statements and ascertain whether the company is solvent and has complied with the provisions of law. All certificates of authority issued to insurance companies in this state shall expire on the thirty-first day of March next succeeding date of issue and may be renewed on approval of the commissioner and payment of the annual fee as provided in section 7049.

At least once each year, and whenever he determines it to be prudent to do so, he shall personally or by his deputy or examiner visit the home office of each domestic insurance company transacting insurance business and thoroughly inspect and examine its affairs to ascertain its true financial condition, its ability to meet and fulfill its obligations; whether it has complied with the provisions of law; and all other facts that he may require relating to its business methods and management, and its dealings with its policy-holders. Whenever he deems it advisable he shall cause a complete audit of the books and accounts of the company to be made by a disinterested expert accountant.

When he determines it to be prudent for the protection of policy-holders in this state, he shall in like manner visit and examine or cause to be visited and examined by some competent person or persons whom he may appoint for that purpose, any insurance company incorporated or organized in any other state, territory, district, or country, applying for admission or already admitted to do business in this state. For the purpose aforesaid, the commissioner, his deputy, or examiner making the examination shall have free access to all the books, records, accounts, vouchers, papers and files of an insurance company which relate to its business, and to books, records, accounts, vouchers, papers, and files kept by any of its agents, and for any of said purposes the commissioner, his deputy, or examiner conducting such investigation and examination shall have power to subpoena and administer the oath to, and examine as witnesses, the trustees, directors, officers, agents, servants and employees of any such company and any other persons relative to its affairs, transactions and conditions. Said subpoena shall have the same force and effect and shall be served in the same manner as if issued from a court of record. Any person who shall fail, neglect, or refuse to obey such subpoena, or, having obeyed such subpoena, shall refuse to be examined as a witness and give evidence concerning any and all matters relating to such investigation when so required, shall be liable to the same penalties as though such subpoena had been issued by, or such person had refused to give evidence in, a court having jurisdiction in equity and common law. Whenever any person shall fail, refuse or neglect to obey such subpoena, or shall refuse to give evidence concerning any and all matters pertaining to such investigation or examination, the commissioner, his deputy, or examiner having charge of such investigation or examination may forthwith report in writing such disobedience, and file such report and such subpoena with proof of service thereof in a court having said jurisdiction in session in the county where such investigation is being had, and if no court is in session, then with any judge of such court; thereupon such court or judge shall forthwith cause such person so subpoenaed or refusing to give evidence in such investigation to be brought before such court or judge, and such court or judge shall thereupon administer and impose like terms and penalties as though such person had been subpoenaed or had refused to testify or give evidence in any proceedings before such court.

Witness fees and mileage, if claimed, shall be allowed the same as to witnesses testifying in court, which witness fees and mileage with the actual expense, if any, necessarily incurred in securing the attendance of witnesses and their testimony, shall be itemized and charged against and be paid by the company so being examined. Every person shall be obliged to attend as a witness at the place of such investigation or examination when subpoenaed anywhere within this state. [L. '19, p. 369, § 1; L. '11, p. 165, § 7.]

§ 7039. [6059-8.] Revocation of Certificate or License—Court Review.

If the commissioner is of the opinion upon examination or other evidence that any insurance company is in an unsound condition, or that it has failed to comply with the law or with the provisions of its charter or articles of incorporation or association, or that its condition is such as to render its proceedings hazardous to the public or to its policyholders, or that its actual assets exclusive of its capital are less than its liabilities, or if its trustees, directors, officers, or agents refuse to submit to examination or to produce its books, records, accounts, and papers in its or their possession or control relating to its business or affairs, for examination and inspection of the commissioner, his deputy or examiner, when required, or shall refuse to perform any legal obligation relative to such examination, the commissioner shall revoke or suspend all certificates of authority and licenses granted to such insurance company, its officers or agents, and shall cause notice thereof to be given to such company and to each agent of such company in this state, and no new business shall thereafter be done by such company or for such company by its agents, in this state, while such revocation, suspension, or disability continues, nor until its authority to do business is restored by the commissioner.

Unless ground for revocation or suspension relates only to the financial condition or soundness of the company or to the deficiency in its assets, the commissioner shall notify such company not less than ten days before revoking its authority to do business in this state; and he shall specify in such notice the particulars of the alleged violation of law or of its charter or articles of incorporation or association, or grounds for revocation. The superior court, upon petition of such company, brought within twenty days, shall summarily hear and determine the question whether such violation has been committed, or whether it is solvent or in an unsound condition or has exceeded its powers or has failed to comply with any provisions of the law or of its charter or articles of incorporation or association, or that its condition is such as to render its further proceedings hazardous to the public and to its policy-holders, and the court upon such hearing and determination shall make and enter such order or decree as may be proper in the premises. If the order or decree be adverse to the petitioning company and an appeal therefrom is taken to the supreme court, such appeal shall be advanced upon the trial calendar of the supreme court and be heard at as early a date as it can conveniently be tried. In the case of such appeal, the commissioner may revoke the right of said petitioning company to do business in this state until the final determination of the appeal by the supreme court. [L. '11, p. 167, § 8.]

§ 7040. [6059-9.] Impairment—Notice and Requisition.

Whenever it appears to the commissioner from any showing or statement made to him or from any examination made by him, his deputy, or examiner, that the capital stock of any domestic insurance company is impaired, or that its assets are insufficient to justify its continuance in business, he shall at once determine the amount of such impairment or deficiency and thereupon issue his written notice and requisition to the company to require its stockholders to make good the amount of the impairment or deficiency with cash or investments authorized by this act, or reduction of its capital stock, not below statutory requirements, within ninety days from the service of the notice and requisition. If the amount of any such impairment or deficiency shall not be made good within the time specified in such notice and requisition and proof thereof filed in the office of the commissioner, the company shall be deemed insolvent and shall be proceeded against as an insolvent company by the attorney general in the manner authorized by this act. If the capital stock of any foreign or alien insurance company doing business in this state is found so impaired, the commissioner shall revoke the certificate of authority issued to such company and licenses issued to its agents, and shall give due notice thereof to such company and each of its agents, and thereupon such company and its agents shall discontinue the issuing of any new policies or contracts of insurance within this state. [L. '11, p. 169, § 9.]

§ 7041. [6059-10.] Impairment—Mutual Company—Notice and Requisition—Director's Liability.

Whenever it appears to the commissioner from any statement or showing made to him or from an examination made by him, his deputy, or examiner, that the assets and resources of any mutual insurance company are insufficient to justify its continuance in business, he shall promptly determine the amount of such deficiency and thereupon issue his written notice and requisition to the trustees, directors and officers of such company requiring them to make good the amount of such deficiency within ninety days from the service of such notice and requisition. Such notice and requisition may be served by registered letter having affixed proper postage and directed to the company at its principal place of business in this state specified in its articles of incorporation or association. Upon the service of such notice and requisition, the trustees, directors and officers of such company shall forthwith cause such deficiency to be made good, and proof to be filed in the office of the commissioner within the time specified in the notice and requisition that the same has been made good.

For any losses accruing upon new risks taken after the expiration of such time, and before such deficiency shall have been made good, the trustees, directors and officers of the company shall jointly and severally be personally liable therefor. If such deficiency shall not be made good within the time specified in said notice and requisition and satisfactory proof thereof filed with the commissioner, he shall revoke the certificate of authority issued to such company and the license issued to each agent of said company and shall give due notice thereof by registered mail to such company and to each of its agents, and such company shall be deemed insolvent and may be proceeded against by the attorney general as an insolvent corporation in the manner authorized by this act. [L. '11, p. 169, § 10.]

§ 7042. [6059-11.] Delinquent Insurance Company—Proceedings—Liquidation.

This section shall apply to all domestic companies, societies and orders to which any article of this act is applicable, and the word "company" as herein used shall also include all such associations, societies and orders.

(1) Whenever any such company is insolvent; or has refused to submit its books, papers, accounts or affairs to the reasonable inspection and examination of the commissioner, his deputy, or examiner; or has neglected or refused to observe an order of the commissioner to make good within the time prescribed by law, any deficiency, whenever the capital of a stock company, or the reserve or assets of a mutual company, shall have become impaired; or it has by contract or reinsurance or otherwise, transferred or attempted to transfer substantially its entire property or business, or entered into any transaction the effect of which is to merge substantially its entire property or business in the property or business of any other company without first having obtained the written approval of the commissioner; or if found, after an examination, to be in such condition that its further transaction of business would be hazardous to its policy-holders, or to its creditors, or to its stockholders, or to the public; or has willfully violated its articles of incorporation or association or any law of the state; or whenever any trustee, director, manager, or officer thereof has refused to be examined under oath touching its affairs, the commissioner may, the attorney general representing him, apply to the superior court or any judge thereof, in the county or judicial district in which the principal office of such company is located, for an order directing such company to show cause why the commissioner should not take possession of its property, records and effects and conduct or close its business, and for such other relief as the nature of the case and the interest of its policy-holders, creditors, stockholders or the public may require.

(2) On such application, or at any time thereafter such court or judge may, in its discretion issue an order restraining such company from the transaction of its business or disposition of its property, records and effects until the further order of the court. On the return of such order to show cause, and after a full hearing, the court shall either deny the application or direct the commissioner forthwith to take possession of the property, records and effects, and conduct the business of such company and retain such possession and conduct the business until, on the application of the commissioner, the attorney general representing him, or of such company, it shall, after a like hearing, appear to the court that the cause for such order directing the commissioner to take possession has been removed and the company can properly resume possession of its property, records, and effects, and the conduct of the business.

(3) If, on a like application and order to show cause, and after a full hearing, the court shall order the liquidation of the business of such company, such liquidation shall be made by and under the direction of the commissioner, who may deal with the property, records, effects and business of such company in his own name as commissioner, or in the name of the company as the court may direct, and he shall be vested by the operation of law with title to all the property, effects, contracts, and rights of action of such company as of the date of the order so directing him to liquidate. The filing or recording of such order in the office of the auditor in any county where property is located in the state shall impart the same notice that a deed, bill of sale, or other evidence of title duly filed or recorded by such company would have imparted.

(4) For the purpose of this section, the commissioner shall have power to appoint, under his hand and official seal, one or more special deputy commissioners, as his assistant or assistants, and to employ such counsel, clerk and other assistants as may by him be deemed necessary, and give each of such persons such powers to assist him as he may consider proper. The compensation of such special deputy commissioners, counsel, clerks and assistants, and all expenses of taking possession of and conducting the business of liquidating any such company shall be fixed by the commissioner, subject to the approval of the court, and shall, on certificate of the commissioner, be paid out of the funds or assets of such company.

(5) For the purpose of this section, the commissioner shall have power, subject to the approval of the court, to make and prescribe such rules and regulations as to him shall seem proper.

(6) The commissioner shall transmit to the legislature, in his annual report, the names of the companies so taken possession of, whether the same have resumed business or have been liquidated, and such other facts as shall acquaint the policy-holders, creditors, stockholders and the public with his proceedings under this section; and, to that end, the special deputy commissioner in charge of any such company shall file annually with the commissioner a report of the affairs of such company.

(7) At any time after the court shall order the liquidation of the business of any such company, as provided in paragraph 3 of this section, the commissioner may apply for the dissolution of such company, and the same, after due notice and hearing and such other procedure as to the court shall seem proper, shall be dissolved. [L. '11, p. 170, § 11.]

§ 7043. [6059-12.] Increase or Decrease of Capital.

The commissioner shall in person, or by his deputy, or examiner, examine the proceedings of every domestic insurance company to increase or reduce its capital stock, or to change its articles of incorporation or association, and if found conformable to law, shall issue certificate of authority to such company to transact business upon such increased or reduced capital, or change in its articles of incorporation or association. [L. '11, p. 173, § 12.]

The commissioner shall not issue a certificate of authority to transact any business of insurance in this state to any foreign or alien insurance company until it has executed and filed in his office a written appointment of the insurance commissioner to be the true and lawful attorney of such company in and for this state, upon whom all lawful process in any action or proceedings against such company commenced in any county in this state may be served with the same effect as if it were a domestic company having its principal office in such county. The service upon such attorney shall thereafter be deemed service upon the company.

Service of process against any such insurance company may be had by serving duplicate copies upon the commissioner through the mail by a registered letter, or by an officer or person competent to serve a summons. Upon such service being made, the commissioner shall forthwith mail one of such duplicate copies of such process to such company at its home office or general agency, or in the case of an alien company, to the resident manager, if any, in this country.

In all cases of service of process against such insurance company by serving its said attorney, the commissioner shall collect two dollars, which shall be paid by the plaintiff at the time of such service, the same to be recovered by plaintiff as part of the taxable cost if he prevail in the suit.

The commissioner shall keep a record of all such processes which shall show the day and hour of service: Provided, that in such case no proceedings shall be had within forty days after the date of such service upon the commissioner. [L. '11, p. 173, § 13.]

Every foreign insurance company doing business in this state and required by this act to have a cash capital, shall deposit and keep on deposit with the state treasurer, through the office of the insurance commissioner of this state, the same amount and character of securities which a like domestic company is required to deposit with the depositary for securities of insurance companies of the state by whose laws such insurance company is incorporated.

All funds, securities, and investments, deposited as provided by this act, shall be registered by the commissioner in accordance with such rules as he may promulgate. No transfer of securities, so held on deposit, shall be valid unless countersigned by the state treasurer, his deputy, or authorized agent.

The state treasurer shall keep in his office a book in which shall be entered the name of the company from whose account such transfer of securities is made, the name of the transferee, the par value of the securities transferred and the amount for which every mortgage transfer is held. The state treasurer shall have access at all times, during office hours, to the books and records of the commissioner, for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of the entries upon the same, of any transfer; and the commissioner shall have access, during office hours, to the books or records herein kept by the state treasurer, to ascertain the correctness of the entries upon same. The state treasurer shall state in his report to the legislature, the total amount of such deposits held by him and of such transfers countersigned by him.

Whenever any insurance company making such deposit of its securities with the state treasurer, shall sustain losses in excess of its other resources, the commissioner, upon proper showing and application, may authorize and direct the state treasurer to turn over and deliver so much of the securities of such company, to the commissioner, or such insurance company, or such person as the superior court of this state may appoint for such purpose, as shall be necessary to provide funds sufficient to pay its losses, and such securities shall not be used for any other purpose. The commissioner may allow such insurance company reasonable time, to be determined by the commissioner, upon proper showing and application, to be made by such company, in which to deposit with the state treasurer, securities authorized by law, equal in amount and value to the securities so withdrawn: And, provided, that any company entering into a reinsurance contract, whereby its entire business is to be reinsured as provided by this act, the commissioner may, upon application and proper showing, release the deposit securities held by the state treasurer to the credit of said company upon being satisfied that all outstanding obligations of said company have been paid or assumed by the reinsuring company. Every insurance company admitted to do business in this state shall at such time as the commissioner requires, in addition to all returns now by law required of it, or its agents or managers, make a return to the commissioner, in such form and detail as he may prescribe, of all reinsurance contracted for or effected by it, directly or indirectly, upon property located in this state, such return to be under oath of its president and secretary, if a foreign company, and if an alien company, under oath of the person, officer, or representative who verifies its annual statement.

If any insurance company refuse or neglect to make the returns required by this section, the commissioner may revoke its authority to transact business in this state, or report the facts to the attorney general to be dealt with as otherwise provided by this act. [L. '11, p. 197, § 35.]

§ 7080. [6059-36.] Insurance to be Placed Through Agents.

It shall be unlawful for any insurance company admitted to do business in this state to write, place or cause to be written or placed, any policy of insurance covering risks located in this state, except through or by a duly authorized licensed agent of such company residing and doing business in this state: Provided, that where the insured calls at the principal office of the company and requests a policy, the risk may be covered and the policy procured through the duly authorized agent in the territory wherein the risk is located: And provided, further, that a license may be granted to a nonresident special agent authorizing such agent to work with and assist local agents in this state in writing business, but in all such cases the local agent is to retain his full commissions.

Each nonresident special agent granted a license under this provision shall pay an annual fee of five dollars ($5), and all licenses issued therefor shall expire on the thirty-first day of March subsequent to the date of issue. [L. '15, p. 594, § 7. Cf. L. '11, p. 197, § 36.]

§ 7081. [6059-37.] Adjusters to Secure License.

Each "adjuster" or "insurance adjuster" shall annually, on or before the first day of April in each year, procure a license from the insurance commissioner, permitting him to adjust losses for authorized insurance companies, and to adjust losses of unauthorized insurance companies on policies written by duly licensed agents for such companies in this state. He shall also secure a license for each separate company for each loss adjusted by him for nonadmitted or unauthorized companies on policies which have not been written by or through a regularly licensed agent for such companies in this state: Provided, that an agent for a duly authorized insurance company may adjust and settle losses for the company for which he is licensed agent without procuring an "adjuster's" license.

It shall be the duty of all adjusters, or agents, upon making and completing the adjustment of any loss in excess of one hundred dollars, to at once notify the insurance commissioner, giving full information and stating the name of the assured, the amount of insurance carried, the name of the company or companies, issuing the policies and the amount carried by each one, the amount of the loss as adjusted, and any other information in his possession relative to such losses which may be requested by the commissioners.

Each "adjuster" or "insurance adjuster" licensed under the provision of this section shall pay an annual fee of ten dollars ($10), and all licenses issued therefor shall expire on the thirty-first day of March subsequent to the date of issue. [L. '15, p. 602, § 16. Cf. L. '11, p. 197, § 36.]

§ 7082. [6059-38.] Political Contributions Forbidden.

No insurance company, including fraternal beneficiary associations, doing business in this state shall, directly or indirectly, pay, or use, or offer, consent or agree to pay, or use any money, property or other thing of value for or in aid of any political party, committee, or organization; nor for or in aid of any corporation, joint stock or any other association, organized or maintained for political purposes; nor for or in aid of any candidate for any political office, nor for the nomination for such office, nor for any other political purpose whatever, nor for the reimbursement or indemnification of any person or institution for money or property so used.

Any officer, director, stockholder, attorney, or agent of any insurance company which violates any of the provisions of this section, who participates in, aids, abets, advises or consents to any such violation, and any person who solicits or knowingly receives any money, property or thing of value, in violation of this section, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor, and punished by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or both, which fine, when collected, shall be paid to the state treasurer and credited to the general fund; and any officer, director, stockholder, attorney, or agent aiding or abetting in any contribution made in violation of this section, shall be liable to the insurance company for the amount so contributed. [L. '11, p. 198, § 38.]

§ 7083. [6059-39.] Dividends to be Paid from Earnings.

It shall be unlawful for the officers, directors, trustees, or managers of any domestic insurance company to declare or pay any dividends, except from the surplus profits arising from its business, which shall be estimated and ascertained in accordance with the requirements and provisions of this act. [L. '11, p. 198, § 39.]

§ 7084. [6059-40.] Company—Lien on Stock.

Every domestic insurance company shall have a lien on every share of capital stock issued by it and all profits and dividends accruing thereon, for any balance unpaid of the par value and surplus to be paid thereon in like amount as is paid or agreed to be paid on all other shares of capital stock in such company and also for any debt owing to such company for premiums by the holder of such stock. [L. '11, p. 199, § 40.]

§ 7085. [6059-41.] Prohibiting Publicity of Unauthorized Statements.

No insurance company, or agent thereof, doing business in this state, shall anywhere publish, represent, or advertise assets except those actually owned and possessed by it in its own exclusive right, available for the payment of losses and claims, and held for the protection of its policy-holders and creditors. [L. '11, p. 199, § 41.]

§ 7086. [6059-42.] Advertisement to Show Actual Paid-up Capital and Surplus.

Every advertisement or public announcement, and every sign, circular or card issued by any insurance company doing business in this state purporting to show its financial condition, shall correspond with or include its last verified statement made to the commissioner.

For violation of this or the preceding section by a company, it shall forfeit, for the first offense, to the people of the state, the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, and for every subsequent offense the sum of five hundred dollars, which sums may be recovered by an action prosecuted by the commissioner, the attorney general representing him, and which sums when recovered shall be paid to the state treasurer and credited to the general fund. [L. '11, p. 199, § 42.]

§ 7087. [6059-43.] Place of Business to be Designated.

Every agent of an insurance company doing business in this state shall, in all his advertisements of that company, give the location of the company, the name of the state, and town in which it has its principal office, and the state or government under the laws of which it is organized. [L. '11, p. 199, § 43.]

§ 7088. [6059-44.] Agents to Procure License must Act Only for Admitted Companies.

It shall be unlawful for any company, corporation, or association to transact the business of insurance in this state, except as provided in section 7120, unless the company, corporation, or association, shall have complied with all the provisions of this act, and shall have obtained a certificate of authority from the commissioner.

No person, firm or corporation shall act as agent for any insurance company, in the transaction of any business of insurance within this state, or negotiate for, or place risks for, any such company, or in any way or manner aid such company in effecting insurance, or otherwise in this state, except as provided in section 7120, unless such company shall in all things have complied with the provisions of this act. Every insurance agent, solicitor or broker shall annually, on or before the first day of April, procure a license from the commissioner who shall make and keep a record thereof.

If any insurance company, corporation, or association, its agents or attorney, shall solicit insurance or shall issue a policy without having complied with the laws of this state, the company, corporation, or association, or its agent, or attorney, so issuing the policy or accepting the application for the same, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor and shall be subject to a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars and imprisonment for a term of not exceeding six months, in the discretion of the court. § 7089. [6059-45.] Application for License.

No license shall be issued to any applicant for an agent's, solicitor's, or broker's license until such applicant shall have first made and filed in the commissioner's office an application therefor upon a form to be prescribed and furnished by the commissioner, which must show the applicant's name, business and residence address, and in the case of an agent's or solicitor's license, the name of the company or agent to be represented, whether as solicitor, agent, or general agent; present occupation, occupation for last twelve months, portion of time to be devoted to the work, previous insurance experience, and name of employers during five years next preceding, and such other information as the commissioner may require. The statements and answers made in the application shall be warranted by the applicant and shall have the same force and effect as if such statements and answers had been made by the applicant as a sworn witness testifying in a superior court in this state. Applications for agent's or solicitor's license must be approved by some one company or by the agent to be represented; and in the case of an application for a broker's license, it must also show how long applicant has been engaged in the insurance business and in what branches, under whom applicant received his training, what income, if any, applicant has other than that to be derived from such business, and financial condition of applicant. It shall be the duty of the commissioner to withhold any license applied for, or revoke any license to any agent, solicitor or broker when he is satisfied that the principal use of such license is to effect insurance upon the property or liability of such agent, solicitor or broker, or to circumvent or violate the anti-rebate law. Each agent or solicitor shall be required to file but one application regardless of the number of companies he represents; provided, that no person shall act as agent for any company which shall not have applied for a license and paid the fee, provided in this act, for such agent, and: provided further, that no solicitor shall hold a license for more than one agent for the same class or classes of insurance at the same time; neither can he be licensed as agent and solicitor for the same class or classes of insurance at the same time.

The insurance commissioner, after notice and hearing, and for cause shown, may revoke the license of any agent, if it is evident that such agent conducts his business in a dishonest manner, or misrepresents the policies or contracts he sells; or misrepresents the policies or contracts of other agents or companies; or is conducting his business in such a manner as to cause injury to the public and those dealing with him. Unless revoked by the commissioner, or unless the company by written notice to the commissioner cancels the agent's authority to act for it, such license and any other license issued to an agent or any renewal thereof shall expire on the thirty-first day of March next after its issue. But any license issued and in force when this act takes effect or thereafter issued, may, in the discretion of the commissioner, be renewed for a succeeding year or years by a renewal certificate without the commissioner's requiring the detailed information required by this act. [L. '15, p. 596, § 9. Cf. L. '11, p. 200, § 45.]

§ 7090. [6059-45a.] Revocation or Refusal of Insurance Agent's License.

Whenever the commissioner shall determine to revoke any agent's license heretofore issued, or shall refuse to renew any agent's license on the proper application therefor, or shall refuse to issue any agent's license upon an original application therefor, in carrying out the requirements of chapter 49, Session Laws of 1911, he shall notify the holder or applicant for such license of his intention and shall set a time not less than fifteen days from the date of such notice and shall designate the time and place where the holder or applicant for such license may be heard in his own behalf. The commissioner shall preside at such hearing and may subpoena, compel the attendance, examine, and swear witnesses with like effect as if examined and sworn by a clerk of the superior court. If the commissioner shall decide after such hearing that the license under question shall be revoked, or if he shall determine to withhold the renewal of any such license, or if he shall refuse to issue any such license under an original application, he shall enter an order to that effect, setting forth his reasons in writing and shall file a copy thereof in his office and mail a copy to the party holding said license, or to the party applying for the issuance of a license, at the address given in the application. Such order shall not be operative for a period of ten days and if the agent, or applicant for a license, shall feel aggrieved by the decision of the commissioner revoking or withholding the license, he may appeal to the superior court of Thurston county by giving notice of such appeal to the commissioner and filing a bond with the clerk of the superior court of Thurston county in the sum of five hundred dollars to be approved by the judge of said court conditioned to pay all costs that may be awarded against such applicant in the event of an adverse decision, said bond and notice to be filed within ten days from the date of the commissioner's decision and the filing of such notice and bond shall supersede the order of the commissioner until the final determination of such appeal. Upon the giving of such notice of appeal and the filing of said bond the commissioner shall certify the reasons given by him for the revocation or withholding of such license to the said superior court, whereupon the judge of said court shall proceed to a hearing and determine the law and the facts, and after such hearing may direct the continuance or issuance of a license, if satisfied that the provisions of this code have not been violated or are not in danger of being violated, or said court may, in its discretion, sustain the decision of the commissioner. Such appeals shall have precedence and shall be determined by the said superior court with the least possible delay. An appeal shall lie to the supreme court from the decision of the superior court.

Upon the hearing of an appeal from the order of the commissioner revoking a license, and if a violation of the law is determined, the court may, in its discretion, if it believes an absolute revocation too severe a penalty for the offense of which the holder of the license is found guilty, impose a fine of from ten dollars to five hundred dollars; the payment of the fine by the holder of the license, within ten days from the finding of the court, shall continue said license in full force and effect, otherwise the license shall be automatically canceled. § 7091. [6059-46.] Embezzlement by Agent—Solicitor—Broker.

All funds received by any agent, solicitor or broker, as premium or return premium on or under any policy of insurance, shall be received by such agent, solicitor, or broker in his fiduciary capacity, and any agent, solicitor, or broker who diverts or appropriates such funds to his own use shall be guilty of larceny by embezzlement and shall be punished as provided in the criminal statutes of this state. [L. '11, p. 201, § 46.]

§ 7092. [6059-47.] Reciprocal Obligations.

If, by the laws of any other state, any taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits, or other obligations or prohibitions, in the aggregate, additional to or in excess of those imposed by the laws of this state, upon foreign insurance companies and their agents and solicitors, are imposed on insurance companies of this state and their agents doing business in such state, like obligations and prohibitions shall be imposed upon all insurance companies of such state and their agents doing business in this state, so long as such laws remain in force. [L. '11, p. 201, § 47.]

§ 7093. [6059-48.] "Lloyds."

Association of individuals, citizens of the United States, whether organized within this state or elsewhere within the United States, formed upon the plan known as "Lloyds," whereby each associate underwriter becomes liable for a proportionate part of the whole amount insured by the group, may be authorized to transact insurance, other than life, in this state, in like manner and upon the same terms and conditions as insurance companies of other of the United States. [L. '11, p. 202, § 48.]

§ 7130. [6059—85.] Incorporation of Companies.

The following number of citizens of the United States, two-thirds of which number shall be residents of the state of Washington, may incorporate a company as follows: For a stock company, not less than five; for a mutual company, not less than ten; for an organization on the plan known as "Lloyds," not less than twenty; for an organization of "Inter-Insurers," not less than twenty-five; for one or more of the purposes specified in section 7128 by making and subscribing written articles of incorporation in quadruplicate and acknowledging the same before an officer authorized to take acknowledgment of deeds, and after having the same approved by the commissioner, by filing one of such articles in the office of the secretary of state, another in the office of the insurance commissioner, another in the office of the auditor of the county in which the principal office of the company is to be located, and retaining the fourth in the possession of the company, which articles shall state:

First. The names and addresses of the incorporators.

Second. The name of the company.

Third. (a) The object for which the company is formed; (b) whether it is a stock or mutual company, and if a mutual company, whether it will insure on the cash premium or assessment plan; (c) The class or classes of risks wherein it will make insurance, according to the divisions made in this act.

Fourth. (a) If a stock company, the amount of the capital stock, and the number of shares, which shall be of the par value of one hundred dollars each; (b) if it be a mutual company, the minimum and maximum liability of its members or policy-holders for the payment of losses occurring under its policies, which liability shall be not less than two nor more than six times the amount of the premium usually charged by solvent stock insurance companies for insuring like or similar risks for the same term, and if that premium is not known, then the premium used shall be according to either the "Dean" schedule or the "Universal Mercantile" schedule for fire risks, and such schedule for other class or classes of risks as may be approved by the commissioner.

Fifth. The time of its existence, not to exceed fifty years: Provided, that this limit of existence shall not apply to any life insurance company.

Sixth. The number of trustees or directors, which shall not be less than five nor more than eleven, and their names and addresses, who shall manage the affairs of the company for such length of time, not less than two nor more than six months, as may be designated in such articles of incorporation.

Seventh. The name of the city or town in which the principal place of business of the company is to be located in this state, and in what country or countries it intends to transact business.

Amendments may be made to the articles of incorporation of a stock company, by a majority vote of its trustees or directors, and the vote or written assent of two-thirds of the capital stock of the company, and, if a mutual company, by the majority vote of its trustees or directors and the vote or written assent of two-thirds of the members or policy-holders of such company. If the written assent of two-thirds of the capital stock of a stock company, or members or policy-holders of a mutual company has not been obtained, then the vote of the said stock, or of said members may be taken, at any regular meeting of the stockholders or members called for that purpose in the manner provided in the by-laws of such company for special meetings of stockholders or members.

The president and secretary of said company shall certify said amendments in quadruplicate under the seal of said company to be correct, and shall file and keep the same as in the case of original articles of incorporation and from the time of filing said amendments such company shall have the same powers, and the stockholders thereof shall be subject to the same liabilities as if said amendment had been embraced in the original articles of incorporation. A policy-holder in a mutual insurance company has the same character of interest and occupies the same relation to the company as the stockholder has and occupies to a stock insurance company.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to cure or amend any defect existing in any articles of incorporation in that such articles did not set forth the matter required to make the same valid at the time of filing, nor to cure or amend any defect in the execution thereof. The time of existence of such company shall not be extended by amendments beyond the time fixed in the original articles of incorporation.

No such company shall take the name of a domestic company theretofore organized, nor that of an alien or foreign company admitted to this state, nor one so nearly resembling that or either as to be misleading. The company may classify its risks according to the various hazards covered, and any saving experienced by the company in loss ratio, expense of management, or from any other source, may be returned to the policy-holders in the various classifications, according to the experience of the company in said classes and as determined by the board of directors of the company: Provided, that such savings must be apportioned equitably among the policy-holders in the classifications in which it is actually earned.

Third. If it is formed to transact, as insurer, a general fire insurance business on the assessment plan, it must have bona fide written applications severally signed by applicants for fire insurance for one year, and, on risks usually written for a term, not more than five years, from Fourth. If it is formed to transact as insurer a fire insurance business on the assessment plan outside of incorporated towns in this state, it must have bona fide written applications severally signed by applicants for fire insurance for one year, and, on risks usually written for a term, not more than five years, from residents of this state on property owned by the applicant situate within this state in separate risks of not to exceed fifteen hundred dollars each, amounting in the aggregate to not less than two hundred thousand dollars; and must have, own, and possess in its own name and exclusive right premiums on the insurance applied for of which not less than fifty per centum thereof must be paid in cash and to be on hand above liabilities except reinsurance reserve, and the remainder and the additional premium liability of the applicant must be paid as provided in the by-laws of the company.

Fifth. If it is formed to transact business as inter-insurers only between the parties forming the company and all parties who shall become members and inter-insurers therein, no such company shall be formed nor transact any business as insurers until not less than twenty-five persons or parties, each of whom must be worth in his or its own right not less than twenty thousand dollars above all liabilities, in property located within this state, such fact to be determined by the commissioner, and in determining the same he may take the verified statement of such parties, and the signed reports of a reputable commercial agency having upward of one hundred thousand subscribers, which person or parties shall first prescribe and adopt the terms and conditions upon which they will be governed and become inter-insurers each with the other, and each shall be individually liable with every other solvent member of such company to ratably pay and discharge all losses and legal claim accruing against such company; Provided, that the terms and conditions prescribed, adopted and entered into by such persons in becoming inter-insurers shall embrace the terms and conditions which experience of similar companies has found to be efficient and adequate to promptly and equitably pay and discharge its obligations of which the commissioner shall be the judge: Provided, further, that the provisions of this paragraph shall only apply to inter-insurers associations hereafter organized or hereafter applying for admission and authority to transact business in this state as inter-insurers.

Sixth. If such company be formed to transact business as insurer as specified in class 1 of section 7128 it must have not less than one hundred fifty thousand dollars, in bona fide unimpaired assets in excess of all liabilities, of which assets not less than seventy-five thousand dollars must be in cash and securities such as the funds of an insurance company may be invested in as provided in this act, and the remainder of said assets must consist of cash or such authorized securities, or the legal promissory notes severally made, signed, and delivered by solvent parties payable to the company whenever required for the payment and discharge of losses or legal obligations accruing against such company; and where notes are used to make up the amount of said assets the commissioner shall determine the sufficiency of each note, and he shall have the right to require that the payment of any shall be secured by good and sufficient collateral, and it shall be his duty to require ample security to be furnished for the payment of such note when the makers thereof are not personally known by him to be solvent and good for the payment of the same. Such company shall deposit not less than two-thirds of its assets and keep the same on deposit through the insurance commissioner's office with the state treasurer in the same manner as deposits are required to be made and kept by stock insurance companies as provided in this act.

Seventh. If it is formed to transact insurance against injury, disablement, or death resulting from traveling or general accident or against disablement resulting from sickness, and every insurance appertaining thereto, it must have bona fide written applications severally signed by not less than five hundred applicants for health and accident, or health, or accident insurance for one year in amounts of not less than one thousand dollars each, from residents of this state, and who shall each have paid in one full annual premium in cash upon the insurance subscribed for; and must have, own and possess in its own name and exclusive right premiums actually received in cash, to an amount of at least eight thousand dollars and six thousand dollars must be on hand above all liabilities except re-insurance reserve; provided, that when any such company shall accumulate from its underwriting and earnings cash assets of not less than one hundred thousand dollars of which amount not less than fifty thousand dollars shall be surplus assets, which it must maintain in securities, of a character designated by the insurance code, deposited with the state treasurer through the office of the insurance commissioner, and while it maintains such surplus assets on deposit, it may issue its policies without liability on the part of its policy-holders other than to pay the amount of the premium stated in the policy and which premium shall be not less than the premium charged by solvent companies for insuring similar risks. The company may classify its risks according to the various hazards covered and any saving experienced by the company in its loss ratio, expense of management, or any other source may be returned to the policy-holders in the various classifications at the end of any policy year for which premiums have been paid, according to the experience of the company in said classes and as determined by its board of directors: Provided, that such saving must be apportioned equitably among the policy-holders in the classifications in which it is actually earned.

Such company may make insurance in any other class specified in said section 7128 when permitted by the commissioner upon furnishing additional assets of the kind herein specified in the amounts required of a stock insurance company to make insurance in like classes as provided by this act.

The plan, terms, and conditions prescribed and adopted by such company must be such as the experience of similar companies has found to be efficient and adequate to promptly and equitably pay and discharge its obligations and successfully conduct its business, of which the commissioner shall be the judge. [L. '15, p. 309, § 1. Cf. L. '11, p. 226, § 86.]

§ 7132. [6059-87.*] Mutual Insurance Companies—By-laws.

The directors of a mutual insurance company shall adopt such by-laws, not in conflict with the laws of this state, as they may deem proper for the government of its officers and the conduct of its business. Said by-laws shall provide for the liability of its members or policy-holders for the payment of its losses and expenses, which liability, including the amount of the premium, shall not be less than two times the amount of the premium nor more than six times the amount of the premium charged by solvent stock companies for like risks and terms. [L. '11, p. 232, § 89.]

§ 7135. [6059-90.] Increase of Capital Stock.

Any domestic insurance company may at any time increase the amount of its capital stock, by giving notice once a week for four consecutive weeks, in any newspaper having a general circulation, published in the county where the company is located, of such intention; and by filing with the secretary of state a copy of such advertisement with due proof of publishing the same, together with the declaration under its corporate seal, signed by its president and two-thirds of its board of directors, and by the stockholders representing three-fourths of its capital stock, of their desire to increase the capital, and file like copies and proof in the office of the insurance commissioner, and in the office of the auditor of the county in which the principal office of such company is located, and retain a similar copy and proof in its principal office: Provided, that such increase of capital stock shall be fully subscribed and paid for in lawful money of the United States within six months after the date of filing such papers in the office of the secretary of state, and, when said increase of capital shall have been fully subscribed and paid in full in cash, the president and secretary of such company shall make and verify under oath a certificate under the seal of the company stating that such increase in

§ 7137. [6059-92.] Life—Legal Reserve.

The commissioner shall annually make valuation of all outstanding policies, additions thereto, unpaid dividends, and all other obligations of every life insurance company doing business in this state; and all such valuations made by him or his authority shall be according to the standard of valuation adopted by the company: Provided, that in either case the standard of valuation employed shall be stated in his annual report: Provided further, that no such standard of valuation whether on the net level premium, preliminary term, or select and ultimate reserve basis, for policies issued after the passage of this act shall be less than that determined upon such basis according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per centum interest. The commissioner may vary the standard of valuation in particular cases of invalid lives and other extrahazards: Provided, the same is on basis of at least three and one-half per centum, value policies in groups, use approximate average for fractions of a year, and assume as accurate the valuation of the department of insurance of any other state or country, if the insurance officer of such other state or country likewise accredits the valuation made by the commissioner of this state: Provided, that when the preliminary term basis is used it shall not exceed one year.

The legal minimum standard for the valuation of annuities issued after January 1, 1912, shall be "McClintock's Table of Mortality Among Annuitants," or the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per centum per annum, but annuities deferred ten or more years and written in connection with life or term insurance shall be valued in the same mortality table from which the consideration or premiums were computed, with interest not higher than three and one-half per centum per annum.

The legal minimum standard for the valuation of annuity policies issued after the first day of January, 1912, shall be the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest and three and one-half per centum per annum: Provided, that any life insurance company may voluntarily value its industrial policies written on the weekly premium payment plan according to the "Standard Industrial Mortality Table" or the "Sub-Standard Industrial Mortality Table."

Any life insurance company may voluntarily value its policies, or any class thereof, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality; or if industrial, at its option, according to the "Standard Industrial Mortality Table," or "Sub-Standard Industrial Mortality Table," at a lower rate of interest than that above prescribed, but not lower than three per centum per annum, and in such case shall report the standards used by it in making the same, to the commissioner in its annual statement: Provided, that no such standards, if adopted, shall be abandoned without the consent of the commissioner first being obtained in writing. [L. '11, p. 233, § 92.]

§ 7138. [6059-93.] Investments Allowed—Life.

In estimating the condition of any life insurance company, under the provisions of this act, or in any examination made by the commissioner, his deputy, or examiner, he shall allow as assets only such investments, cash, and accounts as are authorized by the laws of this state, at the date of examination, and shall charge as liabilities in addition to the capital stock, all outstanding indebtedness of the company, and the premium reserve on policies, and additions thereto in force computed according to the table of mortality and rate of interest prescribed in this act. The total assets invested and otherwise in every domestic life insurance company shall be held to be accumulations for the exclusive benefit of policy-holders, and no payment to stockholders shall be made therefrom, until all obligations to policy-holders, and creditors have been fully provided for including the reserve required by the preceding section of this act to be determined by the commissioner. [L. '11, p. 235, § 93.]

§ 7139. [6059-94.] Health—Reserve.

The commissioner shall annually make valuations of all outstanding policies of every company insuring against disablement by sickness, on the net premium basis, according to the "British Friendly Society Tables, eighteen hundred and eighty," or the "Manchester Unity Friendly Society Tables," eighteen hundred and ninety-three to eighteen hundred and ninety-seven, with interest at three and one-half per centum per annum. He may, in his discretion, vary the standard in particular cases, and may also require additional reserve because of hazardous occupations, impairment of the lives of the insured or insufficient net premiums. This provision shall not apply to policies insuring for not longer than one year without privileges of renewal. [L. '11, p. 235, § 94.]

§ 7140. [6059-95.] Liability—Reserve.

The indebtedness or outstanding losses under insurance against loss or damages resulting from accident to or injuries suffered by an employee or other person and for which the insured is liable, and under insurance against loss from liability on account of the death of or injury to an employee not caused by the negligence of the employer, shall be determined as follows: Each corporation which writes policies covering any of said kinds of insurance shall include in the annual statement required by section 7071 a schedule of its experience thereunder, in the United States and foreign countries in the case of corporations organized in the United States, and in the United States only in the case of corporations organized outside of the United States, giving each calendar year's experience separately, and crediting or charging each item to the year in which the policy to which it relates was written, as follows: (1) the earned premiums on all such policies written during the period of ten years immediately preceding the date as of which the statement is made, being the gross premiums on all such policies including excess and additional premiums and premiums in course of collection, less return premiums and premiums on canceled policies, and less the unearned premiums on policies in force as shown in such annual statement; (2) the amount of all payments of whatsoever nature made by reason or on account of injuries covered by such policies written during said period. This amount shall include medical and surgical attendance, payments to claimants, legal expenses, salaries and expenses of investigators, adjusters, and field men, rents, stationery, telegraph and telephone charges, postage, salaries and expenses of office employees, home-office expenses, and all other payments made on account of such injuries, whether such payments are allocated to specific claims or are unallocated; (3) the number of suits being defended at the date as of which the statement is made under policies written during said period, except suits in which liability is not dependent upon negligence of the insured, and a charge of seven hundred and fifty dollars for each suit; (4) the number of deaths for which the insured are liable without proof of negligence, covered by policies written during said period, and not paid for at the date as of which the statement is made and a charge of the amount necessary to pay for such deaths; (5) the number of unpaid claims at the date as of which the statement is made on account of nonfatal injuries for which the insured are liable without proof of negligence, covered by policies written during said period, and a charge equal to the present value of the estimated future payments; (6) the loss ratio determined from the foregoing as to each year separately, using as the divisor the earned premiums shown in item (1) and as the dividend the amount of payments shown in item (2) plus the amounts charged in items (3), (4) and (5); (7) the number of suits being defended at the date as of which the statement is made under policies written more than ten years prior to such date, except suits in which liability is not dependent upon negligence of the insured; (8) the number of deaths for which the insured are liable without proof of negligence, covered by policies written more than ten years prior to the date as of which the statement is made, and not paid for at such date; (9) the number of unpaid claims at the date as of which the statement is made on account of nonfatal injuries for which the insured are liable without proof of negligence, covered by policies written more than ten years prior to such date.

All unallocated payments in item (2) made in a given calendar year subsequent to the first four years in which a corporation has been issuing such policies shall be distributed as follows: thirty-five per centum shall be charged to the policies written in that year, forty per centum to the policies written in the preceding year, ten per centum to the policies written in the second year preceding, ten per centum to the policies written in the third year preceding and five per centum to the policies written in the fourth year preceding; and such payments made in the first four calendar years in which a corporation has been issuing such policies shall be distributed as follows: In the first calendar year one hundred per centum shall be charged to the policies written in that year; in the second calendar year fifty per centum shall be charged to the policies written in that year and fifty per centum to the policies written in the preceding year; in the third calendar year forty per centum shall be charged to the policies written in that year, forty per centum to the policies written in the preceding year and twenty per centum to the policies written in the second year preceding; and in the fourth calendar year thirty-five per centum shall be charged to the policies written in that year, forty per centum to the policies written in the preceding year, fifteen per centum to the policies written in the second year preceding and ten per centum to the policies written in the third year preceding, and a schedule showing such distribution shall be included in such annual statement.

Each such corporation shall be charged with indebtedness for outstanding losses upon such policies determined as follows: (10) for all suits being defended under policies written more than ten years prior to the date as of which the statement is made, except suits in which liability is not dependent upon negligence of the insured, one thousand dollars for each suit; (11) for all suits being defended under policies written more than five years and less than ten years prior to the date as of which the statement is made, except suits in which the liability is not dependent upon negligence of the insured, seven hundred and fifty dollars for each suit; (12) for all deaths for which the insured are liable without proof of negligence covered by policies written more than five years prior to the date as of which the statement is made, the amount necessary to pay for such deaths; (13) for all unpaid claims on account of nonfatal injuries for which the insured are liable without proof of negligence under policies written more than five years prior to the date as of which the statement is made, the present value of the estimated future payments; (14) for the policies written in the five years immediately preceding the date as of which the statement is made an amount determined as follows: multiply the earned premiums of such five years as shown in item (1) by the loss ratio ascertained as in item (6) on all the policies written in the first five years of the said ten-year period, using as the divisor the sum of the earned premiums shown in item (1) for such first five years, and as the dividend the sum of the payments shown in item (2) for such first five years, plus the sum of the charges in items (3), (4) and (5) for such first five years; but the ratio to be used shall in no event be less than fifty per centum at and after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eleven, nor less than fifty-one per centum at and after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and twelve, nor less than fifty-two per centum at and after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and thirteen, nor less than fifty-three per centum at and after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and fourteen, nor less than fifty-four per centum at and after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and fifteen, nor less than fifty-five per centum at and after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and sixteen; and from the amount so ascertained in each of the last five years of said ten-year period deduct all payments made under policies written in the corresponding year as shown in item (2), and the remainder in the case of each year shall be deemed the indebtedness for that year: Provided, however, that if the remainder in the case of any year of the first three years of the five years immediately preceding the date as of which the statement is made shall be less than the sum of the three following items for that year at that date,—(a) the number of suits, except suits in which liability is not dependent upon negligence of the insured, being defended under policies written in that year, and a charge of seven hundred and fifty dollars for each suit; (b) the amount necessary to pay for all deaths for which the insured are liable without proof of negligence, covered by policies written in that year; and (c) the present value of estimated unpaid claims on account of nonfatal injuries for which the insured are liable without proof of negligence, covered by policies written in that year—then the sum of said items (a), (b) and (c) shall be the indebtedness for that year.

A corporation which has been issuing such policies for a period of less than ten years shall nevertheless include in its annual statement a schedule as hereinbefore required for the years in which it shall have issued such policies, and shall be charged with an indebtedness determined in the same manner; but in determining the indebtedness for policies written in the five years immediately preceding the date as of which the statement is made, the minimum ratios hereinbefore prescribed shall be used, subject to the same deductions and provisions as in the case of corporations that have been issuing such policies for ten years or more.

In estimating and ascertaining the assets, liabilities, and financial condition of all other insurance companies, not otherwise provided for by the provisions of this act, the commissioner, his deputy, or examiner shall allow as assets only such investments, cash, and accounts as are authorized by the existing laws of this state, or under the existing laws of the state or country under which such company is organized and which investments he may approve or reject, at the date of the investigation, and in estimating the liabilities there shall be added, in addition to the capital stock, all outstanding claims and a sum equal to the unearned premiums on the policies in force, calculated on the gross sum without any deduction on any account, charged to the policy-holder on each respective risk from the date of the issuance of the policy.

If the commissioner finds this rule to be impracticable in estimating and ascertaining the condition of certain kinds of insurance companies, he shall formulate such rules as he shall deem proper and efficient and consistent with law, having due regard to such rules as may be used in other states or approved by the National Convention of Insurance Commissioners or Superintendents: Provided, that in relation to the affairs of any foreign company, he may, in lieu of such examination and investigation, accept a certificate of the insurance commissioner or superintendent of such state or district, as to its condition. [L. '11, 236, § 95.]

The provisions of this act relating to the valuation of policies shall not apply to the policies issued prior to the date at which this act goes into effect. [L. '11, p. 241, § 96.]

§ 7142. [6059-97.] Liabilities of Directors and Corporators.

The directors, corporators, and organizers of any company organized under this act, and those entitled to a participation of the profits of such company, shall be jointly and severally liable for all debts or liabilities of such company, until it has qualified and been admitted to make insurance in this state. [L. '11, p. 241, § 97.]

§ 7143. [6059-98.] Reinsurance in Nonadmitted Alien Companies Prohibited.

No insurance company authorized to transact business in this state and no manager or agent thereof shall reinsure, transfer, or cede in any manner whatsoever the whole or any part of its liability under a policy covering property within this state, except marine risks, in any alien company not having a duly appointed attorney in fact in the United States to accept service of legal process, or not admitted to transact business in the United States and having a deposit in some state in the United States.

Any company, or manager, or agent who violates the provisions of this section, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, and the license of such company, manager or agent shall be revoked during the time such fine remains unpaid. [L. '11, p. 241, § 98.]

§ 7144. [6059-99.] Attorney General—Prosecuting Attorneys—Duties.

In all proceedings instituted in any court, or otherwise, under the provisions of this act, it shall be and hereby is made the duty of the attorney general and of the several prosecuting attorneys throughout the state, to prosecute or defend all such proceedings when requested by the commissioner, his deputy, or examiner so to do. [L. '11, p. 241, § 99.]

§ 7145. [6059-100.] Brokerage — License Required — Agents may Exchange Business.

Any person or party who solicits fire, marine, casualty, liability, or surety business to be placed in an insurance company other than represented by him shall be deemed and considered as transacting a brokerage business and shall be required to procure a broker's license: Provided, that nothing in this act shall be considered as prohibiting duly licensed bona fide recording agents from exchanging with each other any of the lines of business enumerated in this section for which such agent is licensed, and paying or dividing commission on business so exchanged. [L. '15, p. 130, § 1. Cf. L. '11, p. 242, § 100.]

§ 7146. [6059-101.] Inspection Bureau.

After the first day of January, 1913, the commissioner, if he deem it necessary for the detection and correction of errors or discovery of violations of this act in effecting insurance, if any be committed, may permit an inspecting or stamping bureau to be maintained under the supervision of a deputy commissioner for the purpose of inspecting all daily reports of fire insurance risks located in this state. [L. '11, p. 242, § 101.]

§ 7147. [6059-102.] General Penalties.

Any company or person who knowingly violates any provision of this act for which no penalty is provided, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished as provided by law. [L. '11, p. 242, § 102.]

ARTICLE II. FIRE AND MARINE.

§ 7148. [6059-103.] Over-insurance—Unlawful.

It shall be unlawful for any insurance company or any agent to knowingly issue any fire insurance policy upon property within this state for an amount which with any existing insurance exceeds the fair value of the property or of the interest of the insured therein, or for a longer time than for five years. [L. '11, p. 242, § 103.]

§ 7149. [6059-104.] Over-insurance—Procuring—Unlawful.

It shall be unlawful for any party having an insurable interest in property located in this state to knowingly procure any fire insurance policy upon his interest in such property for an amount in excess of the fair value of his interest in the property, or for an amount which, with any existing insurance thereon, exceeds the fair value of his interest in the property. [L. '11, p. 242, § 104.]

§ 7150. [6059-105.] Over-insurance—Penalties.

Every insurer who makes insurance upon any building or property or interest therein against loss or damage by fire, and every agent who issues a fire insurance policy covering on any building or property or interest therein, and every insured who procures a policy of fire insurance upon any building or property or interest therein owned by him, is presumed to know the insurable value of such building or property or interest therein at the time such insurance is effected. Any insurer who knowingly makes insurance on any building or property or interest therein against loss or damage by fire in excess of the insurable value thereof, shall be fined in a sum not less than fifty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars. Any agent who knowingly effects insurance on a building or property or interest therein in excess of the insurable value thereof, shall be fined in a sum not less than fifteen nor more than twenty-five dollars. Any person or party who knowingly procures insurance against loss or damage by fire on any building or property or interest therein owned by him in excess of its insurable value shall be fined in a sum not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars. In an action upon fire insurance policies on a stock of groceries, agents who wrote and issued the policies may be called by the plaintiff to testify to the value of the stock at the time the policies were written and at the time of the fire, under this section, the evident purpose of the statute being to prevent over-insurance: Rasmusson v. North Coast Fire Ins. Co., 83 Wash. 569, 145 Pac. 610, L. R. A. 1915C, 1179.

§ 7151. [6059-105½.] Total Loss—Measure of Damages—Replacing.

Whenever any policy of insurance shall be hereafter written or renewed insuring real property or any building or structure erected thereon or connected therewith, and the property insured shall be wholly destroyed, without criminal fault on the part of the insured, or his assigns, the amount of insurance written in such policy shall be taken conclusively to be the true value of the property when insured, and the true amount of the loss and measure of damages when destroyed. In case there is a partial destruction of the property insured, no greater amount shall be collected than the injury sustained: Provided, that the insurer shall have the option to repair, rebuild or replace the property lost or damaged with other of like kind and quality if he gives notice of his intention so to do within twenty days after the receipt of notice of loss: Provided, such insurer shall, within thirty days from the receipt of notice above, commence such rebuilding or replacing and shall diligently prosecute the same to completion, and shall pay to the insured the reasonable rental value of the premises with the buildings thereon from the date of loss to the date of such completion. Where, in fact, there was only a partial loss by fire, the insured, claiming a total loss, cannot refuse to arbitrate under this section; the theory that whether the loss was total was a question of fact for the courts—and if he does so, it is at his peril: Goldstein v. National Fire Ins. Co., 106 Wash. 346, 180 Pac. 409.

Where buildings are totally destroyed by fire, any recovery must be for the amount stated in the policy, under this section: Pierce v. Globe & Rutgers Fire Ins. Co., 107 Wash. 501, 182 Pac. 586.

This section does not preclude the defense of fraud and misrepresentation by the insured as to the value, inducing issuance of a policy in an excessive amount: Myles v. Northern Assurance Co., 113 Wash. 158, 193 Pac. 703.

§ 7152. [6059-106.] Policy Standard Form—What to Contain.

On and after January 1, 1912, no fire insurance company shall issue any fire insurance policy covering on property or interest therein in this state other than on form known as the New York Standard as now or may be hereafter constituted, except as follows:

First. A company may print on or in its policy its name, location and date of its incorporation, plan of operation, whether stock or mutual, and if mutual whether on cash premium or assessment plan; and if it be a stock company, the amount of its paid-up capital stock, the names of its officers and agents, the number and date of the policy and, if it is issued by an agent, the words, "This policy shall not be valid until countersigned by the duly authorized agent of the company at —," and, if a mutual company, must state the contingent mutual liability of its policyholders or members for payment of losses and expenses not provided for by its cash fund until it shall have accumulated surplus assets of not less than one hundred thousand dollars, which it must maintain in securities deposited as required of stock companies, and, while it maintains such surplus assets on deposit, it may issue its policies with the statement thereon that the liability of the policy-holder is limited to the premium paid as hereinafter provided.

Second. A company may print or use in its policies printed forms of description and specifications of the property insured.

Third. A company insuring against damage by lightning may print in the clause enumerating the perils insured against, the additional words, "also any damage by lightning whether fire ensues or not" and in the clause providing for an apportionment of loss in case of other insurance the words, "whether by fire, lightning or both."

Fourth. A domestic company may print in its policies any provisions which it is authorized or required by law to insert therein, and any foreign or alien company may, with the approval of the commissioner, so print any provision required by its charter or deed of settlement, or by the laws of its own state or country, not contrary to the laws of this state; but the commissioner shall require any provision which, in his opinion, modifies the contract of insurance in such a way as to affect the question of loss to be appended to the policy by an indorsement or rider as hereinafter provided.

Fifth. The blanks in said standard form may be filled in in print or writing.

Sixth. A company may print upon policies issued in compliance with the preceding provisions of this section the words, "Washington Standard Policy."

Seventh. A company may write upon the margin or across the face of the policy, or write or print in type not smaller than nonpareil upon a slip, slips, rider or riders to be attached thereto, provisions adding to or relating to those contained in the Standard Form; and all such slips, riders, indorsements, and provisions must be signed by the officers or agents of the company so using them.

Eighth. If the policy be made by a mutual or other company having special regulations lawfully applicable to its organization, membership, policies or contracts of insurance, such regulation shall apply to and form a part of the policy as the same may be written or printed upon, attached, or appended thereto.

Ninth. If the policy be made by a company operating on the plan known as "Lloyds," it shall have the name and address of each underwriter printed on the back of the policy.

Tenth. Every policy shall have legibly inscribed upon its face and filing back suitable words to designate whether the company making such insurance be a stock, or mutual company, or "Lloyds," or Inter-Insurers Association.

The word "noon" occurring in the policy shall be construed to be the noon of standard time of the place where the property covered by the policy is situated. [L. '15, p. 598, § 12. Cf. L. '11, p. 244, § 106.]

§ 7153. [6059—107.] Limitation of Risk.

No insurance company authorized to transact business in this state, unless otherwise provided by this act, shall insure a single risk, or a single block in the congested district of any city or town, for a larger amount than one-tenth of its paid-up capital in the United States, unless it provides for reinsurance of the excess simultaneously with the original contract; and if any insurance company violates this provision, the commissioner may revoke its authority to transact business in this state. [L. '11, p. 247, § 110.]

§ 7157. [6059-111.] Demoralization of Business—Prohibited.

Any company which precipitates, or aids in precipitating or conducting a rate war and by so doing writes or issues a policy of insurance at a less rate than permitted under their schedule filed with the commissioner, or below the rate deemed by him to be proper and adequate to cover the class of risk insured, shall have its license, and those of its agents, to do business in this state, suspended until such time as the commissioner is satisfied that it is charging a proper rate of premium. [L. '11, p. 247, § 111.]

§ 7158. [6059-112.] Rate War—Offending Company—Agent's Commission.

Any company which has precipitated, or aided in precipitating or conducting a rate war for the purpose of punishing or eliminating competitors or stifling competition, or demoralizing the business, or for any other purpose, and has ordered the cancellation or rewriting of policies at a rate lower than that provided by its rating schedules where such rate war is not in operation, and has paid or attempted to pay to the assured any return premium, on any risk so to be rewritten, on which their agent has received or is entitled to receive his regular commission, such company shall not be allowed to charge back to such agent any portion of his commission on the ground that the same has not been earned. [L. '11, p. 247, § 112.]

§ 7159. [6059-113.] Adjuster to Report Violations.

Every adjuster, who investigates any loss claim in this state, shall ascertain whether there be double or over-insurance upon such risk and the facts and circumstances so far as practical pertaining to the origin or happening of the hazard or peril insured against, and in case he believes fraud has been committed or attempted to be committed, he shall promptly report the premises to the commissioner, and in case of fire insurance, to the fire marshal as well. [L. '11, p. 248, § 113.]

§ 7161. [6059-115.] Interest Reduced by Bottomry.

The insurable interest of the owner of a ship hypothecated by bottomry is only the excess of its value over the amount secured by bottomry. [L. '11, p. 248, § 115.]

§ 7162. [6059-116.] Freight Defined.

Freight, in the sense of a policy of marine insurance, signifies all the benefit derived by the owner, either from the chartering of the ship or its employment for the carriage of his own goods or those of others. [L. '11, p. 248, § 116.]

§ 7163. [6059-117.] Expected Freight.

The owner of a ship has an insurable interest in expected freight which he would have certainly earned but for the intervention of the perils insured against. [L. '11, p. 248, § 117.]

§ 7164. [6059-118.] Interest in Expected Freight.

The interest mentioned in the last section exists, in the case of charter-party, when the ship has broken ground on the chartered voyage, and if a price is to be paid for the carriage of goods when they are actually on board or there is some contract for putting them on board, and both ship and goods are ready for the specified voyage. [L. '11, p. 248, § 118.]

§ 7165. [6059-119.] Insurable Interest in Profits.

§ 7167. [6059-121.] Information—Communicated.

In marine insurance each party is bound to communicate, in good faith, all facts within his knowledge which are, or which he believes to be, material to the contract, and which the other has not the means of ascertaining, and as to which he makes no warranty, and all the information which he possesses, material to the risk, except that neither party to a contract of marine insurance is bound to communicate information of the matters following, unless it be in answer to the inquiries of the other:

First. Those which the other knows;

Second. Those which, in the exercise of ordinary care, the other ought to know, and of which the former has no reason to suppose him ignorant;

Third. Those of which the other waives communication;

Fourth. Those which prove or tend to prove the existence of a risk excluded by a warranty, and which are not otherwise material; and Fifth. Those which relate to a risk excepted from the policy, and which are not otherwise material.

He shall also state the exact and whole truth in relation to all matters that he represents, or upon inquiry assumes to disclose. [L. '11, p. 249, § 121.]

§ 7168. [6059-122.] Material Information.

In marine insurance, information of the belief or expectation of a third person, in reference to a material fact, is material. [L. '11, p. 249, § 122.]

§ 7169. [6059-123.] Presumption of Knowledge of Loss.

A person insured by a contract of marine insurance is presumed to have had knowledge, at the time of insuring, of a prior loss, if the information might possibly have reached him in the usual mode of transmission, and at the usual rate of communication. [L. '11, p. 250, § 123.]

§ 7170. [6059-124.] Concealment Affecting Risk Only.

A concealment in a marine insurance, in respect of any of the following matters, does not vitiate the entire contract, but merely exonerates the insurer from a loss resulting from the risk concealed.

First. The national character of the insured.

Second. The liability of the thing insured to capture and detention;

Third. The liability to seizure from breach of foreign laws of trade;

Fourth. The want of necessary documents; and,

Fifth. The use of false and simulated papers. [L. '11, p. 250, § 124.]

§ 7171. [6059-125.] Intentional Falsity—Effect.

If a representation, by a person insured under a contract of marine insurance, is intentionally false in any respect, whether material, or immaterial, the insurer may rescind the entire contract. [L. '11, p. 250, § 125.]

§ 7172. [6059-126.] Representation of Expectation.

The eventual falsity of a representation as to expectation does not, in the absence of fraud, avoid a contract of insurance. [L. '11, p. 250, § 126.]

§ 7173. [6059-127.] Seaworthiness—Warranty.

In every marine insurance upon a ship or freight, or freightage, or upon anything which is the subject of marine insurance, a warranty is implied that the ship is seaworthy. [L. '11, p. 250, § 127.]

§ 7174. [6059-128.] Seaworthiness Defined.

§ 7175. [6059-129.] Seaworthiness—Compliance With—Exceptions.

An implied warranty of seaworthiness is complied with if the ship be seaworthy at the time of the commencement of the risk, except in the following cases:

First. When the insurance is made for a specified length of time, the implied warranty is not complied with, unless the ship be seaworthy at the commencement of every voyage she may undertake during that time; and,

Second. When the insurance is upon the cargo, which, by the terms of the policy, or the description of the voyage, or the established custom of the trade, is to be transshipped at an intermediate port, the implied warranty is not complied with, unless each vessel upon which the cargo is shipped, or transshipped, be seaworthy at the commencement of its particular voyage. [L. '11, p. 251, § 129.]

§ 7176. [6059-130.] Seaworthiness—Warranty.

A warranty of seaworthiness extends not only to the condition of the structure of the ship itself, but requires that it be properly laden, and provided with a competent master, a sufficient number of competent officers and seamen, and the requisite appurtenances and equipments, such as ballast, cables and anchors, cordage and sails, food, water, fuel, and lights, and other necessary or proper stores and implements for the voyage. [L. '11, p. 251, § 130.]

§ 7177. [6059-131.] Seaworthiness—Degrees—Stages—Voyage.

Where different portions of the voyage contemplated by a policy, differ in respect to the things requisite to make the ship seaworthy therefor, a warranty of seaworthiness is complied with if, at the commencement of each portion, the ship is seaworthy with reference to that portion. [L. '11, p. 251, § 131.]

§ 7178. [6059-132.] Unseaworthiness During Voyage.

When a ship becomes unseaworthy during the voyage to which an insurance relates, an unreasonable delay in repairing the defect exonerates the insurer from liability from any loss arising therefrom. [L. '11, p. 251, § 132.]

§ 7179. [6059-133.] Seaworthiness—As to Insurance on Cargo.

A ship which is seaworthy for the purpose of an insurance upon the ship may, nevertheless, by reason of being unfit to receive the cargo, be unseaworthy for the purpose of insurance upon the cargo. [L. '11, p. 252, § 133.]

§ 7180. [6059-134.] Neutral Papers.

Where the nationality or the neutrality of a ship or cargo is expressly warranted, it is implied that the ship will carry the requisite documents to show such nationality or neutrality, and that it will not carry any documents which cast reasonable suspicion thereon. [L. '11, p. 252, § 134.]

§ 7181. [6059-135.] Voyage Insured—Determined.

When the voyage contemplated by a policy is described by the places of beginning and ending, the voyage insured is one which conforms to the course of sailing fixed by mercantile usage between those places. [L. '11, p. 252, § 135.]

§ 7182. [6059-136.] Sailing—Course—Determined.

If the course of sailing is not fixed by mercantile usage, the voyage insured by a policy is the way between the places specified which, to a master of ordinary skill and discretion, would seem the most natural, direct and advantageous. [L. '11, p. 252, § 136.]

§ 7183. [6059-137.] Deviation Defined.

Deviation is a departure from the course of the voyage insured, mentioned in the last two sections, or an unreasonable delay in pursuing the voyage, or the commencement of an entirely different voyage. [L. '11, p. 252, § 137.]

What is, and effect of deviation of vessel with respect to policy of marine insurance. 33 Am. Dec. 60.

Effect of deviation by necessity upon policy of marine insurance. 58 Am. Dec. 673.

§ 7184. [6059-138.] Deviation—Proper.

A deviation is proper:

First. When caused by circumstances over which neither the master nor the owner of the ship has any control;

Second. When necessary to comply with a warranty, or to avoid a peril, whether insured against it or not;

Third. When made in good faith, and upon reasonable grounds of belief in its necessity to avoid a peril; or,

Fourth. When made in good faith, for the purpose of saving human life, or relieving another vessel in distress. [L. '11, p. 252, § 138.]

§ 7185. [6059-139.] Deviation—Improper.

Every deviation not specified in the last section is improper. [L. '11, p. 253, § 139.]

§ 7186. [6059-140.] Proper Deviation Exonerates Insurer.

An insurer is not liable for any loss happening to a thing insured subsequently to an improper deviation. [L. '11, p. 253, § 140.]

§ 7187. [6059-141.] Loss—Total or Partial.

A loss may be either total or partial. [L. '11, p. 253, § 141.]

§ 7188. [6059-142.] Actual and Constructive Total Loss.

A total loss may be either actual or constructive. [L. '11, p. 253, § 142.]

§ 7189. [6059-143.] Actual Total Loss Defined.

An actual total loss is caused by:

First. A total destruction of the thing insured;

Second. The loss of the thing by sinking, or by being broken up;

Third. Any damage to the thing which renders it valueless to the owner for the purposes for which he held it; or,

Fourth. Any other event which entirely deprives the owner of the possession, at the port of destination, of the thing insured. [L. '11, p. 253, § 143.]

§ 7190. [6059-144.] Constructive Total Loss.

A constructive total loss is one which gives to a person insured a right to abandon, as hereinafter provided. [L. '11, p. 253, § 144.]

§ 7191. [6059-145.] Actual Loss—Presumed.

An actual loss may be presumed from the continued absence of a ship without being heard of; and the length of time which is sufficient to raise this presumption depends on the circumstances of the case. [L. '11, p. 253, § 145.]

§ 7192. [6059-146.] Insurance—Cargo—Voyage Broken.

When a ship is prevented, at an intermediate port, from completing the voyage, by the perils insured against, the master must make every exertion to produce, in the same or contiguous port, another ship, for the purpose of conveying the cargo to its destination; and the liability of a marine insurer thereon continues after they are thus reshipped. [L. '11, p. 253, § 146.]

§ 7193. [6059-147.] Reshipment—Cost, etc.

In addition to the liability mentioned in the last section, a marine insurer is bound for damages, expenses of discharging, storage, reshipment, extra freight, and all other expenses incurred in saving cargo reshipped pursuant to the last section, up to the amount insured. [L. '11, p. 254, § 147.]

§ 7194. [6059-148.] Insured—Entitled—Payment—When.

Upon an actual total loss, a person insured is entitled to payment without notice of abandonment. [L. '11, p. 254, § 148.]

§ 7195. [6059-149.] Average Loss.

When it has been agreed that an insurance upon a particular thing, or class of things, shall be free from particular average, a marine insurer is not liable for any particular average loss not depriving the insured of the possession, at the port of destination, of the whole of such thing, or class of things, even though it become entirely worthless;

but he is liable for his proportion of all general average loss assessed upon the thing insured. [L. '11, p. 254, § 149.]

§ 7196. [6059-150.] Insurance Against Total Loss.

An insurance confined in terms to an actual total loss, does not cover a constructive total loss, but covers any loss which necessarily results in depriving the insured of the possession, at the port of destination, of the thing insured. [L. '11, p. 254, § 150.]

Does a policy of marine insurance against total loss only, or containing an exception against liability for partial loss, cover a constructive total loss. L. R. A. 1916F, 1171.

§ 7197. [6059-151.] Abandonment Defined.

Abandonment is the act by which, after a constructive total loss, a person insured by contract of marine insurance declares to the insurer that he relinquishes to him his interest in the thing insured. [L. '11, p. 254, § 151.]

§ 7198. [6059-152.] Insured may Abandon.

A person insured by a contract of marine insurance may abandon the thing insured, or any particular portion thereof separately valued by the policy, or otherwise separately insured, and recover for a total loss thereof, when the cause of the loss is a peril insured against:

First. If more than half thereof in value is actually lost, or would have to be expended to recover it from the peril;

Second. If it is injured to such an extent as to reduce its value more than one-half;

Third. If the thing insured, being a ship, the contemplated voyage cannot be lawfully performed without incurring an expense to the insured of more than half the value of the thing abandoned, or without incurring a risk which a prudent man would not take under the circumstances; or,

Fourth. If the thing insured, being cargo or freight, the voyage cannot be performed nor another ship procured by the master, within a reasonable time and with reasonable diligence, to forward the cargo, without incurring the like expense or risk. But freight cannot in any case be abandoned, unless the ship is also abandoned. [L. '11, p. 254, § 152.]

§ 7200. [6059-154.] Abandonment—When may be.

Abandonment must be made within a reasonable time after the information of the loss, and after the commencement of the voyage, and before the party abandoning has information of its completion. [L. '11, p. 255, § 154.]

§ 7201. [6059-155.] Abandonment—When Defeated.

Where the information upon which an abandonment has been made proves incorrect, or the thing insured was so far restored when the abandonment was made that there was then in fact no total loss, the abandonment becomes ineffectual. [L. '11, p. 255, § 155.]

§ 7202. [6059-156.] Abandonment—How Made.

Abandonment is made by giving notice thereof to the insurer, which may be done orally, or in writing. [L. '11, p. 255, p. 156.]

§ 7203. [6059-157.] Notice—Requisition of.

A notice of abandonment must be explicit, and must specify the particular cause of the abandonment, but need state only enough to show that there is probable cause therefor, and need not be accompanied with proof of interest or loss. [L. '11, p. 225, § 157.]

§ 7204. [6059-158.] Abandonment—Sustained—Cause Specified.

An abandonment can be sustained only upon the cause specified in the notice thereof. [L. '11, p. 256, § 158.]

§ 7205. [6059-159.] Abandonment—Effect.

An abandonment is equivalent to a transfer, by the insured, of his interest, to the insurer, with all the chances of recovery and indemnity. [L. '11, p. 256, § 159.]

§ 7206. [6059-160.] Abandonment—Formal Waiver.

If a marine insurer pays for a loss as if it were an actual total loss, he is entitled to whatever may remain of the thing insured, or its proceeds, or salvage, as if there had been a formal abandonment. [L. '11, p. 256, § 160.]

§ 7207. [6059-161.] Agents' Acts—Risk of Insurer.

Upon an abandonment, acts done in good faith by those who were agents of the insured in respect to the thing insured, subsequent to the loss, are at the risk of the insurer, and for his benefit. [L. '11, p. 256, § 161.]

§ 7208. [6059-162.] Acceptance not Necessary.

An acceptance of an abandonment is not necessary to the rights of the insured, and is not to be presumed from the mere silence of the insurer, upon his receiving notice of abandonment. [L. '11, p. 256, § 162.]

§ 7209. [6059-163.] Acceptance Conclusive.

The acceptance of an abandonment, whether expressed or implied, is conclusive upon the parties, and admits the loss and the sufficiency of the abandonment. [L. '11, p. 256, § 163.]

§ 7210. [6059-164.] Abandonment—Accepted—Irrevocable.

An abandonment once made and accepted is irrevocable, unless the ground upon which it was made proves to be unfounded. [L. '11, p. 256, § 164.]

§ 7211. [6059-165.] Abandonment—Freight Affected.

On an accepted abandonment of a ship, freight earned previous to the loss belongs to the insurer thereof; but freight subsequently earned belongs to the insurer of the ship. [L. '11, p. 256, § 165.]

§ 7212. [6059-166.] Refusal to Accept.

If an insurer refuses to accept a valid abandonment, he is liable as upon the actual total loss, deducting from the amount any proceeds of the thing insured which may have come to the hands of the insured. [L. '11, p. 257, § 166.]

§ 7213. [6059-167.] Omission to Abandon.

If a person insured omits to abandon, he may nevertheless recover his actual loss. [L. '11, p. 257, § 167.]

§ 7214. [6059-168.] Valuation—When Conclusive.

A valuation in a policy of marine insurance is conclusive between the parties thereto in the adjustment of either a partial or total loss, if the insured has some interest at risk, and there is no fraud on his part; except that when a thing has been hypothecated by bottomry or respondentia, before its insurance, and without the knowledge of the person actually procuring the insurance, he may show the real value. But a valuation fraudulent in fact entitles the insurer to rescind the contract. [L. '11, p. 257, § 168.]

§ 7215. [6059-169.] Loss—Partial.

A marine insurer is liable upon a partial loss only for such proportion of the amount insured by him as the loss bears to the value of the whole interest of the insured in the property insured. [L. '11, p. 257, § 169.]

§ 7216. [6059-170.] Profits.

When profits are separately insured in a contract of marine insurance, the insured is entitled to recover, in case of loss, a proportion of such profits equivalent to the proportion which the value of the property lost bears to the value of the whole. [L. '11, p. 257, § 170.]

§ 7217. [6059-171.] Valuation—Apportioned.

In case of a valued policy of marine insurance on freight or cargo, if a part only of the subject is exposed to risk, the valuation applies only in proportion to such part. [L. '11, p. 257, § 171.]

§ 7218. [6059-172.] Valuation—Profits.

When profits are valued and insured by a contract of marine insurance, a loss of them is conclusively presumed from a loss of the property out of which they were expected to arise, and the valuation fixes their amount. [L. '11, p. 257, § 172.]

§ 7219. [6059-173.] Estimating Loss—Open Policy.

In estimating a loss under an open policy of marine insurance, unless otherwise provided in the policy, the following rules are to be observed:

First. The value of a ship is its value at the beginning of the risk, including all articles or charges which add to its permanent value, or which are necessary to prepare it for the voyage insured;

Second. The value of the cargo is its actual cost to the insured, when laden on board, or where that cost cannot be ascertained, its market value at the time and place of lading, adding the charges incurred in purchasing and placing it on board, but without reference to any losses incurred in raising money for its purchase, or to any drawback on its exportation or to the fluctuations of the market at the port of destination, or to expenses incurred on the way or on arrival.

Third. The value of freight is the gross freight, exclusive of primage, without reference to the cost of earning it; and,

Fourth. The cost of insurance is in each case to be added to the value thus estimated. [L. '11, p. 258, § 173.]

§ 7220. [6059-174.] Arrival—Damaged.

If the cargo insured against partial loss arrives at the port of destination in a damaged condition, unless otherwise provided in the policy, the loss of the insured is deemed to be the same proportion of the value which the market price at that port, of the thing so damaged, bears to the market price it would have brought if sound. [L. '11, p. 258, § 174.]

§ 7221. [6059-175.] Insurer—Liable—Expenses.

A marine insurer is liable for all the expenses attendant upon a loss which forces the ship into port to be repaired; and where it is agreed that the insured may labor for the recovery of the property, the insurer is liable for the expense incurred thereby, such expense, in either case, being in addition to a total loss if that afterward occurs. [L. '11, p. 258, § 175.]

§ 7222. [6059-176.] Insurer—Liable—Contribution—General Average.

A marine insurer, unless otherwise provided in the policy, is liable for a loss falling upon the insured, through a contribution in respect to the thing insured, required to be made by him toward a general average loss called for by a peril insured against. [L. '11, p. 259, § 176.]

§ 7223. [6059-177.] Contribution.

Where a person insured by a contract of marine insurance has a demand against others for contribution, he may claim the whole loss from the insurer, subrogating him to his own right to contribution. But no such claim can be made upon the insurer after the separation of the interests liable to contribution, nor when the insured, having the right and opportunity to enforce contribution from others, has neglected or waived the exercise of that right. [L. '11, p. 259, § 177.]

§ 7224. [6059-178.] One-third—New—Old.

In the case of partial loss of a ship or its equipment, except where a vessel is under one year of age, a deduction of one-third from the cost of all new work shall be made; that repairs where there is no betterment, shall not be subject to a deduction and that a credit for old material shall be first deducted from the cost of repairs before allowance of one-third new for old; that the cost of moving a vessel to and from a drydock and the cost of drydocking a vessel shall not be subject to a deduction of one-third; anchors and chains shall be allowed in full, and for metal sheathing a depreciation of two and one-half per centum shall be deducted for each month that it has been made fast to the vessel. [L. '15, p. 129, § 1. Cf. L. '11, p. 259, § 178.]

§ 7225. [6059-179.] Other Laws—Usages Made Applicable by Contract.

A policy of marine insurance may provide that it shall be interpreted and applied according to the laws, usages and practices of any other government, and when so provided the policy shall be interpreted and applied according to the laws, usages and practices of such government. [L. '11, p. 259, § 179.]

ARTICLE III. LIFE, HEALTH AND ACCIDENT.

No life insurance company doing business in this state shall make or permit any distinction or discrimination in favor of individuals, between insurants of the same class and equal expectation of life, in the amount of payments of premiums or rates charged for policies of life or endowment insurance, or in the dividends or other benefits payable thereon, or in any other of the terms and conditions of the contracts it makes; nor shall any company or agent, subagent, or broker, make any contract of insurance or agreement as to such contract, other than is plainly expressed in the policy issued thereon; nor shall any such company or agent, subagent, or broker, pay or allow, or offer to pay or allow, as inducement to insurance, any rebate of premium payable on the policy, or any special favor or advantage in the dividends or other benefits to accrue thereon, or any other valuable consideration or inducement whatsoever not specified in the policy contract of insurance.

No life insurance company shall issue in this state, nor permit its agents, officers, or employees to issue in this state, agency company stock, or other stock or securities, or any special or advisory board contract, or other contract of any kind promising returns and profits, as an inducement to insurance; and no life insurance company shall be authorized, nor permitted to do business, in this state, which issues or permits its agents, officers, or employees, to issue in this state or in any other state or territory, agency company stock, or other stock or securities, or any special advisory board contract, or other contract of any kind promising returns and profits, as an inducement to insurance; and no corporation or stock company, acting as agent of a life insurance company nor any of its agents, officers, or employees, shall be permitted to agree to sell, offer to sell, or give or offer to give, directly or indirectly, in any manner whatsoever, any share of stock, securities, bonds, or agreement of any form or nature, promising returns and profits, as an inducement to insurance or in connection therewith. [L. '11, p. 260, § 180.]

Validity of Contract for Rebates: See Remington's Digest, Insurance, § 9; Calvin Phillips & Co. v. Fishback, 84 Wash. 124, 146 Pac. 181.

Where a life insurance solicitor agreed that his commissions for procuring life insurance should be his compensation for procuring for the assured a real estate mortgage loan from the insurance company, he induced the insurance by a rebate of the premium to the extent of his commissions, in violation of this section: Moser v. Pantages, 96 Wash. 65, 164 Pac. 768.

A life insurance solicitor's contract calling for a rebate in violation of this section is void, notwithstanding the statute does not declare such contracts void; in view of the fact that it clearly prohibits such contracts, and of section 7244, infra, providing that any insurance agent willfully violating any of the provisions of the article shall be fined and have his license revoked: Moser v. Pantages, 96 Wash. 65, 164 Pac. 768.

§ 7227. [6059-181.] Policies—By Whom Signed.

All life insurance policies delivered in this state shall be signed by the secretary or assistant secretary; or, in their absence, by a secretary pro tempore, and by the president or vice-president, or, in their absence, by two directors, of the company issuing same. [L. '11, p. 261, § 181.]

§ 7228. [6259-182.] Medical Examination must be Made.

No life insurance company organized under the laws of, or doing business in, this state, shall enter into any contract of insurance upon lives within this state, except industrial insurance or where premiums are payable monthly or oftener, without having previously made, or caused to be made, a prescribed medical examination of the insured by a legally qualified practicing physician: Provided, that any regularly commissioned physician of the United States army or navy shall be considered as legally qualified to make such examinations. [L. '15, p. 600, § 13. Cf. L. '11, p. 261, § 182.]

§ 7229. [6059-183.] Policy must be Filed.

On and after January first, nineteen hundred twelve, no policy of life or endowment insurance shall be issued or delivered in this state until a copy of the form thereof has been filed at least thirty days with the commissioner, unless before the expiration of said thirty days the commissioner shall have approved the same in writing; nor if the commissioner notifies the company in writing, that, in his opinion, the form of said policy does not comply with the requirements of the laws of this state, specifying the reasons for his opinion: Provided, that upon the petition of the company the opinion of the commissioner shall be subject to review by any court of competent jurisdiction. [L. '11, p. 261, § 183.]

§ 7230. [6059-184.] Terms of Policy.

No life insurance policy, except policies of industrial insurance or where the premiums are payable monthly or oftener, shall be issued or delivered in this state on and after January first, nineteen hundred and twelve, unless it contains in substance the following provisions:

(1) A provision that the insured is entitled to a grace of at least thirty days within which the payment of any premium after the first year may be paid, subject, at the option of the company, to an interest charge not in excess of six per centum per annum for the number of days of grace elapsing before the payment of the premium, during which period of grace the policy shall continue in force, but in case the policy becomes a claim during the said period of grace before the overdue premium or the deferred premiums of the policy year, if any are paid, the amount of such premiums, with interest on any overdue premium, may be deducted from any amount payable under the policy in settlement.

(2) A provision that [the] policy, so far as it relates to life or endowment insurance, shall be incontestable after two years from its date of issue except for nonpayment of premiums, and except for violation of the conditions of the policy relating to military or naval service in time of war.

(3) A provision that the policy and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the parties and that all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

(4) A provision that if the age of the insured has been misstated the amount payable under the policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

(5) A provision that the policy shall participate in the surplus of the company annually or quinquennially.

(6) A provision specifying the option to which the policy-holder is entitled in the event of default in a premium payment after three full annual premiums shall have been paid.

(7) A provision that after the policy has been in force for three full years, the company at any time, while the policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment or pledge of the policy and on the sole security thereof, at a specified rate of interest not exceeding six per centum per annum, a sum equal to, or at the option of the owner of the policy less than, ninety per centum of the reserve at the end of the current policy year on the policy and on any dividend additions thereto, less a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the amount insured by the policy and of any dividend additions thereto; and that the company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year; which provision may further provide that such loan may be deferred for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made.

(8) A table showing in figures the loan value, if any, and the options available under the policy each year upon default in premium payments, during at least the first twenty years of the policy, or for its life if maturity is less than twenty years, beginning with the year in which such values and options first become available.

(9) In case the proceeds of a policy are payable in installments or as an annuity, a table showing the amounts of the installments or annuity payments.

(10) A provision that the holder of a policy shall be entitled to have the policy reinstated at any time within three years from the date of default, unless the cash value has been duly paid, or the extension period expired, upon the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all overdue premiums and any other indebtedness to the company upon said policy with interest at a rate not exceeding six per centum per annum payable annually.

Any of the foregoing provisions or portions thereof not applicable to single premium or nonparticipating or term policies shall to that extent not be incorporated therein. [L. '11, p. 261, § 184.]

§ 7230-1. [6158.] Beneficiary's Rights — Exemption from Debts — Premiums Paid in—Fraud on Creditors—Widow's Right.

If a policy of insurance is effected by any person on his own life, or on another life in favor of a person other than himself having an insurable interest therein, the lawful beneficiary thereof, other than himself or his legal representatives, shall unless contrary to the terms of the policy, be entitled to its proceeds against the creditors and representatives of the person effecting the same; and the person to whom a policy of life insurance is made payable may maintain an action thereon in his own name: Provided, that, subject to the statute of limitation, the amount of any premium for said insurance paid in fraud of creditors, with interest thereon, shall inure to their benefit from the proceeds of the policy, but the company issuing the policy shall be discharged of all liability thereon by payment of its proceeds in accordance with its terms, unless, before such payment, the company shall have written notice by or in behalf of a creditor, with specification of the amount claimed, claiming to recover for certain premiums paid in fraud of creditors. Every policy of life insurance made payable to or for the benefit of a married woman, or after its issue assigned, transferred or in any way made payable to a married woman, or to any person in trust for her or for her benefit, whether procured by herself, her husband or by any other person, and whether the assignment or transfer is made by her husband or by any other person, shall, unless contrary to the terms of the policy, inure to her separate use and benefit, and to that of her children, subject to the provisions of this section relative to premiums paid in fraud of creditors. This section was not impliedly repealed 7292 of this code: Elsom v. Gadd, 93 by the Insurance Code of 1911, §§ 7032— Wash. 603, 161 Pac. 483, 162 Pac. 867.

§ 7231. [6059-185.] Policy Binding on Company.

In any claim arising under a policy which has been issued in this state by any life insurance company, without previous medical examination, or without the knowledge and consent of the insured, or, if said insured is under eighteen years of age, without the consent of the parent, guardian or other person having legal custody of the said minor, the statements made in the application as to age, physical condition, and family history of the insured, shall be held to be valid and binding upon the company, but the company shall not be debarred from proving as a defense to such claim that said statements were willfully false, fraudulent, or misleading. Every policy, except industrial or those calling for premiums monthly or oftener, shall have attached thereto a correct copy of the application, including all answers made by the applicant, and unless so attached the same shall not be considered a part of the policy or received in evidence. § 7232. [6059-186.] Assessment Life Insurance.

No life insurance company or association, other than fraternal beneficiary associations, which issues contracts, the performance of which is contingent upon the payment of assessments or calls made upon its members, shall do business within this state, except such companies or associations as are now licensed to do business within this state, and which shall value their assessment policies, or certificates of membership as yearly renewable term contracts according to the standard of valuation of life insurance policies prescribed by the laws of this state.

Every such company or association must have assets of at least two hundred thousand dollars invested in securities such as are approved by this act, and must have paid in full all legal death claims for the last twelve months.

Every such company or association shall, on or before February fifteenth of each year, file with the commissioner a statement, upon a form to be prescribed and furnished by him, showing the true condition of the company or association as of December thirty-first next preceding, § 7233. [6059-187.*] Health and Accident Insurance—Standard Provision for Policies.

(a) On and after the first day of January, 1922, no policy of insurance against loss or damage from the sickness, or the bodily injury or death of the insured by accident shall be issued or delivered to any person in this state until a copy of the form thereof and of the classification of risks, if more than one class of risks is written and the premium rates pertaining thereto have been filed with the insurance commissioner; nor shall it be so issued or delivered until the expiration of thirty days after it has been so filed unless the said commissioner shall sooner give his written approval thereto. If the said commissioner shall notify, in writing, the company, corporation, association, society or other insurer which has filed such form that it does not comply with the requirements of law, specifying the reasons for his opinion, it shall be unlawful thereafter for any such insurer to issue any policy in such form. The action of the said commissioner in this regard shall be subject to review by any court of competent jurisdiction: Provided, however, that nothing in this act shall be so construed as to give jurisdiction to any court not already having jurisdiction. § 7234. Conditions Precedent.

(b) No such policy shall be so issued or delivered (1) unless the entire money and other considerations therefor are expressed in the policy; nor (2) unless the time at which the insurance thereunder takes effect and terminates is stated in a portion of the policy preceding its execution by the insurer; nor (3) if the policy purports to insure more than one person; nor (4) unless every printed portion thereof and of any indorsements or attached papers shall be plainly printed in type of which the face shall be not smaller than ten-point; nor (5) unless a brief description thereof be printed on its first page and on its filing back in type of which the face shall be not smaller than fourteen point; nor (6) unless the exceptions of the policy be printed with the same prominence as the benefits to which they apply: Provided, however, that any portion of such policy which purports, by reason of the circumstances under which a loss is incurred, to reduce any indemnity promised therein to an amount less than that provided for the same loss occurring under ordinary circumstances, shall be printed in bold face type and with greater prominence than any other portion of the text of the policy. [L. '21, p. 103, § 1, subd. (b).]

§ 7235. Standard Provisions.

(c) Every such policy so issued shall contain certain standard provisions, which shall be in the words and in the order hereinafter set forth and be preceded in every policy by the caption, "Standard Provisions." In each such standard provision wherever the word "insurer" is used, there shall be substituted therefor "company" or "corporation" or "association" or "society" or such other word as will properly designate the insurer. Said standard provisions shall be:

(1) A standard provision relative to the contract which may be in either of the following two forms: Form (A) to be used in policies which do not provide for reduction of indemnity on account of change of occupation, and form (B) to be used in policies which do so provide. If form (B) is used and the policy provides indemnity against loss from sickness, the words "or contracts sickness" may be inserted therein immediately after the words "in the event that the insured is injured":

(A) 1. This policy includes the indorsements and attached papers, if any, and contains the entire contract of insurance. No reduction shall be made in any indemnity herein provided by reason of change in the occupation of the insured or by reason of his doing any act or thing pertaining to any other occupation.

(B) 1. This policy includes the indorsements and attached papers, if any, and contains the entire contract of insurance except as it may be modified by the insurer's classification of risks and premium rates in the event that the insured is injured after having changed his occupation to one classified by the insurer as more hazardous than that stated in the policy, or while he is doing any act or thing pertaining to any occupation so classified, except ordinary duties about his residence or while engaged in recreation, in which event the insurer will pay only such portion of the indemnities provided in the policy as the premium paid would have purchased at the rate but within the limits so fixed by the insurer for such more hazardous occupation.

If the law of the state in which the insured resides at the time this policy is issued requires that prior to its issue a statement of the premium rates and classification of risks pertaining to it shall be filed with the state official having supervision of insurance in such state, then the premium rates and classification of risks mentioned in this policy shall mean only such as have been last filed by the insurer in accordance with such law, but if such filing is not required by such law then they shall mean the insurer's premium rates and classification of risks last made effective by it in such state prior to the occurrence of the loss for which the insurer is liable.

(2) A standard provision relative to changes in the contract, which shall be in the following form:

2. No statement made by the applicant for insurance not included herein shall avoid the policy or be used in any legal proceeding hereunder. No agent has authority to change this policy or to waive any of its provisions. No change in this policy shall be valid unless approved by an executive officer of the insurer and such approval be indorsed hereon.

(3) A standard provision relative to reinstatement of policy after lapse which may be in either of the three following forms: Form (A) to be used in policies which insure only against loss from accident; form (B) to be used only in policies which insure only against loss from sickness; and form (C) to be used in policies which insure against loss from both accident and sickness.

(A) 3. If default be made in the payment of the agreed premium for this policy, the subsequent acceptance of a premium by the insurer or by any of its duly authorized agents shall reinstate the policy, but only to cover loss resulting from accidental injury thereafter sustained.

(B) 3. If default be made in the payment of the agreed premium for this policy, the subsequent acceptance of a premium by the insurer or by any of its duly authorized agents shall reinstate the policy but only to cover such sickness as may begin more than ten days after the date of such acceptance.

(C) 3. If default be made in the payment of the agreed premium for this policy, the subsequent acceptance of a premium by the insurer or by any of its duly authorized agents shall reinstate the policy but only to cover accidental injury thereafter sustained and such sickness as may begin more than ten days after the date of such acceptance.

(4) A standard provision relative to time of notice of claim which may be in either of the three following forms: Form (A) to be used in policies which insure only against loss from accident; form (B) to be used in policies which insure only against loss from sickness; and form (C) to be used in policies which insure against loss from both accident and sickness. If form (A) or form (C) is used the insurer may at its option add thereto the following sentence: "In event of accidental death immediate notice thereof must be given to the insurer."

(A) 4. Written notice of injury on which claim may be based must be given to the insurer within twenty days after the date of the accident causing such injury.

(B) 4. Written notice of sickness on which claim may be based must be given to the insurer within ten days after the commencement of the disability from such sickness.

(C) 4. Written notice of injury or of sickness on which claim may be based must be given to the insurer within twenty days after the date of the accident causing such injury or within ten days after the commencement of disability from such sickness.

(5) A standard provision relative to sufficiency of notice of claim which shall be in the following form and in which the insurer shall insert in the blank space such office and its location as it may desire to designate for such purpose of notice:

5. Such notice given by or in behalf of the insured or beneficiary, as the case may be, to the insurer at . . . or to any authorized agent of the insurer, with particulars sufficient to identify the insured, shall be deemed to be notice to the insurer. Failure to give notice within the time provided in this policy shall not invalidate any claim if it shall be shown not to have been reasonably possible to give such notice and that notice was given as soon as was reasonably possible.

(6) A standard provision relative to furnishing forms for the convenience of the insured in submitting proof of loss as follows:

6. The insurer upon receipt of such notice, will furnish to the claimant such forms as are usually furnished by it for filing proofs of loss. If such forms are not so furnished within fifteen days after the receipt of such notice, the claimant shall be deemed to have complied with the requirements of this policy as to proof of loss upon submitting within the time fixed in the policy for filing proofs of loss, written proof covering the occurrence, character and extent of the loss for which claim is made.

(7) A standard provision relative to filing proof of loss which shall be in such one of the following forms as may be appropriate to the indemnities provided:

(A) 7. Affirmative proof of loss must be furnished to the insurer at its said office within ninety days after the date of the loss for which claim is made.

(B) 7. Affirmative proof of loss must be furnished to the insurer at its said office within ninety days after the termination of the period of disability for which the company is liable.

(C) 7. Affirmative proof of loss must be furnished to the insurer at its said office in case of claim for loss of time from disability within ninety days after the termination of the period for which the insurer is liable, and in case of claim for any other loss, within ninety days after the date of such loss.

(8) A standard provision relative to examination of the person of the insured and relative to autopsy which shall be in the following form:

8. The insurer shall have the right and opportunity to examine the person of the insured when and so often as it may reasonably require during the pendency of claim hereunder, and also the right and opportunity to make an autopsy in case of death where it is not forbidden by law.

(9) A standard provision relative to the time within which payments other than those for loss of time on account of disability shall be made, which provision may be in either of the following two forms and which may be omitted from any policy providing only indemnity for loss of time on account of disability. The insurer shall insert in the blank space either the word "immediately" or appropriate language to designate such period of time, not more than sixty days, as it may desire; form (A) to be used in policies which do not provide indemnity for loss of time on account of disability and form (B) to be used in policies which do so provide.

(A) 9. All indemnities provided in this policy will be paid . . . after receipt of due proof.

(B) 9. All indemnities provided in this policy for loss other than that of time on account of disability will be paid — after receipt of due proof.

(10) A standard provision relative to periodical payments of indemnity for loss of time on account of disability, which provision shall be in the following form, and which may be omitted from any policy not providing for such indemnity. The insurer shall insert in the first blank space of the form appropriate language to designate the proportion of accrued indemnity it may desire to pay, which proportion may be all or any part not less than one-half, and in the second blank space shall insert any period of time not exceeding sixty days:

10. Upon request of the insured and subject to due proof of loss — accrued indemnity for loss of time on account of disability will be paid at the expiration of — during the continuance of the period for which the insurer is liable, and any balance remaining unpaid at the termination of such period will be paid immediately upon receipt of due proof.

(11) A standard provision relative to indemnity payments which may be in either of the two following forms: Form (A) to be used in policies which designate a beneficiary and form (B) to be used in policies which do not designate any beneficiary other than the insured:

(A) 11. Indemnity for loss of life of the insured is payable to the beneficiary if surviving the insured, and otherwise to the estate of the insured. All other indemnities of this policy are payable to the insured.

(B) 11. All the indemnities of this policy are payable to the insured.

(12) A standard provision providing for cancellation of the policy at the instance of the insured which shall be in the following form:

12. If the insured shall at any time change his occupation to one classified by the insurer as less hazardous than that stated in the policy, the insurer, upon written request of the insured and surrender of the policy, will cancel the same and will return to the insured the unearned premium.

(13) A standard provision relative to the rights of the beneficiary under the policy which shall be in the following form and which may be omitted from any policy not designating a beneficiary:

13. Consent of the beneficiary shall not be requisite to surrender or assignment of this policy, or to change of beneficiary, or to any other changes in the policy.

(14) A standard provision limiting the time within which suit may be brought upon the policy as follows:

14. No action at law or in equity shall be brought to recover on this policy prior to the expiration of sixty days after proof of loss has been filed in accordance with the requirements of this policy, nor shall such action be brought at all unless brought within two years from the expiration of the time within which proof of loss is required by the policy.

(15) A standard provision relative to time limitations of the policy as follows:

15. If any time limitation of this policy with respect to giving notice of claim or furnishing proof of loss is less than that permitted by the law of the state in which the insured resides at the time this policy is issued, such limitation is hereby extended to agree with the minimum period permitted by such law. [L. '21, p. 103, § 1, subd. (c).]

§ 7236. Restricted Provisions.

(d) No such policy shall be so issued or delivered which contains any provision (1) relative to cancellation at the instance of the insurer, or (2) limiting the amount of indemnity to a sum less than the amount stated in the policy and for which the premium has been paid; or, (3) providing for the deduction of any premium from the amount paid in settlement of claim; or, (4) relative to other insurance by the same insurer; or, (5) relative to the age limits of the policy; unless such provisions which are hereby designated as optional standard provisions, shall be in the words and in the order in which they are hereinafter set forth, but the insurer may at its option omit from the policy any such optional standard provision. Such optional standard provisions if inserted in the policy shall immediately succeed the standard provisions named in subd. (c) of this section.

(1) An optional standard provision relative to cancellation of the policy at the instance of the insurer as follows:

16. The insurer may cancel this policy at any time by written notice delivered to the insured or mailed to his last address, as shown by the records of the insurer, together with cash or the insurer's check for the unearned portion of the premiums actually paid by the insured, and such cancellation shall be without prejudice to any claim originating prior thereto.

(2) An optional standard provision relative to reduction of the amount of indemnity to a sum less than that stated in the policy as follows:

17. If the insured shall carry with another company, corporation, association or society other insurance covering the same loss without giving written notice to the insurer, then in that case the insurer shall be liable only for such portion of the indemnity promised as the said indemnity bears to the total amount of like indemnity in all policies covering such loss, and for the return of such part of the premium paid as shall exceed the pro rata for the indemnity thus determined.

(3) An optional standard provision relative to deduction of premium upon settlement of claim as follows:

18. Upon payment of claim hereunder any premium then due and unpaid or covered by any note or written order may be deducted therefrom.

(4) An optional standard provision relative to other insurance by the same insurer which shall be in such one of the following forms as may be appropriate to the indemnities provided, and in the blank spaces of which the insurer shall insert such upward limits of indemnity as are specified by the insurer's classification of risks, filed as required by this section.

(A) 19. If a like policy or policies, previously issued by the insurer to the insured be in force concurrently herewith, making the aggregate indemnity in excess of $——, the excess insurance shall be void and all premiums paid for such excess shall be returned to the insured.

(B) 19. If a like policy or policies, previously issued by the insurer to the insured be in force concurrently herewith, making the aggregate indemnity for loss of time on account of disability in excess of $—— weekly, the excess insurance shall be void and all premiums paid for such excess shall be returned to the insured.

(C) 19. If a like policy or policies, previously issued by the insurer to the insured be in force concurrently herewith, making the aggregate indemnity for loss other than that of time on account of disability in excess of $——, or the aggregate indemnity for loss of time on account of disability in excess of $—— weekly, the excess insurance of either kind shall be void and all premiums paid for such excess shall be returned to the insured.

(5) An optional standard provision relative to the age limits of the policy shall be in the following form and in the blank spaces of which the insurer shall insert such number of years as it may elect:

20. The insurance under this policy shall not cover any person under the age of —— years nor over the age of —— years. Any premium paid to the insurer for any period not covered by this policy will be returned upon request. [L. '21, p. 110, § 1, subd. (d).]

§ 7237. Provisions Contrary to Those Authorized.

(e) No such policy shall be so issued or delivered if it contains any provision contradictory in whole or part, of any of the provisions hereinbefore in this act designated as "Standard provisions" or as "Optional standard provisions"; nor shall any indorsement or attached papers vary, alter, extend, be used as a substitute for, or in any way conflict with any of the said "Standard provisions" or the said "Optional standard provisions"; nor shall such policy be so issued or delivered if it contains any provision purporting to make any portion of the charter, constitution or by-laws of the insurer a part of the policy unless such portion of the charter, constitution or by-laws shall be set forth in full in the policy, but this prohibition shall not be deemed to apply to any statement of rates or classification of risks filed with the insurance commissioner in accordance with the provisions with this section. [L. '21, p. 113, § 1, subd. (e).]

§ 7238. False Statements in Application.

(f) The falsity of any statement in the application for any policy covered by this section shall not bar the right to recovery thereunder unless such false statement was made with actual intent to deceive or unless it materially affected either the acceptance of the risk or the hazard assumed by the insurer. [L. '21, p. 113, § 1, subd. (f).]

§ 7239. Defenses of Insurer not Waived.

(g) The acknowledgment by any insurer of the receipt of notice given under any policy covered by this section, or the furnishing of forms for filing proofs of loss, or the acceptance of such proofs, or the investigation of any claim thereunder shall not operate as a waiver of any of the rights of the insurer in defense of any claim arising under such policy. [L. '21, p. 113, § 1, subd. (g).]

§ 7240. Unauthorized Alterations of Application.

(h) No alteration of any written application for insurance by erasure, insertion or otherwise, shall be made by any person other than the applicant without his written consent, and the making of any such alteration without the consent of the applicant shall be a misdemeanor. If such alteration shall be made by any officer of the insurer, or by any employee of the insurer with the insurer's knowledge or consent, then such act shall be deemed to have been performed by the insurer thereafter issuing the policy upon such altered application. [L. '21, p. 114, § 1, subd. (h).]

§ 7241. Policy in Violation of Law Valid.

(i) A policy issued in violation of this section shall be held valid but shall be construed as provided in this section and when any provision in such policy is in conflict with any provision of this section the rights, duties and obligations of the insurer, the policy-holder and the beneficiary shall be governed by the provisions of this section. [L. '21, p. 114, § 1, subd. (i).]

§ 7242. Application of Act.

(j) (1) Nothing in this section, however, shall apply to or affect any policy of liability or workmen's compensation insurance or any general or blanket policy of insurance issued to any municipal corporation or department thereof, or to any corporation, copartnership, association or individual employer, police or fire department, underwriter's corps, salvage bureau, or like associations or organizations, where the officers, members or employees or classes or departments thereof are insured for their individual benefit against specified accidental bodily injuries or sickness while exposed to the hazards of the occupation or otherwise in consideration of a premium intended to cover the risks of all the persons insured under such policy.

(2) Nothing in this act shall apply to or in any way affect contracts of life or endowment insurance or contracts supplemental thereto, where such contracts or supplemental contracts contain no provisions relating to accident or health insurance except accidental death benefits and except such as operate to safeguard such insurance against lapse, or to give a special surrender value or an annuity providing for payments during the lifetime of the insured, with or without reduction of the sum insured in the event that the insured shall be totally and permanently disabled from any cause: Provided, that no such supplemental contract shall be issued or delivered to any person in this state unless and until a copy of the form thereof has been submitted to and approved by the insurance commissioner, under such reasonable rules and regulations as he shall make concerning the provisions of such contracts and their submission to and approval by him.

(3) The provisions of this act contained in clause (5) of subdivision (b) and clauses (2), (3), (8) and (12) of subdivision (c) may be omitted from railroad ticket policies sold only at railroad stations or at railroad ticket offices by railroad employees. [L. '21, p. 114, § 1, subd. (j).]

§ 7251. [6059-198.] Classes of Securities.

Such guaranty fund shall be composed of sureties specified as authorized investments in this act: Provided, that any domestic company, owning, at the time this act takes effect, stocks of any national or state bank doing business in this state, which according to its latest report to the comptroller of currency or the state bank examiner, has its capital fully paid, and has in addition thereto a surplus fund amounting to not less than twenty per cent of its capital, may deposit such stocks at par value thereof with the state treasurer, in lieu of the securities authorized by this act, until the same under the provisions of this act, can be exchanged or converted into securities authorized by this act: Provided, however, that not to exceed forty per cent of the total capital stock of any such bank shall be deposited with the state treasurer as part or whole of any such guaranty fund. All such securities shall be registered in the name of or indorsed or assigned to said state treasurer officially, as the occasion and the due and orderly course of business may require. The securities so deposited shall be held by the state treasurer as a special guaranty fund, securing the faithful performance on the part of any such company of all its undertakings and liabilities upon its guaranteed certificates of title, policies of title insurance, or other guaranties of title to property and to the extent of any outstanding liabilities thereon, shall not be subject to any other outstanding liabilities of the company. [L. '11, p. 271, § 198.]

§ 7252. [6059-199.] Conditions of Deposit.

That such deposit shall be by the state treasurer held subject to the following conditions:

(1) The state treasurer shall deliver to the company depositing such guaranty fund a receipt in full for all securities so deposited with him. The company may from time to time withdraw securities or any part thereof on depositing with said state treasurer cash or other authorized securities, so as at all times to maintain the value of said guaranty fund deposit at not less than the amount required by this act.

(2) All interest or dividends accruing on said securities deposited with the state treasurer under authority of this act shall belong to and at all times be available to the company making such deposit and the said state treasurer shall permit said company so long as it shall continue solvent to collect the interest or dividends on said securities so deposited. The state treasurer shall be the agent of both parties to receive, receipt for and pay over said interest or dividends when the same are paid to him by reason of the custody of said deposit, and he is hereby authorized to make such indorsements on said securities as the occasion and the due and orderly course of business may require. The rights of said company to demand of and receive from the state treasurer said interest or dividends, shall be subject, however, to the provisions of the following paragraph.

(3) If pursuant to liability on a guaranteed certificate of title, or policy of title insurance or other guaranty of title to property, a judgment shall be entered in a court of general jurisdiction in this state against a company which has made a deposit of securities with the state treasurer subject to the provisions of this act and such judgment shall have become final either by failure to appeal, dismissal of appeal, or by affirmance on appeal, or otherwise, and such judgment shall not be paid and satisfied in full within thirty days after the finality of said judgment has become fixed, then in every such case said judgment may be enforced against said securities so deposited with the state treasurer upon petition of the judgment creditor in the same cause wherein judgment was obtained, setting forth the facts aforesaid, whereupon it shall be the duty of the court wherein said judgment is entered to direct the issuance of a special execution directed to the sheriff of the county in which the capital of the state is situated, which execution shall be as near as may be in the usual form and shall require on the part of said sheriff, the sale of said securities or so much thereof as may be necessary to the satisfaction of said judgment. When application is made for the issuance of said special execution herein provided for, and the court allows the same, the order in which said special execution is authorized, shall direct that service of a copy of the said judgment and the said petition shall be made within five days thereafter upon the state treasurer. All proceedings relating to the enforcement of said writ of execution against said securities shall conform as near as may be to the practice in ordinary cases except as herein otherwise specially provided. Proceedings under said execution shall be a sufficient authority where notices aforesaid have been served on said state treasurer for the delivery by said state treasurer to the sheriff of the securities to be sold upon said execution.

(4) Except as herein provided, the state treasurer shall hold intact the securities deposited with him and shall retain the same until such time as all liabilities under any guaranteed certificate of title, or policy of title insurance, or other guaranty of title, issued by the company having deposited such securities, shall have legally terminated, or until such time as all liabilities of said company under such guaranteed certificates of title or policies of title insurance or other guaranties of title, shall have been assumed by some other title insurance company of equal financial standing and responsibility, authorized to transact business in this state, upon which conditions alone and on application of said company verified by the oath of its president and of its secretary, and upon satisfactory examination of its books, and of its officers under oath that such conditions have been met, the state treasurer is authorized and it shall be his duty to forthwith return the securities to the said company. On return of the securities, the certificates of authority issued to said company by the state insurance commissioner shall be revoked and notice thereof given in the same manner as provided for in the next succeeding paragraph:

(5) Provided, however, that if the aforesaid guaranty fund is at any time impaired by reason of the payment of any judgment against the company depositing such funds or by reason of the nonpayment of the annual fee as herein provided, or at all, and remains so impaired for a period of thirty days after notice to the company, the commissioner is hereby authorized and it shall be his duty to immediately revoke the certificate of authority granted said company, and to publish a notice of such revocation in a daily paper of general circulation, published in the city wherein said company has its principal office at least once in each week for six successive weeks, the expense of such publication to be chargeable against the said guaranty fund of said company. [L. '11, p. 275, § 200.]

It shall be unlawful for any company to engage in said business of insuring or guaranteeing the owners or encumbrancers of property against loss as hereinbefore specified, unless such company shall have complied with all of the provisions of this act; and if any company, its agent or attorney shall issue any guaranteed certificate of title, or policy of title insurance, or other guaranty of title to property, or guarantee or insure any owner or encumbrancer of property against loss as hereinbefore specified, without having complied with the laws of this state with regard thereto, such company, or its agent, or attorney, issuing such guaranteed certificate of title, or policy of title insurance, or other guaranty of title, or undertaking such guarantee or insurance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and be subject to a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars for each such offense, in the discretion of the court. § 7256. [6059-203.] Expiration of Certificate of Authority—Renewal—Suspension.

Every certificate of authority granted in pursuance of the provisions of this act to a company engaged wholly or in part in said business of insuring or guaranteeing the owners or encumbrancers of property against loss as hereinbefore specified, shall expire on the first day of April after the date of issue. The certificate of authority may be renewed from year to year upon application to the commissioner and upon evidence of compliance by the company with the provisions of this act. If the commissioner is not satisfied that the securities composing the guaranty fund of any such company remain secure, he may suspend the authority of such company to do a title insurance business until any impairment or depreciation of such guaranty fund is made good. Such society shall, upon written application of the members, have the power to accept a part of the periodical contributions in cash, and charge the remainder, not exceeding one-half of the periodical contributions, against the certificate with interest payable or compounded annually at a rate not lower than four per cent per annum: Provided, that this privilege shall not be granted except to societies which have readjusted or may hereafter readjust their rates of contribution and to contracts affected by such readjustment.

Unless otherwise provided in the contract, such funds shall be held, invested, and disbursed for the use and benefit of the society, and no member or beneficiary shall have or acquire individual rights therein or become entitled to any apportionment or the surrender of any part thereof, except as provided in section 7263 of this article. The funds from which benefits shall be paid and the funds from which the expenses of the society shall be defrayed, shall be derived from periodical or other payments by the members of the society and accretions of said funds: Provided, that no society, domestic or foreign, shall hereafter be incorporated or admitted to transact business in this state, which does not provide for stated periodical contributions sufficient to provide for meeting the mortuary obligations contracted, when valued upon the basis of the National Fraternal Congress Table of Mortality as adopted by the National Fraternal Congress, August twenty-third, eighteen hundred and ninety-nine, or any higher standard with interest assumption not more than four per cent per annum, nor write or accept members for temporary or permanent disability benefits except upon tables based upon reliable experience, with an interest assumption not higher than four per cent per annum.

(2) Deferred payments or installments of claims shall be considered as fixed liabilities on the happening of the contingency upon which such payments or installments are thereafter to be paid. Such liability shall be the present value of such future payments or installments upon the rate of interest and mortality assumed by the society for valuation, and every society shall maintain a fund sufficient to meet such liability regardless of proposed future collections to meet any such liabilities. § 7268. [6059-215.] Investments.

Every society shall invest its funds only in securities permitted by the laws of this state for the investment of the assets of life insurance companies: Provided, that any foreign society permitted or seeking to do business in this state, which invests its funds in accordance with the laws of the state in which it is incorporated, shall be held to meet the requirements of this article for the investment of funds. [L. '11, p. 282, § 215.]

§ 7269. [6059-216.] Distribution of Funds.

Every provision of the laws of the society for payment by members of such society, in whatever form made, shall distinctly state the purpose of the same and the proportion thereof which may be used for expenses, and no part of the money collected for mortuary or disability purposes, or the net accretions of either or any of said funds, shall be used for expenses. [L. '11, p. 282, § 216.]

§ 7270. [6059-217.] Organization.

Seven or more persons, citizens of the United States, and a majority of whom are citizens of this state, who desire to form a fraternal benefit society, as defined by this article, may make and sign, giving their ad-addresses, and acknowledge before some officer competent to take acknowledgment of deeds, articles of incorporation, in which shall be stated:

First. The proposed corporate name of the society, which shall not so closely resemble the name of any society or insurance company already transacting business in this state as to mislead the public or to lead to confusion.

Second. The purpose for which it is formed, which shall not include more liberal powers than are granted in this article: Provided, that any lawful social, intellectual, educational, charitable, benevolent, moral, or religious advantages may be set forth among the purposes of the society, and the mode in which its corporate powers are to be exercised.

Third. The names, residences, and official titles of all the officers, trustees, directors, or other persons who are to have and exercise the general control and management of the affairs and funds of the society for the first year or until the ensuing election at which all such officers shall be elected by the supreme legislative or governing body, which election shall be held not later than one year from the date of the issuance of the permanent certificate. Such articles of incorporation and duly certified copies of the constitution and laws, rules and regulations, and copies of all proposed forms of benefit certificates, applications therefor and circulars to be issued by such society, and a bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, with sureties approved by the commissioner, conditioned upon the return of the advanced payments, as provided in this section, to applicants, if the organization is not completed within one year, shall be filed with the commissioner, who may require such further information as he deems necessary, and if the purposes of the society conform to the requirements of this article, and all provisions of law have been complied with, the commissioner shall so certify and retain and record, or file, the articles of incorporation, and furnish the incorporators a preliminary certificate authorizing said society to solicit members as hereinafter provided.

Upon receipt of said certificate from the commissioner, said society may solicit members for the purpose of completing its organization and shall collect from each applicant the amount of not less than one regular monthly payment, in accordance with its table of rates as provided by its constitution and laws, and shall issue to each such applicant, a receipt for the amount so collected. But no such society shall incur any liability other than for such advanced payments, nor issue any benefit certificate, nor pay or allow, or offer or promise to pay or allow, to any person any death or disability benefit until actual bona fide applications for death benefit certificates have been secured upon at least five hundred lives for at least one thousand dollars each, and all such applicants for death benefits shall have been regularly examined by legally qualified practicing physicians, and certificates of such examinations have been duly filed and approved by the chief medical examiner of such society, nor until there shall be established ten subordinate lodges or branches into which said five hundred applicants have been initiated, nor until there has been submitted to the commissioner, under oath of the president and secretary, or corresponding officers of such society, a list of such applicants, giving their names, addresses, date examined, date approved, date initiated, name and number of the subordinate branch of which each applicant is a member, amount of benefits to be granted, rate of stated periodical contributions which shall be sufficient to provide for meeting the mortuary obligation contracted, when valued for death benefits upon the basis of the National Fraternal Congress Table of Mortality, as adopted by the National Fraternal Congress, August twenty-third, eighteen hundred and ninety-nine, or any higher standard at the option of the society, and for disability benefits by tables based upon reliable experience and for combined death and permanent total disability benefits by tables based upon reliable experience, with an interest assumption not higher than four per cent per annum, nor until it shall be shown to the commissioner by the sworn statement of the treasurer, or corresponding officer of such society, that at least five hundred applicants have each paid in cash at least one regular monthly payment as herein provided per one thousand dollars of indemnity to be effected, which payments in the aggregate shall amount to at least twenty-five hundred dollars, all of which shall be credited to the mortuary or disability fund on account of such applicants, and no part of which may be used for expenses.

Said advanced payments shall, during the period of organization, be held in trust, and, if the organization is not completed within one year as hereinafter provided, returned to said applicants.

The commissioner may make such examination and require such further information as he deems advisable, and upon presentation of satisfactory evidence that the society has complied with all the provisions of law, he shall issue to such society a certificate to that effect. Such certificate shall be prima facie evidence of the existence of such society at the date of such certificate. The commissioner shall cause a record of such certificate to be made and a certified copy of such record may be given in evidence with like effect as the original certificate.

No preliminary certificate granted under the provisions of this section shall be valid after one year from its date, or after such further period, not exceeding one year, as may be authorized by the commissioner, upon cause shown, unless the five hundred applicants herein required have been secured and the organization has been completed as herein provided, and the articles of incorporation and all proceedings thereunder shall become null and void in one year from date of said preliminary certificate, or at the expiration of said extended period, unless such society shall have completed its organization and commenced business as herein provided. When any domestic society shall have discontinued business for the period of one year, or has less than four hundred members, its charter shall become null and void.

Every society shall have the power to make a constitution and by-laws for the government of the society, the admission of its members, the management of its affairs, and the fixing and readjusting of the rates of contribution of its members from time to time; and it shall have the power to change, alter, add to or amend such constitution and by-laws and shall have such other powers as are necessary and incidental to carrying into effect the objects and purposes of the society. [L. '11, p. 282, § 217.]

§ 7271. [6059-218.] Powers Retained—Reincorporation—Amendments.

Any society now engaged in transacting business in this state may exercise, after the passage of this act, all of the rights conferred thereby, and all of the rights, powers and privileges now exercised or possessed by it under its charter or articles of incorporation not inconsistent with this act, if incorporated; or if it be a voluntary association, it may incorporate hereunder. But no society already organized shall be required to reincorporate hereunder, and any such society may amend its articles of incorporation from time to time in the manner provided herein or in its constitution and laws and all such amendments shall be filed as original articles of incorporation are required to be filed, and shall become operative upon such filing, unless a later time be provided in such amendments or in its articles of incorporation, constitution or laws. [L. '11, p. 285, § 218.]

§ 7272. [6059-219.] Mergers and Transfers.

No domestic society shall merge with or accept the transfer of the membership or funds of any other society unless such merger or transfer is evidenced by a contract in writing, setting out in full the terms and conditions of such merger or transfer which shall be filed as original articles of incorporation are required to be filed, together with a sworn statement of the financial condition of each of said societies, by its president and secretary, or corresponding officers, and a certificate of such officers duly verified under oath of said officers of each of the contracting societies, that such merger or transfer has been approved by a vote of two-thirds of the members of the supreme legislature or governing body of each of said societies.

Upon the submission of said contract, financial statements and certificates, the commissioner shall examine the same, and, if he shall find such financial statements to be correct and the said contract to be in conformity with the provisions of this section, and that such merger or transfer is just and equitable to the members of each of said societies, he shall approve said merger or transfer, issue his certificate to that effect and thereupon the said contract or merger or transfer shall be of full force and effect.

In case such contract is not approved, the fact of its submission and its contents shall not be disclosed by the state insurance commissioner. [L. '11, p. 286, § 219.]

§ 7273. [6059-220.] Annual License.

Societies which are now authorized to transact business in this state may continue such business until the first day of April next succeeding the passage of this act, and the authority of such societies may thereafter be renewed annually, but in all cases to determine on the first day of the succeeding April: Provided, that the license shall continue in full force and effect until the new license be issued or specifically refused. For each such license or renewal the society shall pay the commissioner ten dollars. A duly certified copy or duplicate of such license shall be prima facie evidence that the licensee is a fraternal benefit society within the meaning of this article. [L. '11, p. 287, § 220.]

§ 7274. [6059-221.] Admission of Foreign Society.

No foreign society now transacting business, organized prior to the passage of this act, which is not now authorized to transact business in this state, shall transact any business herein without a license from the commissioner. Any such society shall be entitled to a license to transact business within this state upon filing with the commissioner a duly certified copy of its charter or articles of association; a copy of its constitution and laws, certified by its secretary or corresponding officer, a power of attorney to the commissioner as hereinafter provided; a statement of its business under oath of its president and secretary, or corresponding officers, in the form required by the commissioner, duly verified by an examination made by the supervising insurance official of its home state or other state satisfactory to the commissioner of this state; a certificate from the proper official in its home state, province, or country that the society is legally organized; a copy of its contract, which must show that benefits are provided for by periodical, or other payments by persons holding similar contracts, and upon furnishing the commissioner such other information as he may deem necessary to a proper exhibit of its business and plan of working, and upon showing that its assets are invested in accordance with the laws of the state, territory, district, province, or country where it is organized, he shall issue a license to such society to do business in this state until the first day of the succeeding April: Provided, that such license shall continue in full force and effect until the new license be issued or specifically refused. Any foreign society desiring admission to this state shall have the qualifications required of domestic societies organized under this article and have its assets invested as required by the laws of the state, territory, district, country, or province where it is organized. For each such license or renewal the society shall pay the commissioner ten dollars. When the commissioner refuses to license any society, or revoke its authority to do business in this state, he shall reduce his ruling, order or decision to writing and file the same in his office, and shall furnish a copy thereof, together with a statement of his reasons, to the officers of the society, upon request, and the action of the commissioner shall be reviewable by proper proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction within the state: Provided, that nothing contained in this or the preceding section shall be taken or construed as preventing any such society from continuing in good faith all contracts made in this state during the time such society was legally authorized to transact business herein. [L. '11, p. 287, § 221.]

§ 7275. [6059-222.] Power of Attorney and Service of Process.

Every society, whether domestic or foreign, now transacting business in this state shall, within thirty days after this act takes effect, and every such society hereafter applying for admission, shall before being licensed, appoint in writing the insurance commissioner and his successors in office to be its true and lawful attorney, upon whom all legal process in any action or proceeding against it shall be served, and in such writing shall agree that any lawful process against it which is served upon such attorney shall be of the same legal force and validity as if served upon the society and that the authority shall continue in force so long as any liability remains outstanding in this state.

Copies of such appointment, certified by said commissioner, shall be deemed sufficient evidence thereof, and shall be admitted in evidence with the same force and effect as the original thereof might be admitted. Service shall only be made upon such attorney, must be made in duplicate upon the commissioner, in his absence upon the person in charge of his office, and shall be deemed sufficient service upon such society: Provided, that no such service shall be valid or binding against any such society when it is required thereunder to file its answer, pleading or defense in less than forty days from the date of mailing the copy of such service to such society. When legal process against any such society is served upon said commissioner, he shall forthwith forward by registered mail, one of the duplicate copies prepared and directed to its secretary or corresponding officer. Legal process shall not be served upon any such society except in the manner provided herein. [L. '11, p. 288, § 222.]

The courts of this state have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal affairs of a foreign beneficial association, by enjoining the officers of the society, at its headquarters in the state where it exists as a corporation, from taking action in the threatened cancellation of the certificate of a member of the society in this state, notwithstanding the society has an authorized agent in this state upon whom service of process can be made, under this section: Tolbert v. Modern Woodmen of America, 83 Wash. 287, 145 Pac. 183.

§ 7276. [6059-223.] Place of Meeting—Location of Office.

Any domestic society may provide that the meetings of its legislative or governing body may be held in any state, district, province, or territory wherein such society has subordinate branches and all business transacted at such meetings shall be as valid in all respects as if such meetings were held in this state. But its principal office shall be located in this state. [L. '11, p. 289, § 223.]

§ 7277. [6059-224.] No Personal Liability.

Officers and members of the supreme, grand, or any subordinate body of any such incorporated society shall not be individually liable for the payment of any disability or death benefit provided for in the laws and agreements of such society, but the same shall be payable only out of the funds of such society and in the manner provided by its laws. [L. '11, p. 289, § 224.]

§ 7278. [6059-225.] Waiver of the Provisions of the Laws.

The constitution and laws of the society may provide that no subordinate body, nor any of its subordinate officers or members shall have the power or authority to waive any of the provisions of the laws and constitution of the society, and the same shall be binding on the society and each and every member thereof and on all beneficiaries of members. [L. '11, p. 290, § 225.]

§ 7279. [6059-226.] Benefits not Attachable.

No money or other benefit, charity or relief or aid to be paid, provided, or rendered by any such society shall be liable to attachment, garnishment, or other process, or to be seized, taken, appropriated, or applied by any legal or equitable process, or operation of law to pay any debt or liability of a member or beneficiary, or any other person who may have a right thereunder, either before or after payment. [L. '11, p. 290, § 226.]

§ 7280. [6059-227.] Constitution and Laws—Amendment.

Every society transacting business under this act, shall file with the commissioner a duly certified copy of all amendments of or additions to its constitution and laws, within ninety days after the enactment of the same. Printed copies of the constitution and laws as amended, changed, or added to, certified by the secretary or corresponding officer of the society shall be prima facie evidence of the legal adoption thereof. [L. '11, p. 290, § 227.]

§ 7281. [6059-228.] Annual Reports.

Every society transacting business in this state, shall annually, on or before the fifteenth day of February, file with the commissioner, in such form as he may require, a statement under oath of its president and secretary or corresponding officers, of its condition and standing on the thirty-first day of December next preceding, and of its transactions for one year ending on that date and also shall furnish such other information as the commissioner may deem necessary to a proper exhibit of its business and plan of working. The commissioner may at other times require any further statement he may deem necessary to be made relating to such society.

In addition to the annual report herein required, each society shall annually report to the commissioner, a valuation of its certificates in force on the thirty-first day of December, last preceding, excluding those issued within the year for which the report is filed, in cases where the contributions for the first year in whole or in part are used for current mortality and expenses: Provided, that the first report of valuation shall be made as of December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and twelve. Such report of valuation shall show, as contingent liabilities, the present mid-year value of the promised benefits provided in the constitution and laws of such society under certificates then subject to valuation; and, as contingent assets, the present mid-year value of the future net contributions provided in the constitution and laws as the same are in practice actually collected. At the option of any society, in lieu of the above, the valuation may show the net value of the certificates subject to valuation hereinbefore provided, and said net value, when computed in case of monthly contributions, may be the mean of the terminal values for the end of the preceding and of the current insurance years.

Such valuation shall be certified by a competent accountant or actuary, or, at the request and expense of the society, verified by the actuary of the department of insurance of the home state of the society, and shall be filed with the commissioner within ninety days after the submission of the last preceding annual report. The legal minimum standard of valuation for all certificates, except for disability benefits, shall be the National Fraternal Congress Table of Mortality as adopted by the National Fraternal Congress, August twenty-third, eighteen hundred and ninety-nine, or, at the option of the society, any higher table, or at its option, it may use a table based upon the society's own experience of at least twenty years and covering not less than one hundred thousand lives with interest assumption not more than four per cent per annum. Each valuation report shall set forth clearly and fully the mortality and interest basis and the method of valuation. Any society providing for disability benefits shall keep the net contributions for such benefits in a fund separate and apart from all other benefit and expense funds and the valuation of all other business of the society: Provided, that where a combined contribution table is used by a society for both death and permanent total disability benefits, the valuation shall be according to tables of reliable experience and in such case a separation of the funds shall not be required.

The valuation herein provided for shall not be considered or regarded as a test of the financial solvency of the society, but each society shall be held to be legally solvent so long as the funds in its possession are equal to or in excess of its matured liabilities.

Beginning with the year nineteen hundred and fourteen, a report of such valuation and an explanation of the facts concerning the condition of the society thereby disclosed shall be printed and mailed to each beneficiary member of the society not later than June first of each year, or, in lieu thereof, such report or valuation and showing of the society's condition as thereby disclosed may be published in the society's official paper and the issue containing the same mailed to each beneficiary member of the society. The laws of such society shall provide that if the stated periodical contributions of the members are insufficient to pay all matured death and disability claims in full and to provide for the creation and maintenance of the funds required by its laws additional, increased or extra rates of contribution shall be collected from the members to meet such deficiency; and such laws may provide that, upon the written application or consent of the member, his certificate may be charged with its proportion of any deficiency disclosed by valuation, with interest not exceeding five per cent per annum. [L. '11, p. 290, § 228.]

§ 7282. [6059-229.] Provisions to Insure Future Security.

If the valuation of the certificates, as hereinbefore provided, on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventeen, shall show that the present value of future net contributions, together with the admitted assets, is less than ninety per cent of the present value of the promised benefits and accrued liabilities, such society shall be required thereafter to reduce such deficiency not less than five per centum of the total deficiency on said December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventeen, at each succeeding triennial valuation. If at any succeeding triennial valuation such society does not show such percentage of improvement, the commissioner shall direct that it thereafter comply with the requirements herein specified. If the next succeeding triennial valuation after the receipt of such notice shall show that the society has not made the percentage of improvement required herein, the commissioner may, in the absence of good cause shown for such failure, institute proceedings for the dissolution of such society, in accordance with the provision of section 7283, or, in the case of a foreign society, he may cancel its license to transact business in this state.

Any such society, shown by any triennial valuation subsequent to December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventeen, not to have made the improvement herein specified shall, within one year thereafter, complete such deficient improvement, or thereafter, as to all new members admitted, be subject, so far as stated rates of contribution are concerned, to the provisions of section 7270, applicable in the organization of new societies: Provided, that the contributions and funds of such new members shall be kept separate and apart from the other funds of the society until the required improvement shall be shown by valuation. If such required improvement is not shown by the succeeding triennial valuation, then the said new members may be placed in a separate class and their certificate valued as an independent society in respect to contributions and funds. [L. '11, p. 292, § 229.]

§ 7283. [6059-230.] Examination of Domestic Societies.

The commissioner, or his deputy or examiner shall have the power of visitation and examination into the affairs of any domestic society. He may employ assistants for the purpose of such examinations, and he or his deputy, or examiner, shall have free access to all the books, papers, and documents that relate to the business of the society and may summon and qualify as witness under oath and examine its officers, agents, and employees or other persons in relation to the affairs, transactions, and condition of the society.

The expense of such examination shall be paid by the society examined, upon statement furnished by the commissioner, and the examination shall be made at least once in three years.

Whenever after examination the commissioner is satisfied that any domestic society has failed to comply with any provisions of this act, or is exceeding its powers, or is not carrying out its contracts in good faith, or is transacting business fraudulently, or whenever any domestic society, after the existence of one year or more, shall have a membership of less than four hundred, or shall determine to discontinue business, the commissioner may present the facts relating thereto to the attorney general, who shall, if he deem the circumstances warrant, commence an action in quo warranto in a court of competent jurisdiction, and such court shall thereupon notify the officers of such society of a hearing, and if it shall then appear that such society should be closed, said society shall be enjoined from carrying on any further business, and the commissioner shall be appointed receiver of such society, as is provided in case insolvency of insurance companies, and shall proceed at once to take possession of the books, papers, moneys and other assets of the society, and shall forthwith, under the direction of the court, proceed to close the affairs of the society and to distribute its funds to those entitled thereto.

No such proceedings shall be commenced by the attorney general against any such society until, after notice has been duly served on the chief executive officers of the society and a reasonable opportunity given to it, on a date to be named in said notice, to show cause why such proceedings should not be commenced. [L. '11, p. 293, § 230.]

Cited in 85 Wash. 688.

§ 7284. [6059-231.] Application for Receiver, etc.

No application for injunction against or proceedings for the dissolution of or appointment of a receiver for any such domestic society or branch thereof shall be entertained by any court in this state unless the same is made by the attorney general. [L. '11, p. 295, § 231.]

§ 7285. [6059-232.] Examination of Foreign Societies.

The commissioner, or any person whom he may appoint, may examine any foreign society transacting or applying for admission to transact business in this state. The said commissioner may employ assistants, and he, or any person he may appoint, shall have free access to all the books, papers, and documents that relate to the business of the society, and may summon and qualify as witness under oath and examine its officers, agents, and employees and other persons in relation to the affairs, transactions and condition of the society. He may, in his discretion, accept in lieu of such examinations, the examination of the insurance department of the state, territory, district, province, or country where such society is organized. The actual expenses of examiners making any such examination, shall be paid by the society upon statement furnished by the commissioner.

If any such society or its officers refuses to submit to such examination or to comply with the provisions of the section relative thereto, the authority of such society to write new business in this state shall be suspended or license refused until satisfactory evidence is furnished the commissioner, relating to the condition and affairs of the society, and during such suspension the society shall not write new business in this state. [L. '11, p. 295, § 232.]

§ 7286. [6059-233.] No Adverse Publications.

Pending, during or after an examination or investigation of any such society, either domestic or foreign, the commissioner shall make public no financial statement, report or finding, nor shall he permit to become public any financial statement, report, or finding affecting the status, standing, or rights of any such society, until a copy thereof shall have been served upon such society, at its home office, nor until such society shall have been afforded a reasonable opportunity to answer any such financial statement, report, or finding and to make such showing in connection therewith as it may desire. [L. '11, p. 295, § 233.]

§ 7287. [6059-234.] Revocation of License.

When the commissioner on investigation is satisfied that any foreign society transacting business under this act has exceeded its powers, or has failed to comply with any provisions of this act, or is conducting business fraudulently, or is not carrying out its contracts in good faith he shall notify the society of his findings, and state in writing the grounds of his dissatisfaction and after reasonable notice require said society, on a date named, to show cause why its license should not be revoked. If on the date named in said notice such objections have not been removed to the satisfaction of the said commissioner or the society does not present good and sufficient reasons why its authority to transact business in this state should not at that time be revoked, he may revoke the authority of the society to continue business in this state. All decisions and findings of the commissioner made under the provisions of this section may be reviewed by proper proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction as provided in section 7274. [L. '11, p. 296, § 234.]

§ 7292. [6059-238.] Existing Insurance Laws Repealed.

This act may be referred to and shall be known as "The Insurance Code" and shall supersede all prior acts on the subject of the organization and government of insurance companies and insurance business, and all such prior acts are hereby repealed. [L. '11, p. 298, § 238.]

This section was not intended to repeal the earlier act, section 569, supra, exempting the proceeds or avails of all life and accident insurance from liability for any debt; the subject matter of exemptions being a distinct subject matter in and of itself not necessarily included within an act relating to insurance: Elsom v. Gadd, 93 Wash. 603, 161 Pac. 483, 162 Pac. 867.

§ 7293. Juvenile Death Benefits Authorized.

Any fraternal benefit society operating on the lodge system and authorized to transact the business of fraternal insurance in this state may provide in its constitution and by-laws, in addition to other benefits provided for therein, for the payment of death or annuity benefits upon the lives of children between the ages of two and eighteen years at next birthday, for whose support and maintenance a member of such society is responsible. Any such society may at its option organize and operate branches for such children and membership in local lodges and initiation therein shall not be required of such children, nor shall they have any voice in the management of the society. The total benefits payable, as above provided, shall in no case exceed the following amounts at ages at next birthday at time of death, respectively, as follows: Two, $34; three, $40; four, $48; five, $58; six, $140; seven, $168; eight, $200; nine, $240; ten, $300; eleven, $380; twelve, $460; thirteen to fifteen, $520, and sixteen to eighteen years, where not otherwise authorized by law, $600. [L. '19, p. 451, § 1.]

§ 7294. Conditions Attaching to Issuance of Certificates.

No benefit certificate as to any child shall take effect until after physical examination or inspection by a licensed physician, in accordance with the laws of the society, nor shall any such benefit certificate be issued unless the society shall simultaneously put in force at least five hundred such certificates, on each of which at least one assessment has been paid, nor where the number of lives represented by such certificate falls below five hundred. The death benefit contributions to be made upon such certificate shall be based upon the "Standard Industrial Mortality Table" or the "English Life Table Number Six," and a rate of interest not greater than four per cent per annum, or upon higher standard: Provided, that contributions may be waived or returns may be made from any surplus held in excess of reserve and other liabilities, as provided in the by-laws; and, Provided further, that extra contributions shall be made if the reserves hereafter provided for become impaired. [L. '19, p. 452, § 2.]

§ 7295. Juvenile Reserve Fund—Exchange for Adult Certificate—Beneficiary.

Any society entering into such insurance agreements shall maintain on all such contracts the reserve required by the standard of mortality and interest adopted by the society for computing contributions as provided in section 7294, and the funds representing the benefit contributions and all accretions thereon shall be kept as separate and distinct funds, independent of the other funds of the society, and shall not be liable for nor used for the payment of the debts and obligations of the society other than the benefits herein authorized: Provided, that a society may provide that when a child reaches the minimum age for initiation into membership in such society, any benefit certificate issued hereunder may be surrendered for cancellation and exchanged for any other form of certificate issued by the society, provided that such surrender will not reduce the number of lives insured in the branch below five hundred, and upon the issuance of such new certificate, any reserve upon the original certificate herein provided for shall be transferred to the credit of the new certificate. Neither the person who originally made application for benefits on account of such child, nor the beneficiary named in such original certificate, nor the person who paid the contribution shall have any vested right in such new certificate, the free nomination of a beneficiary under the new certificate being left to the child so admitted to benefit membership. [L. '19, p. 452, § 3.]

§ 7296. Separate Financial Statements for Two Classes.

An entirely separate financial statement of the business transactions and of assets and liabilities arising therefrom shall be made in its annual report to the insurance commissioner by any society availing itself of the provisions hereof. The separation of assets, funds and liabilities required hereby shall not be terminated, rescinded or modified, nor shall the funds be divested for any use other than as specified in section 7295 as long as any certificate issued hereunder remain in force, and this requirement shall be recognized and enforced in any liquidation, reinsurance, merger or other change in the condition of the status of the society. [L. '19, p. 453, § 4.]

§ 7297. Payments to Society's General Fund.

Any society shall have the right to provide in its laws and the certificates issued hereunder for specified payments on account of the expense or general fund, which payments shall or shall not be mingled with the general fund of the society as its constitution and by-laws may provide. [L. '19, p. 453, § 5.]

§ 7298. Continuance of Juvenile Certificate.

In the event of the termination of membership in the society by the person responsible for the support of any child on whose account a certificate may have been issued, as provided herein, the certificate may be continued for the benefit of the estate of the child: Provided, the contributions are continued or for the benefit of any other person responsible for the support and maintenance of such child, who shall assume the payment of the required contributions. [L. '19, p. 454, § 6.]

§ 7300. [6251.] Twelve Per Cent, Maximum Legal Rate.

Any rate of interest not exceeding twelve (12) per centum per annum agreed to in writing by the parties to the contract, shall be legal, and no person shall directly or indirectly take or receive in money, goods, or thing in action, or in any other way, any greater interest, sum or value for the loan or forbearance of any money, goods or thing in action than twelve (12) per centum per annum. A note to secure $4,000 payable in eighty-one monthly payments of $72 each is usurious, as the recital of twelve per cent interest per annum is dominated by the amount required to be paid; and the interest must be computed by applying each monthly installment first on earned interest and the balance on the principal: Western Loan & Building Co. v. Larsen, 110 Wash. 213, 188 Pac. 390.

Where a mortgage note bearing eight per cent interest, which was in default, was extended for two years in consideration of payment of the interest then due and the addition of two hundred dollars to the principal, such sum should be treated as interest to be paid at the new maturity date, and the note is not usurious when the total payments made and called for did not exceed the original principal and twelve per cent thereon at the new maturity date: Hensel v. Bissell, 110 Wash. 568, 188 Pac. 774.

§ 7301. [6252.] Legal Rate on State Warrants.

All state warrants shall bear interest at a rate not greater than five (5) per centum per annum, unless a less rate be specified therein, and shall be paid by the treasurer in the order of their number, date and issue and shall cease to draw interest at the expiration of ten days from and after the date of the first publication of any call made by the treasurer for the payment of warrants. § 7302. [6253.] Municipal Warrants—Rate.

All county, city, town and school warrants, and all warrants or other evidences of indebtedness, drawn upon or payable from any public funds, shall bear interest at a rate not greater than eight per centum per annum, unless a less rate be specified therein. [L. '99, p. 129, § 4. Cf. L. '95, p. 349, § 3.]

See supra, § 457, interest on judgments, which was a part of this act of 1899.

Under this section, the state treasurer must pay eight per centum on state warrant issued subsequent to the passage of the act, and which contain no provision as to the rate of interest, although another section of the same act provides that the legal rate shall be seven per cent as to private contracts, where no different rate is agreed to in writing: Spokane & Eastern Trust Co. v. Young, 19 Wash. 122, 52 Pac. 1010.

Municipal bonds sold at a discount which would result in greater interest than six per cent, in violation of § 9491, infra, are not usurious, since this section authorizes eight per cent: Cuddy v. Sturtevant, 111 Wash. 308, 190 Pac. 909.

The sale of bonds at a discount is an irregularity merely, and does not affect the power to make and issue the bonds: Id.

§ 7303. [6254.] Issuing Officer to Regulate Rate.

It shall be the duty of every public officer issuing public warrants to make monthly investigation to ascertain the market value of the current warrants issued by him and he shall, so far as practicable, fix the rate of interest (not in any event, however, exceeding the maximum rate hereinbefore established therefor) on the warrants issued by him during the ensuing month so that the par value shall be the market value thereof. [L. '99, p. 129, § 5.]

§ 7304. [6255.] Effect of Illegal Rate, When Suit Brought.

If a greater rate of interest than is hereinbefore allowed shall be contracted for or received or reserved, the contract shall not, therefore, be void; but if in any action on such contract proof be made that greater rate of interest has been directly or indirectly contracted for or taken or reserved, the plaintiff shall only recover the principal, less the amount of interest accruing thereon at the rate contracted for, and the defendant shall recover costs; and if interest shall have been paid, judgment shall be for the principal less twice the amount of the interest paid, and less the amount of all accrued and unpaid interest; and the acts and dealings of an agent in loaning money shall bind the principal, and in all cases where there is illegal interest contracted for by the transaction of any agent the principal shall be held thereby to the same extent as though he had acted in person. And where the same person acts as agent of the borrower and lender, he shall be deemed the agent of the lender for the purposes of this chapter. [L. '99, p. 129, § 7. Cf. L. '95, p. 350, § 5.]

In an action to recover usurious interest exacted, after plaintiff deeded property to the defendant in satisfaction of the amount demanded, $5,211.60, an answer denying that the property was worth any sum in excess of $5,000, admits it was of that value; and it having been taken in satisfaction of the demand for $5,211.60, such sum must be assumed to be the value of the property at that time: Hopgood v. CHAPTER I.

PROHIBITION AND REGULATION.

§ 7306. [6262-1.] Construction of Act.

This entire act shall be deemed an exercise of the police power of the state, for the protection of the economic welfare, health, peace and morals of the people of the state and all of its provisions shall be liberally construed for the accomplishment of that purpose. [L. '15, p. 2, § 1.]

This act is not an unlawful interference with interstate commerce: Gottstein v. Lister, 88 Wash. 462, 153 Pac. 595; State v. Warburton, 97 Wash. 242, 166 Pac. 615.

§ 7307. [6262-2.] "Intoxicating Liquor" Defined.

The phrase "intoxicating liquor," whenever used in this act, shall be held and construed to include whiskey, brandy, gin, rum, wine, ale, beer and any spirituous, vinous, fermented or malt liquor, and every other liquor or liquid containing intoxicating properties, which is capable of being used as a beverage, whether medicated or not, and all liquids whether proprietary, patented or not, which contain any alcohol, which are capable of being used as a beverage. An information charging the sale of "spirituous intoxicating liquors capable of being used as a beverage," is sufficient: State v. Sullivan, 97 Wash. 639, 166 Pac. 1123.

§ 7308. [6262-3.] "Person" Defined.

The word "person," wherever used in this act, shall be held and construed to mean and include natural persons, firms, copartnerships and corporations, and all associations of natural persons, whether acting by themselves or by a servant, agent or employee. [L. '15, p. 3, § 3.]

§ 7309. [6262-4.] Manufacture, Sale or Gift Prohibited.

It shall be unlawful for any person to manufacture, sell, barter, exchange, give away, furnish or otherwise dispose of any intoxicating liquor, or to keep any intoxicating liquor, with intent to sell, barter, exchange, give away, furnish or otherwise dispose of the same, except as in this act provided: [Provided, however, that it shall not be unlawful for a person to give away intoxicating liquor, to be drunk on the premises, to a guest in his private dwelling or apartment, which is not a place of public resort]. [L. '15, p. 3, § 4.]

SALES.—An information for selling a quart of "spirituous intoxicating liquors . . . capable of being used as a beverage," is sufficient as being substantially in the language of this section, prohibiting the sale of any intoxicating liquor: State v. Sullivan, 97 Wash. 639, 166 Pac. 1123.

A saloon-keeper is guilty of selling liquor to a minor, where the sale was made by his barkeeper, although defendant was out of town at the time the sale was made and had no knowledge thereof: State v. Constatine, 43 Wash. 102, 86 Pac. 384, 117 Am. St. Rep. 1043.

§ 7310. [6262-5.] Buildings, etc., Used Abated as Nuisances.

It shall be unlawful for any person owning, leasing, renting or occupying any premises, building, vehicle or boat to knowingly permit intoxicating liquor to be manufactured, sold, bartered, exchanged, given away, furnished or otherwise disposed of in violation of the provisions of this act, or to be kept with intent to sell, barter, exchange, give away, furnish or otherwise dispose of the same in violation of the provisions of this act thereon or therein; and all premises, buildings, vehicles and boats whereon and wherein intoxicating liquor is manufactured, sold, bartered, exchanged, given away, furnished or otherwise disposed of or kept with intent to sell, barter, exchange, give away, furnish or otherwise dispose of the same in violation of the provisions of this act are common nuisances, and may be abated as such, and upon conviction of the owner, lessee, tenant or occupant of any premises, buildings, vehicle or boat of a violation of the provisions of this section, the court shall order that such nuisance be abated, and that such premises, building, vehicle or boat be closed until the owner, lessee, tenant or occupant thereof shall give bond, with a sufficient surety to be approved by the court making the order, in the penal sum of one thousand dollars, payable to the state of Washington, and conditioned that intoxicating liquor will not thereafter be manufactured, sold, bartered, exchanged, given away, furnished or otherwise disposed of thereon and therein, or kept thereon or therein, with intent to sell, barter, exchange, give away or otherwise dispose of the same contrary to law, and that he will pay all fines, costs and damages that may be assessed against him for any violation of this act; and in case of the violation of any condition of such bond, the whole amount may be recovered as a penalty, for the use of the county wherein the premises are situated; and in all cases where any person has been convicted before a justice of the peace of a violation of the provisions of this section, and no appeal has been taken from such conviction, an information or complaint may be filed in the superior court of the county in which such conviction was had to abate the nuisance, and in any such action a certified copy of the records of such justice of the peace, showing such conviction, shall be competent evidence of the existence of such nuisance. [L. '15, p. 3, § 5.]

This section authorizes fine and imprisonment, as well as an abatement of the premises, for unlawfully keeping intoxicating liquors for sale, the one penalty being directed against the premises and the other against the violator; and recognizes that a fine may be imposed for its violation without specific mention of the extent of the fine, and the amount is therefore controlled by section 7338, which provides for conviction of any violation of the act where the punishment is not specifically provided for: State v. Clancy, 97 Wash. 410, 166 Pac. 778.

§ 7311. [6262-6.] Soliciting Orders or Advertising.

It shall be unlawful for any person to take or solicit orders for the purchase or sale of any intoxicating liquor, either in person or by sign, circular, letter, poster, hand bill, card, price list, advertisement or otherwise, or to distribute, publish or display any advertisement, sign or notice, naming, representing, describing, or referring to the quality or qualities of any intoxicating liquor, or giving the name or address of any person manufacturing or dealing in intoxicating liquor, or stating where any such liquor may be obtained. § 7312. [6262-7.*] Druggists—Alcohol—Sale for Medicinal Purposes, etc.—Record—Permits—Transportation.

Nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit a registered druggist or pharmacist, actually engaged in the wholesale drug business in this state, from selling alcohol to a retail druggist, a hospital or manufacturer, licensed to purchase the same under the provisions of this act, or from selling alcohol for export and shipping the same to places outside the state, or to prohibit a registered druggist or pharmacist, actually engaged in the retail drug business in this state, from selling alcohol to any person holding a permit to purchase the same, issued under the provisions of this act, or to prohibit an ordained clergyman, priest or rabbi actually engaged in ministering to a religious congregation in this state, from administering intoxicating liquor for sacramental purposes only; but it shall be unlawful for a registered druggist or pharmacist engaged in the wholesale drug business only, to sell alcohol to any other person than a retail druggist, a hospital, or a manufacturer, licensed to purchase the same under the provisions of this act, and it shall be unlawful for any person other than a registered druggist or pharmacist to sell alcohol for any purpose whatsoever, and it shall be unlawful for any druggist or pharmacist, or any other person, to dilute or adulterate alcohol, or compound it with any other substance in such proportions that it shall be capable of being used as a beverage, and sell, barter, exchange, give away, furnish, or otherwise dispose of the same, or to permit any alcohol to be diluted or adulterated, or compounded with any other substance, and drunk on the premises where sold. It shall be the duty of every druggist or pharmacist, engaged in the retail drug business, selling any alcohol for any of the purposes above provided, or to any person holding a permit to purchase the same, to keep, in a well bound book provided by him for that purpose, a true and correct record of each sale made, and to enter in such record, at the time of every sale of alcohol made by him, or in or about his place of business, the date of sale, the name of the purchaser, his place of residence (stating the street name and house number, if such there be, and the city or town, and county of such residence), the quantity and price of the alcohol, the purpose for which it was sold, the date and number of the permit upon which it was sold, and the name of the county in which said permit was issued, and the initials of the person making the sale, and to require the purchaser to sign the record in the book. Such record of sales, shall be open to inspection by any prosecuting attorney, city attorney, justice of the peace, sheriff, constable, marshal, police officer, mayor or commissioner of any city or town, or member of a city or town council. It shall be unlawful for any druggist or pharmacist, or any other person, to destroy, mutilate or in any way alter any such record or an entry therein, or to permit or procure the same to be destroyed, mutilated or altered, or to refuse inspection thereof to any person entitled to such inspection, or to sell or to ship to any person holding a permit to purchase the same, any alcohol in excess of the quantity specified in such permit, or to sell any alcohol without obtaining the signature of the purchaser, in case delivery is made to the purchaser, or entering the name of the carrier to whom the alcohol was delivered for transportation, in the record of the sale, or to deliver any package containing alcohol so sold, without securely affixing thereto in a conspicuous place on the outside thereof, an original permit for the purchase of the same, issued to the purchaser, by a county auditor of this state, within thirty days prior to the date of such sale, and in case of delivery to the purchaser, without defacing and canceling such original permit, so that it cannot be used again, and receiving, from the purchaser the duplicate permit, of like number, date and tenor as the original, dated on the date of the sale, and signed by the purchaser in the same handwriting as the signature of the applicant upon the original permit, and witnessed by the person making the sale, but in case delivery is to be made by a common carrier, or person engaged in the business of transporting goods, wares and merchandise, it shall be lawful for the druggist or pharmacist, selling alcohol upon a permit to purchase the same, after securely affixing the original permit to the package containing the alcohol, in a conspicuous place on the outside thereof, to deliver such package to such common carrier for transportation to the person named in the permit, without defacing or canceling such permit, and in such case it shall be unlawful for such carrier to deliver such package to any other person than a forwarding common carrier, or the person named in the original permit attached to such package; or for any such common carrier or forwarding carrier to deliver such package to the person named in the permit, without defacing and canceling such original permit so that it cannot be used again, and receiving, from the person named in the permit, the duplicate permit of like number, date and tenor as the original, dated on the day of delivery, and signed by the person named in the permit in the same handwriting as the signature of the applicant, upon the original permit, and witnessed by the person making the delivery. It shall be unlawful for any druggist or pharmacist, who has been or shall be convicted of any violation of the provisions of this act, to within two years thereafter, sell alcohol for any purpose whatsoever, and upon a second conviction of any such violation such druggist or pharmacist shall, in addition to the penalty provided by this act for such violation, forfeit his right to sell drugs or practice pharmacy, as the case may be, and it shall be the duty of the justice of the peace or judge of the superior court, before whom such second conviction is had, to so adjudge and to transmit a certified copy of such judgment to the board of pharmacy, and such board shall forthwith, upon the receipt of such copy, cancel the license of such druggist or pharmacist, and no other license shall be issued to such druggist or pharmacist within two years from the date of such cancellation. It shall be the duty of every druggist and pharmacist, and of every common carrier, to keep on file all duplicate permits for the purchase of alcohol, received upon the delivery thereof to the persons named in such permits, and such duplicate permits shall be open to inspection by any prosecuting attorney, city attorney, justice of the peace, sheriff, constable, marshal, police officer, mayor or commissioner of any city or town council, and it shall be unlawful for any druggist or pharmacist, or common carrier, or any other person, to destroy, mutilate, or in any way alter any such duplicate permit, or to permit or procure the same to be destroyed, mutilated or altered or to refuse inspection thereof, to any person entitled to such inspection. [L. '17, p. 46, § 1. Cf. L. '15, p. 4, § 7.]

Druggists: See Remington's Digest, Int. Liq., § 26; Rosenoff v. Cross, 95 Wash. 525, 164 Pac. 236.

Where a registered pharmacist not engaged in business acquired a stock of intoxicating liquors before the prohibition law went into effect, and admitted that he kept them for a future druggist's business, instead of shipping them out of the state within ten days as required by law, the liquor is contraband and subject to condemnation in a proceeding in rem, and the owner cannot recant and reclaim the liquor to be kept for personal use in his home, the intent being an important element of the offense: State v. Martin, 92 Wash. 366, 159 Pac. 88.

This act refers only to druggists or pharmacists actively engaged in business; hence possession of an excess quantity by a registered pharmacist, not engaged in business either when the liquors were acquired or seized is an unlawful possession and not justified by the fact of acquisition before the law went into effect nor by intent to engage in the business: State v. Martin, 92 Wash. 366, 159 Pac. 88.

Under this section and section 7320, prescribing the manner in which druggists may secure intoxicating liquors "for use for purposes permitted by this law only," a druggist is guilty of unlawful possession of liquors in excess of the quantity in which they are procurable by others, when they are not kept for sale and disposition as prescribed in this section, and an information therefor is sufficient where it negatives possession for any and all lawful purposes: State v. Gray, 98 Wash. 279, 167 Pac. 951.

The fact that a druggist stored five quarts of whisky in his home does not show an intent to dispose of it unlawfully, as the law does not require that druggist's stocks of liquor be stored in any particular building: State v. Snell, 99 Wash. 195, 169 Pac. 320.

The good faith of a druggist in selling grain alcohol for mechanical purposes is put in issue by an information charging that the defendant knew at the time of the sale that it was not to be used, and was not sold, for such purposes: State v. Holland, 99 Wash. 645, 170 Pac. 332.

An allegation in an information for the unlawful sale of liquor that the defendant was a druggist and pharmacist is an immaterial description of the person and not an essential part of the main charge that need be proved, under this section and § 7309, supra: State v. Bartow, 95 Wash. 480, 164 Pac. 227.

A complaint in justice court against a druggist for selling intoxicating liquors in contravention of an ordinance is sufficient without alleging the name of the individual to whom the liquor was sold: State v. Koerner, 103 Wash. 516, 175 Pac. 175.

Upon the prosecution of a druggist for keeping intoxicating liquors intended for unlawful sale, the quantity and kind of liquor kept on hand by the defendant is material, but not conclusive, to show that he had in possession quantities and kinds in excess of his apparent needs: State v. McCaskey, 97 Wash. 401, 166 Pac. 1163.

In a prosecution of a druggist for keeping specified liquors, it is error to admit evidence of possession of alcohol not named in the information: State v. McCaskey, 97 Wash. 401, 166 Pac. 1163.

The good faith of the druggist is an issuable fact: State v. Holland, 99 Wash. 645, 170 Pac. 332.

Admissibility of Evidence: See Remington's Digest, Int. Liq., § 49; State v. Billingsley, 99 Wash. 445, 169 Wash. 845.

This section did not prevent a convicted druggist from selling, in December, 1918, his drug-store and business as a whole, including liquor stock on hand: State v. Northern Pacific R. Co., 110 Wash. 69, 188 Pac. 3.

Issues, Proof and Variance: See Remington's Digest, Int. Liq., § 47; State v. McCaskey, 97 Wash. 401, 166 Pac. 1163; State v. Holland, 99 Wash. 645, 170 Pac. 332.

§ 7313. [6262-8.*] Physicians' Prescriptions.

Nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit a licensed physician from administering alcohol, but it shall be unlawful for any licensed physician to administer diluted or adulterated alcohol, or alcohol compounded with any other substance, in such proportions that it shall be capable of being used as a beverage, and, it shall be unlawful for any licensed physician to issue a prescription for alcohol to be diluted or adulterated, or compounded with any other substance in such proportions that it shall be capable of being used as a beverage, and it shall be unlawful for any druggist or pharmacist to knowingly fill any prescription for any diluted or adulterated alcohol or alcohol compounded with any other substance, in such proportions that it shall be capable of being used as a beverage. [L. '17, p. 49, § 2. Cf. L. '15, p. 6, § 8.]

Time as Element of Offense.—Upon a prosecution of a druggist for keeping intoxicating liquors intended for unlawful sale, on or about the twenty-fourth day of March, evidence of the presence of liquors on the premises four days later is admissible, inasmuch as it is provided by statute that the precise time is not a material allegation: State v. McCaskey, 97 Wash. 401, 166 Pac. 1163.

A conviction of a druggist for an illegal sale of alcohol for other than mechanical or chemical purposes is sustained by the testimony of two detectives making the purchase to the effect that the defendant was informed at the time of making the sale that it might be used for other purposes; their credibility being for the jury: *State v. § 7322. Hearing of Application—Issuance of License—Appeals—Permits.

Upon the filing of an application for a license to import or purchase alcohol, or to import intoxicating liquor for sacramental purposes, as provided in the preceding sections, and the payment of a fee of three dollars, it shall be the duty of the county auditor to give the application a serial number and set it for hearing at a time not less than ten or more than twenty days from the date of filing, to notify the applicant of the time and place of the hearing, and to transmit the duplicate application, with the serial number and time and place of hearing indorsed thereon, to the prosecuting attorney of the county, and it shall be the duty of the prosecuting attorney to investigate the facts stated in the application, and attend the hearing and inform the auditor of the result of such investigation. At the hearing the applicant shall appear and offer such proof in support of the application as the auditor may reasonably require, and the prosecuting attorney may offer such proof in opposition to granting the application as the auditor may deem material, which proof may be affidavit or other documentary evidence, and the auditor shall have power to administer oaths and examine witnesses under oath. If at the hearing it shall appear to the auditor that the applicant, or any officer, agent or servant in charge of the business of a corporation applicant, or member of a copartnership applicant, has been convicted of a violation of any of the provisions of this act within two years prior to the date of the application, or that the person signing the application has willfully made any false statement therein, the application shall be denied. If it shall appear to the auditor that the statements contained in the application are true, and that the license is sought in good faith and for a lawful purpose, he shall issue a license in the name of the applicant and bearing the serial number of the application, granting to the licensee the right, for the period of one year from the date of the license, to have issued to him from time to time, and at such intervals only as are specified in the license, permits for the importation or purchase, and transportation of alcohol for the purpose or purposes to be specified in the license, or for the importation and transportation of intoxicating liquor, for sacramental purposes only, of such kind as may be specified in the license, as the case may be, in such quantities, to be specified in the license, as the auditor may determine are reasonably required by the licensee for the purposes specified. Every such license shall be signed by the auditor or his authorized deputy, be sealed with his official seal, and bear the date of its issue, and be issued in duplicate and one of such duplicates shall be filed in the auditor's office with the application therefor, and such license shall remain in force for the period of one year from the date of issue, unless sooner revoked by order of court or by the county auditor, upon notice to the licensee and a finding made that the licensee has ceased to do business at the place specified in the application, or in case of a clergyman, priest or rabbi, has ceased to minister to the congregation specified, or that the licensee, or some officer, agent or servant in charge of the business of a corporation licensee, or some member of a copartnership licensee, has been convicted of a violation of this act. Any applicant feeling himself aggrieved by the refusal of a county auditor to grant a license, or by the restrictions, as to quantities or intervals of importation or purchase, contained in any license granted, or any licensee feeling himself aggrieved by any revocation of his license by the county auditor, or any prosecuting attorney believing that any license has been wrongfully issued, or that such license does not contain the proper restrictions as to the quantities or intervals of importation or purchase, or that the auditor has wrongfully refused to revoke a license, may, at any time within ten days from the date of the decision of the auditor, appeal therefrom to the superior court of the county, by filing with the auditor, and serving upon the applicant or licensee, or prosecuting attorney, as the case may be, a notice in writing setting forth the decision appealed from, and all such appeals shall be heard de novo and summarily determined as the court may in the exercise of a sound discretion decide. Upon the filing of an application for a permit to purchase alcohol from a retail druggist, and the payment of a fee of ten cents, the county auditor, if he shall be satisfied of the truth of the statements made in the application, and that the applicant is of good moral character, shall issue to the applicant an original and duplicate permit of like number and date as the application, which permit shall be for such quantity of alcohol as the auditor, in the exercise of a sound discretion, shall determine is reasonably necessary for the needs of the applicant, for the purposes stated in the application. If the county auditor shall have reason to believe that the applicant has made any false statement in the application, or that the application is not made in good faith, and for a legitimate purpose, he may require the applicant to be identified and vouched for by some reputable citizen of the county. [L. '17, p. 52, § 5.]

§ 7323. Alcohol and Sacramental Liquors—Permits for Importation.

So long as any license, issued under the provisions of the preceding section, shall remain in force, the county auditor shall, from time to time and at such intervals only as are specified in the license, and upon the filing of a request therefor in writing signed and verified under oath by the licensee and stating the number of the license and the amount of alcohol, or other intoxicating liquor as the case may be, remaining on hand of previous importations or purchases, and the payment of a fee of ten cents for each permit, issue to the licensee permits for the importation or purchase and transportation of alcohol, or the importation and transportation of intoxicating liquor for sacramental purposes only, as the case may be, in accordance with the terms of the license, and shall indorse the numbers of the permits issued on the request, with the date of issue, and file the same with the original application and the duplicate license. It shall be the duty of every wholesale druggist and of every common carrier to keep on file all duplicate permits for the importation or purchase, and transportation, of alcohol or intoxicating liquor, received upon the delivery thereof to the consignee, and such duplicate permit shall be open to inspection by any prosecuting attorney, city attorney, justice of the peace, sheriff, constable, marshal, police officer, mayor or commissioner of any city or town, or member of a city or town council. It shall be unlawful for any wholesale druggist or pharmacist, or common carrier, or any other person, to destroy, mutilate or in any way alter any such duplicate permit, or to permit or procure the same to be destroyed, mutilated or altered, or to refuse inspection thereof to any person entitled to such inspection. Any person who opens up, conducts or maintains, either as principal or agent, any place for the unlawful sale of intoxicating liquor, be and hereby is defined to be a "jointist." Any person who carries about with him intoxicating liquor for the purpose of the unlawful sale of the same be and hereby is defined to be a "bootlegger." Any person convicted of being either a "jointist" or "bootlegger" as herein defined shall be deemed guilty of a felony and shall be punished by imprisonment for not less than one nor more than five years.

A violation of any of the provisions of this section shall constitute a separate, substantive offense irrespective of any other provisions of this act. [L. '17, p. 60, § 11.]

A conviction of the unlawful possession of whiskey is sustained, though accused testified it was found to be only colored water, where he obtained it from a drug-store at the agreed price for whiskey, approximately the same amount of whiskey disappeared from the store, and the accused signed a confession that he got the whiskey: State v. Seablom, 103 Wash. 53, 173 Pac. 721.

The possession of less than a pint of whiskey in an automobile is not necessarily unlawful, especially when knowledge of its presence is not shown: Mitchell v. Hughes, 104 Wash. 231, 176 Pac. 26.

This section, making it unlawful for any person except clergymen or priests to have possession of any intoxicating liquor other than alcohol, is not unconstitutional as abridging the privileges or immunities of citizens or as depriving any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law: State v. Giaudrone, 109 Wash. 397, 186 Pac. 870.

This section, amendatory of the prohibition act, providing that it shall be unlawful for any person except clergymen or priests to have possession of any intoxicating liquor other than alcohol, is inconsistent with and impliedly repeals the provisions of the original act making it lawful to give intoxicating liquors in a private residence to be drunk on the premises: State v. Giaudrone, 109 Wash. 397, 186 Pac. 870.

It is not unlawful possession to partake of a friend's hospitality by drinking a glass of liquor, it being the intention that "possession" should be of such quantities or under such conditions as would make it available for unlawful transportation or sale: State v. Jones, 114 Wash. 144, 194 Pac. 585.

A conviction of the illegal possession of intoxicating liquor is sustained by proof that, during a search of the premises, accused threw a broken demijohn from the window, and intoxicating liquor was found dripping from it and on the floor and wall of the room: State v. Franich, 109 Wash. 17, 186 Pac. 259.

In a prosecution for illegal possession of intoxicating liquors, an instruction that there could be no conviction if the accused had an illegal quantity in his possession which he intended to be drunk by himself and guests at his private apartments is favorable to the accused: State v. Conner, 107 Wash. 571, 182 Pac. 602.

Excess Quantities: State v. Blackwell, 103 Wash. 337, 174 Pac. 646.

A conviction of possessing intoxicating liquors in excess of two quarts is sustained where the accused admitted the possession of two quarts of whiskey which he claimed belonged to another and a half quart of absinthe; and especially where there was evidence to justify a finding that he had possession of other intoxicating liquors: Seattle v. Brookins, 98 Wash. 290, 167 Pac. 940.

Under Rem. Code, section 6262-23, making possession of more than two quarts of intoxicating liquors other than beer prima facie evidence of possession for an unlawful purpose, in a prosecution of a druggist thereunder for the possession of excess quantities at a place other than his place of business, the burden of proof is upon the defendant to prove possession of a permit for lawful transportation: State v. Gray, 98 Wash. 279, 167 Pac. 951.

Rem. 1915 Code, section 6262-22, of the initiative prohibition law, making it unlawful for any person to have in his possession more than the prescribed quantity of intoxicating liquors, applies only to liquor unlawfully held or obtained after the taking effect of the act, and not to an excess quantity acquired for personal use prior to the taking effect of the act in view of this section: State v. Eden, 92 Wash. 1, 158 Pac. 967, 159 Pac. 700. (But see State v. Giaudrone, 109 Wash. 397, 186 Pac. 870.)

BOOTLEGGING.—In a prosecution for bootlegging it is proper to instruct the jury as to both actual and constructive possession, and that one may have possession without having it actually on his person: State v. Spillman, 110 Wash. 662, 188 Pac. 915.

In a prosecution for bootlegging, the corpus delicti is sufficiently proved by admissions of the accused showing that part of the whiskey seized belonged to him and had been brought by him into the state, thinking he could sell it or give it to his friends: State v. Spillman, 110 Pac. 662, 188 Pac. 915.

This section defining bootlegging is not unconstitutional as punishing an "intent" without any overt act; or on the ground that it provides cruel and unusual punishment: State v. Hessel, 112 Wash. 53, 191 Pac. 637.

It is proper to admit evidence of separate and distinct unlawful sales, to prove guilty intent: State v. Hessel, 112 Wash. 53, 191 Pac. 637.

It is error to refuse a requested instruction that defendant accused of bootlegging was not being prosecuted for other offenses: State v. Hessel, 112 Wash. 53, 191 Pac. 637.

Sufficiency of evidence to sustain a conviction: State v. Hessel, 112 Wash. 53, 191 Pac. 637; State v. Sills, 113 Wash. 497, 194 Pac. 580.

JOINTIST.—This section defining a jointist is not unconstitutional as making an "intent" criminal without any overt act: State v. Burgess, 111 Wash. 537, 191 Pac. 635.

This section is not unenforceable because of failing to specify any place of imprisonment, in view of § 2265, supra: State v. Burgess, 111 Wash. 537, 191 Pac. 635.

A charge of being a jointist is sufficient without alleging that defendant acted as principal or agent: State v. Rousseau, 111 Wash. 533, 191 Pac. 634; State v. Burgess, 111 Wash. 537, 191 Pac. 635.

§ 7329. [6262-23.*] Prosecutions—Prima Facie Evidence.

In any prosecution for the violation of any provision of this act, it shall be competent to prove that any person, other than a regularly ordained clergyman, priest or rabbi actually engaged in ministering to a religious congregation, had in his possession any intoxicating liquor other than alcohol, and such possession and proof thereof shall be prima facie evidence that said liquor was so held and kept for the purposes of unlawful sale or disposition. [L. '17, p. 61, § 12. Cf. L. '15, p. 15, § 23.]

An information charging, in the language of Rem. Code, § 6262-22, the unlawful possession of an excess quantity of whiskey is sufficient without alleging that it was held for unlawful sale or disposition, in view of the section making possession of more than two quarts prima facie evidence that it was kept for unlawful sale or disposition: State v. Bachtold, 106 Wash. 550, 182 Pac. 602.

Under this section, proof of the possession of twenty-five gallons raises a question for the jury, notwithstanding defendant testified to its lawful acquisition and that it was kept for his personal use: State v. Bachtold, 106 Wash. 550, 182 Pac. 602.

This section making possession of more than two quarts of intoxicating liquors prima facie evidence that it was kept for unlawful sale or disposition, proof of the possession of twenty-three quarts of whiskey raises a question for the jury, notwithstanding defendant testified to its lawful acquisition and that it was kept for his personal use: State v. Conner, 107 Wash. 571.

In a prosecution for illegal possession of intoxicating liquors, the burden is upon the defendant to show that he was not a clergyman, priest or rabbi, excepted by this section: State v. Harding, 108 Wash. 607, 185 Pac. 579; State v. Franich, 109 Wash. 17, 186 Pac. 259.

This section, providing that, in any prosecution under the act, possession of any intoxicating liquor other than alcohol shall be prima facie evidence that the liquor was kept for the purpose of unlawful sale, is applicable to a prosecution for bootlegging as well as to prosecution for unlawful possession: State v. Spillman, 110 Wash. 662, 188 Pac. 915.

§ 7330. Prosecutions, Burden of Proof.

In any prosecution for the violation of the provisions of this act, it shall not be necessary for the indictment or information, or complaint, to set forth any negative allegation, nor for the plaintiff to prove that the defendant does not come within any of the exceptions herein contained; but such exceptions shall be considered as a matter of defense, and the burden shall be upon defendant to show that he comes within such exceptions. [L. '19, p. 53, § 1.]

See notes to § 7328, supra.

§ 7331. [6262-24.] Unbroken Packages in Interstate Commerce.

The provisions of this act relating to the shipment or having in possession of intoxicating liquor shall not apply to shipments transported by any common carrier of unbroken packages of intoxicating liquor in continuous transit through this state from a point outside of the state to another point outside of the state. [L. '15, p. 15, § 24.]

Cited in 92 Wash. 5; 98 Wash. 203.

Under this section, it was the duty of a common carrier to accept a shipment in continuous transit through this state unless it knew the goods were to be diverted and made contraband: State v. Great Northern R. Co., 98 Wash. 197, 167 Wash. 103.

In proceedings to seize from a common carrier a shipment of liquor billed from Butte, Montana, to Alaska, and prima facie an interstate shipment, permitted by this section, the burden was upon the state to show that the goods were contraband and not a bona fide interstate shipment, notwithstanding section 7317, casts the burden of proof upon any person claiming any interest in the goods to show by competent evidence his property right therein, and that the articles were not used in violation of the act: State v. Great Northern R. Co., 98 Wash. 197, 167 Pac. 103.

§ 7332. [6262-25.] Vinegar, Cider, Fruit Juice, Denatured Alcohol.

The provisions of this act shall not be construed to prohibit the manufacture of vinegar, sweet cider, or unfermented fruit juice for domestic consumption or for sale, nor to prohibit the manufacture and sale of denatured alcohol. [L. '15, p. 15, § 25.]

§ 7333. [6262-26.] Partial Invalidity of Act.

If any provision or section of this act shall be held void or unconstitutional, all other provisions and all other sections of the act, which are not expressly held to be void or unconstitutional, shall continue in full force and effect. [L. '15, p. 15, § 26.]

Cited in 92 Wash. 5.

Under this section, the constitutionality of other parts of the act is not affected by the unconstitutionality of section 7341, providing that the act shall take effect and be in full force from and after the first day of January, 1916: Gottstein v. Lister, 88 Wash. 462, 153 Pac. 595, Ann. Cas. 1917D, 1008.

§ 7334. [6262-27.] Citizens may Prosecute.

Every justice of the peace or superior judge shall recognize and act upon any sworn complaint of a violation of this act filed by any citizen of the state in the same manner and to the same extent as though the same were filed by a prosecuting officer. [L. '15, p. 15, § 27.]

§ 7335. [6262-28.] Time Allowed for Removal of Liquor from State.

Within ten days after the date when this act has become operative, every person except registered druggists and pharmacists shall remove or cause to be removed all intoxicating liquor in his possession from the state, and failure so to do shall be prima facie evidence that such liquor is kept therein for the purpose of being sold, bartered, exchanged, given away, furnished or otherwise disposed of in violation of the provisions of this act: Provided, however, that this section shall not apply to alcohol kept for chemical or manufacturing purposes, or to one-half gallon of intoxicating liquor, other than beer, or twelve quarts or twenty-four pints of beer held by an individual: And, provided, further, that for said ten-day period of time, it shall not be necessary to obtain any permit or permits for the shipment of any such intoxicating liquor, lawfully held within the state at the date this act goes into effect, to points outside of the state. § 7337. [6262-30.] Duty of Attorney General.

It is hereby made the duty of the attorney general to enforce the provisions of this act, and prosecute violations thereof in any county where the prosecuting attorney of such county fails, neglects or refuses to enforce the provisions hereof and said attorney general may assist the prosecuting attorney of any county in any prosecution for the violation of this act. § 7338. [6262-31.*] Penalties in Cases not Specified.

Every person convicted of a violation of the provision of this act, for which the punishment is not specifically prescribed, shall be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred and fifty dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than ninety days or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Every person convicted of the sale, barter or exchange of intoxicating liquor or of the keeping or transporting of any such liquor with intent to sell, barter or exchange the same shall be punished by a fine of not less than $250 nor more than $500 and by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than sixty days nor more than six months. Every person convicted a second time of the sale, barter or exchange of intoxicating liquor or of the keeping or transporting of any such liquor with intent to sell, barter, or exchange the same shall be punished by a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $1,000, and by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than four months nor more than one year.

Every person convicted of the manufacture of intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale, barter or exchange thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $1,000, and by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ninety days nor more than six months. Every person convicted a second time of the manufacture of intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale, barter or exchange thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than $1,000 nor more than $2,000, and by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than six months nor more than one year.

The provisions and penalties of this section are independent of those of section 7328, relating to the offenses of "jointist" and "bootlegger," which shall remain in full force and effect.

Every justice of the peace shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine any offense in this section prescribed and to impose any punishment in this section provided except in cases where previous conviction under this section is charged. § 7339. [6262-32.*] Penalty for Subsequent Convictions—Evidence of Prior Convictions.

Every person convicted the second time of a violation of any provision of this act, for which the punishment is not specifically prescribed, shall be punished by a fine of not less than two hundred nor more than five hundred dollars and by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than six months and every person convicted the third time of a violation of any provision of this act shall, for such third and each subsequent conviction, be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary for not less than one nor more than five years. Every prosecuting attorney, and every justice of the peace, having knowledge of any previous conviction or convictions of any person accused of violating this act, shall in preparing a complaint, information or indictment, for subsequent offenses, allege such previous conviction or convictions therein, and a certified transcript from the docket of any justice of the peace, or a copy of the record of any court of record, certified by the clerk thereof under the seal of the court, shall be sufficient evidence and proof of such previous conviction or convictions. [L. '17, p. 61, § 15; L. '15, p. 16, § 32.]

This section authorizing increased punishments on subsequent convictions and requiring prosecuting attorneys to allege a previous conviction in the information, is a proper police regulation to discourage violations of the law, and not open to the objection that it deprives the accused of a fair trial: State v. Dericho, 107 Wash. 468, 182 Pac. 597.

In a prosecution for prescribing intoxicating liquor after being twice convicted of violating the prohibition law, it is not error to permit proof of more than two convictions: State v. Emonds, 107 Wash. 688, 182 Pac. 584.

In a prosecution for the aggravated offense, after prior convictions, defendant is entitled to an instruction as to lesser or simple offense included in the charge; and it is an invasion of the province of the jury to instruct that it has nothing to do with the fact of a former conviction: State v. Dale, 110 Wash. 181, 188 Pac. 473.

A general verdict of guilty as charged constitutes a finding of the prior convictions alleged: State v. Dale, 110 Wash. 181, 188 Pac. 473.

§ 7340. Time Allowed for Removal of Liquors.

Nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit a registered druggist or pharmacist, at any time within ten days after this act shall take effect, from removing from or shipping out of the state any intoxicating liquors in his possession at the time this act takes effect, and no permit for such removal or shipment shall be required. [L. '17, p. 62, § 16.]

§ 7342. [6277.] Keeping Room for Unlawful Use—Penalty.

Every person who shall, directly or indirectly, keep or maintain, by himself or by associating or combining with others, or who shall in any manner aid, assist, or abet in keeping or maintaining any room or rooms, place or places in which intoxicating liquors are received or kept for unlawful use, barter or sale or for unlawful distribution; and every person who shall receive, barter, sell, assist or abet another in receiving, bartering or selling any intoxicating liquors so received or kept, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished as hereinafter provided. § 7343. [6278.] Same — A Common Nuisance — Complaint — Seizure of Liquors, etc.

The keeping or maintaining of any place in which intoxicating liquors are sold or given away, contrary to law, or in which such liquors are kept or harbored for the evident purpose of selling or giving away said liquors contrary to law, or where persons are permitted to resort for the purpose of drinking intoxicating liquors or where intoxicating liquors are kept for the purpose of inducing people to resort, to buy or receive intoxicating liquors in violation of law is hereby declared to be a common nuisance. Upon complaint being made of the violation of this section a magistrate shall issue a search-warrant in which the premises in question shall be particularly described, commanding the sheriff or constable to thoroughly search the premises in question and to seize and hold all intoxicating liquors, vessels, bar fixtures, screens, bottles, glasses, jugs and other appurtenances found therein adapted to be used in retailing, giving away or distributing liquors in violation of law, to make a complete inventory thereof and deposit the same with the magistrate. § 7345. [6280.] Payment of United States Revenue Tax, Prima Facie Evidence.

The payment of the United States revenue tax shall be held to be prima facie evidence that the person is a common seller of intoxicating liquors and his place a common nuisance when conducted in violation of law. [L. '03, p. 32, § 4.]

§ 7346. [6281.] Penalty for Violations.

Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall, upon the conviction of the same, be punished by a fine or not less than fifty (50) nor more than five hundred (500) dollars, or in lieu thereof be imprisoned not less than thirty (30) days nor more than ninety (90) days in the county jail. For each subsequent offense the punishment shall be by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than six (6) months nor more than one (1) year. [L. '03, p. 32, § 5.]

CIVIL REMEDIES AGAINST LIQUOR DEALERS.

§ 7348. [6289.] Action for Injuries Caused by Intoxicated Person.

Every husband, wife, child, parent, guardian, employee, or other person who shall be injured in person or property, or means of support, by any intoxicated person, or in consequence of the intoxication, habitual or otherwise, of any person, shall have a right of action, in his or her own name, severally or jointly, against any person or persons who shall, by selling or giving intoxicating liquors, have caused the intoxication of such person, for all damages sustained, and the same may be recovered in a civil action in any court of competent jurisdiction. On the trial of such action, the plaintiff or plaintiffs must prove that such intoxicating liquors were sold under circumstances sufficient to lead a man of ordinary intelligence to believe that such sale would probably result in intoxication. A married woman may bring such action in her own name, and all damages recovered by her shall inure to her separate use, and all damages recovered by a minor under this chapter shall be paid either to such minor or to such person in trust for him, and on such terms as the court may direct. In case of the death of either party, the action and right of action to or against his executor or administrator shall survive. [L. '05, p. 120, § 1. Cf. L. '79, p. 132, § 1; Cd. '81, § 2059; 1 H. CHAPTER I.

WATER CODE.

§ 7351. State Control—Appropriation of Water Rights—Existing Rights Preserved.

The power of the state to regulate and control the waters within the state shall be exercised as hereinafter in this act provided. Subject to existing rights all waters within the state belong to the public, and any right thereto, or to the use thereof, shall be hereafter acquired only by appropriation for a beneficial use and in the manner provided and not otherwise; and, as between appropriations, the first in time shall be the first in right. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to lessen, enlarge, or modify the existing rights of any riparian owner, or any existing right acquired by appropriation, or otherwise. They shall, however, be subject to condemnation as provided in section 7354 hereof, and the amount and priority thereof may be determined by the procedure set out in sections 7364 to 7377 inclusive hereof. [L. '17, p. 447, § 1.]

Cited in 107 Wash. 94, 95.

A prior action at law to establish existing rights is not affected by this act; which saved all existing rights: Pate v. Peterson, 107 Wash. 93, 180 Pac. 894.

Waters Open to Appropriation: See Remington's Digest, Waters, § 1; Geddis v. Parrish, 1 Wash. 587, 21 Pac. 314; Dickey v. Maddux, 48 Wash. 411, 93 Pac. 1090; Mason v. Yearwood, 58 Wash. 276, 108 Pac. 608, 30 L. R. A. (N. S.) 1158; Still v. Palous Irrigation & Power Co., 64 Wash. 606, 117 Pac. 466; State ex rel. Olding v. Stumpfly, 69 Wash. 368, 125 Pac. 148; Sander v. Bull, 76 Wash. 1, 135 Pac. 489.

The rights of riparian owners are not to be disturbed by the appropriation of water from a stream on an Indian reservation, where the lands were not public lands at the time of the diversion or at any time since: Hough v. Taylor, 110 Wash. 361, 188 Pac. 458.

Persons Entitled to appropriate Water: See Remington's Digest, Waters, § 2; Avery v. Johnson, 59 Wash. 332, 109 Pac. 1028; Sander v. Bull, 76 Wash. 1, 135 Pac. 489.

Effect of Local Customs and Rules: See Remington's Digest, Waters, § 4; Thorpe v. Tenem Ditch Co., 1 Wash. 566, 20 Pac. 588; Isaacs v. Barber, 10 Wash. 124, 38 Pac. 871, 45 Am. St. Rep. 772, 30 L. R. A. 665; Benton v. Johncox, 17 Wash. 277, 49 Pac. 495, 61 Am. St. Rep. 912, 39 L. R. A. 107.

Proceedings to Effect Appropriation—Diligence and Intent to Apply Water to Beneficial Use: See Remington's Digest, Waters, § 6; Offield v. Ish, 21 Wash. 277, 57 Pac. 809; Longmire v. Smith, 26 Wash. 439, 67 Pac. 246, 58 L. R. A. 308; Still v. Palouse Irrigation & Power Co., 64 Wash. 606, 117 Pac. 466; *Ham, Yearsley & Ryrie v. — Notice of Appropriation: See Remington's Digest, Waters, § 8; Kendall v. Joyce, 48 Wash. 489, 93 Pac. 1091; State ex rel. Ham, Yearsley &

Ryrie v. Superior Court, 70 Wash. 442, 126 Pac. 945; Colburn v. Winchell, 93 Wash. 388, 160 Pac. 1052.

Time of Vesting of Rights Under Appropriation: See Remington's Digest, Waters, § 9; Benton v. Johncox, 17 Wash. 277, 49 Pac. 495, 61 Am. St. Rep. 912, 39 L. R. A. 107; New Whatcom v. Fairhaven Land Co., 24 Wash. 493, 64 Pac. 735, 54 L. R. A. 190; Kendall v. Joyce, 48 Wash. 489, 93 Pac. 1091; Avery v. Johnson, 59 Wash. 332, 109 Pac. 1028; Sumner Lumber & Shingle Co. v. Pacific Coast Power Co., 72 Wash. 631, 131 Pac. 230; Barnes v. Belsaas, 73 Wash. 205, 131 Pac. 817.

An appropriation of water for irrigation having been made in 1903, while the title to the lands was in the federal government, the state, in subsequently taking title for the purposes of a scientific school, takes the same subject to the previous vested right: Colburn v. Winchell, 93 Wash. 388, 160 Pac. 1052.

Successive Appropriations and Priorities Thereof: See Remington's Digest, Waters, § 10; Weidensteiner v. Mally, 55 Wash. 79, 104 Pac. 143; Sander v. Bull, 76 Wash. 1, 135 Pac. 489.

Effect of Appropriation as Against Prior Riparian Proprietors: See Remington's Digest, Waters, § 11; Benton v. Johncox, 17 Wash. 277, 49 Pac. 495, 61 Am. St. Rep. 912, 39 L. R. A. 107; Sanders v. Wilson, 34 Wash. 659, 76 Pac. 280.

Effect of Appropriation as Against Subsequent Grants, Entries and Patents: See Remington's Digest, Waters, § 12; Thorpe v. Tenem Ditch Co., 1 Wash. 566, 20 Pac. 588; Ellis v. Pomeroy Imp. Co., 1 Wash. 572, 21 Pac. 27; Geddis v. Parrish, 1 Wash. 587, 21 Pac. 314; Longmire v. Smith, 26 Wash. 439, 67 Pac. 246; Isaacs v. Barber, 10 Wash. 124, 38 Pac. 871, 45 Am. St. Rep. 772, 30 L. R. A. 665; Wold v. May, 10 Wash. 157, 38 Pac. 875; Lynch v. Lower Yakima Irrigation Co., 73 Wash. 173, 131 Pac. 829.

RIGHTS UNDER FORMER LAWS.—No prescriptive right to waters of a bog or marsh, used since 1884, can be claimed under Laws of 1891, page 327, where there has been no attempt to comply with the provisions of such law since its enactment: Dickey v. Maddux, 48 Wash. 411, 93 Pac. 1090.

Under Rem. Code, § 6327, a lower riparian owner may not go above an upper appropriator and divert the water already appropriated by such upper proprietor, to be used on lands down the stream or on contiguous lands that are not riparian to the stream, to the exclusion of the upper proprietor: Miller v. Baker, 68 Wash. 19, 122 Pac. 604.

The United States government having by acts of congress waived its right to waters flowing within the boundaries of any state, the state had a right in 1899, by Rem. Code, § 6333, to authorize the appropriation of waters for irrigation purposes, as an impairment, by reason of necessity, of the common law right to the undiminished flow of a stream in its natural channel: Colburn v. Winchell, 93 Wash. 388, 160 Pac. 1052.

Riparian owners who quitclaimed all the waters of a stream are not entitled to stored waters belonging to the plaintiff which plaintiff caused to flow down the channel without exceeding high-water mark; in view of Rem. Code, § 6337: Pleasant Valley Irrigation & Power Co. v. Barker, 98 Wash. 459, 167 Pac. 1092.

The riparian owner on a navigable lake is not given any right superior to others to appropriate the water thereof for the purpose of irrigation, by Rem. & Bal. Code, §§ 6325, 6326: State ex rel. Ham, Yearsley & Ryrie v. Superior Court, 70 Wash. 442, 126 Pac. 945.

Rem. Code, § 6338, did not give a riparian owner any right to appropriation superior to the right of other owners not bordering upon the lake, other than the right of appropriation common to all: State ex rel. Ham, Yearsley & Ryrie v. Superior Court, 70 Wash. 442, 126 Pac. 945.

Rem. Code, § 6339, has no application to fountain-heads of watercourses which have been appropriated by others: Miller v. Wheeler, 54 Wash. 429, 103 Pac. 641, 23 L. R. A. (N. S.) 1065.

That section had no application to springs having sufficient flow to form watercourses, and the common law rule governs riparian rights on such a watercourse: Hollett v. Davis, 54 Wash. 326, 103 Pac. 423.

The common-law rights of riparian owners to the natural flow of waters of a non-navigable stream are subject to condemnation for irrigation purposes, under Rem. Code, § 6369: State ex rel. Kettle Falls Power etc. Co. v. Superior Court, 46 Wash. 500, 90 Pac. 650.

In proceedings to condemn the right to water for irrigation purposes it is not a fatal defect to omit from the petition a statement of the time that the water is to be used, as required by Rem. Code, § 6369, where from other allegations, it appears that a perpetual use is desired: State ex rel. Liberty Lake Irr. Co. v. Superior Court, 47 Wash. 310, 91 Pac. 968.

Under Rem. Code, § 6382, condemnation of the rights of abutting owners to the use of the waters of a stream is limited, and cannot include waters used or needed by the riparian owner for his lands then irrigated or which he intends to irrigate within a reasonable time: State ex rel. Liberty Lake Irr. Co. v. Superior Court, 47 Wash. 310, 91 Pac. 968.

Such section establishes the policy of this state for a joint user in many instances of waters sought to be condemned for irrigation purposes: Spokane Valley Land & Water Co. v. Jones & Co., 53 Wash. 37, 101 Pac. 515.

Rem. Code, § 6398, prescribes only ministerial or administrative duties, and not judicial or quasi-judicial duties, and has no relation to judicial proceedings: State ex rel. Bennett v. Taylor, 54 Wash. 150, 102 Pac. 1029.

ACT OF 1899.—This act, for the appropriation of waters and the condemnation or rights of way for irrigation purposes, relates to but one subject, and its provisions are germane to the title: Weed v. Goodwin, 36 Wash. 31, 78 Pac. 36.

This act sufficiently provides for the assessment of damages aside from the value of the land taken: Weed v. Goodwin, 36 Wash. 31, 78 Pac. 36.

§ 7352. Units of Measurement.

The legally recognized units of water measurement shall be as follows: For flowing water—one cubic foot of water per second of time, and to be designated "second-foot." For absolute volume or quantity of water—forty-three thousand five hundred sixty cubic feet of water, and to be designated "acre-foot." [L. '17, p. 447, § 2.]

§ 7353. Right to Convey Water.

Any person may convey any water which he may have a right to use along any of the natural streams or lakes of this state, but not so as to raise the water thereof above ordinary high-water mark, without making just compensation to persons injured thereby; but due allowance shall be made for evaporation and seepage, the amount of such seepage to be determined by the state hydraulic engineer, upon the application of any person interested. [L. '17, p. 447, § 3.]

§ 7354. Eminent Domain for Beneficial Use of Water—Restrictions.

The beneficial use of water is hereby declared to be a public use, and any person may exercise the right of eminent domain to acquire any property or rights now or hereafter existing when found necessary for the storage of water for, or the application of water to, any beneficial use, including the right to enlarge existing structures employed for the public purposes mentioned in this act and use the same in common with the former owner, and including the right and power to condemn an inferior use of water for a superior use. In condemnation proceedings the court shall determine what use will be for the greatest public benefit, and that use shall be deemed a superior one: Provided, that no property right in water or the use of water shall be acquired hereunder by condemnation for irrigation purposes, which shall deprive any person of such quantity of water as may be reasonably necessary for the irrigation of his land then under irrigation to the full extent of the soil, by the most economical method of artificial irrigation applicable to such land according to the usual methods of artificial irrigation employed in the vicinity where such land is situated. In any case, the court shall determine what is the most economical method of irrigation. Such property or rights shall be acquired in the manner provided by law for the taking of private property for public use by private corporations. [L. '17, p. 448, § 4.]

This act did not repeal section 8078; and the right to condemn state property is not given by this section: State ex rel. Mason County v. Superior Court, 102 Wash. 291, 173 Pac. 19.

rying additional waters does not deprive them of the right to the beneficial use of waters declared by this section; this section, by necessary implication, grants the right to use such waters, and does not violate the obligation of contracts: State ex rel. § 7359. District Water-masters—Compensation.

Water-masters shall be appointed by the state hydraulic engineer upon application by interested parties making a reasonable showing of the necessity therefor, at such time, for such districts, and for such periods of service, as local conditions may indicate to be necessary to provide the most practical supervision on the part of the state and to secure to water users and owners the best protection in their rights. The districts for or in which the water-masters serve shall be designated water districts, which shall be fixed from time to time by the state hydraulic engineer, as required, and they shall be subject to revision as to boundaries or to complete abandonment as local conditions may indicate to be expedient, the spirit of this provision being that no districts need be created or maintained, or water-masters appointed therefor, where the need for the same does not exist. Water-masters shall be under the supervision of the state hydraulic engineer, and shall be technically qualified to the extent of understanding the elementary principles of hydraulics and irrigation, and of being able to make water measurements in streams and in open and closed conduits of all characters, by the usual methods employed for that purpose. Each water-master shall, if employed by the day, receive a wage of not to exceed five dollars ($5) per day for each day he shall be actually employed in the duties of his office, or, if employed continuously he shall receive a salary of not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) per month, to be paid by the county in which the work is performed. In case the service extends over more than one county each county shall pay its equitable part of such wage to be apportioned by the state hydraulic engineer. He shall be reimbursed for actual necessary expenses when absent from his designated headquarters in the performance of his duties, such expenses to be paid by the county in which he renders the service. The accounts of the water-master shall be audited and certified by the state hydraulic engineer and the county auditor shall issue a warrant therefor upon the current expense fund. [L. '17, p. 451, § 9.]

§ 7360. Duties of Water-master.

It shall be the duty of the water-master, acting under the direction of the state hydraulic engineer, to divide in whole or in part, the water supply of his district among the several water conduits and reservoirs using said supply, according to the right and priority of each, respectively. He shall, as near as may be, divide, regulate and control the use of water within his district by such closure or partial closure of headgates as will prevent its use in excess of the amount to which the owner of the right is lawfully entitled. He shall as may be required in times of scarcity of water, and in respect of priorities of rights, shut and fasten or cause to be shut and fastened the headgates of water conduits, and shall regulate or cause to be regulated the controlling works of reservoirs. Whenever, in the pursuance of his duties, the water-master regulates a headgate of a water conduit or the controlling works of a reservoir, he shall attach to such headgate or controlling works a written notice, properly dated and signed, stating that such headgate or controlling works has been properly regulated and is wholly under his control and such notice shall be a legal notice to all parties. He shall enforce such rules and regulations as the state hydraulic engineer shall from time to time prescribe. [L. '17, p. 452, § 10.]

§ 7361. Appeals to Superior Court—Procedure—Attorney General, Legal Adviser—Compensation of Assistant Engineer.

Any person, corporation or association feeling aggrieved at any order, decision, or determination of the state hydraulic engineer, or of any assistant or deputy, or any water-master, affecting his interests, may have the same reviewed by a proceeding for that purpose, in the nature of an appeal, initiated in the superior court of the county in which the matter affected, or a portion thereof is situated. The proceedings in every such appeal shall be heard and tried by the court and shall be informal and summary, but full opportunity to be heard and present evidence shall be had before judgment is pronounced. No such appeal shall be entertained unless notice of appeal containing a statement of the substance of the order, decision, or determination complained of and the manner in which the same injuriously affects the appellant's interests, shall have been served personally upon the state hydraulic engineer, or by registered mail, at his office at the state capital, within twenty days following the rendition of the order, decision or determination appealed from and communication thereof in writing to the person affected thereby. No bond shall be required except a stay is desired and an appeal shall not be a stay, unless within five days following the service of notice of appeal a bond shall be filed in an amount to be fixed by the court and with sureties satisfactory to the court, conditioned to perform the judgment of the court. Costs shall be paid as in civil cases brought in the superior court, and the practice in civil cases shall apply. Appeal shall lie from the judgment of the superior court as in other civil cases. In all court proceedings under or pursuant to this section the decision of the state hydraulic engineer shall be prima facie correct. The attorney general shall be the legal adviser of the state hydraulic engineer and shall represent him in all proceedings whenever so requested. Wherever it shall appear to the state hydraulic engineer that any litigation, whether now pending or hereafter brought, may adversely affect the rights of the public in water, it shall be his duty to request the attorney general to appear and protect the interests of the state. He shall assign one of his assistants to perform such legal services as may be required in connection with proceedings to determine water rights and may require him to perform such other legal services for the state hydraulic engineer as may be necessary to assist him in the performance of his duties. The proportionate part of the salary and expenses of such assistant for services in connection with the determination of water rights shall be included in the statement of the state hydraulic engineer required by section 7371. The state hydraulic engineer may expend such of the funds appropriated for his department for such portion of the salary and expenses of such assistant as may be agreed upon between the state hydraulic engineer and attorney general. [L. '19, p. 141, § 1; L. '17, p. 452, § 11.]

§ 7364. Determination of Rights to Water—Engineer's Statement and Map—Filing.

Upon the filing of a petition with the state hydraulic engineer by one or more persons claiming the right to divert any waters within the state or when, after investigation, in the judgment of the state hydraulic engineer, the interest of the public will be subserved by a determination of the rights thereto, it shall be the duty of the state hydraulic engineer to prepare a statement of the facts, together with a plan or map of the locality under investigation, and file such statement and plan or map in the superior court of the county in which said water is situated, or, in case such water flows or is situated in more than one county, in the county which the state hydraulic engineer shall determine to be the most convenient to the parties interested therein. Such statement shall contain substantially the following matter, to wit:

(1) The names of all known persons claiming the right to divert said water, the right to the diversion of which is sought to be determined, and

(2) A brief statement of the facts in relation to such water, and the necessity for a determination of the rights thereto. [L. '17, p. 454, § 14.]

. See notes to § 7355.

A summons shall thereupon be issued out of said superior court, signed and attested by the clerk thereof, in the name of the state of Washington, as plaintiff, against all known persons claiming the right to divert the water involved and also all persons unknown claiming the right to divert the water involved, which said summons shall contain a brief statement of the objects and purpose of the proceedings and shall require the defendants to appear on the return day thereof, and make and file a statement of claim to, or interest in, the water involved and a statement that unless they appear at the time and place fixed and assert such right, judgment will be entered determining their rights according to the evidence: Provided, however, that any persons claiming the right to the use of water by virtue of a contract with claimant to the right to divert the same, shall not be necessary parties to the proceeding. [L.'17, p. 454, § 15.]

§ 7366. Service of Summons—Publication.

Service of said summons shall be made in the same manner and with the same force and effect as service of summons in civil actions commenced in the superior courts of the state. If the defendants, or either of them cannot be found within the state of Washington, of which the return of the sheriff of the county in which the proceeding is pending shall be prima facie evidence, upon the filing of an affidavit by the state hydraulic engineer, or his attorney, in conformity with the statute relative to the service of summons by publication in civil actions, such service may be made by publication in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published at the county seat of the county in which such proceeding is pending, and also publication of said summons in a newspaper published at the county seat of each county in which any portion of the water is situated, once a week for six consecutive weeks before the return day thereof. In cases where personal service can be had, such summons shall be served at least twenty (20) days before the return day thereof. [L.'17, p. 455, § 16.]

§ 7367. Defendants to File Verified Statements.

- (7) The legal description of the land upon which said water has been, or may be, put to beneficial use.

Such statement shall be verified on oath by the defendant, and in the discretion of the court may be amended. [L.'17, p. 455, § 17.]

§ 7368. Guardians Ad Litem.

Whenever any defendant in any proceeding instituted under this act is an infant, insane or incompetent person, the court shall, on application of any party thereto, appoint a guardian ad litem for such person as in civil actions. If such infant, insane or incompetent person has a general guardian, such general guardian shall be appointed guardian ad litem. [L. '17, p. 456, § 18.]

The state hydraulic engineer or his duly authorized deputy shall have authority to subpoena witnesses and administer oaths in the same manner and with the same powers as referees in civil actions. The fees and mileage of witnesses shall be advanced by the party at whose instance they are called as in civil actions. A final decree adjudicating rights or priorities, entered in any case decided prior to taking effect of this act, shall be conclusive among the parties thereto and the extent of use so determined shall be prima facie evidence of rights to the amount of water and priorities so fixed as against any person not a party to said decree. [L. '17, p. 456, § 20.]

If no exceptions be filed, the court shall enter a decree determining the rights of the parties according to the evidence and the report of the state hydraulic engineer, whether such parties have appeared therein or not. If exceptions are filed the action shall proceed as in case of reference of a suit in equity and the court may in its discretion take further evidence or, if necessary, remand the case for such further evidence to be taken by the state hydraulic engineer, and may require further report by him. Costs, not including taxable attorneys' fees, may be allowed or not; if allowed, may be apportioned among the parties in the discretion of the court. Appeal may be taken to the supreme court from such decree in the same manner as in other cases in equity, except that notice of appeal must be both served and filed within sixty days from the entry thereof. During the pendency of such adjudication proceedings prior to judgment or upon appeal to the supreme court of the state or other appellate court, the stream or other water involved shall be regulated or partially regulated according to the schedule of rights specified in said state hydraulic engineer's report upon an order of the court authorizing such regulation: Provided, any interested party may file a bond and obtain an order staying the regulation of said stream as to him, in the same manner as provided in section 7361, in which case the court shall make such order regarding the regulation of the stream or other water as he may deem just. [L. '21, p. 303, § 1.]

§ 7375. Failure of Defendant to Appear—Estoppel.

Whenever proceedings shall be instituted for the determination of the rights to the use of the water, any defendant who shall fail to appear in such proceedings, after legal service, and submit proof of his claim, shall be estopped from subsequently asserting any right to the use of such water embraced in such proceeding, except as determined by such decree. [L. '17, p. 458, § 24.]

§ 7378. Applications for Permits to Use Water—Temporary Permits.

Any person, municipal corporation, firm, irrigation district, association, corporation or water users' association hereafter desiring to appropriate water for a beneficial use shall make an application to the state hydraulic engineer for a permit to make such appropriation, and shall not use or divert such waters until he has received a permit from such state hydraulic engineer as in this chapter provided. The construction of any ditch, canal or works, or performing any work in connection with said construction or appropriation, or the use of any waters, shall not be an appropriation of such water nor an act for the purpose of appropriating water unless a permit to make said appropriation has first been granted by the state hydraulic engineer: Provided, that a temporary permit may be granted upon a proper showing made to the hydraulic engineer to be valid only during the pendency of such application for a permit unless sooner revoked by said hydraulic engineer: Provided, further, that nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to affect chapter III of this title, except that the notice and certificate therein provided for in section 7410 thereof shall be addressed to the state hydraulic engineer after the passage of this act, and the state hydraulic engineer shall exercise the powers and perform the duties prescribed by said section 7410. [L. '17, p. 459, § 27.]

§ 7379. Contents of Applications—Purposes.

Each application for permit to appropriate water shall set forth the name and postoffice address of the applicant, the source of water supply, the nature and amount of the proposed use, the time during which water will be required each year, the location and description of the proposed ditch, canal, or other work, the time within which the completion of the construction and the time for the complete application of the water to the proposed use. If agricultural purposes, it shall give the legal subdivision of the land and the acreage to be irrigated, as near as may be, and the amount of water expressed in acre-feet to be supplied per season. If for power purposes, it shall give the nature of the works by means of which the power is to be developed, the head and amount of water to be utilized, and the uses to which the power is to be applied. If for construction of a reservoir, it shall give the height of the dam, the capacity of the reservoir, and the uses to be made of the impounded waters. If for municipal water supply, it shall give the present population to be served, and, as near as may be, the future requirement of the municipality. If for mining purposes, it shall give the nature of the mines to be served and the method of supplying and utilizing the water; also their location by legal subdivisions. All applications shall be accompanied by such maps and drawings, in duplicate, and such other data, as may be required by the state hydraulic engineer, and such accompanying data shall be considered as a part of the application. [L. '17, p. 459, § 28.]

§ 7380. Filing With Engineer—Date—Priority.

Upon receipt of an application it shall be the duty of the state hydraulic engineer to make an indorsement thereon of the date of its receipt, and to keep a record of same. If upon examination, the application is found to be defective, it shall be returned to the applicant for correction or completion, and the date and the reasons for the return thereof shall be indorsed thereon and made a record in his office. No application shall lose its priority of filing on account of such defects, provided acceptable maps, drawings and such data as is required by the state hydraulic engineer shall be filed in the office of the state hydraulic engineer within such reasonable time as he shall require. [L. '17, p. 460, § 29.]

See notes to § 7355.

§ 7381. Notice of Proposed Use or Diversion—Publication.

Upon filing an application which complies with the provisions of this act and the rules and regulations established hereunder, the state hydraulic engineer shall instruct the applicant to publish notice thereof, in a form prescribed by said state hydraulic engineer, in one newspaper of general circulation published at the county seat of the county or counties in which the storage, diversion and use is to be made, and in such other newspapers as the state hydraulic engineer may direct, once a week for two consecutive weeks. [L. '17, p. 461, § 30.]

§ 7382. Investigation and Report on Application—Permits—Approval—Fees.

When an application complying with the provisions of this chapter and with the rules and regulations of the state hydraulic engineer has been filed, the same shall be placed on record in the office of the state hydraulic engineer, and it shall be his duty to investigate the application, and determine what water, if any, is available for appropriation, and find and determine to what beneficial use or uses it can be applied. If it is proposed to appropriate water for irrigation purposes, the state hydraulic engineer shall investigate, determine and find what lands are capable of irrigation by means of water found available for appropriation. The state hydraulic engineer shall make and file as part of the record in the matter, written findings of fact concerning all things investigated, and if he shall find that there is water available for appropriation for a beneficial use, and the appropriation thereof as proposed in the application will not impair existing rights or be detrimental to the public welfare, he shall issue a permit stating the amount of water to which the applicant shall be entitled and the beneficial use or uses to which it may be applied: Provided, that where the water applied for is to be used for irrigation purposes, it shall become appurtenant only to such lands as may be reclaimed thereby to the full extent of the soil for agricultural purposes. But where there is no unappropriated water in the proposed source of supply, or where the proposed use conflicts with existing rights, or threatens to prove detrimental to the public interest, having due regard for the highest feasible development of the use of the waters belonging to the public, it shall be the duty of the state hydraulic engineer to reject such application and to refuse to issue the permit asked for. If the permit is refused because of conflict with existing rights and such applicant shall acquire same by purchase or condemnation under section 7354 hereof, said engineer may thereupon grant such permit. Any application may be approved for a less amount of water than that applied for, if there exists substantial reason therefor, and in any event shall not be approved for more water than can be applied to beneficial use for the purposes named in the application. In determining whether or not a permit shall issue upon any application, it shall be the duty of the state hydraulic engineer to investigate all facts relevant and material to the application. After the state hydraulic engineer approves said application in whole or in part and before any permit shall be issued thereon to the applicant, such applicant shall pay the fee provided in section 7399. [L. '17, p. 461, § 31.]

§ 7383. Denial of Permit for Appropriation.

That no permit for the appropriation of water shall be denied because of the fact that the point of diversion described in the application for such permit, or any portion of the works in such application described and to be constructed for the purpose of storing, conserving, diverting or distributing such water, or because the place of intended use or the lands to be irrigated by means of such water, or any part thereof, may be situated in some other state or nation, but in all such cases where either the point of diversion or any of such works or the place of intended use, or the lands, or part of the lands, to be irrigated by means of such water, are situated within the state of Washington, the permit shall issue as in other cases: Provided, however, that the state hydraulic engineer may in his discretion, decline to issue a permit where the point of diversion described in the application is within the state of Washington but the place of beneficial use in some other state or nation, unless under the laws of such state or nation water may be lawfully diverted within such state or nation for beneficial use in the state of Washington. [L. '21, p. 305, § 3.]

§ 7384. Assignment of Permits.

Any permit to appropriate water may be assigned subject to the conditions of the permit, but no such assignment shall be binding or valid unless filed for record in the office of the state hydraulic engineer. Any application for permits to appropriate water prior to permit issuing, may be assigned by the applicant, but no such assignment shall be valid or binding unless the written consent of the state hydraulic engineer is first obtained thereto, and unless such assignment is filed for record in the office of the state hydraulic engineer. [L. '17, p. 462, § 32.]

See notes to § 7355.

§ 7385. Construction Work Under Permits—Limitations—Extension of Time—Cancellation of Permit.

Actual construction work shall be commenced on any project for which permit has been granted within such reasonable time as shall be prescribed by the state hydraulic engineer, and shall thereafter be prosecuted with diligence and completed within the time prescribed by the state hydraulic engineer. The state hydraulic engineer, in fixing the time for the commencement of the work, or for the completion thereof and the application of the water to the beneficial use prescribed in the permit, shall take into consideration the cost and magnitude of the project and the engineering and physical features to be encountered, and shall allow such time as shall be reasonable and just under the conditions then existing, having due regard for the public welfare and public interests affected: and, for good cause shown, he shall extend the time or times fixed as aforesaid, and shall grant such further period or periods as may be reasonably necessary, having due regard to the good faith of the applicant and the public interests affected. If the terms of the permit or extension thereof, are not complied with the state hydraulic engineer shall give notice by registered mail that such permit will be canceled unless the holders thereof shall show cause within sixty days why the same should not be so canceled. If cause be not shown, said permit shall be canceled. [L. '17, p. 462, § 33.]

See notes to § 7355.

§ 7386. Certificate of Due Appropriation—Registration and Recording.

Upon a showing satisfactory to the state hydraulic engineer that any appropriation has been perfected in accordance with the provisions of this act, it shall be the duty of such state hydraulic engineer to issue to the applicant a certificate stating such facts in a form to be prescribed by him, and such certificate shall thereupon be recorded in his office. Any original water right certificate or permit to divert water, issued, as provided by this act, shall be recorded in his office and thereafter, at the expense of the party receiving the same, be by such engineer transmitted to the county auditor of the county or counties where the distributing system or any part thereof is located, and be recorded in the office of such county auditor, and thereafter be transmitted to the owner thereof. [L. '17, p. 463, § 34.]

See notes to § 7355.

§ 7387. Date of Initiation of Water Right.

The right acquired by appropriation shall relate back to the date of filing of the original application in the office of the state hydraulic engineer. [L. '17, p. 463, § 35.]

§ 7388. Storage Dams—Approval by Engineer.

Any person, corporation or association intending to construct any dam or controlling works for the storage of ten-acre feet or more of water, shall, before beginning said construction, submit plans and specifications of the same to the state hydraulic engineer for his examination and approval as to its safety. Such plans and specifications shall be submitted in duplicate, one copy of which shall be retained, as a public record, by the state hydraulic engineer, and the other returned with his approval or rejection indorsed thereon. No such dam or controlling works shall be constructed until the same or any modification thereof shall have been approved as to its safety by the state hydraulic engineer. [L. '17, p. 463, § 36.]

See notes to § 7355.

§ 7389. Controlling Works and Measuring Devices—Duty to Maintain.

The owner or owners of any ditch or canal shall maintain, to the satisfaction of the state hydraulic engineer, substantial controlling works, and a measuring device at the point where the water is diverted, and these shall be so constructed as to permit of accurate measurement and practical regulation of the flow of water diverted into said ditch or canal. Every owner or manager of a reservoir for the storage of water shall construct and maintain, when required by the state hydraulic engineer, any measuring device necessary to ascertain the natural flow into and out of said reservoir. [L. '17, p. 464, § 37.]

§ 7390. Reservoir Permits—Applications for Secondary Permits.

All applications for reservoir permits shall be subject to the provisions of sections 7378 to 7385, both inclusive. But the party or parties proposing to apply to a beneficial use the water stored in any such reservoir shall also file an application for a permit, to be known as the secondary permit, which shall be in compliance with the provisions of sections 7378 to 7385, both inclusive. Such secondary application shall refer to such reservoir as its source of water supply and shall show documentary evidence that an agreement has been entered into with the owners of the reservoir for a permanent and sufficient interest in said reservoir to impound enough water for the purposes set forth in said application. When the beneficial use has been completed and perfected under the secondary permit, the state hydraulic engineer shall take the proof of the water users under such permit and the final certificate of appropriation shall refer to both the ditch and works described in the secondary permit and the reservoir described in the primary permit. [L. '17, p. 464, § 38.]

§ 7391. Water Appurtenant to Land—Transfer—Change in Point of Diversion—Notice and Hearing—Certificates.

The right to the use of water which has been applied to a beneficial use in the state shall be and remain appurtenant to the land or place upon which the same is used: Provided, however, that said right may be transferred to another or to others and become appurtenant to any other land or place of use without loss of priority of right theretofore established if such change can be made without detriment or injury to existing rights. The point of diversion of water for beneficial use or the purpose of use may be changed, if such change can be made without detriment or injury to existing rights. Before any transfer of such right to use water or change of the point of diversion of water or change of purpose of use can be made, any person having an interest in the transfer or change, shall file a written application therefor with the state hydraulic engineer, and said application shall not be granted until notice of the hearing upon said application shall be published as provided in section 7381. If upon such hearing it shall appear that such transfer or such change may be made without injury or detriment to existing rights, the state hydraulic engineer shall issue to the applicant a certificate in duplicate granting the right for such transfer or for such change of point of diversion or of use. The certificate so issued shall be filed and be made a record in the office of the state hydraulic engineer and the duplicate certificate issued to the applicant may be filed with the county auditor in like manner and with the same effect as provided in the original certificate or permit to divert water. The applicant shall pay the fee of one dollar ($1) for the certificate provided for by this section. [L. '17, p. 465, § 39.]

It shall also be a misdemeanor to use, store or divert any water until after the issuance of permit to appropriate such water. [L. '17, p. 465, § 40.]

§ 7393. Interference With Appliances or Wrongful Use of Water.

(1) Any person or persons who shall willfully interfere with, or injure or destroy any dam, dike, headgate, weir, canal or reservoir, flume or other structure or appliance for the diversion, carriage, storage, apportionment or measurement of water for irrigation, reclamation, power or other beneficial uses, or who shall willfully use or conduct water into or through his ditch, which has been lawfully denied him by the water-master or other competent authority, or shall willfully injure or destroy any telegraph, telephone or electric transmission line, or any other property owned, occupied or controlled by any person, association, or corporation, or by the United States and used in connection with said beneficial use of water, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

(3) The use of water through such structure or structures, appliance or appliances hereinbefore named after its or their having been interfered with, injured or destroyed, shall be prima facie evidence of the guilt of the person using it. [L. '21, p. 304, § 2. Cf. L. '17, p. 466, § 41.]

§ 7394. Obstruction of Appropriator's Right of Way.

Whenever any appropriator of water has the lawful right of way for the storage, diversion, or carriage of water, it shall be unlawful to place or maintain any obstruction that shall interfere with the use of the works, or prevent convenient access thereto or trespass thereon. [L. '17, p. 466, § 42.]

§ 7395. Partnership Ditches.

In all cases where irrigation ditches are owned by two or more persons, and one or more of such persons shall fail or neglect to do his, or her or their proportionate share of the work necessary for the proper maintenance and operation of such ditch or ditches or to construct suitable headgates or measuring devices at the points where water is diverted from the main ditch, such owner or owners desiring the performance of such work as is reasonably necessary to maintain the ditch, may, after having given ten days' written notice to such owner or owners who have failed to perform his, her or their proportionate share of such work, necessary for the operation and maintenance of said ditch or ditches, perform his, her or their share of such work, and recover therefor from such person or persons so failing to perform his, her or their share of such work in any court having jurisdiction of the matter the expense or value of such work or labor so performed: Provided, that no improvement involving an expenditure in excess of one hundred dollars ($100) shall be made without the written approval of the state hydraulic engineer having first been obtained. [L. '19, p. 143, § 3.]

§ 7396. Division of Water Between Joint Owners—Determination—Costs—Collection.

When two or more persons, joint owners in an irrigation ditch or reservoir, not incorporated, or their lessees, are unable to agree relative to the division or distribution of water received through their ditch or from their reservoir, and where there is no disagreement as to the ownership of said water, it shall be lawful for any such owner or owners, his or their lessee or lessees, or either of them, to apply to the state hydraulic engineer, in writing, setting forth such fact and giving such information as shall enable the state hydraulic engineer to estimate the probable expense of such service, asking the state hydraulic engineer to appoint some suitable person to take charge of such ditch or reservoir for the purpose of making a just division or distribution of the water from the same to the parties entitled to the use thereof. The state hydraulic engineer shall upon receipt of such application notify the applicant of the probable expense of such division and upon receipt of certified check for said amount, he shall appoint a suitable person to make such division. The person so appointed shall take exclusive charge of such ditch or reservoir for the purpose of dividing the water therefrom in accordance with the established rights of the diverters therefrom, and continue the said work until the necessity therefor shall cease to exist. The expense of such investigation and division shall be a charge upon all of the co-owners and the person advancing the payment to the state hydraulic engineer shall be entitled to recover in any court of competent jurisdiction from his co-owners their proportionate share of the expense. [L. '19, p. 144, § 4.]

§ 7397. Lien for Services of Co-owner—Maintenance Labor.

Upon the failure of any co-owner to pay his proportionate share of such expense as mentioned in section 7395 within thirty days after receiving a statement of the same as performed by his co-owner or owners, such person or persons so performing such labor may secure payment of said claim by filing an itemized and sworn statement thereof, setting forth the date of the performance and the nature of the labor so performed, with the county auditor of the county wherein said ditch is situated, and when so filed it shall constitute a valid lien against the interest of such person or persons who shall fail to perform their proportionate share of the work requisite to the proper maintenance of said ditch, which said lien when so taken may be enforced in the same manner as provided by law for the enforcement of mechanics' and builders' liens. [L. '19, p. 145, § 5.]

§ 7398. Inchoate Rights not Impaired.

That nothing in this act contained shall operate to effect an impairment of any inchoate right to divert and use water while the application of the water in question to a beneficial use is being prosecuted with reasonable diligence, having due regard to the circumstances surrounding the enterprise, including the magnitude of the project for putting the water to a beneficial use and the market for the resulting water right for irrigation or power or other beneficial use, in the locality in question. [L. '17, p. 467, § 43.]

§ 7399. Schedule of Fees.

The following fees shall be collected by the state hydraulic engineer in advance and be paid by him into the general fund of the state treasury on the last day of March, June, September and December of each year; (a) for examining an application for a permit to appropriate water, five dollars ($5); (b) for filing and recording permit to appropriate water for irrigation purposes, ten cents (10c) per acre for each acre to be irrigated up to and including one hundred acres, and five cents (5c) per acre for each acre in excess of one hundred acres up to and including one thousand acres, and two and one-half cents (2½c) for each acre in excess of one thousand acres; and also ten cents (10c) for each theoretical horse-power up to and including one hundred h. p. and five cents (5c) for each theoretical h. p. up to and including one thousand h. p. and one cent (1c) for each theoretical h. p. in excess of one thousand h. p.; (c) for filing and recording any other water right instrument, one dollar ($1) for the first hundred words and ten cents (10c) for each additional hundred words or fraction thereof; (d) for making copy of any document recorded or filed in his office, ten cents (10c) for each hundred words or fraction thereof, but where the amount exceeds five dollars ($5), then only the actual cost in excess of that amount shall be charged; (e) for certifying to copies, documents, records, or maps, one dollar ($1) for each certification; (f) for blue print copies of any map or drawing, ten cents (10c) per square foot or fraction thereof. Any person constructing a ditch, whenever the same be taken across any public highway, shall put a good, substantial bridge, not less than sixteen feet in breadth, over such watercourse where it crosses said road, which said bridge shall be constructed within three days after any ditch has been constructed across any highway, and in case any bridge is not so constructed within the time named by the owners thereof, it shall be the duty of the supervisors of the road district wherein said crossing is situated to put a bridge over said ditch of the dimensions specified in this section, and call on the owner of the ditch to pay the expenses of constructing such bridges; and if the owner of such ditch refuse to pay the said expense, the said supervisor may go before any justice of the peace and make oath to the correctness of the bill, and that the owner of the ditch refuses payment thereof, and thereupon such justice of the peace shall issue a summons against such owner, requiring him to appear and answer to the complaint of such supervisor in an action for the amount due, such summons to be made returnable, and such proceedings to be had and taken thereon, as in other cases. The United States shall have the right to turn into any natural or artificial watercourse, any water that it may have acquired the right to store, divert, or store and divert, and may again divert and reclaim said waters from said watercourse for irrigation purposes subject to existing rights. [L. '05, p. 180, § 2.]

§ 7410. [6410.] Exemptions Pending Federal Investigation.

Whenever the secretary of the interior of the United States, or any officer of the United States duly authorized, shall notify the commissioner of public lands of this state that pursuant to the provisions of the act of congress approved June 17, 1902, entitled, "An act appropriating the receipts from the sale and disposal of public lands in certain states and territories to the construction of irrigation works for the reclamation of arid lands," or any amendment of said act or substitute therefor, the United States intends to make examinations or surveys for the utilization of certain specified waters, the waters so described shall not thereafter be subject to appropriation under any law of this state for a period of one year from and after the date of the receipt of such notice by such commissioner of public lands; but such notice shall not in any wise affect the appropriation of any water theretofore in good faith initiated under any law of this state, but such appropriation may be completed in accordance with the law in the same manner and to the same extent as though such notice had not been given. No adverse claim to any such waters initiated subsequent to the receipt by the commissioner of public lands of such notice shall be recognized, under the laws of this state, except as to such amount of the waters described in such notice or certificate hereinafter provided as may be formally released in writing by a duly authorized officer of the United States. If the said secretary of the interior or other duly authorized officer of the United States shall, before the expiration of said period of one year, certify in writing to the said commissioner of public lands that the project contemplated in such notice appears to be feasible and that the investigation will be made in detail, the waters specified in such notice shall not be subject to appropriation under any law of this state for the further period of three years following the date of receipt of such certificate, and such further time as the commissioner of public lands may grant, upon application of the United States or some one of its authorized officers and notice thereof first published once in each week for four consecutive weeks in a newspaper published in the county where the works for the utilization of such waters are to be constructed, and if such works are to be in or extend into two or more counties, then for the same period in a newspaper in each of such counties: Provided, that in case such certificate shall not be filed with said commissioner of public lands within the period of one year herein limited therefor the waters specified in such notice shall, after the expiration of said period of one year, become unaffected by such notice and subject to appropriation as they would have been had such notice never been given: And provided further, that in case such certificate be filed within said one year and the United States does not authorize the construction of works for the utilization of such waters within said three years after the filing of said certificate, then the waters specified in such notice and certificate shall, after the expiration of said last named period of three years, become unaffected by such notice or certificate and subject to appropriation as they would have been had such notice never been given and such certificate never filed. [L. '05, p. 180, § 3.]

§ 7411. [6411.] Appropriation—Title to Beds and Shores.

Whenever said secretary of the interior or other duly authorized officer of the United States shall cause to be let a contract for the construction of any irrigation works or any works for the storage of water for use in irrigation, or any portion or section thereof, for which the withdrawal has been effected as provided in section 7410, any authorized officer of the United States, either in the name of the United States or in such name as may be determined by the secretary of the interior, may appropriate, in behalf of the United States, so much of the unappropriated waters of the state as may be required for the project, such appropriation to be made, maintained and perfected in the same manner and to the same extent as though such appropriation had been made by a private person, corporation or association, except as to the time for the initiation, prosecution and completion of the necessary works for the utilization of the waters so appropriated; which time shall be controlled by the provisions of section 7410 of this chapter. Such appropriation by or on behalf of the United States shall inure to the United States, and its successors in interest, in the same manner and to the same extent as though said appropriation had been made by a private person, corporation or association. The title to the beds and shores of any navigable lake or stream utilized by the construction of any reservoir or other irrigation works created or constructed as a part of such appropriation hereinbefore in this section provided for, shall vest in the United States to the extent necessary for the maintenance, operation and control of such reservoir or other irrigation works. [L. '05, p. 182, § 4.]

§ 7412. [6412.] Reservation of Necessary Lands by United States—Procedure.

When the notice provided for in section 7410 shall be given to the commissioner of public lands the proper officers of the United States may file with the said commissioner a list of lands (including in the term "lands" as here used, the beds and shores of any lake, river, stream, or other waters) owned by the state, over or upon which the United States may require rights of way for canals, ditches or laterals or sites for reservoirs and structures therefor or appurtenant thereto, or such additional rights of way and quantity of land as may be required for the operation and maintenance of the completed works for the irrigation project contemplated in such notice, and the filing of such list shall constitute a reservation from the sale or other disposal by the state of such lands so described, which reservation shall, upon the completion of such works and upon the United States by its proper officers filing with the commissioner of public lands of the state a description of such lands by metes and bounds or other definite description, ripen into a grant from the state to the United States. The state, in the disposal of lands granted from the United States to the state, shall reserve for the United States rights of way for ditches, canals, laterals, telephone and transmission lines which may be required by the United States for the construction, operation and maintenance of irrigation works. [L. '05, p. 182, § 5.]

§ 7413. [6413.] Restrictions on Sale of State Lands Within Project.

After the receipt by the commissioner of public lands of the notice from the secretary of the interior or other officer of the United States provided for in section 7410, no lands belonging to the state, susceptible of irrigation and within the area to be irrigated from the works projected by the United States and specified in such notice shall be sold except in conformity to the classification of farm units by the United States, and the title to such lands shall not pass from the state until the applicant therefor shall have fully complied with the provisions of the laws of the United States and the regulations thereunder concerning the acquisition of the right to use water from such works and shall produce the evidence thereof duly issued: Provided, that the restrictions upon the sale or other disposal by the state of any state lands provided for in this section shall continue for the same periods, respectively, and upon the same conditions, as specified in section 7410 for the withdrawal of waters from appropriation: And provided further, that in case the authorization by the United States for the construction of irrigation works pursuant to section 7410 shall be made within the period of three years specified therefor in said section, then the restrictions upon and conditions prescribed for the sale or other disposal of said lands in this section shall continue so long as any such lands shall remain unsold or not disposed of. [L. '05, p. 183, § 6.]

§ 7414. [6414.*] Water Users' Associations Exempt from Tax — Corporate Filing Fee—Dissolution.

Any water users' association which is organized in conformity with the requirements of the United States under said act of congress. and which under its articles of incorporation is authorized to furnish water only to its stockholders, shall be exempt from the payment of any incorporation tax, and from the payment of any annual franchise tax; but shall be required to pay, as preliminary to its incorporation, only a fee of twenty dollars for the filing and recording of its articles of incorporation and the issuance of certificates of incorporation. Whenever, with the consent of the secretary of the interior of the United States, the stockholders of any such association shall adopt any other form of organization to manage the affairs of such reclamation project in connection with which any such water users' association has been organized, such association may dissolve or disincorporate itself by the procedure and subject to the laws relating to the disincorporation of corporations in this state when such dissolution is authorized by a vote of two-thirds of all the stockholders represented at a meeting of the stockholders called for such purpose. [L. '19, p. 86, § 1. Cf. L. '05, p. 184, § 7.]

§ 7415. [6415.] County Auditor to Provide Record Books.

It shall be the duty of the county auditor to provide record books containing printed forms of the articles of incorporation and stock subscriptions to the stock of water users' associations organized in conformity with the requirements of the United States under said act of congress, and to use such books for recording stock subscriptions of such associations, and the charges for the recording thereof shall be made on the basis of the number of words actually written therein and not for the printed form. [L. '05, p. 184, § 8.]

§ 7416. [6415-1.] Dams and Works for Irrigation and Power Purposes.

There is hereby granted to persons, firms and corporations organized among other things, for irrigation and power purposes, the right to construct and maintain dams and works incident thereto over, upon and across the beds of the rivers of the state of Washington in connection with such power and irrigation purposes, and there is hereby granted to such persons, firms and corporations an easement over, upon and across the beds of such rivers for such purposes. Such easement shall be limited however, to so much of the beds of such rivers as may be reasonably convenient and necessary for such uses. All such dams and works shall be completed within five years after the commencement of construction work upon the same. The rights and privileges granted by this act shall inure to the benefit of such persons, firms or corporations from the date of the commencement of construction work upon such dams and works incident thereto, and such construction work shall be diligently prosecuted to completion, and the rights, privileges and easements granted by this act shall continue so long as the same shall be utilized by the grantees for the purposes herein specified, and the failure to maintain and use such dams and works after the same shall have been constructed, for a continuous period of two years, shall operate as a forfeiture of all the rights hereby granted and the same shall revert to the state of Washington: Provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed in such a way as to interfere with the use of said rivers for navigation purposes, and all of such rights, privileges and easements granted hereby shall be subject to the paramount control of such rivers for navigation purposes by the United States: And, provided, further, that the use and enjoyment of the grants and privileges of this act shall not interfere with the lawful and rightful diversion of the waters of said rivers by other parties under water appropriations in existence at the time any such persons, firms or corporations shall avail themselves of the benefits and privileges of this act, but no such persons, firms or corporations shall have any right to construct any such dams or works over, upon or across the land between ordinary high water and extreme low water of any river of this state without first having acquired the right to do so from the owner or owners of the lands adjoining the land between ordinary high water and extreme low water over or across which said dam or works are constructed. [L. '11, p. 436, § 1.]

§ 7416-1. Columbia River Basin Project—Survey and Report to Federal Government.

It shall be the duty of said commission to make or cause to be made a survey of the Columbia Basin Irrigation Project and to prepare a compilation and report of the result of such survey and present the same to the proper department or departments of the federal government for consideration, and to recommend and urge the appropriation of funds for the carrying out of the project for the improvement of the Columbia River Basin by irrigation. The commission shall have the power to employ such persons as may be necessary to assist them in their work, and to expend such of the funds appropriated by this act as they may deem necessary for such purposes. CHAPTER IV.

IRRIGATION DISTRICTS.

§ 7417. [6416.*] Formation of.

Whenever fifty or a majority of the holders of title to, or of evidence of title to land susceptible of "irrigation" desire to provide for the construction of works for the irrigation of the same, or desire to provide for the reconstruction, betterment, extension, purchase, operation or maintenance of works already constructed, or for the assumption as principal or guarantor of indebtedness on account of district lands to the United States under the federal reclamation laws, they may propose the organization of an irrigation district under the provisions of this chapter, and when so organized, such district shall have the power conferred, or that may hereafter be conferred, by law upon such irrigation district. [L. '17, p. 723, § 1. Cf. L. '15, p. 605, § 1. Cf. L. '90, p. 671, § 1; 1 H. C., § 1784; L. '95, p. 432, § 1.]

Irrigation Districts and Proceedings for Establishment, Generally: See Remington's Digest, Waters, §§ 88—94, and cases cited.

This section, providing for the organization of an irrigation district upon the petition of "fifty or a majority of holders of title," does not require fifty in any event, but a petition by forty-two freeholders, constituting more than a majority, is sufficient: Rothchild Bros. v. Rollinger, 32 Wash. 307, 73 Pac. 367.

In forming an irrigation district under this act, the commissioners have jurisdiction to determine whether the lands included have a sufficient water supply for irrigation from any source, and their decision thereon is final and conclusive, unless set aside or annulled by a court in a proceeding to review the same: Hanson v. Kittitas Reclamation District, 75 Wash. 297, 134 Pac. 1083.

Proceedings in the superior court to confirm the formation of an irrigation district under this section are in rem, the object being to fix the status of the district and issue valid bonds, and may be instituted by publication of notice without personal service on all persons who are within the jurisdiction of the court: Hanson v. Kittitas Reclamation District, 75 Wash. 297, 134 Pac. 1083.

An irrigation district formed under this act is a municipal corporation: Peters v. Union Gap Irrig. Dist., 98 Wash. 412, 167 Pac. 1085.

§ 7418. [6417.*] Petition—Notice—Hearing—Order—Election.

For the purpose of organizing an irrigation district, a petition, signed by the required number of holders of title or evidence of title to land within the proposed district, shall be presented to the board of county commissioners of the county in which the lands, or the greater portion thereof, are situated, which petition shall set forth and particularly describe the proposed boundaries of such district, and the number of directors, either three (3) or five (5), desired by such district, and shall pray that the territory embraced within the boundaries of such proposed district may be organized as an irrigation district. The petition must be accompanied by a good and sufficient bond, to be approved by the board of county commissioners, in double the amount of the probable cost of organizing the district, and conditioned that the bondsmen will pay all of the costs in case such organization shall not be effected. Said petition shall be presented at a regular meeting of the said board, or at any special meeting ordered to consider and act upon said petition, and shall be published once a week, for at least two weeks before the time at which the same is to be presented, in some newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county where said petition is to be presented, together with a notice by the petitioners stating the time of the meeting at which the same will be presented. There shall also be published a notice of the hearing on said petition in a newspaper published at Olympia, Washington, to be designated by the hydraulic engineer from year to year until such time as the director of conservation and development shall be appointed and qualified and assume and exercise the duties of his office after which said newspaper shall be designated by said director, which said notice shall be published for at least two weeks prior to the date of said meeting and shall contain the name of the county or counties and the number of each township and range in which the lands embraced within the boundaries of the proposed district are situated, also the time, place and purpose for said meeting, which said notice shall be signed by the petitioner whose name first appears upon the said petition. If any portion of the lands within said proposed district lie within another county or counties, then the said petition and notice shall be published for the time above provided in one newspaper printed and published in each of said counties. The said notice shall also be served by registered mail at least two weeks before said hearing upon the state hydraulic engineer who shall sit with the board of county commissioners at the hearing upon said petition in an advisory capacity. When the petition is presented, the board of county commissioners shall hear the same, and may adjourn such hearing from time to time, not exceeding four weeks in all, and on the final hearing may make such changes in the proposed boundaries as it may find to be proper and just, and shall establish and define the boundaries of the district: Provided, that said board shall not modify the boundaries so as to except from the operation of this chapter any territory within the boundaries of the district proposed by said petitioners, which is susceptible of irrigation by the same system of works applicable to other lands in such proposed district and for which the water supply is available; nor shall any lands which, in the judgment of said board, will not be benefited be included within such district; any lands included within any district which have a partial or full water right shall be given equitable credit therefor in the apportionment of the assessments in this act provided for: And provided further, that any owner, whose lands are susceptible of irrigation from the same source, and in the judgment of the board it is practicable to irrigate the same by the proposed district system, shall, upon application to the board at the time of the hearing, be entitled to have such lands included in the district. The board of county commissioners shall, as soon as it has established the boundaries of said proposed district, enter an order establishing and defining such boundaries, and ordering that directors for such district be elected from the district at large, and designating a name for the proposed district, and calling an election to be held in such proposed district for the purpose of determining whether or not the same shall be organized under the provisions of this act, and for the purpose of electing directors. The clerk of the board of county commissioners shall then give notice of the election ordered to be held as aforesaid, which notice shall describe the district boundaries as established, and shall give the name by which said proposed district has been designated, and shall state the purposes and objects of said election, and shall be published once a week, for at least two weeks prior to said election, in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the petition aforesaid was presented; and if any portion of said proposed district lies within another county or counties, then said notice shall be published in like manner in a newspaper within each of said counties. Said election notice shall also require the electors to cast ballots which shall contain the words "Irrigation District—Yes," and "Irrigation District—No," and also the names of persons to be voted for as directors of the district: Provided, that where in this act publication is required to be made in a newspaper of any county, the same may be made in a newspaper of general circulation in such county, selected by the person or body charged with making the publication and such newspaper shall be the official paper for such purpose. § 7419. Inclusion of State Lands—Request for—Notice—Hearing—Assessment—Collection.

Whenever any state, granted, school or other public lands of the state shall be situated in any irrigation district organized under this act, such lands shall be subject to the provisions of this act in the same manner in which lands of like character held under private ownership are subject thereto except as hereinafter provided: Provided, that no state, granted, school or other public lands of the state shall be included in any such district except upon the consent of the commissioner of public lands to the inclusion of such lands in such district, and he shall be served with a copy of the petition proposing to include any such lands in any district, together with notice of the time and place of hearing the same, at least twenty days prior to such hearing, and if he shall determine that such public lands will be benefited by being included in such district, he shall give his consent thereto in writing or shall file with the board a statement of his objections thereto: Provided further, that any state, granted, school or other public lands of the state which are situated within the boundaries of any irrigation district, but were not included within such district at the time of its organization, may be so included in such district after a hearing as herein provided. Whenever the commissioner of public lands or any interested person shall desire to have such lands included in the district, he shall file a request to that [e]ffect in writing with the district board, which shall thereupon fix a time and place for hearing such request and cause a notice of the same to be given by posting a copy of said notice in three (3) public conspicuous places in the district, one of which shall be at the place of hearing, at least twenty (20) days before the hearing, and by mailing, by registered mail, a copy of the notice to the commissioner of public lands. Said notice shall describe the lands to be included and direct all persons objecting to such inclusion to appear at the time and place stated and present their objections. At said hearing, the district board shall consider all objections to such inclusion and shall have the power to adjourn to a later date for cause and by resolution to determine the matter. The determination of the district board shall be final and conclusive upon all persons, except in no case shall any such lands be included in any district without the written consent of the commissioner of public lands.

Upon the inclusion of any state, granted, school or other public lands of the state within the limits of such organized district, the state shall be entitled to receive its proportion of water as in case of other land owners upon payment by the state, as herein provided, of such sums as shall be determined by the board of directors upon agreement with the commissioner of public lands, and at the time to be so fixed, which sums shall be such equitable amount as such lands should pay having regard to the length of time the district has been organized and to the present condition of the irrigation system, as well as to placing said lands on the basis of equality with other lands in the district as to benefits received, and giving credit, if equitable, for any sums paid as water rent by the occupant of said lands prior to the inclusion of same in the district, and such lands shall also become subject to all taxes and assessments of the district thereafter imposed.

Any public lands which shall be included in any irrigation district shall not be sold for delinquencies, but immediately after the delinquency thereof, the amount of the assessment shall be certified by the county treasurer of the county in which the land is situated to the commissioner of public lands, whose duty it shall be to certify the same to the state auditor, who shall, at the next session of the legislature, unless such assessment, or assessments, have been paid in the meantime, certify to the legislature the amount of such assessments and the legislature shall provide for the payment of the same with interest by appropriation out of the general fund of the state, and the amount so paid shall be added to the appraised value of the tract of land against which the delinquent assessment was certified and shall be collected at the time and in the manner provided in section 4480 of this Code. The certificate of the county treasurer herein provided for shall contain (1) a description of the state, school, or granted lands by legal subdivisions, (2) the amount of the assessment against each legal subdivision separately stated. lic lands for irrigation purposes. Ann. Cas. 1914B, 335.

§ 7420. [6418.*] Elections, How Conducted—Qualification of Electors.

For the purpose of the election above provided for, the board of county commissioners must establish a convenient number of election precincts in the proposed district and define the boundaries thereof, and designate a polling place for, and appoint the necessary election officers for each of said precincts, but said precincts may thereafter be changed by the board of directors of said district. Such election shall be conducted as nearly as may be practicable in the manner provided in the election of directors for the district: Provided, that where any nonassessable area is situated within the boundaries of any irrigation district, any notice, delinquent list or other announcement required by this act to be posted, may be so posted in such area, and any election held or to be held pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, may be held within such area.

The board of county commissioners shall meet on the second Monday next succeeding such election and proceed to canvass the returns of the votes cast thereat, and if upon such canvass it appears that at least two-thirds of all the votes cast are "Irrigation District Yes," the board shall, by an order entered on its minutes, declare such territory duly organized as an irrigation district, under the name and style theretofore designated, and shall declare the three, or in case of five directors, then the five, persons receiving the highest number of votes to be duly elected directors of such district, and shall cause a copy of such order, duly certified, to be filed for record in the offices of the county auditor and the county assessor of each county in which any portion of the district may lie. From and after the date of the filing of such order, the organization of the district shall be complete and the directors thereof shall be entitled to enter immediately upon the duties of their office, upon qualifying in accordance with law, and shall hold office until their successors are elected and qualified. Immediately upon the filing of said certified copy of said order, it shall be the duty of the county assessor to write the name of the irrigation district on the permanent tax roll in a column provided for that purpose opposite each description of land, or any portion thereof, which is included within the boundaries of said district. Said column shall be carried forward each year on the current tax-roll. In the event of a change in the boundaries of any irrigation district, the assessor shall note the same in said column upon the tax-roll.

Any person of the age of twenty-one (21) years, being a citizen of the United States and a resident of the state of Washington and who holds title to land or evidence of title to land embraced within the boundaries of any irrigation district, or proposed irrigation district, in the case of an election for the organization thereof, shall be entitled to vote at any election held therein. Additional qualifications for voting, required by the general election laws of the state shall not apply, provided at all times the majority of the board of directors shall be residents of the county or counties within which the district is situated; and if at any election more than one elector residing outside of such county or counties be voted for, only that one of the nonresident candidates who received the highest number of votes shall be considered in ascertaining and computing the result of the election: And provided further, that where the title or evidence of title to community land is held by the husband or the wife, both members of such community shall be entitled to vote: Provided, that at any election held under the provisions of this act, one officer or agent of any corporation owning land in the district, duly authorized thereto in writing, may cast a vote on behalf of said corporation; when so voting he shall file with the election officers such written instrument of his authority, and such officer or agent shall be deemed an elector within the meaning of this act. An elector resident within the district shall vote in the precinct in which he resides; and an elector not residing in the district shall vote in the precinct nearest his place of residence. [L. '21, p. 428, § 3; L. '17, p. 724, § 2; L. '13, p. 560, § 2. Cf. L. '90, p. 672, § 3; 1 H. C., § 1786.]

An annual election to the office of director shall be held on the second Tuesday of December of each and every year, and the term of each director shall be three years from and after the first Tuesday of January next succeeding his election: Provided, that the directors elected at any organization election called by the board of county commissioners shall serve until the first Tuesday of January following the first annual election; and at the first annual election there shall be elected three directors, if the board consists of three directors, and the candidate receiving the highest number of votes shall serve a term of three years next succeeding such election, the candidate receiving the next highest number of votes shall serve a term of two years next succeeding such election, and the candidate receiving the next highest number of votes shall serve a term of one year next succeeding such election, and when a board of five directors exists, the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes shall each serve a term of three years next succeeding such election, the two candidates receiving the next highest number of votes shall each serve a term of two years next succeeding such election, and the candidate receiving the next highest number of votes shall serve for a term of one year next succeeding such election, or until a successor is elected and qualified. Whenever a district now organized desires to increase the number of its board of directors, such question shall be submitted to the electors at a regular election, and at the same time two directors shall be elected to serve as such in the event the electors by majority of votes cast at such election increase the number of said board. The person receiving the highest number of votes for the office of director at said election shall serve for the three-year term next succeeding and the person receiving the next highest number of votes shall serve for a term of two years. In case of any vacancy occurring in the office of director, such vacancy shall be filled by appointment by the board of county commissioners of the county in which the proceedings for the organization of the district were had, and the person so appointed shall serve until the next annual election of directors, when an election by the district shall be had to fill the vacancy for the remainder of the unexpired term. Each director shall take and subscribe an official oath for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office, and shall execute an official bond to the district in the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars ($2500), conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office, which bond shall be approved by the judge of the superior court of the county where the organization of the district was effected, and said oath and bond shall be recorded in the office of the county clerk of said county and filed with the secretary of the board of directors. The secretary of the district shall take and subscribe a written oath of office and execute an official bond in the sum of not less than twenty-five hundred dollars ($2500), to be fixed by the board of directors, and which said bond shall be approved and filed as in the case of the bond of a director: Provided, that in case any irrigation district is appointed fiscal agent of the United States, or is authorized by the United States in connection with any irrigation project in which the United States is interested, to make collections of money for or on behalf of the United States, such secretary and each such director and the county treasurer shall each execute a further additional official bond in such sum, respectively, as the secretary of the interior may require, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his respective office, and the faithful discharge by the district of its duties as fiscal or other agent of the United States in such appointment or authorization; such additional bonds to be approved, recorded and filed as herein provided for other official bonds, and any such additional bonds may be sued upon by the United States or any person injured by the failure of such officer or the district to fully, promptly and completely perform their respective duties; the bonds executed by the said officers shall be secured at the cost of the district. [L. '21, p. 430, § 4. Cf L. '19, p. 531, § 3; L. '15, p. 608, § 3. Cf. L. '90, p. 673, § 4; 1 H. C., § 1787; L. '95, p. 435, § 3; L. '13, p. 562, § 3.]

Fifteen days before any election held under this chapter, subsequent to the organization of any district, the secretary of the board of directors shall cause notices to be posted in three public places in each election precinct, of the time and place of holding the election, and shall also post a general notice of the same in the office of said board, which shall be established and kept at some fixed place to be determined by said board, specifying the polling places of each precinct. Prior to the time for posting the notices, the board must appoint for each precinct, from the electors thereof, one inspector and two judges, who shall constitute a board of election for such precinct. If the board fail to appoint a board of election, or the members appointed do not attend at the opening of the polls on the morning of election, the electors of the precinct present at that hour may appoint the board, or supply the place of an absent member thereof. The board of directors must, in its order appointing the board of election, designate the house or place within the precinct where the election must be held. [L. '90, p. 674, § 5; 1 H. C., § 1788.]

The counting of ballots shall in all cases be public. The ballots shall be taken out, one by one, by the inspector or one of the judges, who shall open them and read aloud the names of each person contained therein, and the office for which every such person is voted for. Each clerk shall write down each office to be filled, and the name of each person voted for for such office, and shall keep the number of votes by tallies, as they are read aloud by the inspector or judge. The counting of votes shall be continued without adjournment until all have been counted. [L. '90, p. 675, § 7; 1 H. C., § 1790.]

The board of directors must meet at its usual place of meeting on the first Monday after each election, to canvass the returns. If, at the time of meeting, the returns from each precinct in the district in which the polls were opened have been received, the board of directors must then and there proceed to canvass the returns, but if all the returns have not been received, the canvass must be postponed from day to day until all the returns have been received, or until six postponements have been had. The canvass must be made in public, and by opening the returns and estimating the vote of the district, for each person voted for, and declaring the result thereof. [L. '90, p. 676, § 9; 1 H. The by-laws, rules and regulations must be printed in convenient form for distribution in the district. All leases, contracts, or other form of holding any interest in any state or other public lands shall be, and the same are hereby declared to be title to and evidence of title to lands and for all purposes within this act, shall be treated as the private property of the lessee or owner of the contractual or possessory interest: Provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed to affect the title of the state or other public ownership, nor shall any lien for such assessment attach to the fee-simple title of the state or other public ownership. The board of directors shall have authority to develop and to sell, lease, or rent the use of water or power derived from the operation of the district irrigation or drainage works for delivery to occupants of public or other lands situated within or adjacent to the district, or to municipal corporations, at such prices and on such terms as it deems best: Provided, no water or power shall be furnished for use outside of said district until all demands and requirements for water and power for use in said district are furnished and supplied by said district: And provided further, that as soon as any public lands situated within the limits of the district shall be acquired by any private person, or held under any title of private ownership, the owner thereof shall be entitled to receive his proportion of water as in case of other land owners, upon payment by him of such sums as shall be determined by the board, and at the time to be fixed by the board, which sums shall be such equitable amount as such lands should pay having regard to placing said lands on the basis of equality with other lands in the district as to benefits received, and giving credit if equitable for any sums paid as water rent by the occupant of said lands prior to the vesting of private ownership, and such lands shall also become subject to all taxes and assessments of the district thereafter imposed. § 7429. [6427.*] Powers of Board of Directors—Use of Waters a Public Use—Actions—Consolidation—Right of Eminent Domain.

The board, and its agents and employees, shall have the right to enter upon any land to make surveys, and may locate the necessary irrigation or drainage works, power plants, power sites or power lines and the line for any canal or canals, and the necessary branches of laterals for the same, on any lands which may be deemed best for such location. Said board shall also have the power to acquire, either by purchase or condemnation, or other legal means, all lands, waters, water rights, and other property necessary for the construction, use, supply, maintenance, repair and improvements of said canal or canals and irrigation and drainage works, including canals and works constructed or being constructed by private owners, or any other person, lands for reservoirs for the storage of needful waters and all necessary appurtenances. The board may also construct the necessary dams, reservoirs and works for the collection of water for the said district, and may enter into contracts for a water supply to be delivered to the canals and works of the district, and do any and every lawful act necessary to be done in order to carry out the purposes of this act; and in carrying out the aforesaid purposes the bonds of the district may be used by the board, at not less than ninety per centum of their par value in payment. The board may enter into any obligation or contract with the United States or with the state of Washington for the supervision of the construction, for the construction, reconstruction, betterment, extension, sale or purchase, or operation and maintenance of the necessary works for the delivery and distribution of water therefrom under the provisions of the state reclamation act, or under the provisions of the federal reclamation act, and all amendments or extensions thereof, and the rules and regulations established thereunder, or it may contract with the United States for a water supply or for reclamation purposes in general under any act of congress which, for the purposes of this act, shall be deemed to include any act of congress for reclamation purposes heretofore or hereafter enacted providing for and permitting such contract, or for the collection of money due or to become due to the United States, or for the assumption of the control and management of the works; and in case contract has been or may hereafter be made with the United States, as herein provided, bonds of the district may be deposited with the United States as payment or as security for future payment at not less than ninety per centum of their par value, the interest on said bonds to be provided for by assessment and levy as in the case of other bonds of the district, and regularly paid to the United States to be applied as provided in such contract, and if bonds of the district are not so deposited, it shall be the duty of the board of directors to include as part of any levy or assessment provided in section 7440 an amount sufficient to meet each year all payments accruing under the terms of any such contract. The board may accept on behalf of the district appointment of the district as fiscal agent of the United States or the state of Washington or other authorization of the district by the United States or the state of Washington to make collections of money for or on behalf of the United States or the state of Washington in connection with any federal or other reclamation project, whereupon the district, and the county treasurer for the district, shall be authorized to so act and to assume the duties and liability incident to such action, and the said board shall have full power to do any and all things required by the federal statutes now or hereafter enacted in connection therewith, and all things required by the rules and regulations now or that may hereafter be established by any department of the federal government in regard thereto.

The use of all water required for the irrigation of the lands within any district, together with rights of way for canals, laterals, ditches, sites for reservoirs, power plants, sites, and lines, and all other property required in fully carrying out the purposes of the organization of the district is hereby declared to be a public use; and in condemnation proceedings to acquire any property or property rights for the use of the district, the board of directors shall proceed in the name of the district, in the manner provided in this state in cases of appropriation of lands, real estate and other property by private corporations: Provided, that the irrigation district, at its option, pursuant to resolution to that end duly passed by its board of directors may unite in a single action proceedings for the acquisition and condemnation of different tracts of land needed by it for rights of way for canals, laterals, power plants, sites, and lines and other irrigation works which are held by separate owners. And the court may, on the motion of any party, consolidate into a single action separate suits for the condemnation of rights of way for such irrigation works whenever from motives of economy or the expediting of business it appears desirable so to do: Provided further, that there shall be a separate finding of the court or jury as to each tract held in separate ownership.

In any condemnation proceeding brought under the provisions of this act to acquire canals, laterals and ditches and rights of way therefor, sites, reservoirs, power plants and pumping plants and sites therefor, power canals, transmission lines, electrical equipment and any other property, and if the owner or owners thereof or their predecessors shall have issued contracts or deeds agreeing to deliver to the holders of said contracts or deeds water for irrigation purposes, or authorizing the holders thereof to take or receive water for irrigation purposes from any portion of said property or works, and if the delivery of said water or the right to take or receive the same shall in any manner constitute a charge upon, or a right in the property and works sought to be acquired, or any portion thereof, the district shall be authorized to institute and maintain said condemnation proceedings for the purpose of acquiring said property and works, and the interest of the owners therein subject to the rights of the holders of such contracts or deeds, and the court or jury making the award shall determine and award to such owner or owners the value of the interest to be so appropriated in said condemnation proceedings. § 7431. [6429.] Conveyances—Actions by and Against District.

The said board is hereby authorized and empowered to take conveyances or other assurances for all property acquired by it under the provisions of this chapter, in the name of such irrigation district, to and for the uses and purposes herein expressed, and to institute and maintain any and all actions and proceedings, suits at law or in equity, necessary or proper in order to fully carry out the provisions of this chapter, or to enforce, maintain, protect, or preserve any and all rights, privileges, and immunities created by this chapter, or acquired in pursuance thereof; and in all courts, actions, suits, or proceedings, the said board may sue, appear, and defend, in person or by attorney, and in the name of such irrigation district. § 7432. [6430.*] Bonds—Elections for—Form and Contents of Bonds—Cancellation—Reissue.

For the purpose of construction, reconstruction, betterment, extension or acquisition of the necessary property and rights therefor, and otherwise carrying out the provisions of this chapter, the board of directors of any such district must, as soon after such district has been organized as may be practicable, and whenever thereafter the board deems it necessary or expedient to raise additional money for said purpose, estimate and determine the amount of money to be raised, and shall immediately thereafter call a special election. At such election shall be submitted to the electors of said district possessing the qualifications prescribed by this chapter the question of whether or not the bonds of said district in the amount and of the maturities determined by the board of directors shall be issued. Bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be serial bonds payable in gold coin of the United States in such series and amounts as shall be determined and declared by the board of directors in the resolution calling the election: Provided, that the first series shall mature not later than ten years and the last series not later than forty years from the date thereof.

Notice of such election must be given by posting notices in three public places in each election precinct in said district for at least twenty days, and also by publication of such notice in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the board of directors of such district is required to be kept, once a week for at least three successive weeks. Such notices must specify the time of holding the election, and the amount and maturities of bonds proposed to be issued; and said election must be held and the results thereof determined and declared in all respects as nearly as practicable in conformity with the provisions of this chapter governing the election of the officers: Provided, that no informality in conducting such election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have been otherwise fairly conducted. At such election the ballots shall contain the words "Bonds Yes" and "Bonds No," or words equivalent thereto. If a majority of the votes cast are cast "Bonds Yes," the board of directors shall thereupon have authority to cause bonds in said amount and maturities to be issued. If the majority of the votes cast at any bond election are "Bonds No," the result of such election shall be so declared and entered of record; but if contract is made or is to be made with the United States as in section 7429 provided, and bonds are not to be deposited with the United States in connection with such contract, the question submitted at such special election shall be whether contract shall be entered into with the United States. The notice of election shall state under the terms of what act or acts of congress contract is proposed to be made, and the maximum amount of money payable to the United States for construction purposes exclusive of penalties and interest. The ballots for such election shall contain the words "Contract with the United States Yes" and "Contract with the United States No," or words equivalent thereto. And whenever thereafter said board, in its judgment, deems it for the best interest of the district that the question of issuance of bonds for said amount, or any amount, or the question of entering into a contract with the United States, shall be submitted to said electors, it shall so declare, by resolution recorded in its minutes, and may thereupon submit such question to said electors in the same manner and with like effect as at such previous election. All bonds issued under this act shall bear interest at such rate not exceeding six per cent per annum as the board of directors may determine, payable semi-annually on the first day of January and July of each year. The principal and interest shall be payable at the office of the county treasurer of the county in which the office of the board of directors is situated, or if the board of directors shall so determine at the fiscal agency of the state of Washington in New York City, said place of payment to be designated in the bond. Said bonds shall be each of the denomination of not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars; shall be negotiable in form, signed by the president and secretary, and the seal of the district shall be affixed thereto: Provided, that if an issue of bonds having been authorized at an election, shall remain, in whole or in part, unsold, and a subsequent issue shall be authorized pursuant to the provisions of this act, said subsequent authorization shall operate to cancel and nullify the previous authorization, except as to such bonds as may have been issued and sold under said previous authorization and the board of directors shall be authorized to exchange bonds issued under said new authorization for bonds issued and sold under said previous authorization at the fair market value of said new issue, and in that event the bonds previously issued and sold shall be surrendered to the board and canceled. Provided further, that where bonds have been authorized and unsold, the board of directors may submit to the qualified voters of the district the question of canceling said previous authorization, which question shall be submitted upon the same notice and under the same regulations as govern the submission of the original question of authorizing a bond issue. At such election the ballots shall contain the words "Cancellation Yes," and "Cancellation No," or words equivalent thereto. If at such election a majority of the votes shall be "Cancellation Yes," the said issue shall be thereby canceled and no bonds may be issued thereunder. If the majority of said ballots shall be "Cancellation No," said original authorization shall continue in force with like effect as though said cancellation election had not been held: Provided, that bonds deposited with the United States in payment or in pledge may call for the payment of such interest not exceeding six per cent per annum, may be of such denominations, and call for the repayment of the principal at such times as may be agreed upon between the board and the secretary of the interior.

Each issue shall be numbered consecutively as issued, and the bonds of each issue shall be numbered consecutively and bear date at the time of their issue. Coupons for the interest shall be attached to each bond, signed by the president of the board and the secretary. The signatures of the president and secretary may, however, appear by lithographic facsimile. Said bonds shall express upon their face that they were issued by authority of this act, stating its title and date of approval, and shall also state the number of issue of which such bonds are a part. The secretary shall keep a record of bonds sold, their number, the date of sale, the price received and the name of the purchaser. In case the money received by the sale of all bonds issued be insufficient for the completion of plans of the canals and works adopted, and additional bonds be not voted, or a contract calling for additional payment to the United States be not authorized and made, as the case may be, it shall be the duty of the board of directors to provide for the completion of said plans by levy of assessments therefor. It shall be lawful for any irrigation districts which have heretofore issued and sold bonds under the law then in force, to issue in place thereof an amount of bonds not in excess of such previous issue, and to sell the same, or any part thereof, as hereinafter provided, or exchange the same, or any part thereof, with the holders of such previously issued bonds which may be outstanding, upon such terms as may be agreed upon between the board of directors of the district and the holders of such outstanding bonds: Provided, that the question of such reissue of bonds shall have been previously voted upon favorably by the legally qualified electors of such district, in the same manner as required for the issue of original bonds, and the said board shall not exchange any such bonds for a less amount in par value of the bonds received; all of such old issue in place of which new bonds are issued shall be destroyed whenever lawfully in possession of said board. Bonds issued under the provisions of this section may, when so authorized by the electors, include a sum sufficient to pay the interest thereon for a period not exceeding the first four years. [L. '21 p. 439, § 8; L. '17, p. 726, § 3-A; L. '15, p. 615, § 7. Cf. L. '90, p. 679, § 15; 1 H. C., § 1798; L. '95, p. 436, § 5.]

§ 7433. [6431.*] Sale or Pledge of Bonds.

The board may sell the bonds of the district or pledge the same to the United States from time to time in such quantities as may be necessary and most advantageous to raise money for the construction, reconstruction, betterment or extension of such canals and works, the acquisition of said property and property rights, the assumption of indebtedness to the United States for the district lands, and otherwise to fully carry out the objects and purposes of the district organization, and may sell such bonds, or any of them, at private sale whenever the board deems it for the best interest of the district so to do. The board of directors shall also have power to sell said bonds, or any portion thereof, at private sale, and accept in payment therefor, property or property rights, labor and material necessary for the construction of its proposed canals or irrigation works, power plants, power sites and lines in connection therewith, whenever the board deems it for the best interests of the district so to do. If the board shall determine to sell the bonds of the district, or any portion thereof, at public sale, the secretary shall publish a notice of such sale for at least three (3) weeks in such newspaper or newspapers as the board may order. The notice shall state that sealed proposals will be received by the board, at its office, for the purchase of the bonds to be sold, until the day and hour named in the notice. At the time named in the notice, the board shall open the proposals and award the purchase of the bonds to the highest responsible bidder and may reject all bids: Provided, that such bonds shall not be sold for less than ninety per cent of their face value: And provided further, that the proceeds of all bonds sold for cash must be paid by the purchaser to the county treasurer of the county in which the office of the board is located, and credited to the bond fund. § 7434. [6432.*] Bonds and Interest, How Paid.

Said bonds and interest thereon and all payments due or to become due to the United States or the state of Washington under any contract between the district and the United States or the state of Washington accompanying which bonds of the district have not been deposited with the United States or the state of Washington, as in section 7429 provided, shall be paid by revenue derived from an annual assessment upon the real property of the district, and all the real property in the district shall be and remain liable to be assessed for such payments until fully paid as hereinafter provided. And in addition to this provision and the other provisions herein made for the payment of said bonds and interest thereon as the same may become due, said bonds, or the contract with the United States or the state of Washington accompanying which bonds have not been deposited with the United States or the state of Washington, shall become a lien upon all the water rights and other property acquired by any irrigation district formed under the provisions of this chapter, and upon any canal or canals, ditch or ditches, flumes, feeders, storage reservoirs, machinery and other works and improvements acquired, owned or constructed by said irrigation district, and if default shall be made in the payment of the principal of said bonds or interest thereon, or any payment required by the contract with the United States, or the state of Washington, according to the terms thereof, the holder of said bonds, or any part thereof or the United States or the state of Washington as the case may be, shall have the right to enter upon and take possession of all the water rights, canals, ditches, flumes, feeders, storage reservoirs, machinery, property and improvements of said irrigation district, and to hold and control the same, and enjoy the rents, issues and profits thereof, until the lien hereby created can be enforced in a civil action in the same manner and under the same proceedings as given in the foreclosure of a mortgage on real estate. This section shall apply to all bonds heretofore issued or any contract heretofore made with the United States, or which may hereafter be issued or made by any district. [L. '21, p. 444, § 10. Cf. L. '15, p. 619, § 9. Cf. L. '90, p. 681, § 17; 1 H. C., § 1800; L. '95, p. 439, § 7; L. '13, p. 568, § 8.]

§ 7435. [6432-6.] Guaranty by United States.

If the United States under any act of congress or under rules and regulations adopted by the secretary of the interior, shall be willing to guarantee the interest upon bonds of any irrigation district, or shall be willing to receive bonds of any such district in payment of, or as security for payment upon, any contract of the United States, then the United States shall have all the remedies given by law to a bondholder, and, in cases of payment under any guaranty, the United States shall be subrogated to all the rights and remedies of the bondholder to the extent of any such payment; and the United States, or its proper department officers, may make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the purpose of insuring the carrying out of any plan or project which may have been approved by them as the basis of any guaranty. [L. '15, p. 291, § 6.]

§ 7436. [6433.*] Assessments, How and When Made.

Assessments made in order to carry out the purposes of this act shall be made in proportion to the benefits accruing to the lands assessed and equitable credit shall be given to the lands having a partial or full water right: Provided, that nothing herein shall be construed to affect or impair the obligation of any existing contract providing for a water supply to lands so assessed, unless the right under such contract shall first have been acquired by said district, and in acquiring such rights, the district may exercise the right of eminent domain. The secretary must, between the first Monday in March and the first

Tuesday in September in each year, to and including the year 1923, and between the first Monday in March and the first Tuesday in November beginning with the year 1924 and each year thereafter, prepare an assessment-roll with appropriate headings in which must be listed all the lands within the district. In such book must be specified, in separate columns, under the appropriate headings:

First, the name of the person to whom the property is assessed. If the name is not known to the secretary, the property shall be assessed to "unknown owners."

Second, land by township, range, section or fractional section, and when such land is not a legal subdivision, by metes and bounds, or other description sufficient to identify it, giving an estimate of the number of acres, city and town lots, naming the city or town, and the number and block according to the system of numbering in such city or town.

Third, in further columns with appropriate headings shall be specified the ratio of benefits, or, when deemed by the secretary more practicable, the per acre value, or the amount of benefits, for general and special district and local improvement district purposes, and the total amount assessed against each tract of land.

Any property which may have escaped assessment for any year or years, shall in addition to the assessment for the then current year, be assessed such year or years with the same effect and with the same penalties as are provided for such current year and any property delinquent in any year may be directly assessed during the current year for any expenses caused the district on account of such delinquency.

Where the district embraces lands lying in more than one county the assessment-roll shall be so arranged that the lands lying in each county shall be segregated and grouped according to the county in which the same are situated. [L. '21, p. 445, § 11; L. '17, p. 729, § 4; L. '19, p. 540, § 7; L. '15, p. 620, § 10. Cf. L. '90, p. 681, § 18; 1 H. C., § 1801; L. '95, p. 440, § 8; L. '13, p. 569, § 9.]

§ 7437. [6434.*] Deputy Assessors.

The board of directors must allow the secretary as many deputies, to be appointed by them, as will, in the judgment of the board, enable him to complete the assessment within the time herein prescribed. The board must fix the compensation of such deputies for the time actually engaged. [L. '19, p. 541, § 8. Cf. L. '90, p. 682, § 19; 1 H. C., § 1802; L. '95, p. 440, § 9.]

§ 7438. [6435.*] Equalization of Assessments—Notice.

On or before the first Tuesday in September in each year to and including the year 1923, and on or before the first Tuesday in November beginning with the year 1924 and each year thereafter, the secretary must complete his assessment-roll and deliver it to the board, who must immediately give a notice thereof, and of the time the board of directors, acting as a board of equalization will meet to equalize assessments, by publication in a newspaper published in each of the counties comprising the district. The time fixed for the meeting shall not be less than twenty nor more than thirty days from the first publication of the notice, and in the meantime the assessment-roll must remain in the office of the secretary for the inspection of all persons interested. [L. '21, p. 447, § 12; L. '19, p. 541, § 9. Cf. L. '90, p. 682, § 20; 1 H. C., § 1803; L. '95, p. 441, § 10.]

Upon the day specified in the notice required by the preceding section for the meeting, the board of directors, which is hereby constituted a board of equalization for that purpose, shall meet and continue in session from day to day as long as may be necessary, not to exceed ten days, exclusive of Sundays, to hear and determine such objections to the said assessment-roll as may come before them; and the board may change the same as may be just. The secretary of the board shall be present during its session, and note all changes made at said hearing; and on or before the thirtieth day of October in each year to and including the year 1923, and on or before the fifteenth day of January beginning with the year 1925 and each year thereafter he shall have the assessment-roll completed as finally equalized by the board. [L. '21, p. 447, § 13; L. '19, p. 542, § 10; L. '15, p. 621, § 11. Cf. L. '90, p. 682, § 21; 1 H. C., § 1804.]

§ 7440. [6437.*] Amount of Levy—Failure to Make.

The board of directors shall in each year before said roll is delivered by the secretary to the respective county treasurers, levy an assessment sufficient to raise the ensuing annual interest on the outstanding bonds, and all payments due or to become due in the ensuing year to the United States or the state of Washington under any contract between the district and the United States or the state of Washington accompanying which bonds of the district have not been deposited with the United States or the state of Washington as in this act provided. Beginning in the year preceding the maturity of the first series of the bonds of any issue, the board must from year to year increase said assessment for the ensuing years in an amount sufficient to pay and discharge the outstanding bonds as they mature. Similar levy and assessment shall be made for the expense fund which shall include operation and maintenance costs for the ensuing year. The board shall also at the time of making the annual levy, estimate the amount of all probable delinquencies on said levy and shall thereupon levy a sufficient amount to cover the same and a further amount sufficient to cover any deficit that may have resulted from delinquent assessments for any preceding year.

It shall also be the duty of the board when making the levy in the years 1921, 1922 and 1923 to take into account the change of dates in the year 1924 and thereafter, and the board shall add a sufficient amount to the assessments levied in those years to take care of all obligations maturing before the due date of the assessment levied in 1924. The assessments, when collected by the county treasurer, shall constitute a special fund, or funds, as the case may be, to be called respectively, the "Bond Fund of — Irrigation District," the "Contract Fund of — Irrigation District," the "Expense Fund of — Irrigation District," and "Coupon Warrant Fund of — Irrigation District": Provided, that in districts acting as fiscal agent for the United States or the state of Washington such assessments may also be paid to the secretary of such districts when so authorized by the board of directors and under such rules and regulations as the board may adopt. The secretary shall issue a receipt for such payments and shall be accountable on his official bond for the safekeeping of such funds and shall remit the same at least once each month to the treasurer of the county wherein the land is located on which payment was made. Upon receipt of such funds the county treasurer shall issue his official receipt therefor in like manner as though payment had been made direct to him by the land owner.

In case of neglect or refusal of the board of directors to cause such assessment or levy to be made as herein provided, then the assessment shall be made, equalized and levied by the board of county commissioners of the county in which the office of the board of directors is situated, and said board of county commissioners shall cause an assessment-roll for the said district to be prepared and make the levy required by this chapter in the same manner and with like effect as if the same had been made by the said board of directors, and all expenses incident thereto shall be borne by the district. In case of neglect or refusal of the secretary of the district to perform the duties imposed by law, then the treasurer of the county in which the office of the board of directors is situated must perform such duties, and shall be accountable therefor, on his official bond, as in other cases.

At the time of making the annual levy in the year preceding the final maturity of any issue of district bonds, the board of directors shall levy a sufficient amount to pay and redeem all bonds of said issue then remaining unpaid. And the lien for the bonds of any issue shall be a preferred lien to that of any subsequent issue. Also the lien for all payments due or to become due under any contract with the United States, or the state of Washington accompanying which bonds of the district have not been deposited with the United States or the state of Washington, as in section 7429 provided, shall be a preferred lien to any issue of bonds subsequent to the date of such contract. [L. '21, p. 450, § 15. Cf. L. '15, p. 622, § 13. Cf. L. '90, p. 684, § 23; 1 H. C., § 1806; L. '19, p. 571, § 11.]

§ 7442. [6439.*] Collection of Assessments—Notice—Roll.

On or before the first day of November in each year to and including the year 1923, and on or before the fifteenth day of January in the year 1925, and each year thereafter the secretary must deliver the assessment-roll or the respective segregation thereof to the county treasurer of each respective county in which the lands therein described are located, and said assessments shall on that date become due and payable. Within twenty days thereafter the respective county treasurers shall each publish a notice in a newspaper published in their respective counties in which any portion of the district may lie, that said assessments are due and payable at the office of the county treasurer of the county in which said land is located and will become delinquent at 5 o'clock in the afternoon of the thirty-first day of December next thereafter in each year to and including the year 1923 unless sixty per cent thereof shall then have been paid, and that if this [is] allowed to become delinquent, a penalty of five per cent thereof will be added to the amount thereof, and if sixty per cent thereof be paid on or before the said thirty-first day of December, the remainder thereof will not become delinquent until April 30th next following: Provided, that beginning with the year 1925 and each year thereafter, said notice shall state that said assessments will become delinquent at 5 o'clock in the afternoon of the thirty-first day of May next thereafter unless fifty per cent thereof shall then have been paid, and that if thus allowed to become delinquent, a penalty of five per cent thereof will be added to the amount thereof, and if fifty per cent thereof be paid on or before the said thirty-first day of May, the remainder thereof will not become delinquent until November 30th next following. The notice shall be published once a week for four successive weeks and shall be posted within said period of twenty days in some public place in said district.

Upon receiving the assessment-roll, the county treasurer shall prepare therefrom an assessment-book in which shall be written the description of the land as it appears in the assessment-roll, the name of the owner or owners where known, and if assessed to the unknown owners, then the word "unknown," and the total assessment levied against each tract of land. Proper space shall be left in said book for the entry therein of all subsequent proceedings relating to the payment and collection of said assessment.

Upon the payment of any assessment the county treasurer must enter the date of said payment in said assessment-book opposite the description of the land and the name of the person paying and give a receipt to such person specifying the amount of the assessment and the amount paid with the description of the property assessed. On the thirty-first day of December of each year to and including the year 1923 unless sixty per cent shall have been paid as aforesaid, and on the thirty-first day of May in the year 1925 and each year thereafter unless fifty per cent shall have been paid as aforesaid, all unpaid assessments are delinquent, and thereafter the treasurer of the county in which the land is located must collect thereon for the use of the district the aforesaid penalty of five per cent and interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum from the date of delinquency.

It shall be the duty of the county treasurer of the county in which any land in the district is located to furnish upon request of the owner, or any person interested, a statement showing any and all assessments levied as shown by the assessment-roll in his office upon land described in such request, and all statements of general taxes covering any land in the district shall be accompanied by a statement showing the condition of irrigation district assessments against such lands: Provided, that the failure of the county treasurer to render any statement herein required of him shall not render invalid any assessments made by any irrigation district or proceedings had for the enforcement and collection of irrigation district assessments pursuant to this act.

It shall be the duty of the county treasurer of any county, other than the county in which the office of the board of directors is located, to make monthly remittances to the county treasurer of the county in which the office of the board of directors is located covering all amounts collected by him for the irrigation district during the preceding month. § 7443. [6440.*] Publication of Delinquency List, How Made.

On or before the first day of February in each year to and including the year 1924, the county treasurer of the county in which the land is located shall cause to be posted the delinquency list, which must contain the names of the persons and a description of the property delinquent, and the amount of the assessments and costs due, opposite each name and description, in all cases where payment of sixty per cent (60%) of the assessment has not been made on or before the thirty-first day of December, next preceding; likewise on or before May 15th in each year to and including the year 1924, he must cause to be posted the delinquency list of all persons delinquent in the payment of the installment of forty per cent (40%) as in this act provided. Also, on or before the thirtieth day of June, beginning with the year 1925 and each year thereafter, he must post the delinquency list, made up as aforesaid, in all cases where payment of fifty per cent (50%) of the assessment has not been made on or before the thirty-first day of May next preceding; likewise, on or before the fifteenth day of December beginning with the year 1925 and each year thereafter, he must post the delinquency list of all persons delinquent in the payment of the final installment of fifty per cent (50%) as in this act provided. He must append to and post with the delinquency list a notice that unless the assessment delinquent, together with costs and percentages, are paid the real property upon which such assessments are a lien will be sold at public auction. The said notice and delinquent list shall be posted at least twenty days prior to the time of sale. One copy thereof shall be posted in the office of the county treasurer making the collection, one copy in the office of the board of directors and three copies in public places in each of the established voting precincts within the portion of said district lying in said county. Concurrent as nearly as possible with the date of the posting aforesaid, the said county treasurer shall publish a list of the places where said notices are posted, and in connection therewith a notice that unless delinquent assessments, together with costs and percentages, are paid, the real property upon which such assessments are a lien will be sold at public auction. Such notices must be published once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county within which the land is located. But said notice of publication need not comprise the delinquent list where the same is posted as herein provided. Both notices must designate the time and place of sale. The time of sale must not be less than twenty-one nor more than twenty-eight days from date of posting and from the date of the first publication of the notice thereof, and the place must be at some point designated by the treasurer. § 7444. [6441.*] Sales, When and How Made.

The treasurer of the county in which the land is situated shall conduct the sale of all lands situated therein and must collect in addition to the assessments due as shown on the delinquent list, five per cent of the amount thereof. On the day fixed for the sale, or some subsequent day to which he may have postponed it, of which postponement he must give notice at the time of making such postponement and between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M. and 3 o'clock P. M. the county treasurer making the sale must commence the same beginning at the head of the list, and continuing alphabetically or in the numerical order of the parcels, lots or blocks, until completed. He may postpone the day of commencing the sale, or the sale from day to day, by giving oral notice thereof at the time of postponement, but the sale must be completed within three weeks from the first day fixed. [L. '21, p. 455, § 18; L. '13, p. 572, § 14. Cf. L. '90, p. 685, § 26; 1 H. C., § 1809; L. '95, p. 443, § 13.]

§ 7445. [6442.*] Sales, How Conducted—Certificate.

The owner or person in possession of any real estate offered for sale for assessments due thereon may designate in writing to the county treasurer by whom the sale is to be made, and prior to the sale, what portion of the property he wishes sold, if less than the whole; but if the owner or possessor does not, then the treasurer may designate it, and the person who will take the least quantity of the land, or in case an undivided interest is assessed, then the smallest portion of the interest, and pay the assessment and costs due, including one dollar to the treasurer for duplicate of the certificate of sale, is the purchaser. The treasurer shall account to the district for said one dollar. If the purchaser does not pay the assessment and costs before 10 o'clock A. M. the following day, the property must be re-sold on the next sale day for the assessments and costs. In case there is no purchaser in good faith for the same on the first day that the property is offered for sale, and if there is no purchaser in good faith when the property is offered thereafter for sale, the whole amount of the property assessed shall be struck off to the irrigation district as the purchaser, and the duplicate certificate shall be delivered to the secretary of the district, and filed by him in the office of the district. No charge shall be made for the duplicate certificate where the district is the purchaser, and in such case the treasurer shall make an entry, "Sold to the district," and he will be credited with the amount thereof in settlement. An irrigation district, as a purchaser at said sale, shall be entitled to the same rights as a private purchaser, and may assign or transfer the certificate of sale upon the payment of the amount which would be due if redemption were being made by the owner. If no redemption is made of land for which an irrigation district holds a certificate of purchase, the district will be entitled to receive the treasurer's deed therefor in the same manner as a private person would be entitled thereto and may convey the title so acquired, by deed, executed and acknowledged by the president and secretary of the board: Provided, that authority to so convey must be conferred by resolution of the board, entered on its minutes, fixing the price at which such sale may be made, and such conveyance shall not be made for a less sum than the reasonable market value of such property:

Provided further, that when lands shall have been deeded by the county treasurer to the district and if title shall remain vested in the district, and in the judgment of the board of directors, said sale shall have resulted from unavoidable accident, inadvertency, or misfortune and without intent on the part of the owner or person entitled to make redemption, to permit said assessments to become delinquent and the land to be sold, the board of directors may, pursuant to an order entered upon the minutes of the board, cause said land to be reconveyed to the owner or person entitled to redemption within the period of one year after deed is issued, upon the payment by the owner or person who would have been entitled to make redemption before deed, of the total amount of the assessments, penalty, costs of sale and interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum, current assessments, and an additional penalty of twenty-five per cent of the amount for which the land was sold: Provided further, that this act shall apply to all sales made to an irrigation district prior to the date when this act becomes effective and the owner or other person rightfully seeking redemption thereof, shall be entitled to the benefit of this provision until one year subsequent to the date when this act becomes effective.

After receiving the amount of assessments and costs, the county treasurer must make out in duplicate a certificate, dated on the day of sale, stating (when known) the names of the persons assessed, a description of the land sold, the amount paid therefor, that it was sold for assessments, giving the amount and the year of assessment, and specifying the time when the purchaser will be entitled to a deed. The certificate must be signed by the treasurer making the sale and one copy delivered to the purchaser, and the other filed in the office of the county treasurer of the county in which the land is situated: Provided, that upon the sale of any lot, parcel, or tract of land not larger than an acre, the fee for a duplicate certificate shall be twenty-five cents (25c) and in case of a sale to a person or a district, of more than one parcel or tract of land, the several parcels or tracts may be included in one certificate. [L. '21, p. 455, § 19; L. '13, p. 573, § 15. Cf. L. '90, p. 685, § 27; 1 H. C., § 1810; L. '95, p. 443, § 14.]

This section does not require the officers making the sale to designate in writing any particular portion which he proposes to sell, but it is sufficient if

§ 7446. [6443.*] Sales, Record to be Kept.

The county treasurer, before delivering any certificate must file the same and enter in the assessment-book opposite the description of the land sold, the date of sale, the purchaser's name and the amount paid therefor, and must regularly number the description on the margin of the assessment-book and put a corresponding number on each certificate. Such book must be open to public inspection without fee during office hours, when not in actual use.

On filing the certificate of sale as provided in the preceding paragraph the lien of the assessment vests in the purchaser and is only divested by the payment to the county treasurer making the sale of the purchase money and one per cent per month from the day of sale until redemption for the use of the purchaser. [L. '21, p. 458, § 20. Cf. L. '13, p. 574, § 16. Cf. L. '90, p. 686, § 28; 1 H. C., § 1811; L. '95, p. 444, § 15.]

§ 7447. [6444.*] Redemption, When Made—Deed—Fee.

A redemption of the property sold may be made by the owner or any person on behalf and in the name of the owner or by any party in interest within two years from the date of purchase, by paying the amount of the purchase price and interest, and the amount of any assessments which such purchaser may have paid thereon after purchase by him and during the period of redemption in this section provided, together with like interest on such amount, and if the irrigation district is the purchaser, the redemptioner shall pay in addition to the purchase price and interest, the amount of any assessments levied against said land during the period of redemption. Redemption must be made in gold or silver coin, as provided for the collection of state and county taxes, and the county treasurer must credit the amount paid to the person named in the certificate and pay it on demand to such person or his assignee. No redemption shall be made except to the county treasurer of the county in which the land is situated.

Upon completion of redemption the county treasurer to whom redemption has been made shall enter the word "redeemed," the date of redemption and by whom redeemed on the certificate and on the margin of the assessment-book where the entry of the certificate is made. If the property is not redeemed within two years from the sale the county treasurer of the county in which the land sold is situated must make to the purchaser, or his assignees a deed of the property, reciting in the deed substantially the matters contained in the certificate, and that no person redeemed the property during the time allowed by law for its redemption. The treasurer shall receive from the purchaser, for the use of the district, one dollar ($1) for making such deed: Provided, if redemption is not made of any lot, parcel or tract of land not larger than one acre, the fee for a deed shall be twenty-five cents (25c) and when any person or district holds a duplicate certificate covering more than one tract of land, the several parcels, or tracts of land, mentioned in the certificate may be included in one deed. § 7448. [6445.] Deed, and Its Effect as Evidence.

The matter recited in the certificate of sale must be recited in the deed, and such deed duly acknowledged or proved is prima facie evidence that—

First: The property was assessed as required by law;

Second: The property was equalized as required by law;

Third: That the assessments were levied in accordance with law;

Fourth: The assessments were not paid;

Fifth: At a proper time and place the property was sold as prescribed by law and by the proper officers;

Sixth: The property was not redeemed;

Seventh: The person who executed the deed was the proper officer. Such deed, duly acknowledged or proved, is (except as against actual fraud) conclusive evidence of the regularity of all the proceedings from the assessments by the secretary, inclusive, up to the execution of the deed. The deed conveys to the grantee the absolute title to the lands described therein, free from all encumbrances, except when the land is owned by the United States or this state, in which case it is prima facie evidence of the right of possession. [L. '90, p. 687, § 30; 1 H. C., § 1813; L. '95, p. 445, § 17.]

§ 7449. [6446.] Evidence of Assessment, What is.

The assessment-book or delinquent list, or a copy thereof, certified by the secretary, showing unpaid assessments against any person or property, is prima facie evidence of the assessment of the property assessed, the delinquency, the amount of assessments due and unpaid, and that all the forms of law in relation to the assessment and levy of such assessment have been complied with. [L. '90, p. 688, § 31; 1 H. C., § 1814; L. '95, p. 446, § 18.]

§ 7450. [6447.] Misnomer, etc., not to Affect Sale.

When land is sold for assessments correctly imposed, as the property of a particular person, no misnomer of the owner or supposed owner, or other mistake relating to the ownership thereof, affects the sale or renders it void or voidable. [L. '90, p. 688, § 32; 1 H. C., § 1815.]

§ 7451. [6449.*] Coupons and Bonds—Payment.

Upon the presentation of the coupons due to the treasurer of said county, he shall pay the same from the bond fund belonging to such district and deposited with such treasurer. Whenever, after ten years from the issuance of said bonds, said fund shall amount to the sum of ten thousand dollars, the board of directors may direct the treasurer to pay such an amount of said bonds not due as the money in said fund will redeem, at the lowest value at which they may be offered for liquidation, after advertising in some daily newspaper for such period of time not less than four weeks as the board shall order for sealed proposals for the redemption of said bonds. Said proposals shall be opened by the board in open meeting, at a time to be named in the notice, and the lowest bid for said bonds must be accepted: Provided, that no bond shall be redeemed under the foregoing provision at a rate above par. In case the bids are equal, the lowest numbered bond shall have the preference. In case none of the holders of said bonds shall desire to have the same redeemed, as herein provided for, said money shall be invested by the treasurer of said county, under the direction of the board, in United States gold-bearing bonds, or the bonds of the state, which shall be kept in said bond fund, and may be used to redeem said district bonds whenever the holders thereof may desire. [L. '21, p. 460, § 22; L. '90, p. 688, § 34.; 1 H. C., § 1817; L. '95, p. 446, § 20.]

§ 7452. [6450.] Bids for Construction—Contracts.

Any person to whom a contract may have been awarded for the construction of a canal or any of the works of the district, or any portion thereof, or for the furnishing of labor or material, shall enter into a bond with good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the board of directors, payable to said district for its use, for at least twenty-five per cent of the amount of the contract price, conditioned for the faithful performance of said contract, and with such further conditions as may be required by law in the case of contracts for public work, and as may be required by resolution of the board. All works shall be done under the direction and to the satisfaction of the engineer of the district, and be approved by the board. Whenever in the construction of the district canal or canals, or other works, or the furnishing of materials therefor, the board of directors shall determine to let a contract or contracts for the doing of said work or the furnishing of said materials, a notice calling for sealed proposals shall be published in a newspaper in the county in which the office of the board is situated, and in any other newspaper which may be designated by the board, and for such length of time, not less than two weeks, as may be fixed by the board. At the time and place appointed in the notice for the opening of bids, the sealed proposals shall be opened in public, and as soon as convenient thereafter, the board shall let said work or the contract for the purchase of materials, either in portions or as a whole, to the lowest responsible bidder, or the board may reject any or all bids and readvertise, or may proceed to construct the work under its own superintendence: Provided, that the provisions of this section in regard to public bidding shall not apply in cases where the board is authorized to exchange bonds of the district in payment for labor and material: Provided further, that the provisions of this section shall not apply in the case of any contract between the district and the United States. [L. '15, p. 625, § 17. Cf. L. '90, p. 689, § 35; 1 H. C., § 1818; L. '95, p. 448, § 21; L. '13, p. 575, § 18.]

Such compensation to be based on a resolution of the directors entered in the minutes of their proceedings which resolution shall fix the rate per mile which will be allowed for each different make or type, of automobile so used. The board shall fix the compensation to be paid to the secretary and all other agents and employees of the district: Provided, that said board shall, upon the petition of at least fifty, or a majority of those having title, or evidence of title to land within such district therefor, submit to the electors, at any general district election, a schedule of salaries and fees to be paid thereunder. Such petition must be presented to the board twenty days prior to a general election, and the result of such election shall be determined and declared in all respects as other elections are declared under this chapter. [L. '19, p. 546, § 14; L. '17, p. 734, § 8; L. '90, p. 692, § 39; 1 H. C., § 1822; L. '95, p. 449, § 23.]

§ 7457. [6455.] Officers not to be Interested in Contract, etc.—Penalty.

No director or any other officer named in this chapter shall in any manner be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract awarded or to be awarded by the board, or in the profits to be derived therefrom; and for any violation of this provision, such officer shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and such conviction shall work a forfeiture of his office, and he shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both fine and imprisonment. [L. '90, p. 692, § 40; 1 H. C., § 1823.]

§ 7458. [6456.*] Special Assessments, How Levied.

The board of directors may, at any time when in their judgment it may be advisable, call a special election and submit to the qualified electors of the district the question whether or not a special assessment shall be levied for the purpose of raising money to be applied to any of the purposes provided in this chapter including any purpose for which the bonds of the district or the proceeds thereof might be lawfully used. Such election must be called upon the notice prescribed, and the same shall be held and the result thereof determined and declared in all respects in conformity with the provisions of section 7432. The notice must specify the amount of money proposed to be raised and the purpose for which it is intended to be used and the number of installments in which it is to be paid. At such election the ballot shall contain the words "Assessment Yes" and "Assessment No." If the majority of the votes cast are "Assessment Yes" the board may immediately or at intervals thereafter incur indebtedness to the amount of said special assessment for any of the purposes for which the proceeds of said assessment may be used, and may provide for the payment of said indebtedness by the issue and sale of coupon notes of the district to an amount equal to said authorized indebtedness, which coupon notes shall be payable in such equal installments not exceeding three in number as the board shall direct. Said coupon notes shall be payable by assessments levied at the time of the regular annual levy each year thereafter until fully paid. The amount of the assessments to be levied shall be ascertained by adding fifteen per cent for [the] anticipated delinquencies to the whole amount of the indebtedness incurred and interest. Each assessment so levied shall be computed and entered on the assessment-roll by the secretary of the board, and collected at the same time and in the same manner as other assessments provided for herein, and when collected shall be paid to the county treasurer of the county to the credit of said district, for the purposes specified in the notice of such special election: Provided, however, that the board of directors may at their discretion issue said coupon notes in payment for labor or material, or both, used in connection with the purposes for which such indebtedness was authorized. Coupon notes issued under this section shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed eight per cent per annum, payable semi-annually. [L. '21, p. 462, § 24. Cf. L. '15, p. 627, § 19. Cf. L. '90, p. 692, § 41; 1 H. C., § 1824; L. '95, p. 449, § 24.]

§ 7459. [6457.*] Excess Liability Void—Exceptions—Warrants for Indebtedness—Capital Fund.

The board of directors or other officers of the district shall have no power to incur any debt or liability whatsoever either by issuing bonds or otherwise in excess of the express provisions of this chapter: Provided, that the board may without an election and levy therefor pay the necessary costs and expenses of organizing and may make surveys, do engineering work, and conduct a general investigation to determine the feasibility of the proposed irrigation project, and may incur an indebtedness therefor prior to levy, which indebtedness on account of surveys, engineering and investigations shall not exceed fifty cents (50c) an acre, and shall be assessable against the lands within the district; and any such indebtedness heretofore incurred by any irrigation district and any such assessments levied or collected for surveys, engineering and investigation purposes are hereby ratified and validated. In cases of emergency making it necessary to incur indebtedness in order to continue the operation of the irrigation system or any part thereof, the board of directors may incur such indebtedness not exceeding such amount as shall be actually necessary to meet the requirements of said emergency, the same to be declared in a resolution of the board adopted prior to the incurring of said indebtedness: Provided further, that the board may incur such indebtedness as shall be necessary to enable them to carry on the ordinary administrative affairs of the district and if the district shall acquire an irrigation system prior to the making of its first regular annual levy, the board shall have power to incur such indebtedness as shall be necessary to pay the ordinary expenses of operation and maintenance until the regular annual levy shall be made.

The board may cause warrants of the district to be issued for the payment of any indebtedness incurred under this section, which warrants shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed eight per cent per annum, and it shall be the duty of the board to include in their next annual levy for the payment of the expenses of operation and maintenance, the amount of all warrants issued by virtue of this section.

Notwithstanding anything in this act contained the board of directors of every irrigation district shall have the power to issue as a general obligation of such district, coupon warrants in denominations not in excess of $500, bearing interest evidenced by coupons payable semi-annually not to exceed eight per cent (8%) per annum. Such warrants shall mature in not more than five (5) years and may be used, or the proceeds thereof, in the purchase of grounds and buildings, machinery, vehicles, tools or other equipment for use in operation, maintenance, betterment, reconstruction or local improvement work, and for creating a revolving fund for carrying on such work as in this act provided. The proceeds of such warrants shall be turned over to the treasurer of the district who shall place the same in an appropriate fund and pay out the same upon warrants of the irrigation district properly drawn thereon. The maximum indebtedness hereby authorized shall not exceed one dollar ($1) per acre of the total irrigable area within such irrigation district. No warrant shall be sold for less than par. Such warrants shall state on their face that they are a general obligation of the irrigation district, the purposes for which they may be used, and that they are payable on or before maturity. They shall be retired by assessments levied in accordance with the provisions of this act at the time other assessments are levied.

The board of directors of every irrigation district shall also be authorized in its discretion to accumulate by assessment a fund to be designated and known as the "Capital Fund" to be used for the purposes for which the aforesaid warrants may be used. The total of such fund shall not exceed one dollar ($1) per acre of the total irrigable area within such irrigation district and shall be accumulated in not less than five (5) annual installments. Such fund shall not be permanently depleted or reduced but shall be replaced from year to year by assessments on any lands of the district benefited by the use thereof. The reasonable value of all grounds, buildings, machinery, vehicles, tools or other equipment on hand, purchased with such fund, and the revolving fund, if any, derived from such fund, shall be construed and deemed a part of such capital fund. [L. '21, p. 463, § 25; L. '17, p. 735, § 9; L. '15, p. 628, § 20. Cf. L. '90, p. 693, § 42; 1 H. C., § 1825; L. '95, p. 449, § 25.]

§ 7460. Petition for Betterments—Investigation of Feasibility.

Any desired special construction, reconstruction, betterment or improvements in an irrigation system, including drainage, or purchase or acquisition of improvements already constructed, which are for the special benefit of the lands tributary thereto and lying within an irrigation district, may be constructed, purchased or acquired and provision made to meet the cost thereof as follows: The holders of title or evidence of title of one-quarter of the acreage proposed to be assessed, may file with the board of directors of the irrigation district their petition reciting the nature and general plan of the desired improvement and specifying the lands proposed to be specially assessed therefor. Such petition shall be accompanied by a bond in the sum of one hundred dollars ($100) with surety to be approved by the said board of directors conditioned that the petitioners will pay the cost of an investigation of the project and of the hearing thereon if the same be not established. The said board may at any time require a bond in an additional sum as may be deemed advisable. Upon the filing of such petition the board of directors with the assistance of a competent engineer, shall make an investigation of the feasibility, cost and need of the proposed local improvement together with the ability of the land to pay such cost, and if the same appears feasible they shall have plans and estimate of the cost thereof prepared. If the cost shall appear to the board to exceed the benefits to accrue therefrom, or if the lands proposed to be embraced within the local improvement district shall be found to be insufficient security for the return of the cost, or if a protest against the establishment of the proposed improvement signed by a majority of the holders of title in the proposed local improvement district be presented at or prior to the hearing herein provided for, or if in other respects the proposed local improvement district should be found infeasible, they shall hold such petition for organization for naught and dismiss the same at the expense of the petitioners. [L. '19, p. 547, § 15; L. '17, p. 736, § 10.]

§ 7461. Petition for Local Improvement—Notice and Hearing.

In the event that the said board shall approve said petition, the board shall fix a time and place for the hearing thereof and shall publish a notice once a week for two consecutive weeks preceding the date of such hearing and the last publication shall not be more than seven (7) days before such date. Such notice must be published in a newspaper of general circulation in each county in which any portion of the land proposed to be included in such local improvement district lies. Such notice shall state that the lands within said described boundaries are proposed to be organized as a local improvement district, stating generally the nature of the proposed improvement; that bonds for such local improvement district are proposed to be issued as the bonds of the irrigation district, that the lands within said local improvement district are to be assessed for such improvement and stating a time and place of hearing thereon. At the time and place of hearing named in said notice, all persons interested may appear before the board and show cause for or against the formation of the proposed improvement district and the issuance of bonds as aforesaid. Upon the hearing the board shall determine as to the establishment of the proposed local improvement district. Any land owner whose lands can be served or will be benefited by the proposed improvement, may make application to the board at the time of hearing to include such land and the board of directors in such cases shall, at its discretion, include such lands within such district. The board of directors may exclude any land specified in said notice from said district provided, that in the judgment of the board, the inclusion thereof will not be practicable.

As an alternative plan and subject to all of the provisions of this chapter, the board of directors may initiate the organization of a local improvement district as herein provided. To so organize a local improvement district the board shall adopt and record in its minutes a resolution specifying the lands proposed to be included in such local improvement district or by describing the exterior boundaries of such proposed district or by both. Said resolution shall state generally the plan, character and extent of the proposed improvements, that the land proposed to be included in such improvement district will be assessed for such improvements; that coupon bonds of the irrigation district will be issued to meet the cost thereof and that such bonds will be a primary obligation of such local improvement district and a general obligation of the irrigation district. Said resolution shall fix a time and place of hearing thereon and shall state that unless a majority of the holders of title or of evidence of title to lands within the proposed local improvement district file their written protest at or before said hearing, consent to the improvement will be implied.

A notice containing a copy of said resolution must be published once a week for two consecutive weeks preceding the date of such hearing and the last publication shall not be more than seven (7) days before such date and the hearing thereon shall not be held in less than twenty (20) days from the adoption of such resolution. Such notice must be published in one newspaper, of general circulation, in each county in which any portion of the land proposed to be included in such local improvement district lies. Said hearing shall be held and all subsequent proceedings conducted in accordance with the provisions of this act relating to the organization of local improvement districts initiated upon petition. [L. '21, p. 466, § 26; L. '17, p. 737, § 11.]

§ 7462. Adoption of Plans—Bond Issue—Extension of Boundaries.

If decision shall be rendered in favor of the improvement, the board shall enter an order establishing the boundaries of the said improvement district and shall adopt plans for the proposed improvement and determine the number of annual installments not exceeding fifteen (15) in which the cost of said improvement shall be paid. The cost of said improvement shall be provided for by the issuance of local improvement district coupon bonds of the district from time to time, therefor, either directly for the payment of the labor and material or for the securing of funds for such purpose. Said bonds shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed eight per cent (8%) per annum, payable semi-annually, evidenced by coupons, and shall state upon their face that they are issued as bonds of the irrigation district; that all lands within said local improvement district shall be primarily liable to assessment for the principal and interest of said bonds and that said bonds are also a general obligation of the said district. No bond shall be issued in denomination exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) and no bond shall be sold for less than par.

No election shall be necessary to authorize the issuance of such local improvement bonds. Such bonds, when issued, shall be signed by the president and secretary of the irrigation district with the seal of said district affixed and shall be registered by the treasurer of the irrigation district with his seal affixed.

The proceeds from the sale of such bonds shall be deposited with the treasurer of the district, who shall place them in a special fund designated "Construction fund of local improvement district number ____."

Whenever such improvement district has been organized, the boundaries thereof may be enlarged to include other lands which can be served or will be benefited by the proposed improvement upon petition of the owners thereof: Provided, that at such time the lands so included shall pay their equitable proportion upon the basis of benefits of the improvement theretofore made by the said local improvement district and shall be liable for the indebtedness of the said local improvement district in the same proportion and same manner and subject to assessment as if said lands had been incorporated in said improvement district at the beginning of its organization. [L. '21, p. 468, § 27; L. '19, p. 548, § 16; L. '17, p. 738, § 12.]

§ 7463. Special Assessments—Payment.

The cost of said improvement shall be especially assessed against the lands within such local improvement district in proportion to the benefits accruing thereto, and shall be levied and collected in the manner in this act provided for the assessments of construction costs.

All provisions in this chapter contained for the assessment, equalization, levy and collection of assessments for irrigation district purposes shall be applicable to assessments for local improvements except that no election shall be required to authorize said improvement or the expenditures therefor or the bonds issued to meet the cost thereof. Assessments when collected by the county treasurer for the payment for the improvement of any local improvement district shall constitute a special fund to be called "bond redemption fund of local improvement district No. ____."

The cost of any unpaid portion thereof, of any such improvement, charged or to be charged or assessed against any tract of land may be paid in one payment by the owner or any one acting for him, under and pursuant to such rules as the board of directors may adopt, and all such amount shall be paid over to the county treasurer who shall place the same in the appropriate fund. No such payment shall thereby release such tract from liability to assessment for deficiencies or delinquencies of the levies in such improvement district until all of the bonds, both principal and interest, issued for such local improvement district have been paid in full. The receipt given for any such payment shall have the foregoing provision printed thereon. The amount so paid shall be included on the annual assessment-roll for the current year, provided, such roll has not then been delivered to the treasurer, with an appropriate notation by the secretary that the amount has been paid. If the roll for that year has been delivered to the treasurer then the payment so made shall be

§ 7464. Payment of Bonds.

In the event of the failure of the lands within the local improvement district to furnish money sufficient for the payment of principal or interest of the bonds for such local improvement work and there shall be a default in the payment of principal or interest as aforesaid, the amount delinquent shall be paid by the general warrants of the irrigation district at large, but the lands of the local improvement district shall not thereby become released from liability for special assessment therefor. Such warrants, if issued, shall be redeemed as soon as there shall be available money in the bond redemption fund of the local improvement district. [L. '21, p. 470, § 29; L. '17, p. 739, § 14.]

§ 7465. Refunding Bonds.

It shall be lawful for any irrigation district which has issued local improvement district bonds for said improvements, as in this chapter provided, to issue in place thereof an amount of general bonds of the irrigation district not in excess of such issue of local improvement district bonds, and to sell the same, or any part thereof, or exchange the same, or any part thereof, with the holders of such previously issued local improvement district bonds for the purpose of redeeming said bonds: Provided, however, that all the provisions of this chapter regarding the authorization and issuing of bonds shall apply, and: Providing, further, that the issuance of said bonds shall not release the lands of the local improvement district or districts from liability for special assessments for the payment thereof: And provided further, that the lien of any issue of bonds of the district prior in point of time to the issue of bonds or local improvement district bonds herein provided for, shall be deemed a prior lien. [L. '21, p. 471, § 30; L. '17, p. 740, § 15.]

§ 7466. Contracts With United States or State for Improvement.

Any irrigation district may contract with the United States, or the state of Washington, for local improvement work, and for such purpose may form local improvement districts as herein provided.

Authorization of local improvement district bonds or of contract with the United States, or the state of Washington, for local improvement work may be confirmed in the same manner as provided in sections 7500 to 7504, inclusive. [L. '21, p. 471, § 31; L. '17, p. 740, § 16.]

§ 7467. Increase of Assessment Installments.

Any local improvement district heretofore duly organized may avail itself of and be subject to any of the provisions of this chapter increasing the number of annual installments, not to exceed fifteen, after the directors of the irrigation district duly adopt a resolution to that effect, and it shall be the duty of the board of directors to adopt such resolution whenever in the judgment of the board the best interests of the local improvement district will be served thereby, and the interests of the irrigation district will not be jeopardized. [L. '19, p. 549, § 17.]

§ 7468. Consolidation of Districts.

Two or more irrigation districts may be consolidated into one district and may include in such district other lands susceptible of irrigation in the manner provided in this act, and upon the organization of such consolidated district it shall be an organized irrigation district subject to all the provisions of this chapter. [L. '19, p. 549, § 18.]

§ 7469. Proceedings for Consolidation—Election.

For the purpose of organizing a consolidated irrigation district a petition signed by fifty or a majority of the holders of title to, or evidence of title to land susceptible of irrigation within the proposed district shall be presented to the board of county commissioners of the county in which the lands or the greater portion thereof are situated, which petition shall set forth and particularly describe the proposed boundaries of such district, and the name of each existing irrigation district proposed to be included therein, and shall pray that the territory embraced within the boundaries of such proposed district may be organized as a consolidated irrigation district. Such petition shall be accompanied by bond as provided in section 7418 and thereupon the same proceedings shall be had for the organization of such consolidated district as is provided in sections 7418 and 7420, and the organization of such consolidated district shall be perfected in the same manner as provided in this chapter for the organization of new districts, except as otherwise provided in this section. The board of directors of each irrigation district proposed to be included in such consolidated district shall be served with a copy of the petition for the organization of such consolidated district together with notice at the time and place of hearing of such petition, at least twenty days prior to such hearing, and the board of county commissioners upon the hearing of such petition shall not grant the same or call an election if it shall appear that the board of directors of any existing irrigation district proposed to be included in such consolidated district have by resolution, regularly passed and entered upon the minutes of the directors' meetings of such district, voted against the inclusion of such district into such proposed consolidated district. The board of county commissioners upon the hearing of such petition, shall not modify the boundaries of the proposed district to exclude any of the lands which are contained in any of the existing districts proposed to be included in such consolidated districts, and the order calling an election shall provide an election by the electors of each existing district proposed to be included in such consolidated district, and for an election by the electors of that part of the proposed district not included in any existing district, but no elector may cast more than one vote at such election. Such proposed district shall not be declared organized unless two-thirds of all votes cast in each existing district shall be Irrigation District—Yes," and unless two-thirds of all the votes cast in that part of the proposed district not included in any existing district shall be Irrigation District—Yes. If the organization of such consolidated district is not effected the organization of the district proposed to be included in such consolidated district shall not be affected. [L. '19, p. 550, § 19.]

§ 7470. Organization of Consolidated Districts—Prior Indebtedness.

The board of directors of each included district shall hold office until the board of directors of the consolidated district shall have been elected and shall have qualified, and thereupon the term of office of the directors of such included district shall terminate, and the board of directors of such consolidated district shall have and exercise all the powers and duties in regard to such included district as were vested in the board of directors of such district. Each organized district included in a consolidated district shall either retain its corporate existence so far as necessary for the purpose of carrying out all contracts of such district, and until its indebtedness has been paid in full, or the board of directors of the consolidated district may constitute each such included district a local improvement district for the purpose of carrying out the obligations of, such included district and shall have all the power possessed by the board of directors of such included district to carry out all contracts of such included district to levy, assess and cause to be collected any and all assessments or charges against all of the land within such local improvement district that may be necessary or required to provide for the payment of all the bonds, warrants, and other indebtedness thereof, and to provide for the construction, reconstruction, betterment, improvement, maintenance and operation of all such work as are for the special benefit of the land in such local improvement district. Until such assessments shall have been collected and all indebtedness of the respective included districts paid, separate funds shall be maintained for each such district as were maintained in such included districts prior to the consolidation. A petition shall not be required for the establishment of the lands of such included districts as local improvement districts. [L. '19, p. 551, § 20.]

§ 7471. Bonds of Districts Consolidating not Impaired—Exchange—Cancellation of Prior Contracts.

The inclusion of an organized district into a consolidated district shall not affect or impair any bonds or obligations of such included district and the holders of the bonds of any such included district shall be entitled to all remedies for the enforcement of the same as if such district had not been consolidated, and all obligations that shall have been incurred by any district prior to its being included in a consolidated district shall be a prior lien to any obligation that may be incurred against such land under such consolidated district: Provided, however, that the board of directors of the consolidated district may when authorized thereto, exchange any bonds of the consolidated district for the bonds of such included districts upon obtaining the consent of such bondholders. If any included district shall prior to the time of its inclusion into a consolidated district have entered into any contract with the United States pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, and the board of directors of such consolidated district propose to enter into a contract with the United States by the consolidated district, said board of directors, when authorized thereto, shall enter into such contract with the United States, and may in such event, with the consent of the United States, cancel any contract previously entered into between any included district and the United States. [L. '19, p. 552, § 21.]

§ 7473. Boundary Changes not Superseded.

The procedure herein provided for the consolidation of districts shall not supersede or repeal any provisions of this act providing for changing the boundaries of any irrigation district, but shall be additional and supplemental thereto. [L. '19, p. 554, § 23.]

§ 7474. [6462.*] Change of Boundary.

The boundaries of any irrigation district now or hereafter organized under the provisions of this chapter may be changed in the manner herein prescribed, but such change of the boundaries of the district shall not impair or affect its organization, or its rights in or to property, or any of its rights or privileges of whatsoever kind or nature; nor shall it affect, impair or discharge any contract, obligation, lien or charge for or upon which it was or might become liable or chargeable, had such change of its boundaries not been made, except as hereinafter expressly in section 7486 prescribed: Provided, that in case contract has been made between the district and the United States, or the state of Washington, as in section 7429 provided, no change shall be made in the boundaries of the district, and the board of directors shall make no order changing the boundaries of the district until the secretary of the interior, or the state reclamation board, or the director of conservation and development shall assent thereto in writing and such assent be filed with the board of directors. [L. '21, p. 472, § 32; L. '15, p. 628, § 21. Cf. L. '90, p. 694, § 47; 1 H. C., § 1830.]

§ 7475. [6463.] Adjacent Lands, How Admitted—Petition.

The holder or holders of title, or evidence of title, representing one-half or more of any body of lands adjacent to the boundary of an irrigation district, which are contiguous and which, taken together, constitute one tract of land, may file with the board of directors of said district a petition in writing, praying that the boundaries of said district may be so changed as to include therein said lands. The petition shall describe the boundaries of said parcel or tract of land, and shall also describe the boundaries of the several parcels owned by the petitioners, if the petitioners be the owners respectively of distinct parcels, but such descriptions need not be more particular than they are required to be when such lands are entered by the county assessor in the assessment-book. Such petition must contain the assent of the petitioners to the inclusion within said district of the parcels or tracts of land described in the petition, and of which said petition alleges they are respectively the owners; and it must be acknowledged in the same manner that conveyances of land are required to be acknowledged. [L. '90, p. 694, § 48; 1 H. C., § 1831.]

§ 7476. [6464.*] Notice of Petition—How Published—What to Contain.

The secretary of the board of directors shall cause a notice of the filing of such petition to be posted and published in the same manner and for the same time that notice of special elections for the issue of bonds are required by this chapter to be given. The notice shall state the filing of such petition and the names of the petitioners, a description of the lands mentioned in said petition, and the prayer of said petition, and it shall notify all persons interested in or that may be affected by such change of the boundaries of the district to appear at the office of said board at a time named in said notice, and show cause in writing, if any they have, why the change in the boundaries of said district, as proposed in said petition, should not be made. The time to be specified in the notice at which they shall be required to show cause shall be the regular meeting of the board next after the expiration of the time for the publication of the notice. The petitioners shall advance to the secretary sufficient money to pay the estimated costs of all proceedings under this chapter. [L. '21, p. 472, § 33; L. '90, p. 695, § 49; 1 H. C., § 1832.]

§ 7477. [6465.] Hearing of Petition—Objections.

The board of directors, at the time and place mentioned in said notice, or at such other time or times to which the hearing of said petition may be adjourned, shall proceed to hear the petition and all the objections thereto presented in writing by any person showing cause, as aforesaid, why said proposed change of the boundaries of the district should not be made. The failure by any person interested in said district, or in the matter of the proposed change of its boundaries, to show cause in writing, as aforesaid, shall be deemed and taken as an assent on his part to a change of the boundaries of the district as prayed for in said petition, or to such a change thereof as will include a part of said lands. And the filing of such petition with said board, as aforesaid, shall be deemed and taken as an assent on the part of each and all of such petitioners to such a change of said boundaries that they may include the whole or any portion of the lands described in said petition. [L. '90, p. 695, § 50; 1 H. C., § 1833.]

§ 7478. [6466.] Payment of Past Assessments Required.

The board of directors to whom such petition to include other lands in the district is presented, shall require, as a condition precedent to the granting of the petition, that the petitioners shall severally pay, or give approved security upon such terms as may be prescribed by the board to pay, to such district such respective sums as shall be determined by the board at the hearing above provided for, which sums shall be such equitable amount as such land shall pay having regard to placing said lands on the basis of equality with other lands in the district as to benefits received, and such lands shall also become subject to all taxes and assessments of the district thereafter imposed. [L. '15, p. 629, § 22. L. '90, p. 696, § 51; 1 H. C., § 1834; L. '13, p. 578, § 21.]

§ 7479. [6467.] Action upon Petition—What Order shall Contain.

The board of directors, if they deem it not for the best interests of the district that a change of its boundaries be so made as to include therein the lands mentioned in the petition, shall order that the petition be rejected. But if they deem it for the best interests of the district that the boundaries of said district be changed, and if no person interested in said district, or the proposed change of its boundaries, shows cause in writing why the proposed change should not be made, or if, having shown cause, withdraws the same, the board may order that the boundaries of the district be so changed as to include therein the lands mentioned in said petition, or some part thereof. The order shall describe the boundaries as changed, and shall also describe the entire boundaries of the district as they will be after the change thereof, as aforesaid, is made; and for that purpose the board may cause a survey to be made of such portions of such boundary as is deemed necessary. [L. '90, p. 696, § 52; 1 H. C., § 1835.]

§ 7480. [6468.] Board to Adopt Resolution.

If any person interested in said district, or the proposed change of its boundaries, shall show cause, as aforesaid, why such boundaries should not be changed, and shall not withdraw the same, and if the board of directors deem it for the best interests of the district that the boundaries thereof be so changed as to include therein the lands mentioned in the petition, or some part thereof, the board shall adopt a resolution to that effect. The resolution shall describe the exterior boundaries of the lands which the board are of the opinion should be included within the boundaries of the district when changed. [L. '90, p. 696, § 53; 1 H. C., § 1836.]

§ 7481. [6469.] Election to Change Boundaries—Notice of—Ballots.

Upon the adoption of the resolution mentioned in the last preceding section, the board shall order that an election be held within said district, to determine whether the boundaries of the district shall be changed as mentioned in said resolution; and shall fix the time at which such election shall be held, and shall cause notice thereof to be given and published. Such notice shall be given and published, and such election shall be held and conducted, the returns thereof shall be made and canvassed, and the result of the election ascertained and declared, and all things pertaining thereto conducted, in the manner prescribed by this chapter in case of a special election to determine whether bonds of an irrigation district shall be issued. The ballots cast at said election shall contain the words "For change of boundary," or "Against change of boundary," or words equivalent thereto. The notice of election shall describe the proposed change of the boundaries in such manner and terms that it can readily be traced. [L. '90, p. 697, § 54; 1 H. C., § 1837.]

§ 7482. [6470.] Action of Board on Result.

If at such election a majority of all the votes cast at said election shall be against such change of the boundaries of the district, the board shall order that said petition be denied, and shall proceed no further in the matter. But if a majority of the votes be in favor of such change of the boundaries of the district, the board shall thereupon order that the boundaries of the district be changed in accordance with said resolution adopted by the board. The said order shall describe the entire boundaries of said district, and for that purpose the board may cause a survey of such portions thereof to be made as the board may deem necessary. [L. '90, p. 697, § 55; 1 H. C., § 1838.]

§ 7483. [6471.*] Record of Change of Boundary.

Upon a change of the boundaries of a district being made, a copy of the order of the board of directors ordering such change, certified by the president and secretary of the board, shall be filed for record in the offices of county auditor and county assessor of each county within which are situated any of the lands of the district, and thereupon the district shall be and remain an irrigation district, as fully and to every intent and purpose as if the lands which are included in the district by the change of the boundaries as aforesaid had been included therein at the original organization of the district. [L. '21, p. 473, § 34. Cf. L. '90, p. 697, § 56; 1 H. C., § 1839.]

§ 7484. [6472.] Petition to be Recorded—Evidence.

Upon the filing of the copies of the order, as in the last preceding section mentioned, the secretary shall record in the minutes of the board the petition aforesaid; and the said minutes, or a certified copy thereof, shall be admissible in evidence, with the same effect as the petition. [L. '90, p. 698, § 57; 1 H. C., § 1840.]

§ 7485. [6473.] Representative Authorized to Act.

A guardian, an executor, or administrator of an estate, who is appointed as such under the laws of this state, and who, as such guardian, executor, or administrator, is entitled to the possession of the lands belonging to the estate which he represents, may, on behalf of his ward or the estate which he represents, upon being thereunto authorized by the proper court, sign and acknowledge the petition in this chapter mentioned, and may show cause, as in this chapter mentioned, why the boundaries of the district should not be changed. [L. '90, p. 698, § 58; 1 H. C., § 1841.]

The boundaries of any irrigation district or consolidated irrigation district, now or hereafter organized under the provisions of this chapter, may be changed, and tracts of land which were included within the boundaries of such district, or former irrigation districts which were included within the boundaries of such consolidated district, at or after its organization under the provisions of this chapter, may be excluded therefrom in the manner herein prescribed; but neither such change of the boundaries of the district or consolidated district, nor such exclusion of lands from the district, nor such exclusion of a former district from a consolidated district, shall impair or affect its organization or the rights of the district in or to property, except that all property of a consolidated district, the title to which was derived from a former district by, and at the time of, the consolidation shall revert to and become the property of such former district when re-established as herein provided; nor shall it affect, impair or discharge any contract, obligation, lien, or charge for or upon which such district or such consolidated district was or might become liable or chargeable had such change of its boundaries not been made, or had not any such land been excluded from such district, or any such former district been excluded from such consolidated district, unless the holders of such lien, obligation, charge or contract right chargeable against the district, or consolidated district consent to such exclusion in the manner hereinafter provided in section 7491 for the consent of the bondholders. [L. '21, p. 473, § 35; L. '15, p. 629, § 23. Cf. L. '90, p. 698, § 60; 1 H. C., § 1843.]

§ 7487. [6476.*] Petition for Exclusion.

The owner or owners in fee of one or more tracts of land which constitute a portion of an irrigation district, or fifty or a majority of the holders of title to lands constituting any portion of an irrigation district, or consolidated district as the case may be, for which lands similar grounds for exclusion may exist, or fifty or a majority of the holders of title to lands which constituted a former irrigation district included with a consolidated district, may file with the board of directors of such district, or of such consolidated district, as the case may be, a petition praying that such tracts, and any other tracts contiguous thereto, or such land which constituted such former district, may be excluded and taken from said district, or consolidated district, as the case may be, and in the latter case that such former district may be re-established. The petition for the exclusion of tracts of land from a district shall describe the boundaries of the land which the petitioners desire to have excluded from the district, and also describe the lands of such of said petitioners which are included within such boundaries; but the description of such lands need not be more particular or certain than is required when the lands are entered in the assessment-book by the county assessor. The petition for the exclusion of a former district from a consolidated district shall give the corporate name and number of such former district and shall describe the lands of each of said petitioners by legal subdivision or lot and block numbers and name of city, town or addition of platted lands. Every such petition must be acknowledged in the same manner and form as is required in case of a conveyance of land, and the acknowledgment shall have the same force and effect as evidence as the acknowledgment of such conveyance. [L. '21, p. 474, § 36; L. '90, p. 699, § 61; 1 H. C., § 1844.]

§ 7488. [6477.*] Notice of Petition for Exclusion—Publication.

The secretary of the board of directors shall cause a notice of the filing of such petition to be published for at least two weeks in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the board of directors is situated, and if any portion of such territory to be excluded lies within another county or counties, then said notice shall be so published in a newspaper published within each of said counties; or if no newspaper be published therein, then by posting such notice for the same time in at least three public places in said district, and in case of the posting of said notices, one of said notices must be so posted on the lands, or within the boundaries of the former district, proposed to be excluded. The notice shall state the filing of such petition, the names of the petitioners, a description of the lands, or the name and number of the former district, mentioned in said petition, and the prayer of said petition; and it shall notify all persons interested in or that may be affected by such change of the boundaries of the district to appear at the office of said board at a time named in said notice, and show cause in writing, if any they have, why the change of the boundaries of said district, as proposed in said petition, should not be made. The time to be specified in the notice at which they shall be required to show cause shall be the regular meeting of the board next after the expiration of the time for the publication of the notice. [L. '21, p. 475, § 37; L. '90, p. 699, § 62; 1 H. C., § 1845.]

§ 7489. [6478.*] Hearing Petition—Objections.

The board of directors, at the time and place mentioned in the notice, or at the time or times to which the hearing of said petition may be adjourned, shall proceed to hear the petition, and all objections thereto presented in writing, by any person showing cause, as aforesaid, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. The failure of any person interested in said district or consolidated district to show cause, in writing, why the tract or tracts of land mentioned in said petition should not be excluded from said district, or the former district mentioned should not be excluded from the consolidated district, as the case may be, shall be deemed and taken as an assent by him to such exclusion, and the filing of such petition with such board, as aforesaid, shall be deemed and taken as an assent by each and all of such petitioners to such exclusion. [L. '21, p. 476, § 38; L. '90, p. 700, § 63; 1 H. C., § 1846.]

§ 7490. [6479.*] Board to Exclude Lands in What Cases.

The board of directors, if they deem it not for the best interest of the district, or consolidated district, as the case may be, that the lands, or the former district, mentioned in the petition, or some portion thereof, should be excluded from said district, or consolidated district, shall order that said petition be denied; but if they deem it for the best interests of the district, or consolidated district, as the case may be, that the lands, or the former district, as the case may be, be excluded from the district, or consolidated district, and if no person interested in the district shows cause, in writing, why the prayer of the petition should not be granted, or if having shown cause withdraws the same, and also, if there be no outstanding bonds of the district, and no contract between the district and the United States, or the state of Washington, then the board may order that the lands mentioned in the petition, or some defined portion thereof, or the former district mentioned in the petition, be excluded from the district, or consolidated district, as the case may be, and the former district be re-established. [L. '21, p. 477, § 39. Cf. L. '15, p. 630, § 24. Cf. L. '90, p. 700, § 64; 1 H. C., § 1847.]

§ 7491. [6480.*] Assent of Bondholders, When Required—How Given.

If there be outstanding bonds of the district, or consolidated district, as the case may be, or if such district shall have entered into a contract with the United States, or the state of Washington, then the board may adopt a resolution to the effect that the board deems it to the best interest of the district that the lands mentioned in the petition, or some portion thereof, or the former district mentioned in the petition, as the case may be, should be excluded from the district, or consolidated district, and the former district re-established. The resolution shall describe such lands so that the boundaries can readily be traced, or shall give the corporate name and number of the former district. The holders of such outstanding bonds may give their assent, in writing, to the effect that they severally consent that the board may make an order by which the lands, or the former district, mentioned in the resolution may be excluded from the district, and in case contract has been made with the United States, or the state of Washington, the secretary of the interior, or the state reclamation board, or the director of conservation and development may assent to such change. The assent must be acknowledged by the several holders of such bonds in the same manner and form as is required in case of a conveyance of land, and the acknowledgment shall have the same force and effect, as evidence, as the acknowledgment of such conveyance. The assent of the secretary of the interior need not be acknowledged. The assent shall be filed with the board, and in the office of the county clerk in each county comprised within the district and must be recorded in the minutes of the board; and said minutes, or certified copy thereof, shall be admissible in evidence with the same effect as the said assent; but if such assent of the bondholders, and in case of contract with the United States, or the state of Washington, such assent of the secretary of the interior, or the state reclamation board or the director of conservation and development, be not filed, the board shall deny and dismiss said petition. [L. '21, p. 477, § 40; L. '15, p. 631, § 25. Cf. L. '90, p. 701, § 65; 1 H. C., § 1848.]

§ 7492. [6481.*] Election to Exclude Land—When Ordered.

If the assent aforesaid of the holders of said bonds be filed and entered of record as aforesaid, and if there be objections presented by any person showing cause as aforesaid, which have not been withdrawn, then the board may order an election to be held in each district to determine whether an order shall be made excluding said land from said district, or excluding said former district from said consolidated district, as the case may be, and such former district be re-established, as mentioned in said resolution. The notice of such election shall describe the boundary of all lands, or shall give the corporate name and number of the former district, which it is proposed to exclude, and such notice shall be published for at least two weeks prior to such election, in a newspaper published within the county where the office of the board of directors is situated; and if any portion of such territory to be excluded lie within another county or counties, then said notice shall be so published in a newspaper published within each of such counties. Such notice shall require the electors to cast ballots, which shall contain the words "For exclusion" and "Against exclusion," or words equivalent thereto. Such election shall be conducted in the manner prescribed in this chapter for the holding of special elections on the issuance of bonds. In every case where the petition is for the exclusion of a former district from a consolidated district the resolution of the board ordering an election shall provide for the holding of such election separately in the territory comprising such former district and in the territory comprising that portion of the consolidated district not included in such former district, and for canvassing and counting of the votes cast at such election separately. [L. '21, p. 478, § 41. Cf. L. '15, p. 631, § 26; L. '90, p. 701, § 66; 1 H. C., § 1849.]

§ 7493. [6482.*] Order of Exclusion, When Granted—Surveys.

If at any such election a majority of all the votes cast shall be against exclusion the board shall deny and dismiss said petition and proceed no further in said matter; but if in the case of a petition for the exclusion of lands from a district a majority of such votes be in favor of the exclusion of said lands from the district, the board shall thereupon order that the said lands mentioned in said resolution be excluded from the district; if in the case of a petition for the exclusion of a former district from a consolidated district, a majority of the votes cast in such former district shall be against exclusion, or a majority of the votes cast in the remaining portion of the consolidated district shall be against exclusion, the board shall deny and dismiss the petition and proceed no further in the matter; but if in the case of a petition for such exclusion of a former district a majority of the votes cast in such former district and a majority of the votes cast in the remaining portion of the consolidated district shall be in favor of the exclusion of such former district, the board shall thereupon order that the lands comprising such former district be excluded from the consolidated district and that such former district shall be and is re-established as an irrigation district created and established under the provision of this chapter and that the title to all property formerly belonging to, and all property within the boundaries of said former district, shall be and is vested in such re-established district, and shall call an election to be held in such re-established district for the election of a board of directors thereof, and direct the publication of notices of such election in the manner provided in this chapter for the publication of notice of special elections. The board entering such order shall continue to administer the affairs of such re-established district until the directors elected at such election shall have qualified.

The said order excluding land from a district shall describe the boundaries of the district, should the exclusion change the boundaries of the district, and in case of the exclusion of a former district from a consolidated district, shall describe the boundaries of the re-established district and the boundaries of the district remaining; and for that purpose the board may cause a survey to be made of such portions of the boundaries as the board may deem necessary. [L. '21, p. 479, § 42; L. '90, p. 702, § 67; 1 H. C., § 1850.]

§ 7494. [6483.*] Orders to be Recorded—Effect of.

Upon the entry in the minutes of the board of any of the orders hereinbefore mentioned, a copy thereof, certified by the president and the secretary of the board, shall be filed for record in the offices of the county auditor and the county assessor of each county within which are situated any of the lands of the district, and thereupon said district, and said consolidated district and said re-established district, if any, shall each be and remain an irrigation district as fully, as to every intent and purpose, as it would be had no change been made in the boundaries thereof, or had the lands excluded therefrom never constituted a portion thereof. [L. '21, p. 481, § 43; L. '90, p. 702, § 68; 1 H. C., § 1851.]

Said board of directors shall cause a map to be made of the irrigation districts showing each forty acres, subdivision or fraction thereof, and place the same on file in their office. [L. '95, p. 451, § 28.]

This section does not appear to be embraced in the title of the act.

§ 7496. [6487.] Representative may Petition, When.

A guardian and executor or an administrator of an estate who is appointed as such under the laws of this state, and who, as such guardian, executor, or administrator, is entitled to the possession of the lands belonging to the estate which he represents, may, on behalf of his ward or the estate which he represents, upon being thereto properly authorized by the proper court, sign and acknowledge the petition in this chapter mentioned, and may show cause, as in this chapter provided, why the boundaries of the district should not be changed. [L. '90, p. 703, § 71; 1 H. C., § 1854.]

In case of the exclusion of any lands under the provisions of this act, the board of directors shall determine what refund, if any, shall be made to any person or persons who have paid any assessments to such district on any lands so excluded, but such refund, if any, shall be on a basis equitable alike to lands remaining in the district and lands excluded therefrom. Such payment shall be made in the manner as other claims against the district, and from such fund or funds as the board of directors may designate, and which may be legally applied to such payments. The board may, in its discretion, determine what portion, if any, of the assessments remaining unpaid shall be canceled. Said cancellation, if any, shall be accomplished by an order entered upon the minutes of the board and certified to the office of the county treasurer. Upon the filing of such certified order, said assessments, or any portion thereof, canceled by said order shall be marked "Canceled" upon the treasurer's records. The lien of such portion of said assessments, if any, as the board shall refuse to cancel, shall continue against the lands excluded, and the district shall retain all of its rights as to such assessments or portions thereof as if said lands had not been excluded. [L. '21, p. 481, § 44; L. '13, p. 578, § 22. Cf. L. '90, p. 703, § 72; 1 H. C., § 1855.]

§ 7498. [6488-1.] Effect on Pending Proceedings.

All irrigation districts in the state of Washington, and all proceedings had for the organization of any irrigation district, and all proceedings now pending in or relating to any irrigation district, shall be governed and controlled by the terms of this act, and this act shall not be construed as abridging or abrogating any of the rights or privileges of any irrigation district now organized, or being organized, and any contract, obligation, lien or charge, or bonds of any district, which may have been made, incurred, authorized or issued, prior to the taking effect of this act shall not be abridged or impaired by the terms of this act, but this act shall be construed as being a continuation of, and in aid of the previously existing laws relating to irrigation districts, except as to the sections specially repealed; and if in any instance relating to an existing district or any of its proceedings, the term of this amendatory act shall not be legally applicable, the district may proceed, and any contract, obligation, lien or charge against it may be enforced, under the terms and provisions of the law relating to irrigation districts in force and in effect prior to the taking effect of this act. [L. '13, p. 579, § 23.]

§ 7499. [6489.*] Special Proceedings to Confirm Bonds or Contracts.

The board of directors of an irrigation district, now or hereafter organized under the provisions of this chapter, may commence a special proceeding in and by which the proceedings for organizing such district or the proceedings of said board and of said district, providing for and authorizing the issue and sale of the bonds of said district whether said bonds or any of them have or have not then been sold, may be judicially examined, approved and confirmed, or in case a contract shall have been made by an irrigation district for the payments of moneys to the United States, or the state of Washington, and bonds be not deposited with the United States or the state of Washington, as in section 7429: Provided, the board may commence a special proceeding whereby the proceedings of said district providing for and authorizing the said contract, whether or not the same shall already have been executed, may be judicially examined, approved and confirmed.

There may be combined with the proceeding for the confirmation of the organization and formation of said district, either of the other confirmation proceedings above mentioned. [L. '21, p. 482, § 45; L. '17, p. 741, § 17; L. '15, p. 632, § 27. Cf. L. '90, p. 703, § 73; 1 H. C., § 1856.]

A petition for the organization of an irrigation district, under this section is not fatally defective in failing to set forth the boundaries of the district, where it contained a direct reference to the order of the county commissioners fixing the boundaries: Board of Directors of Quincy Valley Irr. Dist. v. Scott, 79 Wash. 434, 140 Pac. 391.

An allegation in a petition to organize an irrigation district that notices of the election were posted in three public places in each election precinct in the district, a convenient number of which had been established, is sufficiently definite and certain: Board of Directors of Quincy Valley Irr. Dist. v. Scott, 79 Wash. 434, 140 Pac. 391.

In a proceeding to "judicially examine, approve, and confirm" the establishment of an irrigation district, the findings of the county commissioners cannot be reviewed unless the evidence is preserved and brought before the court, Wenatchee Reclamation District, In re, 97 Wash. 60, 157 Pac. 38.

§ 7500. [6490.*] Petition—Contents.

The board of directors of the irrigation district shall file in the superior court of the county in which the lands of the district, or some portion thereof, are situated, a petition praying, in effect, that the proceedings aforesaid may be examined, approved, and confirmed by the court. The petitions shall state the facts, showing the proceedings had for the organization of said district or the proceedings had for the issue and sale of said bonds, or for the authorization of contract with the United States; and shall state generally that the irrigation district was duly organized, and that the first board of directors was duly elected; but the petition need not state the facts showing such organization of the district, or the election of said first board of directors. [L. '17, p. 741, § 18; L. '15, p. 633, § 28. Cf. L. '90, p. 703, § 74; 1 H. C., § 1857.]

§ 7501. [6491.*] Procedure upon Filing Petition.

The court shall fix the time for the hearing of said petition, and shall order the clerk of the court to give and publish a notice of the filing of said petition. The notice shall be given and published in the same manner and for the same length of time that a notice of a special election provided for by this chapter to determine whether the bonds of said district shall be issued is required to be given and published. The notice shall state the time and place fixed for the hearing of the petition, and the prayer of the petition, and that any person interested in the organization of said district or in the proceedings for the issue of sale of said bonds or for the authorization of contract with the United States, or the state of Washington, may, on or before the day fixed for the hearing of said petition, demur to or answer said petition. The petition may be referred to and described in said notice as the petition of the board of directors of — irrigation district (giving its name) praying that the proceedings for the organization of said district or the proceedings for the issue and sale of the bonds of said district or for the authorization of contract with the United States, or the state of Washington, may be examined, approved, and confirmed by said court. [L. '21, p. 483, § 46; L. '17, p. 742, § 19; L. '15, p. 633, § 29. Cf. L. '90, p. 704, § 75; 1 H. C., § 1858.]

§ 7502. [6492.] Pleadings and Practice upon Filing of Petition.

Any person interested in said district, or in the issue or sale of said bonds or in the making of contract with the United States, may demur to or answer said petition. The statutes of this state respecting the demurrer, and the answer to a verified complaint, shall be applicable to a demurrer and answer to said petition. The person so demurring to or answering said petition shall be the defendant to said special proceeding, and the board of directors shall be the plaintiff. Every material statement to the petition not specifically controverted by the answer must, for the purposes of said special proceeding, be taken as true, and each person failing to answer the petition shall be deemed to admit as true all the material statements of the petition. The rules of pleading and practice provided by the statutes of this state, which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, are applicable to the special proceeding herein provided for. A motion for a new trial must be made upon the minutes of the court. The order granting a new trial must specify the issue to be re-examined on such new trial, and the findings of the court upon the other issues shall not be affected by such order granting a new trial. [L. '15, p. 634, § 30. Cf. L. '90, p. 704, § 76; 1 H. C., § 1859.]

§ 7503. [6493.*] Power and Duty of Court.

Upon the hearing of such special proceedings, the court shall have full power and jurisdiction to examine and determine the legality and validity of and approve and confirm each and all of the proceedings for the organization of said district under the provisions of this chapter from and including the petition for the organization of the district, and all other proceedings which may affect the legality of the formation of said district or the legality or validity of said bonds, and the order for the sale, and the sale thereof, and all proceedings which may affect the authorization or validity of the contract with the United States, or the state of Washington. The court, in inquiring into the regularity, legality or correctness of said proceedings, must disregard any error, irregularity or omission which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties to said special proceedings, and it may approve and confirm such proceedings, in part, and disapprove and declare illegal or invalid other or subsequent parts of the proceedings. The court shall find and determine whether the notice of the filing of said petition has been duly given and published for the time and in the manner in this chapter prescribed. The costs of the special proceedings may be allowed and apportioned between all of the parties, in the discretion of the court. [L. '21, p. 483, § 47; L. '17, p. 742, § 20; L. '15, p. 634, § 31. Cf. L. '90, p. 705, § 77; 1 H. C., § 1860.]

§ 7504. [6494.] Time Within Which Appeal must be Taken.

An appeal from an order granting or refusing a new trial, or from the judgment, must be taken by the party aggrieved within thirty days after the entry of said order or said judgment. [L. '15, p. 635, § 32. Cf. L. '90, p. 705, § 78; 1 H. C., § 1861.]

§ 7505. Partial Validity.

If any section or provision of this act shall be adjudged to be invalid or unconstitutional, such adjudication shall not affect the validity of the act as a whole, or any section, provision or part thereof not adjudged to be invalid or unconstitutional. [L. '21, p. 484, § 49.]

CHAPTER V.

§ 7506. Distribution Districts.

For the purpose of securing economy, fairness, promptness and accuracy in the distribution of water for the irrigation of agricultural lands the board of county commissioners of any county may create a water distribution district or districts within such county and may enlarge, reduce, consolidate or divide any district already created or create new districts from time to time in the manner hereinafter set forth. [L. '21, p. 313, § 1.]

§ 7507. Petition of Owners of Certificates.

Whenever two or more owners of certificates of the right to divert waters issued by the state hydraulic engineer, resident upon the land to which said rights are appurtenant, shall petition the board of county commissioners asking that their lands be included either separately or with other lands designated in the petition in a district to be formed for the purposes set forth in section 7506, the board shall fix a time for the hearing of such petition and shall give notice of such hearing as hereinafter provided. [L. '21, p. 314, § 2.]

See infra, § 10830, duties of hydraulic engineer devolve upon director of conservation and development.

§ 7508. Sufficiency of Petition.

Said petition shall describe all the land to be included in the district by ownerships, shall give the name and last known address of the owners thereof, the nature, extent and priority of the water right appurtenant to each ownership and the location of the diversion points on the stream from which water for said lands is derived and shall be signed by the petitioners. Attached to such petition shall be a map outlining the present location of the ditches making up the distribution system on the lands to be included in the district, and the written approval of the state hydraulic engineer. Any petition for the modification of any existing district shall follow the same general form in this section outlined. [L. '21, p. 314, § 3.]

See notes to § 7507.

§ 7509. Notice of Hearing.

At least thirty days before the day of hearing on said petition to form a district, the board of county commissioners shall give a notice of such hearing by mailing a copy of the same by registered mail to the land owners named in the petition, by posting copies of the notice in three conspicuous places within the proposed district and one at the courthouse, and by publishing a copy of same in a newspaper of general circulation published in said county for three successive weeks, the date of the first publication to be at least thirty days before the day of hearing. Said board shall examine the proof of the posting of the notice of election, the appointments and oaths of election officials, the returns of election and shall determine their sufficiency and regularity. Said canvassing board shall then tabulate the votes and determine the result of the election. At the conclusion of the canvass said board shall pass a resolution declaring its findings and conclusions and such resolution shall be final and conclusive upon the world except for fraud or other illegal acts on the part of the canvassing board materially affecting the rights of any owner of land included in the district. [L. '21, p. 319, § 16.]

§ 7522. Improvement to be Made—State Engineer—Duties.

Upon the delivery of said petition the board of directors of said irrigation district shall, at their next succeeding regular monthly meeting, order an election, the date of which election shall be within twenty days from the date of said meeting of the board of directors and which election shall be conducted as other elections of irrigation districts are conducted. At said election the qualified electors of said irrigation district shall cast ballots which shall contain the words "Disorganize, Yes," or "Disorganize, No." No person shall be entitled to vote at any election held under the provisions of this act unless he is a qualified voter under the election laws of the state, and holds title or evidence of title to land in said district. § 7529. [6498.] Three-fifths Vote Necessary—Notice.

If three-fifths of the votes cast at any election under the provisions of this act shall contain the words "Disorganize, Yes," then the board of directors shall present to the superior judge of the county in which said irrigation district is located an application for an order of said superior court that such irrigation district be declared disorganized and dissolved, and that its affairs be liquidated and wound up, as provided for in this act, and reciting that at an election of such irrigation district, held as provided in this act, three-fifths of the votes cast contained the words "Disorganize, Yes," and such petition shall be certified to by the directors of said district. They shall also file with said superior court a statement, sworn to by the directors of said irrigation district, showing all outstanding indebtedness of said irrigation district, or if there be no such indebtedness, then the director shall make oath to that effect. Notice of said application shall be given by the clerk, which notice shall set forth the nature of the application, and shall specify the time and place at which it is to be heard, and shall be published in a newspaper of the county printed and published nearest to said irrigation district, once each week for four weeks, or if no newspaper is published in the county, by publication in the newspaper nearest thereto in the state. It shall be the duty of said board of directors, and they shall have the power and authority, to levy and collect a tax sufficient to pay all such indebtedness, which tax shall be levied and collected in the manner prescribed by law for the levying and collection of taxes of irrigation districts. Any balance of moneys of said district remaining over after all outstanding indebtedness and the cost of the proceedings under this act have been paid shall be divided and refunded to the assessment payers in said irrigation district, to each in proportion to the amount contributed by him to the total amount of assessments collected by said district. Said board of directors shall report to the court from time to time as the court may direct, and upon a showing to the court that all indebtedness has been paid, an order shall be entered discharging said board of directors. [L. '97, p. 208, § 5.]

CHAPTER VII.

Such election shall be held upon like notice and conducted in like manner, as other elections under the irrigation district laws of this state, and the form of the ballot shall be "For dissolution—Yes," "For dissolution—No," and no person not a qualified elector under the general election laws of this state and a freeholder residing within said district shall be deemed a qualified elector under the provisions of this act. [L. '99, p. 164, § 4.]

§ 7535. [6504.] Election Officers—Notice of Election.

Said board of county commissioners, at the time of calling such election, shall designate and appoint the proper officers to conduct the same, and shall direct the county auditor to sign and post notices of such election for the time and in the manner in said election district laws provided. The officers conducting such election shall make returns thereof to the county auditor of the county in which such district is situated within ten days after such election, and the board of county commissioners of said county shall at the first meeting to be held thereafter canvass the vote of such election, and if a majority of the voters voting thereat shall vote in favor of dissolution it shall be the duty of all officers and persons having in their possession any of the books, records, documents, or proceedings appertaining to such district, to deliver the same, on demand, to the county auditor of the county in which such district is situated. [L. '99, p. 165, § 6.]

§ 7538. [6507.] Proceedings Docketed—Notice to Present Claims.

Upon the filing of such statement and certificate the clerk shall docket the proceedings entitled "In the matter of the dissolution of — irrigation district," and the superior court shall thereupon make an order directing the clerk to give notice that such statement has been filed in his office, which notice shall continue [contain] a general statement of the nature of the proceedings, and shall notify all persons having claims against said district to present the same for allowance and approval on or before a day in such notice to be specified. And all claims not presented and filed in said court on or before such date shall be forever barred. Such notice shall be published in some newspaper published in said county once a week for at least six weeks immediately preceding the date fixed for such hearing. [L. '99, p. 165, § 8.]

§ 7539. [6508.] Hearing—Determination of Claims by Court—Appeals.

At the time fixed for such hearing, or at any other time to which such hearing may be adjourned, if satisfied that the provisions of this chapter have been complied with, the court shall proceed to determine the validity of all claims and demands against said district, together with the amount thereof. No claim or debt which is barred by the statutes of limitations shall be approved or allowed. Such irrigation district, or any other person deeming himself aggrieved by the final judgment allowing or rejecting any claim, may appeal to the supreme court within ten days from the entry of such final judgment, but not thereafter. [L. '99, p. 166, § 9.]

§ 7540. [6509.] Sale by Master Under Order of Court.

If no appeal be taken from such judgment or if the judgment appealed from be affirmed, the court shall thereupon appoint a master who shall forthwith give notice that the property of the district, its rights and franchises, will be sold pursuant to an order of the court directing such sale: Provided, however, that such sale shall not include any property within said district which has been sold for taxes or other assessments in said district. A certified copy of such order shall be delivered to such master as his authority in the premises. Such notice of sale shall be given in like manner and for the same time as a notice of sale of real property on execution, except that it shall not be deemed necessary to post any copy of such notice. Said sale shall be made at public auction at the front door of the courthouse in such county, and may be adjourned from time to time, not exceeding three weeks in all, by public proclamation made at the time and place of sale, or the time from which the same may have been previously adjourned. Such master is authorized to receive in payment of the purchase price any securities or obligations of such district, the validity of which has been established by the previous judgment of the court, as herein provided; such securities or obligations to be accepted at their face value and no bids shall be accepted, and no sale of said property shall be made for a less sum than the amount of bonded indebtedness of such district, including all accrued interest. [L. '99, p. 166, § 10.]

§ 7541. [6510.] Return of Master—Confirmation and Conveyance.

In levying such assessments the board of county commissioners shall be governed as near as may be by the general irrigation district laws, except as herein otherwise provided. The county assessor shall, under the direction of the board of county commissioners, prepare an assessment-roll of the lands in said district from the last assessment-roll of the county, for state and county taxes. The county auditor shall perform the same duties as are now devolved by law on the secretary of irrigation districts, and the county treasurer shall be ex-officio treasurer and collector thereof. In all other respects such tax shall be collected as under the general irrigation district laws of the state. [L. '99, p. 167, § 12.]
